The aforsaid things being rightly performed there will appeare infinit visions and phantasmes playing on Organs and all kinds of musicall Instruments And it is made of the Spirits that they might compell the maisters fellowes by feare out of the Circle because they can doe nothing against the Maister. Then the Preist or the Maister holding his hand on the Pentacle lett him say.

your conclusion be not made disobedient. And suddainly thou shalt see them in a peaceable forme And they will say to thee Aske what thou wilt for we are prepared to fulfill all thy Commanndements because the lord hath yoked vs vnder vnto these things.

when the Spirits are appeared then say.

Then Commaund what thou wilt And it shalbe done. After these things licence them to depart. Thus.

The fo[illegible] Booke of the hidden Philosophy or of the Magicall Ceremonies: written by Cornelius Agrippa

[illegible] booke of the hidden philosophie we have not declared so compen= diously as copiously the beginning of Magick it selfe and the reasonablenes.
And how experiments are sifted out and composed That they might bring forth all wonderfull effects. The truth is because they are delivered there more by con= templation then by practice. Also some are not so compleate. Som are spoken figuratively (as it were in a riddle) that somtimes those things which with great study dilligence and curious serching out we have obtained are expounded to all ignorant vulgers: Therfore in this booke we have finished the hidden phi= losophy which is as the complement and key of the bookes of all Magicall workes:
And we will give thee the precepts and most ioyfull experements of the unde= filed truth and unvanquished magicall discipline of the holy Gods: That when thou readest these bookes of the hidden Philosophie thou mayest desire to know these things greedely Therfore reade this booke and thou shalt triumph of the truth. wherfore touch it within the secrets of thy religious brest and it will pearce with silence. But conceale it with a constant taciturnity.

that the names of the intelligencers governing every one of the Planets are ordayned after this manner for the letters be= ing gathered from the figure of the world from the rising of the body of the Planett according to the succession of the Signes by single degrees.
And by those single degrees aspected by the Planett it selfe made by the degree of the ascendent. After the same manner the names of the princes of the evill Spiritts are received by a retrograde or back degree order.
Governing under all the Planets by making extension against the succession of the Signes from the beginning of the Seaventh howse
But the name of the supreme intelligence whome many iudg to be the soule of the world is gathered from the fowre bounds of the figure of the world according as I have delivered the reason. And by the opposit manner is gathered the name of the great Divill about the fowre

foure cadent corners. Likewise thou shalt gather the names of the great spi= ritts governing the powers of the aire above the foure corners of the succeding houses So that a casting out is made that the name of the good Spiritts may be picked out according to the succession of the Signes begining from the degree of the ascendent: But to find out the name of the evill spirit doe the contrary.

was That the names of the evill Spiritts are drawne out by these tables. The names of the good as well as of the badd spiritts. So that notwithstan= ding if we enter into the table with the name of the good Spirit of the second order we shall find out the name of the evill Spirit of the order of the Princes and governours. But if we enter the table with the name of a good Spirit of the third order Or with the name of an evill Spirit the governour what way so ever they are picked out. either by this table or by the Heavenly figure the names which proceede from these wilbe the names of the evill Spiritts the ministers of the inferior order.

That as often as we enter into this table with the good Spirits of the second order The names themselves are drawne out of the second order. And if under them we draw out the name of the evill Spirit It is that of the superior order of the Governours. And it is the same if we enter with the name of the evill Spirit of the superior order. But if we en= ter this table with the names of the spirits of the third order Or of the Spiritts the ministers as well good as bad. The names of the Spirits the ministers of the inferior order wilbe picked out.

men not of litle authority after this manner would enlarge their tables in lattaine letters So that by the same tables as also by the name of the office or of any effect the name of the spirit as well good as bad was found out. Likewise as above it is delivered by taking the name of the office or effect in the collume of the letters in his line under his Starr. And the grave au= thor of this is Trismegist. who when he delivered his calculation in the Egiptian letters he could not referr them foolishly to other letters of other tonges by reason of the assigned to the Signes. But of all men who who have handled to find out the names of the Spirits he was the first that was extant

the force and secret and dignity of a maister consisteth in disposing of the vowells how rightly and truly the holy names of the—

the Spirits are found out which may bring to passe the name of the spirit and to whom the right name is appoynted. And this artificie is thus performed. First in placeing the vowells of these letters which by calcu= lation of the heavenly figure are found out, unto the names of the Spirits of the second order good and bad Governing and Governours shalbe picked out And this is thus performed in the good: The Starrs being considered which ordaine letters and place them in order First the degree of the eleventh house is substracted from the degree of the Starr which is the former in order And that which then remaineth is cast away from the degree of the ascendent And wheare that number ceaseth ther is part of the vowell of the first letter. Begin therfore to cast away the vowells of those letters according to his number and order. And that which shall happen in the place of the starr which is the former in order That vowell is attributed to the first letter. From henceforth thou may= est find part of the second letter By subtracting the degree of the Starr wch is the second in order from the former Starr and what remayneth cast away from the Ascendent And this is part from which thou mayest begin to cast away vowels and what shall happen above after the Starr that is the vow= ell of the Second letter. And so consequently thou shalt fetch out the vowells of the following letters Alwais substracting the degree of the Starr follow= ing from the degree of the Starr next going before. And all castings away and numerations must be made according to the Succession of the Signes in the names of the good Spiritts. But in the names of the evill Spirits wher in the good the degree of the eleventh house is taken. In them the degree of the twelfe house is taken But the numerations and proiections or castings away are all done with the succession of Signes taken their beginning from the degree of the tenth house. But in all these things extracted by the tables the vowells are placed after another manner. For first the how= many number of letters is taken appoynting the name it selfe And so it is numbered from the beginning of the collume of the first letter or under which the name is extracted And the letter into which this number hap= peneth is referred unto the first letter of the name extracted by taking a distance—

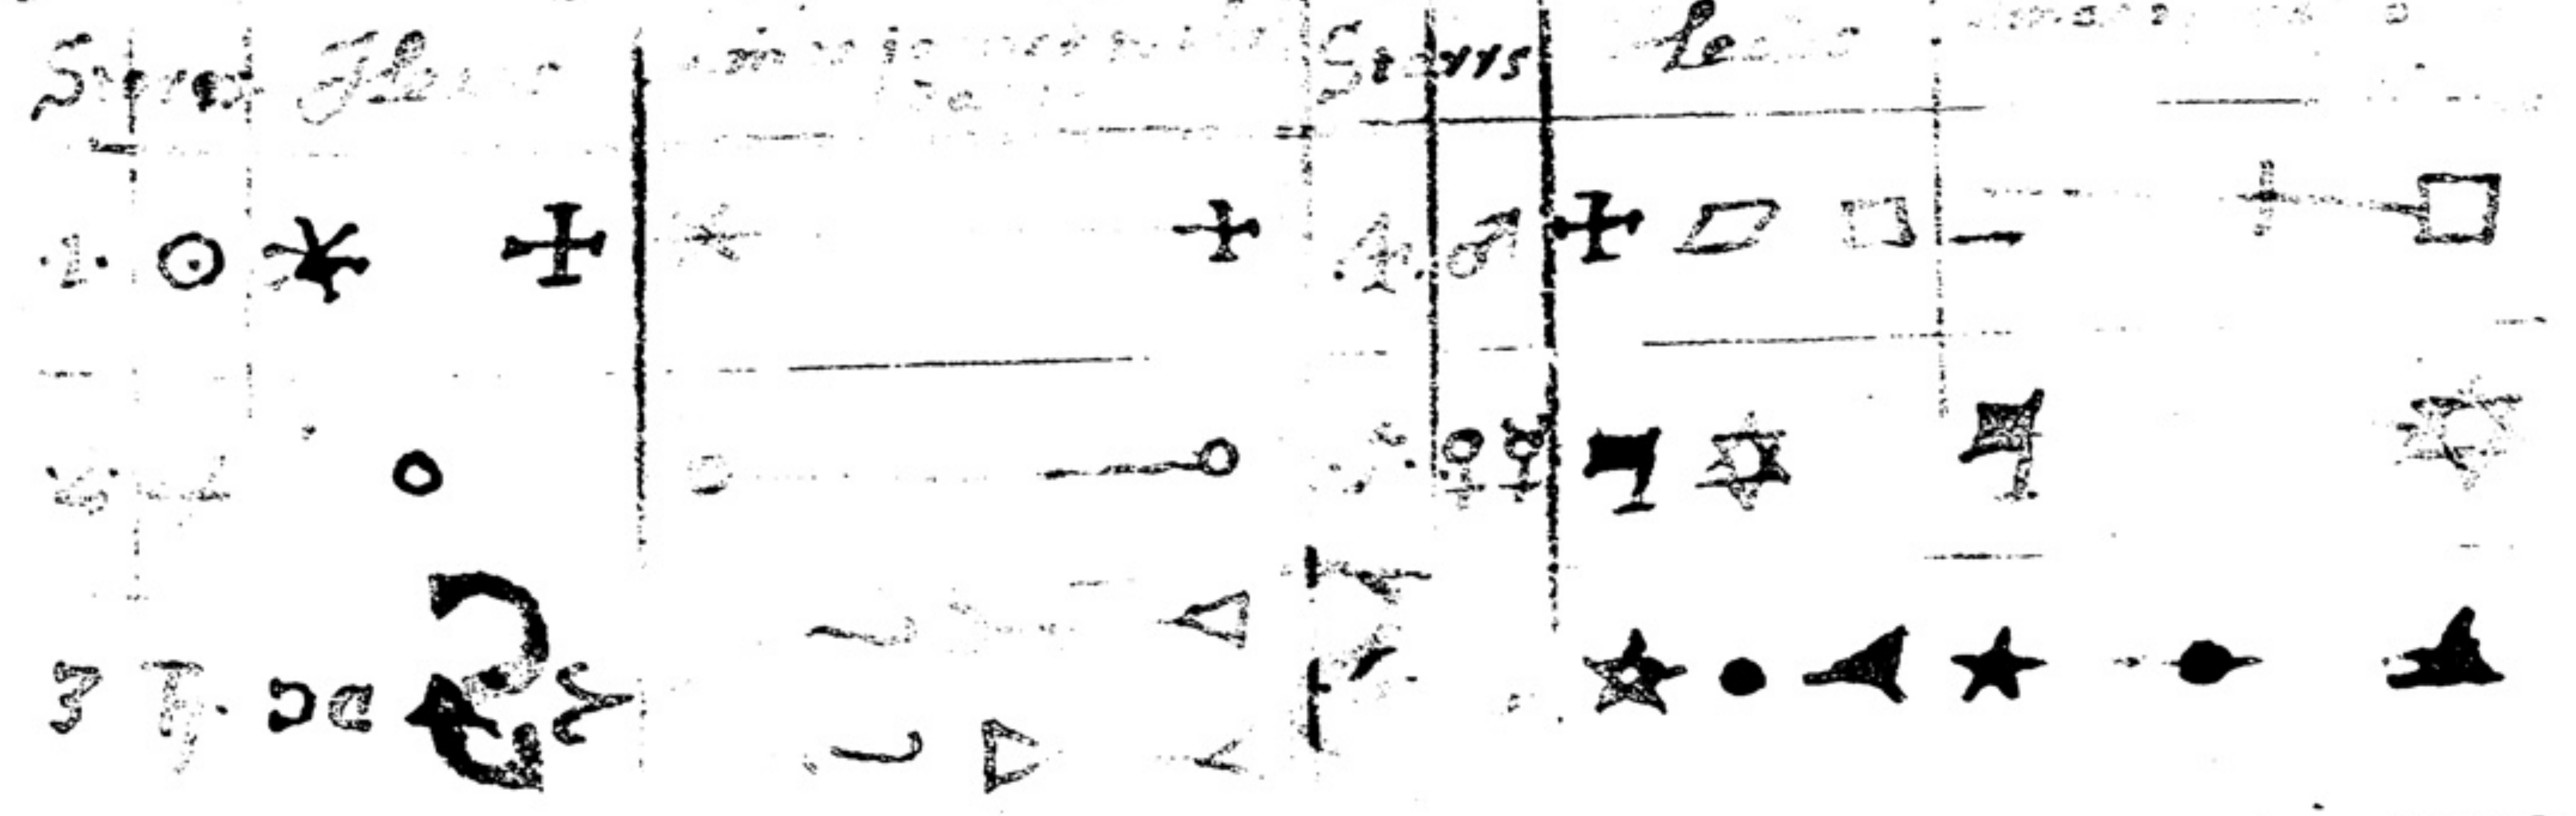
distance of the one from the other according to the order of the Alphabet · But the number of that distance is cast away from the beginning of his Collume and wher it ceaſeth there is the part of the firmer vowell Therfore cast away the vowels themſelues from it in his number and order and in the ſame collume: And what ſhall happen aboue the first letter of the name that ſhalbe attributed to it ſelfe · But thou ſhalt find the following vowells by taking distance from the foregoing letter unto that that followeth: And ſo conſequently according to the Succeſſion of the Alphabet · And the number of the distance is numbered from the beginning of his colume; And wher it happeneth there is part of the vowell ſought for · Therfore cast away the vowels frõ it as it is ſpoken of aboue) and thoſe which ſhall happen aboue his letters are attributed to the ſame But if ſome vowell ſhould happen aboue a vowell · Lett the former giue place to the latter: But understand this only of the good Spiritts: And in the bad thou mayest proceede the ſame way: unles thou makest numberings by a contrary and returned order, And against the ſucceſſion of the Alphabet And against the order of the colunes to wit of the Aſcendent ·

The name of the good Spirit of euery man caled his Genius which wee haue taught to find out in the third booke of the hidden Philoſophy according to that reaſon not of litle authority, neither is it of a ſmall foundation · But now we will ſhew thee ſome other way aſſayed not with vaine reaſons Of theſe one is by taking fiue places of the Hylegions in the figure of natiuity which being noted the characters of the letters in their order and number from the beginning of Aries are cast away And thos letters which falle into the degrees of the ſaid places according to the order and dignity of them being diſpoſed and combined doe make plaine the name of the Genius: Ther is alſo an other way · Almutel are taken That is domineering Starrs aboue the fiue ſaid places · And lett a proiection or casting out be made from the degree of the Aſcendent by gathering the letters faling aboue Almatel which being placed according to their dignitie in order ordeine the name of the Genius or Spirit of ſuch a man: There is yet another way in much custome with the Egiptians by making an extent from the degree of the aſcendent by gathering the letters · The ſecond Almutell of the eleuenth houſe which houſe they call the good Diuell which being placed according to their dignity doe ordaine the names of mens Spiritts · But after the ſame manner we find out the euill Genius or ſpirit of man But that proiections are made against order And ſucceſſion of the ſignes And wherin the good we cast forth from the begining of Aries · In the bad we number from the begining of Libra · wher in the good we number from the degrees of the Aſcendent · In the bad we cast away from the degree of the Seauenth houſe · But according to the Ægiptians the name of the Genius is gathered after Almutel of the twelfe hous whom they call the euill Diuell · And all theſe rites which we haue deliuered from us to others being wright in the Third booke of the hidden Philoſophy may be done by the characters of any Language: Seeing in all theſe as aboue it is ſaid) Ther is A miſticall and diuine number, order, and figure · From whence it commeth to paſſe that the ſame Genius or Spirit of man may be caled by diuers names · But others from the name of the ſame Spirit good or bad are extracted by tables formed unto this ·

Therfore the heauenly characters conſiſt of lines and heads · There are ſix heads according to the ſix magnitudes or greatnes of the Starrs unto which alſo the Planets are reduced · The first magnitude keepeth a ſtar or croſſ with the Sun · The ſecond with Iupiter holds a circular point The third with Saturne, A halfe circle traiangle round or ſharpe The fourth keepes with Mars one line paſſing through another or a Sqared right or crooked · The fifth with venus and Mercury a Cirdle or a tayled poynt aſcending or deſcending · The ſixt with the Moone black poynts all which thou mayest behold in the table following · Therfore placing the heads according to the ſituation of the Starrs in the figure of Heauen, Then the lines are prolonged according to the conuenience of their natures, And this thou must understand of the fixed Starrs · But in the erections of the Planetts the heads being placed according to their aſpect among them ſelues the lines are prolonged ·



But when a Character is to be formed of any heavenly Image aſcending in any degree or face of the Signes which conſiſt of the Starrs of the ſame Magnitude and nature Then placing the number of thoſe Starrs according to their ſituation and order their lines are drawne out like the ſignified image that it may be done copiouſly.

For the Characters which are drawne out according to the name of the Spirit are compounded by this table following by giving to every letter of the name that which agreeth to it ſelfe in the table: Like as it is eaſily manifest: But in this ther is not a litle difficulty when as to wit the letter of the name into the line of figures or letters that we might know what figure or what letter is to be taken. But this may be thus knowne: For if A Letter ſhould happen in the line of letters, Conſider how many this letter is in the order of the name as the ſecond or third: Then how many letters the name it ſelfe containes, as five, or ſeven: And multiply thes numbers together among themſelues, and triple the product. Afterward the whole being gathered together, cast away from the beginning of the letters according to the ſucceſſion of the Alphabett: And into which of the letters that number happeneth that is it that ought to be put in the Character of that Spirit. But if ſome letter of a name happen into the line of figures: Thus ſhalt thou doe. Take the number how many this letter is in the order of the name, and multiply it by the number how many this letter is in the Order of the Alphabet, and being gathered together devide it by nine The reſidue ſheweth the figure or number to be placed in the Character. For it may be placed either with a Geometricall figure, or with an Arethmeticall figure of number which notwithſtanding ought not to be novinary or to exceede the nine corners. The Characters follow.

The Characters which are taken by the revelation of the Spirits have afterward their vertues: Because they are certaine litle signes lying open ordayning the harmony of the same divinity: Or they are signes of making a covenant and promice of faith or obedience: And those Characters cannot bee sought out by any other way. And farthermore there are Characters which are some certaine familiar figures and images of the evill Spiritts under whose forme they are wont to appeare and meete with those that call for then And these Images are found out by the Table following, according to the reason of the letters which ordaine the name of the Spiritt himselfe. So that if any letter be accounted or reconed many folde in the same Spirit the Image of him possesseth the soveraignty or Lordship, the rest after their manner by mixture, So that those that are the former orders the superior part the head of the body is attributed to them according to their figure: But the last occupy the feete and leggs; So the middle letters shew somthing to be like the midle part of the body: But if any contrariety shall happen, that letter which is the better in number lett it prevaile: But if things be equall they shalbe mingled together: Moreover if the same name shall obtaine some notable token or Instrument from the table of Characters the same also shall obtaine it in the Image. But we shalbe able to know the dignities of the evill Spiritts by those tables of the Characters and Images. For to what Spirit soever shall happen some notable token or instrument from the table of characters The same possesseth the dignity. If it shalbe a Crowne it sheweth a kingly dignity. If a Crest it shews a Captaines honour. If hornes it shews fellowship. If without them the Scepter or Sword shews rule and authority. Likewise thou shalt find by the table of Images who carrieth before him a kingly dignity. Judg from the Crowne comes dignity. From instruments Authority. Lastly they who are very good in humane figure they are more worthy then they who agree in the images of beasts. Further more the Horsmen excell footemen. And thou shalt judg the excellency of the spirits according to all their mingled dignities. Notwithstanding know this that the Spirits of the inferior order of what dignity soever they bee alwaies are subiect to the Spirits of the superior order And so it is not inconvenient that kings and Captaines should be under and minister to them that are before them of a hier order.

[illegible] now lett vs ſpeake of the Holy Pentacles and Seales. Now the Pentacles them ſelues are as ſome certaine holy Signes to preſerue vs from evill events and helping vs to bind and exterminate the evill Spiritts and aluring the good Spiritts reconciling them to vs. The Pentacles conſist of the Characters and names of the good Spiritts of the Superior order. Or of the Sacred pictures of the holy letters or revelations: with verſes found out either of the Geometricall figures and holy names of God compoſed according to the purpoſe of many. Or of all theſe together. Or of many of them compounded and mixt. But thoſe characters wch are profitable for vs for the ordayning of the pentacles are thoſe characters of the good ſpiritts. Especially of the good of the first and ſecond order ſomtime alſo of the third And of this kind of Characters which most cheifly is caled holy Then thoſe characters which aboue we haue caled holy. Therfore whatſoever character of this ſort apoynted lett vs compoſe it about with a double circle In which lett vs wright about the name of his Angell And if we would add ſome divine name to that Spirit agreeable to his office It ſhalbe of greater power and efficatie And if we would lead about ſom corner figure to him according to the reaſon of the numbers That allſo may bee done.

done. But the holy pictures which forme the Pentacle are thoſe which here and there in the holy Scriptures and Prophets as well of the owlde as new teſtament are delivered to us. As the figure of the Serpent on the Croſſe and the like of the which ther is great plenty found out in the viſion of the Prophets as of Iſay: Daniell. Eſdras: and others As alſo out of the Revelation. And we have ſpoken of them in the third booke of the hidden Philoſophi where we have made mention of theſe holy things. Therfore place ſome ſuch picture of the holy Images and compaſs it about with a double Circle to whome to whome lett ſome divine name be written apt and conformable in effect to the figure it ſelfe: Or lett ſome litle verce be written about to him taken from parte of the body of the holy Scripture which promiſeth or prayeth for a deſired effect. As if a pentacle ſhould be made for victory and revenge againſt enimies as well viſible as inviſible. A figure may be taken out of the ſecond book of the Machabes: To wit: A hand holding in it a Goulden Sword brandiſhed to which was written about a verſe contayning the ſame. To wit. Take the holy Sword, the gift from God with which thou ſhalt cutt in peeces the adverſaries of my people Iſrael. Or alſo lett this verſe of the first Pſal be written about it. In this is the ſtrength of thine arme, there is death before thy face. Or any other like verſe. But if it like thee to wright about a divine name Take ſome name Signifying a Sword. Anger. The vengeance of God, or the like name agreeable to the deſired effect. And if it like thee to write a corner figure. Take according to the reaſon of the number as we have taught in the ſecond booke of our hidden Philoſophy where we have ſpoken of numbers. And ſo of the like workes. And of this kind there are two pentackles of high vertue and greate power very profitable and neſſeſſary to the conſecration of Experements and Spirits. Of them one is which we have in the first chapter of the revelation to wit. The figure of the Maiesty of God ſitting in the throne having in his mouth a two edged Sword as there it is ſaide. To which lett it be written about ✠ I am Alpha and Omega the begining and the end, who is, who was, and who is to come Almighty. I am the first and the last living and have bin dead, and beholde I am alive for evermore, and I have the —

the Keyes of death and of Hell ✠ Then lett theſe three verſes be written abo Commit it o God to thy vertue, Confirme this o God that workest in us: let them be made as the dust before the winde and the Angell of the lord ſcattering them. Let their wayes bee darke and ſlippery And the Angell of the lord perſecuting them ✠ Furthermore lett theſe ten generall names be written about it which are ✠ El ✠ Elohim ✠ Elohe ✠ Zebaoth ✠ Elion ✠ Eſcerchie ✠ Adonay ✠ Iah ✠ Tetragrammaton ✠ Saday ✠

[illegible] whoſe figure is like a lambe killed whoſe Horns and eyes are Heaven And under his feete a Booke Sealed with ſeven ſeales as it is ſaid in the fiveth Chapter of the Revelation To whome lett this verſicle be written ✠ Behold the lion of the tribe of Iuda overcame, The roote of David. I will open the booke and looſe the ſeven ſeales thereof ✠ And another verſicle ✠ I ſaw Satan like lightning fall from Heaven. Behold I give you power to tread uppon Serpents and Scorpions And uppon all the power of the enemie and nothing ſhall hurt you ✠ And lett the forſaid tenn generall names be written about it.

ordaine alſo pentacles by making a certaine revolution of ſome name in the foure ſquare table with a ſingle circle going about or with a double wrighting therin Some holy verſicle aggreable to this name or from which —

which the name is deriued. And this is the forme of the pentacles according to their distinct manners which we may multiply and mingle together vnto a greater efficacie and to the intention and extencion of virtue among themſelues with others. As if prayer ſhould be made for the deſtruction of enimies. we must remember how god destroyed the face of the Earth in the deluge of waters. Sodome and Gomorrah by raine of fier and brimstone. The Host of Pharaoh in the red Sea And the like. If there be any other curse found in the holy Scriptures. So by praying against the danger of waters. Lett vs remember the ſafguard of Noah in the deluge. The Children of Iſeraels ſafe paſſage ouer the read Sea. And alſo Christ walking with dry feete vppon the waters And preſerving the ſhipp being in danger to be drowned and the like. Lastly when with theſe wee call vppō ſome holy names of God. To wit thoſe which are ſignifficant to our deſire And thoſe which are proffitable to the purpoſed deſire. As for the deſtruction of enimies wee call vppon the names of the wrath. vengeance. feare. Justice and the ſtrength of God. But for the avoiding of ſome perrill or evill. we call vppon the names of Gods mercie. defence. ſaluation. fortitude Goodnes and the like names of God. Alſo when we pray God to graunt vs that which wee deſire. That name wee may ſett betweene ſome good Spirit one or more whoſe office is of that wee deſire. Alſo oftentimes we humbly beſeech God to ſend ſome evill Spirit to constraine men. whoſe name alſo we inſert or place betweene: And this is rightly done, if the worke tendeth to evill as vnto revenge. puniſhment. or diſtruction. Furthermore if any verſicle in the Pſalmes or other part of Scripture be found agreable to our deſire wee place that betweene in our prayers: But make a prayer vnto God: Somtimes it wilbe conuenient to make a prayer after that To the executor whoſ miniſterie we deſire in our former prayer whethar he be one or more. whether he be an Angell or Starr whether a Soule or one of the heroicall men And ſuch ought the prayer to bee compounded according to the deliuered rules by vs in the ſecond booke of our hidden Philoſophie. where wee haue ſpoken of the compounding of Inchantements.

[illegible] ſo that there are three ſorts of bonds. For the first bond is when we Coniure by naturall things. The Second is compoſed of the miſteries of religion As by Sacraments Miracles and the like. The third is ordained by deuine names and holy Seales. And by theſe bonds not only the Spirits But alſo whatſoever Creatures elce are bound: As the liuing creatures. Tempests. Fiers. Plauges. And the force of armes. &c. Oftentimes we vſe the aforſaid bonds not only after the manner of coniuration but alſo by way of Prayer and thankſgiuing. Furthermore it auaileth to conioyne much of the like ſort If ſo be they are found agreeable to holy Scriptures: As in the coniuration of Serpents. we remember the curſe of the Serpent In the Terreſtiall Parradice. The lifting vp of the Serpent in the deſert. And alſo that verſicle. Thou ſhalt walke vppō the Aſpe and Baſiliſke. &c. Superstition is of very much force in theſe by the tranſlation of Some Sacramentall rite to that which we intend to binde or hinder. As the rite of Excommunication, of burialls, funeralls, and the like.

[illegible] that we ſhould ſpeake of conſecration which is made by a man, And instruments neſſeſſary for this Art in all things And this virtue is perfited eſpecially in two things: To wit. By the vertue of the perſon himſelfe conſecrating, And by the virtue of the prayer it ſelfe. by which conſecration is made. For in the perſon there is required holynes of life. and power of hallowing which both are attained by Dignification or by being made worthy and by inſtruction in the beginings or principalls of religion: Afterward this is alſo required that the perſon himſelfe know vndoubtedly and of a firme beleefe that this virtue and power is in himſelfe. But of part of the prayer it ſelfe by which conſecration is made ther is required the ſame holynes which is either in the prayer it ſelfe: As many holy prayers which are found in holy Scripture or ſuch as are appoynted by the ordination of the church from virtu of the Holy Ghost: Or ther is holynes in a Prayer not by it ſelfe But by commemoration or remembering againe of holy things. Or the commemoration of the holy Scriptures, histories, workes, miracles, effects graces

Graces, Promiſes, Sacraments and Sacramentall things and the like: it will be ſeene to attaine to the conſecrated things Some ſimilitude properly or improperly. Add hereto the invocation of the holy and divine names with the ſigning of the holy Seales and the like, which tend unto Sanctification and Satiſfaction to God: As are the holy waters, Sprinklings about, the Anoyntings of the holy oyle, Sweete Suffumigations, theſe added to a religious life. Know this alſo that in every conſecration the bleſſings and conſecrations of water, oyle, fier, and fumigations, with the wax or Lamps, thoſe bleſſed lights goe before. For without light no Sacrament is rightly performed. This alſo is to be knowne and firmly to be obſerved that if a thing be conſecrated in prophane things into which ſome pollution may happen, then the exorciſme and ſatiſfaction of theſe things ought to goe before the conſecration: which things as they are effected by virgins are more apt to receive the influence of divine virtues. It is alſo to be obſerved that in the end of every conſecration after the prayer duely pronounced, the conſecrator himſelfe ought by words in the preſentence to bleſſe by drawing in his breath the thing to be conſecrated in the divine virtue and power And he must remember his owne virtue and authority So may it be done more rightly and with a firme minde. Now therfore I will place and give thee ſome example of theſe things by which the way ſhall eaſily lay open unto thee to the conſidering the whole matter. So in the conſecration of water are remembered how God placed the firmament in the middest of the waters How hee in the terrestiall parradice placed a fountaine of waters from whence by the foure holy rivers the univerſall orbe of the world is watered. Alſo how he made the waters of his Justice an inſtrument to deſtroy the Giants by the generall flood uppon all the Earth And in the deſtruction of Pharaohs host in the read Sea Alſo how he brought forth his owne People with dry feete through the middast of the Sea and through the middest of Jordane And how miraculously he brought forth water out of the rock in the wildernes And brought forth a fountaine of living water out of the Tooth of the Jawbone of an aſſe at the prayer of Sampſon Alſo how he placed the waters Instruments of his mercy and ſalvation in the dooing away of originall ſinne. Alſo how Christ was Baptiſed in Jordane who by this clenſed and ſanctified the waters, Moreover the divine names that are conformable to this are to be caled on. As for example That God is a living fountaine He is the water of life The flood of mercy and the like. So in the conſecration of fire we remember how God created the fier an inſtrument of his iustice for puniſhment revenge and ſatiſfaction of Sinnes. Alſo how he ſhall come to iudge the world by fier Alſo how God appeared to Moſes in a buſh of fier burning Alſo how he went before the Children of Iſraell in a piller of fier And how nothing might be offered Sacrifiſed or Sanctified according to the Law without fier, Alſo how he appoynted the fier that ſhould not goe out to be kept in the tabernacle of the covenant: And the ſame being put out he kindled wonderfull againe And from an other place hath conſerved it to day hidd not put out under the water. And the like of this ſort. Therfore the names of God which are conformable unto this must be caled on As wee reade in the Law and the Prophetts for God is a Conſuming fier And if there be any names among the devine names which ſoundeth fier Or names like it As the Glory of God The lite of God. The brightnes of God &c.

So in the conſecration of Oyle and fumigations we remember holie things pertaining to this which we reade out of Exodus Of the oyle of anoynting And the holy names of God conformable to theſe Such is the name Christ which ſignifieth anoynted And if there be any the like in holy misteries Such as that of the Apocalips or revelation concerning the two Olive trees distilling holy oyle into the lamps burning before the face of God and the like. But the bleſſing of light and wax and the lamps is taken from fier And from that alter which mingleth the fuell of the flame together And the like As that of the Seven candleſticks and Lamps burning before the face of God. Theſe are the conſecrations which are neſſeſary first of all in all Sanctimonie and ought to goe before without which nothing can be duely performed.

[illegible] we will ſhew thee the conſecrations of places Instruments and the like. Therfore thou ſhalt take out that Prayer of Salomon in the dedication of the Temple as thou art about to conſecrate any place or circle, Furthermore thou ſhalt bleſſe the place with bleſſed water and fumigation remembering in bleſſing the misteries what they are. The ſanctification of the throne of God. The mountaine of Sinay The Arke of the Covenant

The Holy of Holies the Temple of Jeruſalem Alſo the ſanctifing of the Hill Golgotha by Christ Crucifing The Sanctifying of the Sepulcre of Christ Alſo the mountaine of Tabor by the tranſfiguration and aſcenſion of Christ and the like. Call uppon divine names agreeable to theſe places. As the place of God The throne of God The ſeate of God. Gods tabernacle Gods Altar Gods habitation and the like names of God wch are meete to be written In the Circle or Conſecrated place.

In Conſecrating Instruments whatſoever things ſerving to this art Thou mayest goe on the ſame way Sprinkling them with holy water Alſo perfuming them with hallowed fumigations according with holy Oyle By aſſigning ſome holy Seale by bleſſing with prayer By remembring holy things out of the Scriptures and religion and divine names which ſeeme conformable to the thing conſidered As for Example In Conſecrating the Sword, we remember that of the Goſpell He which hath two cotes &c. And that of the Machabees in the ſecond booke How ther was wonderfully and divinely ſent a Sword to Judas Machabeas And if ther be any the like in the prophetts: As that Take to you the two edged ſwords.

In the ſame manner thou ſhalt conſecrat the experement and books And whatſoever the like is in holy Scripture Pictures and the like by ſprinkling perfuming anoynting, Sealing and bleſſing the commemoratione, by remembring Sanctifications from the Misteries. As the Sanctification of the Tables of the Tenn Commaundements which were delivered to Moſes from God in the Mountaine of Sinay Alſo the Sanctification of the new and ould Testament The Sanctification of the law of the Prophets and Scriptures which were publiſhed by the Holy Ghost Moreover wee must remember the holy names of God conformable to thoſe As Gods Testament, Gods Booke, the booke of Life The booke of the knowledg of God of the wiſdome of God and the life. After the ſame manner the conſecration of the perſon is performed. /

There is alſo another rite of conſecration of greate wonder and much efficaſie And this is from the kinds of Superſtitions wheras to wit the rite of conſecration or conferring together ſome Sacrament is tranſferred to that thing which we would conſecrate. /

Alſo

Alſo it is to be knowne that a vow, oblation and Sacrifice have the force of conſecration as well reall as perſonall And they are as certaine covenaunts and agreements betweene thoſe names for whome they are made, And as who make them, Sticking ſtrongly for our deſire and wiſhed effect. As for example, when our things, As fumigations, anoyntings, rings, images, looking Glaſſes, and thoſe things which leſſe partake of the matter, as powers Seales, Pantacles, inchauntments, prayers, pictures, Scriptures, we vow offer and Sacrifice them to certaine names As more at large you may ſee in the Second booke of Hidden Philoſophy. /

There remaines with thoſe Magitians who uſe very much the miniſterie of the Divills a certaine rite of caling Spirits by a booke conſecrated before wch is rightly caled the booke of Spirits: Of that now there are a few things to be ſpoken. This booke is conſecrated, being the booke of the evill Spiritts after its name and manner rightly compoſed. To which booke the Spirits within written have vowed obedience at hand by their holy Oath Therfore this booke is made of most pure paper, which not as yet is put to any uſe, Many call it virgin paper, And the booke is written within after this manner, The image of the Spirit is placed on the left hand, but on the right hand is his character with his oath written above containing the name of the Spirit and his dignity and place with his office and power But many have compoſed this booke otherwiſe or they have omitted the characters or image, Notwithſtanding it is more powerfull to neglet none of thoſe things that are delivered. Furthermore the circumſtances of places. times, houres are to be obſerved according as to thoſe Starres to which thoſe Spirits are under might ſeeme to agree in their ſeating rite and order, The booke which this is written well bound lett be adorned and conſerved diſtributively with his regiſters and Seales least any time it ſhould come in perrill of working to be opened without purpoſe in any place after the conſecration. Furthermore it ſhalbe kept as reverently as it may. For the reverence of the minde would looſe his vertue by polution and profanation. /

[illegible] compoſed according to the manner now delivered thou maiest goe on to conſecrate it two manner of waies, The one is that all and ſingular the Spiritts which are written in the booke be called unto the Circle according to the right and manner which we haue taught aboue, And lett the booke to be consecrated be placed without the circle in a Triangle. And first lett al the Oathes written in the litle booke be read in the presence of the Spirits: Then lett the booke to be consecrated be laide without the circle in the Triangle, the same writt downe and all and singular the Spirits wilbe gathered together where their images and characters are pictured to sett their hands and to confirme and consecrat it with a speciall and common Oath which being done let the booke be receiued and kept shutt as is saide aboue and lett the Spirits be licenced according to the due rite.

There is another way more easy of concecrating the booke of the Spirits and it is of much force unto every effect: unles it be in the opening of this booke the Spirits doe not alwais come in sight. And this way is such as followeth.

Make a booke of the Spirits as aboue is described but at the end of the booke lett the invocations or prayers and bonds and most strong Coniurations be written wherwith every Spirit whatsoever may be bound. Then lett this booke be brought together in two tables or plates of mettall wherin lett there be written in the inside the holy pentacles of Gods maiesty which we haue described aboue out of the Revelation. Of which lett the first be put in the beginning of the booke. The second at the end of it. After this manner the booke being perfected in a cleare and faire time before midnight lett the litle booke be carried unto the circle where waies doe meete according to the art we haue allredy taught: And there first open the booke and consecrate it according to the rite and manner we haue alreddy spoken conserning consecration it being done let every of the Spirits be called which are written in the booke after his manner and placing by coniuring them thrice by the bonds described in the booke that they may come unto that place within three dayes space to performe their obedience and to confirme it in the said consecrated booke. Then that litle booke being roled up in white and cleane linnen burie it in the middest of the circle and there shutt it up fast. And then destroying the circle because the Spirits shalbe licensed doe then depart before the Sonne rising. But on the third day about midnight returne and reforme or make new the circle. And with bended knees make thy prayer and give thanks to God

And precios fumigation being made open the hole and take forth the booke and keepe it not opening it. Then the Spirits being licensed after their manner and the circle destroyed depart before the Sunne rising. And this is the last rite of concecrating, It is profitable for all writings and Experiments which are directed to the Spirits, by placing this booke betweene two holy plates of mettall of the Pentacles as aboue is already shewed./

He that is about to worke by the consecrated booke let him doe it in a cleare time and faire skie litle troubling the Spirits And lett him place himselfe towards the region of the Spirit. Then let it be opened under a right register. And let the Spirit be called on by his oath. The same written downe and confirmed, And by the name of the character and Image, for that which thou desirest, and if neede be, Coniure him by the bonds which are placed at the end of the booke: And obtaining thy desired effect Thou shalt licence the Spirit to depart./

[illegible] concerning [illegible] of Spirits [illegible] Good Spirits are called uppon by as divers waies, and divers wayes they meete with us. For the wachefull they speake openly or offer themselves to our sight Or they informe us in dreames and sleepes of our desired things by an oracle. whosoever therfore would call uppon a good Spirit that he might haue sight and conferrence with him must obserue two thing especially. Of the which the one is about the disposition of the caller. The other conserning those things which are put to the prayer outwardly for the conformity of calling the Spirit. Therfore it behoveth the caller himselfe now to be religiously disposed throughout many dayes unto such a mistery. First he ought to be contrite and confessed inwardly and outwardly and rightly to satisfy God, every day washing himselfe in holy water. Furthermore that the caller doth keepe himselfe throughout these whole dayes, Chast, abstinent, with a mind altogether untroubled and that he seperat him selfe himselfe from all externall and secular busines whatsoever as much as he canne. Allso he must obserue fastings these dayes according as it shall seeme to him to be able to performe. And dayly also lett him make his prayer from the East Sonne, even to the west to God and the

Angells to be called on, in the place of his inuocation being clothed with a holy and linnen vestment. Seuen times lett him doe it without interruption or being lett in his buſines. But the number of the dayes of preparation is comonly a whole Moneth of the Moone: But another number obſerued with the Cabalists is fourty dayes.

which concerne this rite of Calling. The first is That a cleane place be choſen, Chast, fast ſhutt, quiet, and remote from all noiſe, Subiect to no other ſights. Here first he must exorciſe and conſecrate, And in this place lett ther be ſett a table or alter couered with white linnen cleane, placed towards the East, And upponit from either part. Lett there be two conſecrated waxen Candles ſett burning whoſ flame in all theſe dayes must not be wanting. In the midle of the Alter lett the plates of mettall or holy paper be placed as is aboueſaid couered with fine linnen which unto the end of thoſe dayes is not to be uncouered Alſo thou ſhalt haue the pretious fumigation provided and reddy preparde, And the pure oyle of anoynting, both being conſecrated lay them upp. Alſo the ſenſar being placed at the head of the Altar which being kindled and the fier bleſſed thou ſhalt perfume euery day as often as thou prayest. Thou ſhalt alſo haue a long Garment of white linnen ſhut before and behind which may couer the whole body and feete which thou ſhalt bind with the like Girdle. Thou ſhalt alſo haue a headpeece like a mitre made of fine linnen In which former part lett the plate of mettall be fastned being Gold or Gilded with the inſcription of the name Tetragrammaton all which things after their manner are bleſſed and conſecrated. But goe not into the holy place unleſs first thou art waſhed and clothed with holy vestments And thou must goe in barefooted. when thou art entered in ſprinkle it with holy water, then thou ſhalt perfume uppon the Alter. Afterward with bended knees thou ſhalt worſhipp before thee Alter as we haue ſaid. But at the end of theſe dayes Thou ſhalt fast more ſtrictly the last day and thou ſhalt be fasting the day following, At the Sonne riſing thou mayest enter – enter into the holy place after the rite alreddy ſpoken of. First ſprinkle thy ſelfe, then perfuming, thou ſhalt ſigne thy ſelfe in the forehead wth with holy oyle, and anoynt thy eyes, doing all theſe conſecrated things wth ſome prayer. Then thou ſhalt uncouer the holy plate and with bended knees worſhip before the Alter as aboue: And make an Angellike Inuocation, they will appeare to thee whom thou deſierest whom being receiued thou ſhalt licence with a benigne and chast conferrance./

for the caling of Some Spirit after this manner either in mettall like in faſheon or in new wax with ſhapes and colours conformable mixed: Or lett it be made in faire paper with agreeable Colours: But lett the outward figure of it be foure ſquare, Circular, or Triangular, or of the like ſort according to the of the number In which lett the divine names as well generall as ſpeciall be written But in the Center of the place an exagone or Starred like Six blazers thus  ſhalbe diſcribed In the midle of which ſhalbe written the name and character of the Starr or Spirit his gouernour to whome the good Spirit to be caled is ſubiect About this Starrlike figure ſhalbe placed ſomany pentagons or fiue ſtreamed Starres as the Spirits be whome we call together. And if we haue caled uppon one alone notwithſtanding lett there be four pentagons depictured In which lett the name of the Spirit or Spirits with his or their characters be written But this table ought to be made the moone increaſing in thoſe dayes and howers wch which then agree to the Spirit. And if we take a fortunate ſtarre with this it wilbe the better. which Table made after this manner lett it be conſecrated according to the rule aboue deliuered. And this is the table after his manner generall for the calling of all whatſoeuer good Spirits. yett we may make ſpeciall tables agreeable to euery Spirit that manner which we haue ſaid concerning the holy Pentacles.

Chast, cleane, and Confessed. then having a cleane and neate place covered all over with white linnen, On the lords day In a new moone let him enter into that place clothed with white and Cleane vestments and let him exorcise the place and blesse it and make a circle in it with a blessed cole And lett him wright in the outmost Circle The names of the Angells but in the inward let him wright the high names of God And let him put within the circle at the foure corners of the world Censors for the fumigations. Then let him enter the place fasting and washed and let him beginn to pray towards the East This whole Psalme. Blessed are the immaculate or pure in the way &c. performing and in the end praying to the Angells by the saide divine names That they may be worthy to enlighten and reveale that which thou desirest And doe this for six dayes contin~~ually~~ ncess being washed and fasting every day And on the Seventh day which is the Sabaoth likewise be washed and fasting and then enter the circle and perfume and anoynt thy selfe with holy oyle of anoynting, anoynting thy forehead and both thy eyes and in the palmes of thy hands and uppon the feete Then with bended knees Say the psalme aforesaid with the divine And Angellicall names The which being said arise And begin from the East to the west within the said Circle to walke it round about untill thou art giddy in the braine and fall downe in the Circle when rest And presently he wilbe taken up in an extassie And he will appeare unto him who will informe him of all things. Also it is to be knowne that in the Circle there ought to be foure Holy Candles burning at the foure parts of the world. which never through the whole weke must want light. Also the fast must be such that he absteine from all things having a sensible life And those things which come from them And let him drinke pure flowing water only Neither let him take meate untill the Sonn setteth. Let his washing be such that early in the morning before the Sonn rising he wash himselfe being naked all over in a flowing flowing water or river. let the fumigation and oyle of anoynting be as we read in Exodus and in other places of Scripture. He must have on his forehead a Golden plate with this name Tetragrammaton written theron as is above said. Allwais as often as he entereth into the Circle. / which are taken from every Spirit by a dreame they also conduct naturall things to us and their commixions: As are fumigations and anoyntings and meates or drinkes which thou must take out of the first booke of the hidden Philosophie. But that he may thou mayest be allwais willing and reddy to receive an Oracle of Dreames let him Make him a King of the Sunne or Saturne unto his fashion. and And lett him also make an Image of excellent efficacie unto his effect which ring and image being laid under his head while hee sleepeth It will warrant true dreames virtually concerning whatsoever things the mind had before deliberated. The tables of numbers likewise confer to the Oracle being rightly formed under their constellations And these things thou mayest know out of the second book of the hidden philosophy. Also the holy tables and papers add to the oracle being made and consecrated especially to this effect. Such is the table of Amadel of Salomon and the table of the revolution or turning back of the name Tetragrammaton and those of the like sort, of divers figures numbers pictures which are written to these with the inscriptions of the holy names of God and Angells whose composition is taken from divers places of holy Scripture. from the Psalmes and versicles and other places of foretelling Revelation and Prophesie. Holy prayers and imprecations as well to God as to the holy Angels and nobles doe conduct the matter to the same effect: of which prayers the imprecations are composed as above is shewn according to ~~the~~ some religious likenes of miracles, Graces, and the like which we intende to doe making mention of them as out of the oulde Testament concerning Jacobs. Josephs. Pharaohs. Daniels. and Nabucadnezars dreames. If out of the New testament concerning Josephs dreame and the dreame of the Three Magitians of John the Evangelist sleeping uppon the lords breast. and whatsoever the like is found in religion, miracles and revelations. As the revelations of the crosse to Helene, the revelation of Constantine and Charles the great. the revelation of Bridgett, Cyrill. Methodius. Mechtildis. Joachim. Merlin. and the like being compounded according to the which deprecations if that one went to sleepe with firme intencion having these things in reddines undoubtedly undoubtedly they are wont to bring to passe a powerfull effect. But he wch knoweth how to conioyne those thing which we now haue spoken of he will receiue most true Oracles of Dreames. But let him doe this obseruing those things wch are spoken for this purpose in the booke of our secret or hidden Philosophie. Therefore is he willing to receiue an Oracle, let him abstaine from eating any supper or drinking drinke, otherwise being well disposed his Braines being free from troubling vapours. Also let him haue a cleane and neate chamber exorcised and hallowed if he will. Then lett him beginn to perfume in it with conuenient perfumegation. And let him anoynt with oyntment And the Ring being put on his finger Taking with him some Image or holy table. or holy paper lett him put it under his head. Then after he hath prayed lett him enter into his bedd and thinking uppon the thing that he desireth to know. So lett him sleepe. for so undoubtedly he shall receiue most true Oracles by dreames. Let it be done when the Moone runneth by that signe which was in the ninth house of natiuity. Also when shee runneth through the Signe of the ixth house of the reuolution of natiuity. And when she is in the ninth Signe from the signe of perfection. And this is the manner by which we may obserue w^{ht}soeuer Sciences and arts Suddainly and Completely with the true enlightning of our understanding although the inferior familiar spirits whatsoeuer helpe us to this effect. yea oftentimes the euill Spirits informing us and our sences inwardly and outwardly.

[illegible] we would call some evill Spirit to [illegible]. First it behoueth to consider and know his nature to which of the Planets he soundeth like and what offices are distributed to him from that Planet. These things being knowne let him looke out a place fitt for inuocation according to the nature of the Planet and quality of the offices of the said Spirit. That if their Power be ouer Seaes. fountains and riuers Then lett a place be chosen on the Seashore and so of the rest. Then let him seeke out and finde a fitt time aswell for the quallity of the Ayre. That it be faire. cleare. quiett. and fitt for the Spirits to take to them bodies: as for the quallity and nature of the Planett and Spirit. that he be fortunat or infortunate on his day or time wherin he gouerneth Somtimes in the night Some times in the day as the Starrs or Spirits requier. These things considdered let a circle be made in the chosen place aswell for the defence of the caller as for the confirming of the Spirit. And in this circle the generall diuine names of God are to be written and those which stand for our defence. And with them the diuine names also which gouerne that Planet and office of that Spirit. Also there shal be written within the circle the names of the good Spirits which rule ouer and can constraine that Spirit whom we intend to call. And if wee would more amply fortify our circle. lett us ad Characters and Pentacles agreeable to the worke. And then if we will wee may make a figure cornered within or wthout the circle hauing written therin the numbers conuenient as they agree among themselues to our worke. which truly are to be knowne for the numbers and figures sake of which in our Second booke of the hidden Philosophy we haue suffitiently declared. Afterward let him prouide, lights, fumigations, oyntments medicines for the Eyes. made according to the nature of the Planet and Spirit. which things partly agree to the Spirit because of the naturall and heauenly vertue, partly also they are sett abroad to the Spirits view for a religions lifes sake or a Superstitions. Then lett him prouide the holy and consecrated things as well for the deffence of the caller and his fellowes, as also being nessessary for the binding of the Spirits and constriction: Such are the holy papers, plates, pictures, pentacles, Swords, Scepters, vestments, of matter and colour agreeable and the like. Then all these things prepared the maister standing within the Circle with his fellowes. First lett him consecrate the circle and all things which he useth which being done with gesture and countenance conuenient let him beginn to pray with a lowde voice after this manner. First lett him make his prayer to God. Then lett him pray to the good Spirits And if he would reade any prayers or Psalmes or Ghostpells for his defence they ought to goe before. Then his prayers being ended call uppon the Spirit whom he desireth from all parts of the world with a meeke and faire inchauntment with the commemoration of his authority and virtue. And then lett him rest a litle while looking round about to see if any Spirit appeare. And if the Spirit tarry, Let him reiterate his inuocation as is aboue said -nt three times. And if he be Stubborne that he will not appeare, Let him beginn to coniure him with a diuine power So that the coniuration be agreeable to the nature and and office of that spirit, Saying it three times ouer making it stronger and stronger by rebukes, reproches, curses, and punishments, And by suspending him from his office and power, and such like but after euery

time of coniuring let him reſt awhile. And if any Spirit appeare let him torn himſelfe calling the Spirit and receiuing him gently. First let him inquire his name, demaunding whether he be called by any other name. Then let him proceade farther to aſke of him what he would. And if in any thing he be ſtubborne or lye bind him by coniurations conuenient. And if thou doubteſt him ~~that~~ he is in a lye, Then make the figure of a Trayangle without the circle with the holy Sword or the figure of Pentagone and compell the Spirit to enter therin. And if thou ſhalt take any promiſe which thou wouldeſt fortifie with an oath. The holy Sword being ſtreched out of the circle let the Spirit ſweare putting his hand vppon the Sword. Then obtaining by requeſt what thou deſiereſt of the ſpirit thou ſhalt licene him with milde words by commaunding him that he hurt nobody. And if he will not depart, compell him by ſtronger coniurations, And if neede be by exorciſmes driuing him out and making contrary fumigations. And when he is gonne goe not out of the circle but ſtay awhile making thy prayers and thanksgiuing to God and the good Angels for their defence and conſeruation: Then euery thing in perticular being done in order thou mayeſt depart. But if thou art fruſterated of thy hope and no ſpirits appeare diſpaire not for this thing: but leauing the circle thou mayeſt retorne by other courſes doeing as at firſt. And if thou iudgeſt thy ſelfe to erre in any thing, then thou mayeſt by adding or deminiſhing correct thine error. For oftentimes the conſtancie of reiteration doth increace authority and vertue and brings terror to the Spirits, and maketh them humble vnto obedience. And therfore ſome are wonte to make a doore in the circle wherby they may goe in and out, which they ſhut and open at their pleaſure, And fortiſide with holy names and pentacles Alſo this is to be knowne when no Spirits appeare, and when the maiſter being reiected ſhall deliberat to giue ouer, becauſe he cannot depart without the licence of the Spirit, for many neglecting this are in perrill vnleſſe they are fortified with ſome higher deffence for very often the Spirits come although they appeare not by reaſon of the terror in the caller or in things which he vſeth or in the worke itſelfe. But ſuch a licence is not giuen ſimply but by reaſon of diſpenſation wth

Suſpending

Suſpending them vntill they are reddy to obey in thoſe things. But wthout circle they are caled into ſight by that way which is deliuered in the conſecration of the booke./

But when we intend to follow and practiſe ſome effect by the euill ſpirits where there is no neede of their appearance then that fabrication being being made which exiſteth to vs as the inſtrument or ſubiect of an experiment. As is an image, or a king, or a writting, or ſome Character, or candell, or Sacrifice, or any the like Then lett him ~~worke~~ write the name of that Spirit with his character according as the experiment ſhall requier, Or by writing with ſome blood, or otherwiſe with a conformable fumigation for the ſpirit: Alſo oftentimes making our prayers vnto God and the good Angells we doe call that euill ſpirit by coniuring him with the diuine power./

There is another kind of Spirits as we haue ſaid in the third booke of the hidden Philoſophie not ſo hurtfull. Neighbour to men. So that they are affected with the ſame paſſion of men And reioyce in humane conuerſation, and dwell willingly with them. But others inhabit groues and woods: Other are ioyfull with the company of diuers liuing creatures at home and abroade: Others dwell about fountaines and greene meddowes: Therfore whoſoeuer would call theſe ſpirits it is neſſeſſary to be done in the place where they tarry, with odoriſſerus perfumes with ſweete ſoundes, with the inſtruments of muſike made eſpetially for this purpoſe Adding Songs and Inchanntments and pleaſing verſes with promiſes and promiſſes. The obſtinate are compelled to this by thretnings and Comminations by bleſphemies, mocks, reproches, and cheifly by thretning to torne them out of theſe places where they are conuerſant. Afterward if neede be thou mayeſt exorciſe. For the cheifeſt thing that it behoueth to obſerue in the inuocation of theſe Spirits, Is ~~to~~ haue a conſtant minde and boldnes without any feare. Laſtly when thou art about to call theſe ſpirits thou ~~mayeſt~~ oughteſt to prepare a table in the place of inuocation, couered with cleane linnen, on which thou ſhalt put new loues of bread, And aquavite or milke in new earthen veſſells, and new knives: And make a fier in which thou ſhalt perfume, But goe and call at the head of the Table, and let ther be ſeates round about for the Spirits as ſhall pleaſe thee. And thoſe Spirits thou ſhalt inuite by calling vnto the drink and meate. And if perchaunce

thou feareſt ſome ill Spirit, wright about the Circle and lett part of the table within the Circle wherin thou ſhalt ſitt calling. Lett the rest be without the Circle.

[illegible] third booke of our hidden Philoſophy we haue taught how and by what meanes the Soule is ioyned to the body, and what happens to the Soule after death: Know therfore that beyond theſe things which are ſpoken. Theſe Soules loue their forſaken bodies after death, euen as ſome kindred allying the Euen as they are the Soules of hurtfull men which violently haue forſaken their bodies: and Soules wanting their due buriall which as yet wander in the troubled and moyst Spirit about their carcaſſes. Now theſe Soules the meanes being knowne by which ſomtimes they were ioyned to their bodyes, the meanes being knowne they are eaſily allured by the like vapors, liquors, and Sauors. From hence it is that the Soules of the dead are not called forth, without bloud. Or the putting to of ſome part of the forſaken body: wee perfume with freſh bloud in the calling forth of Shaddowes, with the bones of the dead, and fleſh, with Eggs, milke hony, Oyle and the like which attribute a fitt meanes for the Soules to aſume their bodyes. we must know that if we would call forth the ſoules of the dead It ought to be done in thoſe places in which ſuch Soules eſpecially are knowne to be conuerſant: Or for ſome kindred ſake alluring them into the forſaken body: Or for ſome affections ſake in life-time, Somtime impreſſed, drawing the ſaid Soule into certain places or things or perſons: Or for the helliſh natures ſake of ſome place fit for the purging or puniſhing of Soules: which places are cheifly knowne by experience of viſions, nightly inuaſions, and the like prodigies and Sights. Therfore the most aptest places for theſe things are Churchyards and theſe places are better then thoſe where in the execution of Criminall iudgment is made. And theſe are better then thoſe wherin there is a publick ſlaughter of men in late yeares. And better is that place then theſe wher ſome carcaſſes not as yet ſatiſfied for ſinns, neither duely buried is violently cast under ground in latter yeares. For the ſatiſfaction it ſelfe of the places & holy rite alſo is duely added to the buriall of the bodyes oftentimes it forbiddeth the -

the ſoles themſelues to come there and repelleth them to the places of iudgment. And from hence it is that the Soules of the dead are not called forth eaſily. unles it be the ſoules of them whome we know to be euill and haue periſhed by ſom violent death whoſe bodyes want due buriall. Although unto ſuch places as we haue ſpoken of it would be leſs ſafguard or profitt to goe to, it ſuffiſeth us to take ſome principall part of the forſaken body for whatſoeuer other place to be choſen and with it to perfume and perfume the rest of the rites. It is alſo to be knowne that becauſe certaine lights of the Soule are Spirituall; therfore the Artificiall lights if cheifly they are made of certaine things agreeable composed according to a certaine rule with inſcriptions of names and ſignes agreeable, it doth much helpe for the calling forth of the Soules. Furthermore theſe things which are ſpoken doe not allwais ſuffice for the calling forth of the Soules by reaſon of the naturall portion of the minde and reaſon: which is aboue heauen and the fates. and knowne to the only region. Therfore it behoueth us to allure the ſaid Soules by beyond naturall and celeſtiall vertues duely adminiſtred as by thoſe things which moue the harmony it ſelfe of the ſoule as well imaginatiue as reaſonable and intellectuall: as are voyces, ſongs, Sounds, Inchantments, and thoſe things which are of religion. as prayers, coniurations, exorciſmes, and the rest of the holy things which commodiouſly may be added to theſe./

[illegible] looke uppon me why hast thou forsaken me: and art so far from my health And from the words of my complaint
O my God I cry in the day time but thou hearest not And in the night season also I take no rest
And thou continuest holy O thou worship of Israell.
Our fathers hoped in thee They trusted in thee And thou didest deliver them.
They called uppon thee and were holpen They put their trust in thee And were not confounded.
But as for me I am a worme and no man A very scorne of men And the outcast of the people.
All they that see me laugh me to scorne They shoote out their lips And shake their head saying.
He trusted in God that he would deliver him Lett him deliver him if he will have him.
But thou art hee that tooke me out of my mothers wombe Thou wast my hope when I hanged yet uppon my mothers breasts.
I have beene left unto thee ever since I was borne Thou art my God even from my mothers wombe.
O goe not from me for trouble is hard at hand And there is none to helpe me.
Many Oxen are come about me For Bulls of Basan close me in on every side.
They gape uppon me with their mouthes as it were a ramping and roring Lyon.
I am powred out like water and all my bones are out of Joynt My Hart also in the midst of my body is even like melting wax.
My strength is dryed up like a potshard And my tonge cleaveth to my gummes And thou shalt bring me in to the dust of death.
For many Doggs are come about me And the counsaile of the wicked laide seedge against me.
They pearced my hands and my feete I may tell all my bones They stand staring and looking uppon me.
They part my Garments among them And cast lotts uppon my vesture.
But be not thou farre from me O lord Thou art my succor Hast thee to helpe me.
Deliver my soule from the Sword My darling from the power of the Doggs. 20
Save me from the lyons mouth Thou hast heard me also from among the Hornes of the [redacted] unicornes.

I will declare thy name unto my brethren In the middest of the Congregation will I praiſe thee.

O praiſe the lord yee that feare him Magnifie him all yee of the ſeede of Jacob And feare him all ye ſeede of Iſraell.

For he hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore hee hath not hid his face from him But when he caled unto him hee heard him.

My praiſe is of thee in the greate congregation My vowes will I performe in the ſight of them that feare him.

The poore ſhall eate and be ſatiſfied They that ſeeke after the lord ſhall praiſe him. your heart ſhall live for ever.

All the ends of the world ſhall remember themſelves and be torned unto the lord and all the kindreds of the nations ſhall worſhipp before him.

For the Kingdome is the lords And he is the Governour among the people.

All ſuch as be fatt uppon Earth Have eaten and worſhipped.

All they that goe downe into the dust ſhall kneele before him And no man hath quickned his owne Soule.

My ſeede ſhall ſeeke him They ſhalbe counted unto the lord for a Generation.

They ſhall come And the Heavens ſhall declare his righteouſnes: unto a people that ſhalbe borne whom the lord hath made.

Of the Bonds of Spirits:

The Bonds of Spirits are 3 folde either in the ellementary world where we adiure the Spirit by inferior and naturall things knowne to them or oposit to them As by the Flowers. Hearbs By things that have life. Snow Haile yce fire and the like.

The second bond is In the Celestiall world whome we adiure by the Heavens by the Starrs And by the motions and beames of these and the like And this Bond doth worke against the Spirits after a manner of a certaine admonition & example.

The third Bond is in the tellectuall and divine world which is acomplished by Religion As when we adiure by the Sacraments by miracles by the divine names by the holy Seales and other misteries of religion And this bond is the greatest and most strongest of all other workings with comannd & power against the Spirit.

Carmen expertissimum contra Spasmum.

Istud carmen sequens contra spasmum expertissimum est a multis inuento utentibus tam in partibus transmarinis quam in istis. Nam apud Mediolanum id est Milanum in Lumbardia tempore quo dominus Leonellus filius regis Anglie nupsit filiam domini Mediolanensis. Anglici ibidem spasmo vexabantur propter potaciones vinorum forcium et calorem patrie et nimiam repleccionem unde quidam miles et filius domini Reginaldi de Gray de Schirlond iuxta Chesterfeld qui fuit apud Mediolanum cum domino Leonello et habuit secum carmen sequens et quidam armigerum a spasmo vexatum ita quod caput suum retro trahebatur fere usque ad collum suum ad modum baliste qui pre dolore et angustia fere expiravit. ¶ Quo viso dictus miles accepit carmen in pergamenum scriptum in bursa positum et collo pacientis apposuit dicentibus circumstantibus oracionem dominicam cum ave maria et ut mihi ~~ipse~~ iuravit fideliter infra 4or horas vel quinque sanitati restitutus est. Et postea multos alios a spasmo ibidem liberavit unde magna fama de illo carmine in illa Civitate excrevit. / Item in Civitate Lincolnie fuit quidam homo qui multis annis vexatus fuit a spasmo in tibiis suis in noctibus quod retorquebat pedes suos ad collum suum et tibie eius arescere incipiebant ita quod fere non potuit ire qui cum istud carmen super se portavit de cetero ut dixit a spasmo non est vexatus. ¶ Item apud London quedam mulier pregnans ita vexabatur a Spasmo quod fere expirat que habuit lapidem qui pellitot dicitur et nichil ei valuit tandem cum istud super se portavit amplius ei non nocebat spasmus pro certo. ¶ Item apud villam de Huntingdon fuit homo quidam quem sedentem vel stantem spasmus ipso invito pedes ambos subito retro contrahendo a terra elevare voluit una vice ita quod oportuit de necessitate cadere ad terram cum impetu super faciem suam. Unde nos ad istud carmen si quis super se portaverit amodo a spasmo liberatus est. /

Accipe unam cedulam pergameni et scribe primo signum ⊞ Thebal ⊞ Gutthi. ⊞ Gutthanay. ⊞ In nomine patris. ⊞ et filii. ⊞ et spiritus sancti amen. ⊞ Jhesus nazarenus. ⊞ Maria. ⊞ Johannes. ⊞ Michael. ⊞ Gabriel, ⊞ Raphael. ⊞ Verbum caro factum est. ⊞ Postea claudatur ista cedula ad modum unius litere ita ut non leviter possit aperiri. Qui ~~non~~ vero istud carmen super se habuerit in dei omnipotentis nomine gesserit et crediderit sine dubio a spasmo non erit agravatus. ¶ Istud habeatur in reverencia propter deum, qui virtutem dedit verbis petris et herbis et secrete servetur ne omnes noscant carmen ne forte virtutem a deo datam amittat. ¶ Quia indigui quondam mulierem spasmum pacientem et data est ei anulus aureus habens lapidem pellitot pulcherrimum et predicta tria verba carminis s. Thebal etc. sculpta in circulo anuli et ~~Michael~~ nichil ei proficiebat. Et statim cum habuerat istud carmen super se clausum liberata est absque mora. Et sic patet quod non ~~dicit~~ decet ipsum et quod eo probavi ego solebam scribere carmen predictum cum literis grecis ne a laycis perciperetur. /

Ego vero Magister Johannes Ardern Cirurgicus aliquando manens in Newerk iuxta Lincoln: et postea apud London ista perscripta vera et innumerabilia alia de isto carmine vidi et audivi. Et si forte aliquis alii istud idem carmen habuerunt non tamen tanta laude eius operacioni sunt adepti et hoc reputo quia incredentes illud occupabant. /

Experimentum contra Paralisim et Epilepsiam i. morbum caducum quo testor deum multi sunt curati /

Radix sanamunde i. avence, herbe palis: cum oracione dominica tribus vicibus incantatas et collo pacientis suspende dicendo eandem oracionem et succi eius potui detur per 30 dies continuos et sanabitur. / Jo: Ardern.

Verumtamen portata non sinit erigere virgam virilem donec deponatur vel si sub cervicali pacientis posita ipsa non potest erigi virga super iacente / Item ungatur corrigia vel corium pannum lanei de succo verbene et super carnem nudam cingo et vir effeminatur / J: Ardern.

Ad Sanguinem Stringendum Medicina vera et probata /

God als thou were in Bedlam borne. And folowde in the flume Jordon. & stawnchide the streme to stande stille. als verily stawnche this mannys blode. & dicat quinquies pater noster & ave maria. in honore v. plagarum Christi. / Jo: Ardern

Contra perdicionem visus

Qui septimo die in dextro vel in nono die in sinistro April brachio facit se minui non perdet visum. /

Qui in fine Maij in 4° vel in 5° die se fecerit minui de quo brachio voluerit nunquam habebit febrem.

Tres sunt dies in anno prohibiti & plusquam prohibiti in quibus si quis se faciat minui homo vel bestia infra tres dies moritur. viz. 1 Kal: Aprilis. 1 Kal: Augusti. 1 Kal: Decembris. /

Nota quod qui in 3° die Aprilis se fecerit minui non habebit vanitatem capitis nisi quibus potus hoc faciat. Et qui in 10 die May se fecerit minui nullam febrem habebit neque tysim. Et qui xxij° die mensis Sept. se faciat minui viz: in die sancti Lamberti non habebit ydropisim frenesim nec ethicam tussim, quia tunc venenum agitur & aer venenosus erit usque ad Michaelem. / ~~Pri~~ Prima luna January, prima luna Junij sexta luna Octob portat ictum mortis si quis minuat illas. / Jo: Ardern

Liber Mysteriorum, Sextus
et Sanctus

This writing begining (not at [Arney vahen] but) at Oxar varmol &c is the 2d Page of the first Leaf of the famous Book shown in the stone, wch consisted of 49 lines or Rows. ~~and~~ every Row of 49 words or Letters. The first 40 of this Page have a word in every little Square. wch could not wel be contained in the little Cells of a square ~~Table~~ in this Book. Therefore they are writ thus at large as you see. 2.

But the 9 last Rows of this Page had but one Letter a piece, & are accordingly set down at the end hereof. pag. 5.

All the other Leaves of that Book had but a single Letter in each little square. & so they are set down, as hereafter follows in this Book. Vide l. 5 Ms. pag. 142. 143 &c.

The first Page of that first Leaf is not (as ~~they ought~~ it ought to be) are transcribed here before this 2d Page, save only the 49 or last Row begining (Arney vah &c) But they may be seen (if thought fit) copied out thence in l. 5to MS. p. 150. 151 &c.

De L'amour divin Qui doit preceder l'acquisition De la science

Chapitre premier

Salomon fils de david Roy d'Israel adit que le commancem^{t} de notre Clef, Est de craindre Dieu, de l'adorer, de l'honnorer avec contrition de coeur et de l'invoquer dans toutes les choses que nous voulons faire et operer avec vne tres grande devotion; Et qu'ainsi Dieu nous conduira dans vn bon chemin.

quand Tu voudras donc àquerir la connaissance des Sciences et Arts Magiques il est neçessaire d'avoir preparé

L'ordre des heures des jours et des lunes sans lobservation desquels on ne poura faire aucune choses: Mais si on les observent avec diligence, on poura facilement en tout et partout parvenir à la fin et a leffet quon souhaitte

Des Jours, Des heures, Et Vertus des Planettes.

Chap. deuxième.

Quand tu veux faire quelque Experience tes operations, il faut premierement que tu prepares toutes les choses necessaires que tu verras dans les chapitres cy dessous; observant les jours, les heures, et les autres Constellations comme je [illegible] en ce chapitre.

Il faut donc scavoir que les heures du jour et de

La nuit sont vingt quatre En nombre; et chaque heure, il y a vne des Sept Planettes, qui domine selon l'ordre, commançant des plus hautes et venant aux plus basse, et Ainsi a toutes les heures du jour; et la nuit, l'ordre des Planettes quon suit la plus haute de toutes est Sabday c'est àdire Saturne; sous saturne Zedey ou Jupitair; sous Jupiter Madijm, ou Mars; sous mars Lemen ou le Soleil, sous le Soleil Nogas; ou venus; sous venus Creau ou Mercure; sous Mercure Levana; ou la lune qui est la plus basse des Planettes.

Il faut donc scavoir que les Planettes ont leurs dominations le Jour qui s'approche le plus du nom quon attribue; a scavoir saturne Le samedi, Jeudi Jupiter; Mars le Mardi et ainsi des autres La dommination de La planette de chaque heure; commance depuis l'aurore Jusquau lever du soleil du jour auquel telle Planette pren son nom; et La planette laquelle suit par ordre, succede dans la domination de saturne, Jupiter domine sur l'heure seconde; Mars sur la troisiesme; le soleil sur la quatrième; venus sur la

cinquieme; Mercure Sur la Sixieme, et La lune sur la septième, Saturne retoune a dominer sur la huitême, et ainsi des autres alternatiuemen.

Remarque que chaque Experience ou operation Magique, se doit faire sous la Planette et dans l'heure principalemen qui a rapport à la même: comme par Exemple.

Dans Les Jours et heures de Saturne, on prepare les Experiences pour appeller les ames de l'Enfer seulement de ceux qui sont morts de mort naturelle, de mesme qu'en ces Jours et heures, on prepare aussi les Experiences, pour donner bonne ou mauvaise fortune aux édifices: Pour avoir des Esprits familiers En Songe. Pour causer un bon ou mauvais succez aux possessions, bien Stables; Pour aquerir De la doctrine, semer des haines & des discordes & pour apporter de la detruction & donner la mort.

BRITISH MUSEUM

Les heures et les Jours de Jupiter sont pour obtenir des honneurs des richesses, contracter des amitiez, conserver La santé et parvenir à ce qu'on desire.

Dans Les Jours de Mars tu effecturas Les Experiences touchan la guerre, pour parvenir aux honneurs militaires, pour âquerir de la vaillance pour repousser et mettre En fuitte les ennemis; de plus pour faire & causer ruines, carnage cruauté et discorde Entre les Soldats, pour blesser et donner la mort.

Les Jours et heures du soleil sont Tres-bonnes a perfectionner les Experiences des biens temporels, de l'esperance, du gain et de la fortune, le devinement, la bonne grace des princes à dissoudre l'inimitiez et a se faire des amis

Les Jours et heures de Mercure sont propres pour faire les operations des sciences et devinemens d'Eloquence & d'intelligence; promptitude dans les affaire, des Pres

Y apparitions, de reponces de choses a venir. Tu pourras encore sous l'Etoille de Mercure operer touchant les larcins, Ecritures, les tromperies et les marchandises.

Les Jours Et heures de la lune valent pour operer les Experiences des Ambassades, Envoys, navigations, voyages reconciliations d'amour Et de grace appres des peuples et Universitéz et les acquisitions des marchandises d'eaux.

Tu dois encore prendre garde si tu desires devenir a l'operation Entiere, d'observer pour toutes les choses contenües en ce chapitre parce que La verité de la science Magiques En depend.

Les heures du soleil, de Jupiter et de venus sont propres a preparer quelqués Experiences que ce soit, d'Amour, de grace, d'Impetration et d'Invisibilité. Comme il est porté dans leurs chapitres. Aquoy il faut Encore ajouster les chose qui sont contenüe dans nôtre ouvrages sur semblable matiere.

Les heures de saturne, de Mars et paritlement leurs Jours, dans lesquels la lune se conjoint aux mêmes ou bien quand elle est regardée par les mesmes planettes d'opposition, ou de quarré, sont tres bonnes pour faire les Experiences de haines d'Inimitiez, de querelles Et de discordes.

L'heure de Mercure Est propre a ~~prepar~~ toutes les Experiences des Jeux et des Railleries, mocqueries, et des chose qui semblent admirables.

Les. Heures du soleil, de jupiter Et de venus particulierement dans leurs jours sont bonnes a eprouver toutes les Experiences Extraordinaires qui ne sont point contenües En aucunes des façons cy dessus rapportées.

Deplus les heures de venus sont bonne a preparer les Experience des Sorcileges, des venefices, des poisons et choses qui appartiennent à venus; des poudres qui se font pour provoquer les frenaries et chose semblables.

Mais pour faire lar outre les heures tu le feras dans le jour de la Planette, dautant que lexperience En sera meilleure & se verifiera toujours, pour vû que tu observe en de plus les chose Marqués plus bas dans nos chapittres car si tu obmets à faire une seule chose; tu ne pouras jamais par venir a laccomplisement de Lart.

Pour les choses ~~[illegible]~~ qui appartiennent a la lune, comme linvocation des Esprits, Les Oeuvres de Nigromance, Le Recouvrement des Larcins, il faut que la

Lune

Lune soit dans un signe terrestre à sçavoir le Taureau la vierge ou le le capricorne.

Pour Lamour, grace invisibilité; Il faut que la lune soit dans un signe de feu à sçavoir le Belier, le lion ou le sagittaire.

Pour la haine, la discorde et la destruction; Il faut que la lune soit dans un signe d'Eau, à sçavoir le cancer, le scorpion et les poissons.

Pour les Experience Extraordinaires, qui ne sont pas contenüe sous un certain genre, il faut que la lune soit dans un signe de lair à sçavoir les Jumeaux la Balance et le verse-eau.

Mais si ces choses te semblent trop difficile a faires et a operer; il te suffira seulement d'observer la lune apres la conjonction ou combustion incontinent quelle sortira des rayons du soleil & commencera de paraitre; Pour lors il est bon de faire toutes les Experiences qui tend a la construction & operation de quelques choses; C'est pourquoy a lheure que la lune Est dans son croissant jusqua ce quelle soit pleine, la même se trouvant dans pareil nombre avec le Soleil il Est pour lors bon de faire ces chose que nous avons dites cy dessus. — Mais la lune Estant lopposé du soleil & pleine de lumiere; il est bon de faire des Experiences de guerres io de noises & de discordes.

Les même étant dans son declin, cest adire diminuë de Lumier, il Est bon de faire les Experiences qui conservent la Mor, parcequ'élle Est En ce temps La privée de lumiere.

Observe Encore inviolablement que tu Ne commences aucunes choses pendant que la lune Est conjoint avec le soleil; puis que ce temps la Est tres-Malheureux. car tu ne pouras Jamais effectuer aucunes choses: Mais la lune croisant et Etant accrüe de Lumiere, Tu pouras escrire, operer, faire & preparer toutes les Experiences que tu voudras. Il faut de plus que si tu veux parler avec les Esprits, que ce soit specialement Le jour de Mercure & que La même Lune soit dans un signe de l'air En pareil nombre avec le soleil.

Des Arts

Chapitre Troisiéme.

Situveux donc faires les Experiences Et les Arts susdits, tu tiendras ces operations preparées dans Les jours & heures convenables avec les Solemnités requises contenües & portés dans les autres Chapitres.

Les Experiences Sont donc^{tt} De deux sortes; la premiere Est de prouver ce qui Ce peut, comme je dis facilement faire sans cercle & En cecy il nest pas besoin dobserver autre choses que tu trouveras dans Les propres Chapitre.

L'autre ne se peut En aucune façons reduire a sa perfection sous le cercles; Et pour le faire parfaittement il faut observer toutes les choses que le Maistres Et ses disciples pratiquês avant quön vienne au cercle.

Premierement donc auparavant que le Maistre commence L'Operation, il faut quil s'abstienne luy et ces disciples avec vne grande et Exquise continuation pendant L'Espace de neuf Jours, d'abitations charnelles & des raisonnemens vains et oisifs – comme il appert pleinnement das Le second Livre chap. 4.me et hors de ces neuf Jours Estant expirez il faut quil Entre dans vn lieu jour apres le Maistre étant seul, il faut quil Entre dans vn lieu secret quil se dépouilles de ses abillement & quil aye d'eau exorcisés quil luy dessende desus le chef jusquaux pieds En disant devotement L'oraison.

Mais il faut que le maistre porte En main le baton & La verge ou baguette. les chose Etant donc ainsy, le Maistre y va auec ses disciples au lieu preparé; ou ils auront proposé de faire le cercle pour faire les Arts & Expériences En disant en chemin Les Oraisons, comme tu verras dans le liure second.

Quand le Maistre sera arrivé auec ses disciples, le Maître ayant allumé La lumière du feu & l'ayant de nouveau Exorcizé comme il sera dit dans le Second Liure Chap. douxième Il allumera la Chandelle & la mettra dans la lanterne, qu'vn des disciples tiendra toujours En main pour eclairer le Maistre; Pour lors le Maistre de l'art toutes & quantes fois qu'il aura par quelque Experiences particulieres à parlé auec ses disciples, il faut qu'il s'exerce à former quelque cercles qui soyent differents & qui ayent quelque chose de special & pour réussir à un tel cercle concernant L'art pour une plus grand assurences & efficace, tu le feras en cette façon et sorte.

Ayes le couteau ou la faucille de l'Art, Consacré selon la coutume, & l'ordre que nous donnerons dans le second Livre. Auec ce couteau de L'Art ou la faucille, tu tiendras outre ce Cercle tout autour de la distance d'un pied sur le même centre du même Espasce, vn autre cercle Entre premier cercle que tu as faittes, tu formeras dans L'espasce d'un pied aux quattre parties du mond Les venerable signes du Tau; & Entre le premier cercle & le second que tu aura tiré toy même auec L'instrumens de l'art, tu feras En quatre medailles ou pentacules les noms terribles du createur a sçauoir Entre L'orient & Le midy Tetagramoton, Entre le midy & l'occident Eheye, Entre l'occident & le septentrion Elion, & Entre le septentrion & l'orient Eloha, lequel Est de Tres grand importance dans ce catalogue des Sephirots ou colustrations souveraines. Tu feras de plus outre ces cercles deux cadrangles égaux; les angles desquels sont tourniez aux quatre partie du monde; L'espace Entre les deux lignes des quarrez a- d'un demi Pied dans les angles Extremes. d'un carrez tu constituëras, le centre des quatre cercles, la mesure ou diametre desquels sera d'un pied. Toutes lesquelles choses se doivent faire auec le marteau ou Instrumens consacré. Dans les quatre cercles doivent être Escripts

Que ledit Maitre avertisse de nouveau ses disciples et leurs ordonne toute ce quils ont à faire et à observer; ce quil doivent promettre par sermens.

Que le Maitre dis Ensuite cett oraison.

Que Dieu tout puissant entre en ce cercle, lorsque nous y entrerons, avec toute sorte d'humilité, par l'entrée d'un Eternelle bonheur, d'une divine prosperité, d'une joye gaye, d'une abondante charité, et d'un éternel salut. Que tous les demons s'eloignent de ce lieu et principallement ceux qui sont contraires et que les anges de paix y assistent à garder ce cercles, duquels en fuyent et séloignent toutes sortes de discordes et seloignes Magnifie et étand sur Nous Seigneur ton tres saints nom et benis nostre conversasion et assemblée. Seigneur Dieu tout puissant et misericordieux qui ne desire ni ne veut pas la mort du Pecheur; Mais au contraire quil se convertisse et quil vive; donne et accorde nous ta grâces, En benissant et consacrant cette terre et ce cercle qui Est ycy marqué, par le tres puissant et le tres Saint nom de Dieu, et ie te cojure toy o Terre, et par le nom de Dieu Emanuel Je te benis ô terre, Je te consacre ô terre par le tres puissant nom, d'Esserye; Entre dans ce cercle composé et fait de notre main et que Dieu Adonay te benit ce lieu avec toutes les vertus du Ciel, de sorte quaucun Esprit immonde et sale n'ait la puissance dentrer dans ce cercle ny de nuire a aucun qui y habite par le Seigneur Dieu Adonay qui vit eternellement par les Siecles des Siecles ainsi soit il.

Jeteprie

Je te prie Seigneur Dieu tout puissant misericordieux, que tu daignes benir ce cercles et tout ce lieu et tous ceux qui y demeurent et qui y abitent et que tu nous donne un bon angé pour notre garde, nous qui te servons; qui ne dèsirons rien tant que les prodiques et les miracles de ta loy; Ecarte et eloigne de nous toute puissance et toute vertu contraire; Conserve et garde nous de mal et de trouble, Daigne Seigneur que nous puissions rester en ce lieu en toute seureté, par toy ô Seigneur qui vis et règne par tous les Siecles ainsi soit-il.

Cepandant il faut que le maistre se leve et se mette sur la teste une couronne fait de papier vierge sur laquelle soient ecrits avec des couleurs et autre chos qui ce diront cy apres, les quatre noms. Agla, Aglay, aglata, Aglatay, les quels noms se mettront, au devant, au derriere et aux deux costez de la terre.

Le Maistre doit avoir de plus dans le cercle les pentacules ou Medailles de peintes cy dessous, selon le besoin quil en aura, quils soyent formez selon ce qui est porté au chapitre des pentacules, décrits sur du papier vierge avec une plume de lierre, du sang ou couleurs preparées dans la façon qui se dira cy apres dans leurs chapitres; Il luy suffit de prendre les pentacules convenables qui doivent estre consue devant sa poitrine a la robe blanche de lin auec l'eguille de l'Art auec du fil filé par vne Jeune pucelle. BRITISH

Pour Lors L'Exorcizateur à l'arrivée de ce Roy qu'il verra couronné d'un diadéme, decouvrira les sacrés Pentacules qu'il portera sur sa poitrine avec un linge ou drap tres fin fait de soye & les montrera a ce Prince en leurs disant

Voicy icy les sacrez noms par la puissance desquels il faut que tout genouil ploye & flechisse des choses celeste, terrestres & ineffable humiliez vous donc sous la puissante main de dieu.

Alors le Maitre de l'art avec un visage asseuré & une voix grave et imperieuse luy ordonnera qu'il se pascifie & tienne en repos le reste de sa bande & qu'il luy impose silence & il faut qu'il renouvelle Les Encensemens et qu'il presente quantité de parfums qu'il Mettra sur son feu pour appaiser les Esprits comme il a promis & ouvrira les Pentacules & il verra des choses admirables touchant les choses du monde & les sciences.

Cequé étant acheué, le Maître de l'Art découvrira les pentacules a ce Roy des Esprits tout ce qu'il desirera, et s'il y a un ou deux Esprits, il fera le même & ayant obtenu son souhait, il les renvoyera en cette sorte.

Au nom de l'Eternel Adonay et du Dieu perdurable qu'un chacun de vous s'en retournene en son lieu et que la paix soit toujours entre vous et nous.

Apres il faut quil recite le premier chapitre tout entier de la genese Berescia Pharaim.

Au commancement Dieu a crée le ciel et la terre avec tout ce quil suit.

Et cela étant fait et acheué, il faut quils sortent les uns aprés les autres par ordre du cercle commançant par le Maitre; puis il faut quil se lavent le visage avec de l'eau exorcizée, comme on le dira cy aprés plus bas et ils prendront ensuite d'autre habits et vont ensuite vacquer a leurs affaires.

Prens bien garde et remarque soigneusement que cette susdite conjuration est d'une si grande vertu que si les Esprits etoient liés et resserrez par quelques lieux ou juremens il ne tarderont pas a venir: Mais s'ils etoient conjurez dans quel que lieu ou partie du monde par quel qu'autre conjurateur ou Maitre de l'art, ajoute à la conjuration, qu'à tout le moins on luy fasse venir quelque messager ou Envoyé pour luy declarer ce quil sont, ou ils sont et quand ils pourront obeir.

Mais si (ce qui est presque impossible, ils etoient jusqu'à cette heure opiniatre et desobeissant et ne vouloient pas condescendre, en ce cas il faut que tu ecrives leurs noms sur du papier vierge que tu souilleras ou rempliras de boue, de poudre ou de craye et tu allumeras du feu avec de la vrie seche sur quoy tu mettras de l'Assa fortida en poudre avec de Salpece de mauvaises senteurs et en apres tu mettras les dits noms écrits sur cette peau ou papier vierge sur le feu, disant.

Soyez, maudits; Dannez, et reprouvez éternellement et soyez tourmantez d'une peine perpetuelle en sorte que vous ne trouviez aucun repos, ni nuit ni jour ni en aucun autre moment de temps si vous n'obeissez tout incontinent aux commandemens de celuy qui fait trembler le monde; et par ces noms et en vertu de ces noms lesquels étant nommez et invoquez toutes les creatures obeissent avec crainte et tremblement et il sont bons pour eviter les foudres et tonnerres qui vous détruiront et écraseront.

Ces noms sont donc Aleph, beth, Ghimel, Daleth, hé, vau, Zain, Heth, cheth, Iod, 60. Caph, Lamed, mem, Nun samech, ayn, Pe, Zadich, Res, Hein, Tau.

Par ces noms du cacher e par ces signes qui sont pleins e remplis de Mysteres, nous vous maudissons & en vertu des principaux Termes nous vous privons de tous offices e dignitez des quels vous avez joüi jusqu'à present e par leur vertu e puissance nous vous releguons dans un Etang de feu e de souffre jusqu'au profond de l'abyme pour y bruler éternellement.

Seigneur e nôtre prince fais moy sortir de cette peine, et en ce temps ayes auprés de toy une pleume, du papier e de l'encre exorcisez comme on dira plus bas, e écrit leurs noms e allume du feu nouveau e tu mettras dessus du benjoin. de l'oliban e du storax pour faire un encencement e tu parfumeras avec ces Especes ce papier e les noms. Mais il faut que tu tienne preparés e prests ces noms; que tu montre les Sacrez pentacules e demanderas ce qu'il te plaira et tu l'obtiendras. ce qu'ayant obtenu renvoyez les Esprits e leurs dis.

Par la vertu de ces Pentacules e parce que vous leur avez été obeïssans, e que vous avez été obeissant e que vous avez acquiesce aux commandemens e aux paroles du Createur, sentez e fleurez l'odeur de douceur e allez ensuite dans les propres lieux de vos retraittes e que la paix soit entre vous e nous e soyez toujours prests à venir lors que vous serez appellez e citéz e que la benediction de Dieu tout autant que vous la pourrez reçevoir soit sur vous, pourvu que vous soyez obeissans e prompts a venir sans solemnitez de nôtre part.

Il doit encore faire un livre de papier vierge e y ecrire les susdites Conjurations e contraindre les Demons qu'il jurent dessus ce même livre de venir tout e quante fois e en quelque temps que ce soit qu'il seront simplement appellez de ce presenter: ensuite de quoy tu pouras ouvrir le livre des Sceaux sacrez d'une lame d'argent et y écrire les Sacrez Pentacules ou les y graver et tu pouras ouvrir ce livre le dimanche e le jeudi et plustôt de nuit que de jours les Esprits viendront: pour ce qui est de la nuit, il faut entendre la suivante ou celles d'aprés mais non pas l'antecedente au jour cy devant dit.

Des Medailles ou Pentacules

Chapitre 8.me

Mais puisque nous avons fait mention des Medailles ou Pentacules, il faut que tu saches que la sciences et Connoissance de nôtre clavicule depend de l'operation, service, usage et notice, des Pentacules. Qu'il sache qu'on trouve dans ces même Pentacules les ineffables et tres saints qui ont été écrits dans la table de Moyse avec le doit de Dieu que Jay eu par la Divine revelation qui m'a été faite par l'Ange que Jay seu recueillir ensemble, ordonnez, consacrez et gardes pour l'avantage du genre humain, la conservation du corps et de l'ame.

Les Pentacules se doivent donc faire le Jour et heure de Mercure lors que la lune Est dans Ensigne de l'air ou terrestre; Il faut que la lune soit dans son croissant et En nombre pareil du jour avec le soleil.

Il faut Ensuite procurer d'avoir une chambre ou cabinet nouvellement blanchi et il faut que tu y demeure seul et non aucun autre, dans lequel toy et tes compagnons entreront et tu l'encenseras et parfumeras avec des odeur et parfum de l'Art et il faut que le temps soit claire et serain et il faut que tu ayes un ou plusieurs papiers vierges preparez et disposez comme nous dirons plus bas dans leurs lieu, et tu commanceras a écrire et faire les Pentacules à cette même heure susdite et tu les feras principallement entre autre choses avec ces trois couleurs particulieres, d'or, de cinabre ou Rouge et de bleu celeste.

Tu feras pourtant ces Medailles avec la plume et couleurs exorcizé comme on en traittera en son lieu lors qu'on les fera ou ecrira tous. S'ils se peuvent faire a cette heure cela sera que le Mieux, sinon pourtant il n'est pas necessaire de laisser l'Ouvrage. Si toutes fois tu veux cesser et abandonner la ton oeuvre, il faut que tu recommance le reste le jour et l'heure susdite.

Toutes choses finie prend un drap tres fin de soye comme on raportera cy-dessous et tu y envelopperas les Pentacules et Ensuite tu prendras un grand vaisseau de terre remplis de charbons ou il y aura de l'encens mâle, du Mastic, bois d'aloës tous

64 Conjurez et exorcizé et il faut que tu sois nét et lavé comme on poura voir en son Lieu; Il faut que de plus que tu ayez La faucille ou le couteau de l'Art avec laquel tu feras un cercles rond commun en entraçant encore un dessus l'autre cercle et tu ecriras les noms de Dieu selon ta volonté dans l'espace des deux cercles et Ensuite tu dois avoir dans le sercle susdit un vaisseau ou un pot de terre avec des charbons allumez et des parfums d'odeurs preparées et les Pentacules sus dites que tu parfumeras avec ces odeurs et parfums et ayant tourné la face du côté du Soleil levant tu tiendras les dits Pentacules sur cét Encensement et tu diras devotement Les Pseaume suivans de nôtre pere David.

Ps. Seigneur Seigneur nôtre,
Ps. Dieu mon Dieu regarde sur moy,
Ps. Le Seigneur est mon éclaircissement
Ps. Bienheureux sont ceux de qui les iniquitez &c Ps. Ayez pitié de moy Seigneur selon.
Ps. Apportez au Seigneur
Ps. Dieu donne ton jugement au Roy
Ps. Voycy, benissez maintenant.

Tu diras ensuite l'oraison suivante.

Adonay tres-puissant El tres fort, agla tres-saint qui veut dire commancement et fin et qui as ranis toutes choses dans ta sagesse, qui à choisi

Abraham

Abraham ton fidelle serviteur et qui a promis que toutes les tribus de la terre seroient benites dans la semance et as multiplie la semence comme les Etoiles du ciel et qui as apparu a ton serviteur Moyses En feu au melieu d'un buisson ardent et la fait marcher a pieds nuds sur la mer et qui a donné la loy à ton même serviteur Moyses sur le mon Sinay et as accordé ces presens Pentacules a Salomon ton serviteur par ta grande Misericorde pour la conservation de l'âme et du corps; nous implorons et supplions tres heumblement ta Majesté que ces Pentacules soyent consacrez Ensorte qu'ils obtiement la vertu et la force contre tous les Esprits par toy tres-saint Adonay de qui le regne, l'Empire et la principale demeure sans fin.

Ces choses étant dites et recitées tu parfumeras les Pentacules avec les même odeurs et senteurs les Envelopant en apres dans un drap de soye preparé; tu les mettras dans un lieu bien net que tu porras ouvrir tant qu'il te plaira et les refermer selon ton bon plaisir; et il faut que ce lieu là soit preparé comme nous dirons cy dessous & ensuite tu parfumeras le dit lieu avec les odeurs et senteurs et tu les arrosseras avec de l'eau et le goupillon de l'Art car ils ont et retiennent beaucoup de proprieté et des vertus innombrables comme tu le pouras facilement Connoistre par l'experience.

Que cela soit suffisamment dit pour ce qui concernet beaucoup et touche la solemnelle conjuration des

Chap. Sixieme.

Si tu souhaittes de faire L'experience de l'invisibilité, tu la feras comme il est contenu dans l'operation ci selon ordonne le jour et l'heure tu la feras comme il est porté dans leurs chap. Mais si tu ne dois pas observer le jour et l'heure comme il a été dite au chap. des heures, du feras comme il a été dit cy devant. si aussi l'Experience se doit l'ecrire, il faut que cela se fasse comme il Est porté cy dessous. Mais si cela se doit faire par l'invocation, auparavant que les conjurations se fasse, tu diras devotement dans ton coeur.

Sabolel, Habaron, Eloy, Elimigit, Gabeloy, Semitican, Metinobech, Labanthena, Neromobel, catemete, Balue, Timaguel, Villaguet, Teventex, Serie, Sente, barucaba, 7°. Athonavel, Barachabat, Athonaveli Eratieum. Par celuy-la par lequel vous avez l'empire et le pouvoir sur les hommes il faut que vous parachaviez cet ouvrage affinque je puisse aller et demeurer Invisible.

Et s'il est necessaire de tracer un cercle dans cette operation tu le feras comme il est parlé au chap. des cercles ; et s'il faut écrire de même,

Mais quand cette operation sera preparée ensuite comme il se doit, s'il y a là une propre conjuration tu la diras ou sinon tu diras la commune, et à la fin tu prononceras ces paroles.

Ô Toy Almiras Maistre de l'invisibilité avec tes ministres Mayton, Metagyx, Ebyros, Dionidis, Uguemenos, Abadem, Periberim, Tanguialem, Trensidem, Succantos, Abelay Bored, Bellamia, castormi, detel; Je vous conjure par celuy qui fait trembler le ciel et la terre et est assis dans le throne de sa Majesté que cette operation se fasse si parfaitement selon mon intention, qu'à quelque heure que je voudray, je puisse estre invisible.

On. Pour faire cette operation, il faut que tu ayes toutes choses preparées et parfumées avec soin et les diligences requises et mises en oeuvre avec [illegible] solemnités generales et particuliers conte= [illegible] dans le [illegible] que dans le premier et [illegible] que [illegible] tous les lieux et tu diras sur

Les mêmes operations les conjurations duës et tu feras cela avec toutes les solemnités des chap. sus=dits.

Sois persuadé qu'en suite tu feras assurement l'experience et ainsi tu la pourras trouver veritable.

De L'Experience De L'Amour, Et comment elle s'opere.

Chapitre onziéme.

Toutes et quantes fois qu'il se rencontrera qu'on doit faire des operations, ou qu'on fait des experiences d'amour impetrations de graces, pour avoir en possession un mâle ou une femelle Il faut que le Maitre de l'operation, y soit bien instruits comme il est rapporté au chap. de l'exorcizateur.

A l'egard des Jours et des heures tu travailleras comme dans le propre chapitre Et silon doit faire l'Experiences avec vne image de cire ou de quel qu'autre Matiere, il En faut agir comme dans le chapitre de cire.

Ce qui étant fait et toute chose étant mises En execution, sur la cire preparée tu profereras ces paroles suivantes.

Noga, Jes, Astropolem, Asmo, cocau, Sabee, Besabaday, Jerim, Emus levaria, Neurim, Babus, Sator, Ichi, pirus, Theut, Vereset, Lanistaw, Sadonay, Fristet, Viloporas, Tamis, Astropiel, Luon, Noaphoras, latisten, Amorales, Epicarmas, sephomi, Pironias, Sonotrabas, Pistorim, Inoposon, necopolitas, Usion, ornas, cudas, Moas, Sophina Amos, Trator, Soma, Inaro, Jesil, Egeri, Artabael, Brodiah, Concifach, [illegible], Amri, Zeurper, Medme, Arcel, Leviel, Arnala[illegible]tem, Betzphar, Fmalzaod, Agaluta, lon, [illegible]olaterion, lolatente, Pusmator, Tuscono, [illegible], meavel, genitis, Serpora, Coribom, Tuyam, Atenida, Clarmi, [illegible], Bermona, [illegible], Temptator, Comendator, Accusator.

Je vous conjure ô vous tous ministres d'amour et de fornication par celuy qui contraint tous les jours, que vous consacriez et confirmiez cette presente cire, tout de même et tout autant qu'il est necessaire, affin que je puisse obteni ma volonté par la vertu et puissance du tres-Saint-Adonay de qui la vertu Et la force demeure sans fin dans tous les Siecles des Siecles ainsi soit il.

Toutes ces choses étant faites tu feras l'image comme il est dite dans cette operation et s'il est besoin d'ecrire sur l'image cela doit Etre ecrit avec l'eguille, plume et Encre de qualité comme il Est rapporté dans leurs lieux. Il faudra parfumer ladite image; et si l'on doit faire quelqu'invocation sur ladite image elle se fera selon la doctrine particuliere de cette Experience, En sorte qu'à la fin de la conjuration tu fasse les Encensemens dont il est parlé au chapitre des parfums, Et pendant qui tu tiendras l'Image sur le parfums tu prononceras de telle ou semblables paroles.

Ô Asmodeé orient tres-reluisant et Roy tres excellant qui regnez et commande dans les parties orientales le Regne et Empire duquel a eu son Commencement dans les siecles et durera jusqu'à la fin des siecles.

Ô toy Amaymon Roy tres-noble qui domine dans les contrées du Midi.

Je vous invoque puissamment & je vous prie avec instance, par celuy qui a dit & il a été fait, & qui par une seule parole a engendré la parole & a qui toutes les creatures obeïssent par le siege de sa majesté par le quel Il a créé les siecles & dont le nom saint s'écrit en quatre lettres & par toutes les Medailles & leurs vertus & par les insignes et augustes nom du createur, Que vous consacriez la presente Image comme il est necessaire & que vous la formiez de sorte qu'il acquiere la vertu qu'elle doit obtenir & impetrer & que nous luy desirons par le tres Saints nom

Cela étant tu conjureras de nouveau avec la conjuration expresse de l'experience & si la femme ne venoit pas alors il faudra que tu mette l'image sous l'orillier de ton lit et avant trois jours ou le troisieme jours tu verras des choses qui seront merveilleuses et étonnantes de la part de la femme qui viendra incontinent près de toy ou t'envoyer quelcun te parler, & si tu executes bien le tout, des chaines de fer ne seroient pas suffisantes de l'empecher de te venir visiter.

Que si l'on grave l'image sur quelque metail ou si on la fond en étain ou argent ou plomb, pour lors, il faut que les noms soient écrits; Mais si l'on doit écrire l'experience ou depeindre des caracteres ou des noms il se faut servire de l'equille, plume de l'Art dans leurs lieux, temps et heures comme en leurs chapitres.

Si donc l'experience se fait avec laquelle l'Amant doit être touché ou bien quelqu'ecriture ou billet ou autre chose semblable pour mettre sous le seuil de la porte ou dans quelqu'autre lieux ou la femme doit passer, ou quelqu'operation d'une telle nature par laquelle on doit faire de la poudre pour jetter sur elle ou bien en luy donnant quelque chose à manger; pour lors on doit faire toutes les solemnitez requises & observer tout ce qui est necessaires & les instrumens comme il est dit dans leurs chap. & ensuite reciter l'oraison suivante.

En quelque partie du monde que vous soyez & de quelque noms qu'on vous appelle, Je vous exorcize & vous conjure vous ô Demons qui avez le pouvoir de renverser le coeur des hommes & des femmes, par celuy qui vous a crée de rien, que vous veniez incontinent & sans retardement cett nuit en presence pour traitter de cette chose et comme il est necessaire affin qu'elle ait et prenne la puissance de la vertu necessaire de contraindre & forcer a m'aimer ceux de l'un, de de l'autre sexe que je voudray, et de leur inspirer mon Amour.

Je Vous conjure ô vous Anael Donquiel, Teliel Prince de l'amour et vos ministres telle quils puissent [illegible] qui avez la puissance de mettre en chaleur les hommes et les femmes et d'allumer en eux de l'amour. vous conjure ô vous par celuy qui est assis sur les cherubins regardant les abymes et qui a fait trembler le monde, et à qui toutes les creatures obeissent, que vous ordonniez de sorte ces caracteres figures ou images lesquelles sont consacrées, en façon que la personne que je la donneray ou je feray passer par dessus, je puisse inspirer un tel amour que sans aucun empechement elle me puisse aimer si fort, qu'elle me cherisse, espere en moy, et brule d'amour pour moy, ne sachant que moy et [illegible] sa pensée et son repos soit en moy.

Tu les mettras ensuite cette operation ensevelie [illegible] en un quarrefour au milieu de la croisée et ensuite tu travailleras pour l'heure comme il est porté au propre chapitre.

De l'experience

De L'Experience de la pomme.

Chapitre douziéme.

Mais ensuite quand tu voudras faire l'experience, ou operation de la Pomme, tu la prepareras dans l'heure et les jours ainsi quil est dit en leur chap. Il faut donc que la pomme soit belle et sans tache et ce que je dis de la pomme je le dis pareillement de tous les autres fruits comme poire, pêche et fruits semblables.

Tu prandrais donc dans ta main ce fruit que tu mettras dans un lieu secret. Avant toutefois que tu le ceuilles sur l'Arbre tu l'arroseras avec de l'eau exorcisée et consacrée et l'ayant detachée de l'arbre tu la Parfumeras avec des odeurs, parfums et suffumigations de l'Art dans un lieu secret et tu diras en suite la conjuration suivante.

Seigneur Dieu tout puissant qui a formé la terre et Eve a été merveilleusement faite de la cote d'Adam, par son operation qui luy ayant donné le fruit a manger la fait pecher; fais aussi pareillement en sorte que celuy ou celle qui mangera de ce fruits ou qui le touchera fasse et execute ma volonté de toutes

14. sortes demanieres.

Je te conjure fruit de la pomme par celuy qui t'a fait et creé, et par ces tres-sacrez noms El Eloym, Eloha, Eheye, et par les trois Princes des Anges du paradis Michel, Gabriel, Raphael et par tous les cœurs et Armées des Anges De plus par la vertu de Dieu et ses noms ineffables a sçavoir, Saday, Jah, Jah, Jah, El, et entoph qui a creé toutes choses et les Siecles dans le commancement des Siecles, affin que celuy ou celle qui mangera, n'ait aucune paix ou repos qu'elle n'acomplisse ma volonté.

Je te conjure semblablement toy ô fruit par Theodor Cosma et Bina et par le nom des dix Sephirot, comme aussi par tous les demons de l'Antre infernal que celuy ou celle a qui je te mantreray, donneray ou feray toucher soit brulé du feu de Mon amour et que luy ou elle n'ayent aucune paix ou repos s'il n'accomplit en tout ma volonté. Que si on veut ecrire quelque chose sur la pomme ou autre fruit on doit se servir de l'Eguille de l'Art et aux heures requises.

Il y a encore d'autres Experiences d'Amour qui se font seulement a l'aspect et au regard de la faces, des yeux, de la personne.

Il faut donc qu'on fasse de telles Experiences dans les heures et dans les temps attribuez a l'Amour car si tu fais ainsi qu'il a été dit cy-dessus tu eprouveras la verité de tes Operations.

Chapitre Trezieme.

Si tu souhaites de te servir d'une personne aimée de l'un ou de l'autre sexe en songe, il faut que tu fasse ton Operation aux heures portées au second livre dans le commancement et avant que tu Commences aucune Conjuration, il faut que tu observe que le Ciel soit serain et qu'il ne soit chargé d'aucun nuages obscurs que tu pouras considerer ou dans ta chambre ou cabinet duquel tu regarderas les Astres, les Etoiles ou la lune si elle luit pour lors et tu diras dans ton cœur, c'est a dire a voix basse ces noms suivans Agla, Jod He, vau, He, Jah, Jah, Jah, Lamistarod, Adoe Eloheme Veaniglae, lancelob, Ulbaneno, Gadgalano,.

Seigneur saint Pere tout puissant qui as creé toutes choses et qui connois les cœurs des hommes et des femmes par ces Saints noms sus dits illumine le cœur de N. affin que luy ou elle

80. me cherisse d'un égal amour, que je l'aime, Ensorte qu'elle accomplisse ma volonté de même que je suis prest de me rendre à la sienne; et que comme je porteray cette presente Image coucher avec moy, elle songe aussi qu'elle me tient tres doucement & veritablement Entre ses bras.

Tu mettras cette Image sous l'oreiller et tu reciteras trois fois la susdite Conjuration et tu en éprouveras l'effet.

Des operations pour la haine & destruction des Ennemis.

Chapitre quatorzieme

Les operations de la haine et destruction des Ennemis se font En plusieurs façons, ce que Tu remarqueras Engeneral.

Si tu te sers d'une Image de cire ou d'autre matiere & que par avanture le Jour & l'heure de cette operation Manquent, Tu auras recours au chapitre des heures; il faut que cette Image se fasse à sa propre Maniere et façon; [illegible] & si tu dois ecrire sur ladite Image,

Il faut

Il faut que tu ecrive selon l'Art, que tu la parfumes & dire sur elle les paroles suivantes U. Sor, Dilapidator, Tentator, Sommiator, Devorator, Commissator & Seductor, vous dis-je, je vous conjure tous et vos ministres & vos compagnons, je vous force et je vous commande quoy que fassiez librement tellement que vous consacriez Solemnellement cette ou ces Images au nom de N. N. et le reste (et vous nommerez ceux ou celles-là) En sorte qu'ils se haïssent telle Ment que Jamais Il ne puisse se regarder.

Tu mettras En suite l'image En quelque Lieu encensé avec un odeur horrible et puante et principalement de l'Espece de Mars; comme du souffre, de l'Art foetida et semblabes; et il faut que ces odeurs puantes y demeurent pendant une nuit, tu Enseveliras Ensuite l'image comme il Est dit dans sa propre operation & observation l'heure et le temps cy dessus allegué. Que si l'Experience se doit faire avec des caracterres ou des noms, ou En touchant les Amans ou par paroles ou En quelqu'autre maniere; l'observation des Jours et des heures y est tres-necessaire comme il est porté dans leurs chap. et si l'on y doit Encore observer quelque chose cela se trouvera au livre Second.

Que si on donne quelque chose a manger dans l'operation à quelque personne il a sans-prendre aux jours & heures qui sont propre a cela comme il a été dit cy devant au chapitre des heures et toutes choses étant preparées tu les mettras devant toy et tu diras Ouetes-vous-vous autres Somniator, Usor, Lapidator, diversator, Tentator, Seminator discordice; ou être vous, vous autres qui causez la haine et qui semez des dissentions et ne desirez autre choses que des inimitiez, des discordes et des querelles?

Je vous conjure ô vous par celuy qui vous a créés et qui vous a ordonnez pour ce ministre; Je vous commande absolument et derechef que vous fassiez que celuy ou celle qui Mangera de cette chose ou qui la touchera en quelque façon ne puisse jamais venir à une bonne et parfaite Concorde, ni se reconseilier.

Tu En donneras Ensuite quelque chose aux Amans ou aux autres à l'heure de Saturne ou de Mars et pour lors tout ce que tu desireras se fera.

Comment se preparent Les operations des Jeuex, des Moqueries, de l'Invisibilité et des Tromperies.

Chapitre Quizieme.

On fait ces operations en plusieurs façons; et quand tu les voudras éprouver, tu observeras le jour et l'heure dont nous avons parlé et il faut que tu écrives toutes les Operations comme il est porté dans leurs chapitres, et si on y doit écrire des caracteres ou des paroles, cela se doit faire sur du papier vierge dont nous parlerons plus bas, et pour l'encre (s'il n'est pas autrement porté dans l'operation) il est necessaire qu'on se serve du

Sang de chauve souris, avec la plume & l'éguille de l'Art: Mais qu'on écrive rien observer toutes les Solemnitez & toute étant par ordre, ayant devant toy une semblable Operation tu diras dessus d'une voix basse ces paroles. Abbac abdac, Ittac, audac, Cottrac, coac, Suses, Tristator, Derisor, Detestator, Incantator;

Venez icy Berlandiers frequenteurs de Jeux et des lieux ou se pratiquent toute sorte de Moquerie et tromperie, et vous qui faît disparoistre les choses et les Rendez invisibles; venez pour tromper ceux qui regardent ces choses, affin qu'ils soient deçus et qu'il leurs semble toujour de voir ce qu'ils ne verront pas et Entendre ce qu'ils n'entendront pas, Que Leurs sens soient trompez, & qu'il leur apparoisse ce qui n'est pas veritable. venez donc et vous arrestez & consacrez cette enchantement, Parce que Dieu tout puissant vous a deputez pour faire de telles choses.

Apres on acheve cette Operation ou Experience qui est preparée de cette sorte dans le temps & l'heure que l'Art assigne a ces susdites paroles, Abbac & doivent être marquées et ecrites avec la plume qui est icy ordonnée et si on les doit faire [illegible] qu'elles soient ecrites de quel que façon qu'on les faise, on dira toujours les precedentes paroles & et elles se doivent repeter comme dessus.

Que si tu pratiques toutes ces choses, tu parviendras à l'effet de tes Operations.

Comment on Prepare les Experiences Extraordinaires.

Chapitre seizieme.

Nous avons parlé des Experiences communes dans le chapitres precedent; Il est question dans celuy cy de traitter des Operations extraordinaires; lesquels se font encore en plusieurs façons Comme par Exemple; pour noüer l'Eguillette pour Empecher que les hommes n'ayent aucune habitation de femmes; Les Operations Concordes et d'union & autres semblables dont les femmes ont coutume de se servir et qu'elles font sans aucune Solemnité qui quelleque fois succedent à cause de la grande foy qu'elles y ont; C'est dans ces operations que la foy supplée au lieu des Solemnitez, et ceremonies.

Tous ceux néantmoins qui ont la volonté de pratiquer de telles operations, doivent observer les jours et les heures et user du papier vierge, et une telle Experience étant preparée tu la tiendras devant toy et tu diras:

Dieu qui as fait toutes choses et nous a donné la Science pour connoître le bien et le mal, par ton Saints nom et par ces Saints noms — Jah, Vau, Balos, Tafor, Sapator, Zucor, Amator, Creator, fais Seigneur que cette Experience se trouve veritables entre mes mains par ton tres Sacré Siege Adonay de qui le Regne et l'Empire demeure éternellement et sans fin par les siecles des Siecles, ainsi soit il.

Ce qui étant dit tu feras l'Experience selon son heure et tu la parfumeras et Encenseras comme il est porté dans son chap. l'arrosant avec de l'Eau exorcizée et En observant toutes les Ceremonies comme il est marqué au Livre Second.

Des Sacrez

Des
Sacrez Pentacu
Canderies ou Medailles et De leur Matiere.

Que si tu invoques les Esprits En vertu de ces phanto ils t'obeiront sans repugnance et les ayant considerez ils en seront étonnez et les craindront Ensorte quils ~~ne feront~~ ne pas faire ta volonté.

Ils sont aussi de grandissime valeur et efficace contre tous les perils et danger de la terre de l'eau et du feu; contre toute sorte de necessité et infirmité; contre tous les Ennemis visibles et invisibles, contre le poison qu'on a bu; contre le [illegible]noiement de l'Eguillette; contre toute Sorte de Sortileges et Sorcelleries; contre la frayeur et la crainte; A quel que part que tu t'en rencontreras armé tu seras asseuré tout le temps de ta vie.

On s'acquiert par ceux la grace et la bienveillance des hommes et des femmes; le feu s'éteint; Les eaux s'arrestent Toutes les Creatures craignent à la vuë des noms qui y sont écrits et obeissent par crainte.

Ces Pentacules se font pour l'ordinaire du Metal le plus convenables a la Planette et pour l'ors il n'est pas besoin qu'on observe la regle des couleurs: Mais il faut quils soient gravez auec l'Instrument de l'Art aux jours et heures propres et convenables, à la Planette.

Saturne pour ce qui est des Metaux domine sur le Plomb, Jupiter sur l'Etain; Mars sur le fer; le Soleil sur l'or; Venus sur le cuivre, Mercure sur le Melange des Metaux Et La Lune sur l'argent.

Ilz se font

Ils se font néan moins auec du papier vierge exorcizé et s'ecriuent auec des couleurs adaptées a chacune des planettes et le tout se rapporte comme dans les propre chapitres et selón que les planettes ont plus de rapport aux Planettes,

C'est pourquoy á ♄ s'attribüe la Couleur noire; ♃ domine sur la couleur bleüe celeste; ♂ sur le Rouge; ☉ sur l'or ou jaune citron; ♀ sur le verd; ☿ sur le melange des couleurs; ☽ sur la terre d'ombre ou terre argentine,

La matiere pour tant doit estre vierge, c'est a dire, n'auoir jamais ésté mise en oeuvre; ou du moins elle doit estre purifiée dans le feu si elle est composée de Metaux,

Pour ce qui est de La matiere elle est telle; Mais pour la grandeur elle est telle quil plait, Pourvu que les cermonies s'observent exactement;

Liure Second

Avant propos

Cet ouvrage de Salomon est divisé en deux Livres.

Dans le premier on decouvre les fallaces des expenmens experiences ou operations aussi bien que celles des Esprits.

Mais dans celuy-cy on Enseignera comme les arts Magiques se reduisent au but de la fin qu'on se propose.

L'on doit pourtant observer de prendre garde soigneusement que cest clavicule des des Segrets ne tombe pas Entre les mains de quelque fols ou Ignorants; car celuy qui la sera possesseur et qui les retiendra bien par coeur de ce qui y est ecrit ne poura non seulement pas reduire tous le arts magiques à leur fin;

2 Mais même Encore s'il s'y rencontroit quelque faute ou manquemens; il Les poura corriger faci= lement; c'est pourquoy aucun arts ou operation de quel que sorte quil puis être ne poura arriver à sa fin; de sorte que tous Les Maitres des Arts ou Exercitateurs noront pas cét ouvragre assuré en leurs puissance; Qui ne pouront pas voir la verité de quelque operation; Pour cét effet, Je prie tres Instamment et je conjure La personne entre Les mains de qui tombera cest Clavicule des segret de ne la pas com= muniquer ni donner pas faire participant a celuy qui ne sera pas fidelles, qui ne sera pas capable de garder le segret et qui ne sera pas tres expert dans les Arts; Et je supplie tres-humblement le possesseur de ce livre par l'ineffable nom de Dieu en quatres lettres Iod, He, Vau, He et par le nom Adonay, et par toutes les autres tres-hauts et tres-sacrés noms de Dieu quil garde cet ouvrage aussi chere que son ame et quil n'en fasse par a aucun sot ou ignorant

A quelle Heure
apres la Prepartion de toutes les choses on doit donner
La perfection a l'exercice
De L'art,

Chapitre Premier:

On a universellement traitté des jours & des heures dans le premier livre; Il faut donc maintenant voir specialement à quelle heure on doit donner l'accomplissement et la perfe=
tion aux operations et aux arts ayant premiere=
ment preparé et ordonné toutes choses.

S'il arrive donc que tu ayes quel qu'operation ou secret dans les mains pour par= fer

4 ler ou pour conjurer Les Esprit, e si le jour ou lheure ni sont pas marqué, tu le mettras En Oeuvre Le Jour e heure de Mercure a la Seiziesme ou vingt troisieme heure: Mais ce Seroit beau coup mieux a la huitième qui Est troisième de la mesme nuit qui Sapelle e Sentend devant Le mattin; pour lors tu pourras Executer tous Les arts qui se doivent faire a ton gré de jour ou de nuit, pourvû quil soient preparé e ordonner aux heures convenables a telles operations.

Mais quand on ne specifie pas ni lheure ni le temps de linvocation, pour lors il Est beaucoup plus apropos e bien asseuré que lon pratiques de telles experiences e le plus asseuré est de travailler de nuit parque Les Esprits apparoissent bien plus facilement dans les pacifiques silence de la nuit que de jour; et que tu dois observer inviolablement dans tes invocations tans de jours que de nuit, est doperer dans un lieu caché, eloigné, secret e convenable, ou personne ne frécante ni n'habite comme on En parlera plus prolixemen dans Son lieu.

Si donc les Arts se doivent faire touchan des choses qui auront été desrobées, de quelque

BRITISH

Maniere quan les faisse, il faut necessairement observer le Jour et lheure de la lune, sil est possibles dans son croissant depuis la premiere Jus quá la huitième du jour.

Mais si cest de nuit ce la doit Estre a la cinquième ou troisième e mieux de jour que de nuit parce que la lumiere e clarté les Justifie e les rend beaucoup plus propres a la publication

Mais Si ce sont des operations d'Invisibilité il les fau mettre En pratiques a la premiere, seconde e troisième heure de Mars, de jour et pour la nuit, Jus qua la troisième heure de la même.

Si ce sont des Experiences d'amour, de grace, faveur et impetrations, il les fau pratiquer Jus qua la huitième heure du même jour, des la premier heure du soleil et la premiere venus Jus quá la seconde du mesme jour.

Quant aux operations de la detruction, et desolation elle se doivent faire e reduire á leur perfetion le Jour de Saturne á la premier heure ou bien a la huitième ou quinsième du jour [illegible] de Lanuit depuis lapremiere heure jusqu'a la huitième.

Les Experiences des Jeux, mocqueries, Tromperies, illusions et invisibilité se Doivent faire La premiere heure de venus et àla huitième du jour; et pour la nuit alatroisième Et à La septième.

Dans toutes les heures auquelles Les arts Magiques se doivent reduire a leur derniere perfection, aussibien queles Experiences, il faut quelalune soit augmentée de lumiere ou dans son croissant Et quelle soit coloquée dans un nombre pareil avec le Soleil Et beaucoup mieux du premier quartier jusqua l'opposition. il faut que la lune soit dans un signe de feu et cela principallement dans le belier ou Dans Le lion.

Pour executer donc toutes sortes d'operations quece soit, il faut que cela se fasse lorsque la lune éclaire ou quand elle Est augmentée de lumiere.

Pour reduire a sa perfection cel de Linvisibilité, il faut que la lune soit dans le signe des poissons dans Les Heures propres Et convenables Et quélle soit dans son croissant.

Pour toutes Celles de lámour, de[7] grace et impetration de quelque condition quelles Soyent, pourveu quelles se preparent aux heures propres; elles viendront à leur perfection pourvû quelles se preparent alors quelalune Es dans Son croisant ou dans Les Jumeaux.

Pour Ceux qui Sont Exprimentez dans L'Art, une si exquise preparation des jours et des heures n'est pas necessaires; parceque Ceux qui ont Été peu ou point du tout Instruits, ou qui se sont appliquez legerement a cést Art, ne donnent pas tant de croyance à Cétte operation, que ceux qui sont Experts Et qui En ont lapratique; il faut que ceux cy observent Cétte preparation tres exactement: Mais pour cequi est de ceux qui commencent il doivent toujours avoir les jours et les heures bien preparées Pour cequi touche a leurs arts; Et les ~~—~~ sçavant doivent seulement observer Les preceptes necessaires de l'art et pour lors ayant aussi observé les autres solemnitez, il opereront avec un Entiere asseurance.

IL faut néanmoins prendre gard que quand tu auras preparé quelque Experience de toy même aujours et heures ordonnées, cela ce doit faire dans un temps claire, serain doux Et agreable; sans au=

8·cune ardeur ou mouvement de lair qui ne soit point troublé; car quand tu conjureras quelqu'Esprit pour te servir En quel que art, il ne viendra jamais lorsque l'air Est troublé et agité de vents; puis que les Esprits nont ni chair ni os et sont créés de differentes matieres.

Ceux-ci sont créez deau; les autres de Vents et luy sont semblables; Quelcuns de terre; Quelcuns de nuages Et les autres des vapeurs du soleill; Les autres de Laccreté & force du feu & qui quand ils sont invoquez ou appellez, ils viennent Toujours auec grand bruit et auec la terreur du feu.

Quand Les Esprits qui sont créez de L'Eau sont Invoqués, il viennent auec de grosses pluyes, des greles, des Tonnerres, des Eclairs, des foudres & autre choses Semblables.

Quand les Esprits créez des nuages sont Invoquez ils viennent auec grand monstruosité, dans une forme horible et qui donne de la crainte & auec un tres grand bruit.

Quand on invoque les Esprits qui sont créez des vapeurs du soleil ils viennent En tres belle forme Et tres excellentes, enflez, remplis de

Faste & de vanité, superbes & sont forts scauans; souviens que ceux cy et tous ceux par consequ: qui sont specifiez par salomon dans le liure de la decoration ou de la beauté ont une tres grande ostentation & une vaine gloire dans Leurs habits; jouisse de plusieurs ornemens, sont glorieux de posseder la beauté mondaine & toute sorte dornemens

Il ne les invoqueras pas cy ce nest dans un temps clair & serain, & En Mesme temps doux & agreables.

Mais pour les Esprits créez du feu ils sont dans lorient, ceux qui sont

Ceux qui sont créez du vents sont du costé du midy

Remarque donc quil sera beaucoup plus aseuré de faire les experiences & operations du costé de loriens En mettans En pratiques toutes les chose Necessaires de ce costé La.

+ Lo Mais pour toutes les autres experiences Extraordinaires & celles de l'amour Elle seront bien plus Efficaces, si Elle se font du cotté du septentrion

Prends donc bien garde En outre que toutes Les fois que tu feras quelqu'experience pour le reduire a sa perfection aux toutes les solemnités requise, tu pouras faire de nouveau La même operation sans beaucoup de preparation.

Et Il arrivoit quelque fois que tu fisse quelqu'operation aux Lobseruation des heures & quel ne fut pas verifiée; il faut que tu sache quelle seroit fauce au malcompasée.

De ce Chapitre depend toute nôtre clavicule Et quoy que toutes Les solemnités soient obseruées sans ce qui Est contenu en ce chap. rien ne se pouroit verifier.

De quelle Maniere se doit gader, regir Et gouuoverner le Maitre De L'Art

Chap. Deuxieme.

Celuy qui souhaitte de s'apliquer à vne si grande & à vne Telle & si difficile chose doit avoir sa pensée exempte de toute sorte d'autre sentiment de quel que Nature quil puisse être & doit ensuite soigneusement considerer quel art ou Operation il faut écrire ce qui se doit faire Comme il Est dit cy dessous, du Papier, de L'Encre & de la plume, & il faut obseruer le jour & l'heure & combien de chose sont necessaires pour preparrer c'est art & ce qu'on y dit y devoir être ajoutte.

Lesquelles chose etant preparées Il faut que tu cherches et que tu dis pose du lieu

12. ou l'Art & l'Experience se doit pratiquer; ce qui étant ordonné, le Maître y ira dans un lieu propre, sa chambre ou cabinet secret et où on ne puisse par voir.

Il faut qu'ensuite il se depouillent tout nud et qu'il ait un bain preparé, ou de l'eau exorcizée comme il est porte cy dessous afin qu'il s'en lave & se nettoye depuis le sommet de la teste Jusqu'aux pieds; disant: Seigneur Adonay qui a formé un indigne pecheur a ton image et ressemblance de terre vile et abjete; daignes benir et sanctifier cette eaux, affin quel soit la salvation et la mondification de mon ame affin qu'aucune fallace ou tromperie n'y puisse avoir lieu en quelque façon que ce puisse être.

Tres Puissant et ineffable Dieu qui a fait passer a pied sec ton peuple la mer rouge lors que tu le tirois de la terre d'Egypte, accorde moy que je sois purifié et regeneré par cette eau de tous mes pechés passés affin qu'aucune ordure ne se fasse paroitre sur moy a ton aspect.

Tu te plongeras Ensuite dans l'eaue Jusque par dessus le sommet de la tete, tu te nettoyeras avec un linge de lin fin et blanc et net et tu te vestiras sur la Chair d'habillemens de lin blanc, fins et nets desquels nous parlerons plus bas.

Tu t'abstiendras

Tu t'abstiendras ensuite pendant trois jours pour le moins de tous Entretiens et raisonnemens vains oisifs et sales et de toute sorte d'impureté, comme on te raportera plus bas au chap., de la Garde & du jeune et tu reciteras tous les jours L'Oraison suivante, pour le moins une fois tous les mattins, deux fois environ tierce, quatre fois a none et sur le soir autant de fois.

Arachio, Asac, Asacra, Bedrimulat, Silat Arabonas, Ierablem Iodadac, Achazal, Zophiel, Blautel, Baracaton Eloy, Emagro, abraxe, Brebarach Zamuel cadat, Eraeli, Amostra, Malched, Domed, Damud, Elamay, breol, segen, Gomon, Domas

Seigneur Dieu qui sied sur les cieux & regarde les abysmes, fais moy je te prie la grace, que ce que je connois, par Esprits, je le puisse accomplir par oeuvre; par toy ô Dieu Souverain qui vit & regne par les siecles des siecles — ainsi soit il.

Les trois jours Etant passez, il faut que tu attende L'heure a laquelle tu dois commancer l'operation et apres que tu auras commancé a cette heure tu pourras perseverer Jusqu'a la fin de l'oeuvre, parce qu'il prend sa force de la premiere qui reprend sa force sur les autres.

Comment se doivent Gouverner les Disciple

Chapitre Troisiéme.

Quand le Maitre de l'Art veu mettre en pratique quelque Operation d'importance il doit premierement considerer desquels compagnons il se peut servir; Dans Operations qui se font dans le cercle il est apropos quil ait trois compagnons & s'il ne peut avoir de compagnons il doit avoir du moins aupres de luy un chien attaché, s'il a des compagnons Ils sont tenus et obligés a toutes les choses quil leur [illegible] prescrira et doivent s'étudier de les observer avec soin et se rendre attentifs a toutes les choses quils entendront et ceux qui seront autrement pouront bien souffrir. Et Endurer beaucoup de peines Et courir des dangers que les Esprits leurs pourroient causer et il pourroient bien meme en mourir; quelque fois,

Les Disciples étant donc bien et diligemment enseignés, et instruits, et fortifiés par un esprit capable et suffisant, le Maitre prendra de l'eau exorcisée et entrera dans un lieu secret avec ses disciples & lors quil sera net et purifié celieu, il faut quil se dépouille et ses compagnons et les mette tout nuds et il faut quil verse sur leur tête leau exorcisée, En sorte quil les lave et leur fasse descendre de leau jusquaux pieds et les baignant et lavant, il dira:

Soyez regenerez, lavé et purifiez au nom de l'inéfable, grand et Eternel Dieu, de tous vos peché & la vertu du tres haut descende sur vous & y demeure toujours, affin que vous soyez La force et puissiez accomplir le desirs de vôtre coeur — ainsi — soit — il.

Enaprés Il que les Disciples, s'habillent comme le Maistre et sabtienne de même queluy et disent pendant trois jours l'oraison que le Maître recite, et quil facessent cequil fait; quils se suivent ensuite & quil luy obeïssent en toutes choses.

Mais si le Maitre veut avoir un chien pour compagnon, il faut quil le lave Entierement avec de leau excirzée dela même maniere quil En à agy avec ses disciples et quil le parfume avec les odeurs et senteurs de l'Art et quil le conjure en cette façon.

Je te conjure creature de chien par celuy qui ta créé et je te lave et te parfume au nom du tres haut et trespuissant Dieu, eternel affin que tu sois mon veritable compagnon dans cette operation, et que tu sois pareillement mon amy En toutes celles que je feray dans la suite.

Mais sil veut avoir pour compagnon un Jeune Enfant ou petite fille, ce qui seroit mieux il faut il faut quil les dispose comme il a disposé le chien et quil leur ratisse recoupe les ongles des pieds et des mains et dise. Je te conjure Creature de fille ou de jeune garcon par le Dieu tres haut peré de toutes les creatures, par le Pere Adonay, Eloym et par le pere Elyon que tu m'aye par la puissance ni le pouvoir de me celer aucune chos ni la verité de dont je t'interrogeráy et que tu me sois obeissant et fidelle.

Quil mondifie nettoye et lave de nouveau ce Jeune homme avec l'eau de l'Art en disant derechef ce qui suit.

Soyez regeneré et purifié en sorte que les Esprits ne te puisse jamais nuire et ne puissent demeurer en toy.

Parfumele avec l'odeur cy dessous et quand les compagnons seront rangez et ordonnez en cette façon, pour lors le Maitre pourra assurement operer conjointement avec eux toutes et tant de fois quil luy plaira et l'operation se fera heureusement et obtiendra son effet.

Pour la seureté tant de l'ame et du corps Il faut que le Maitre et chacun des disciples ayent des pentacules qui soyent devant leur poitrine et con

sacrez avec

sacrez avec un voyle de soye quil les couvrira et qui soyent parfumez des odeurs et senteurs aux lesquels étant confortez et animez ils entre sans crainte et courageusement dans le cercle ou sans craints ou frayeur ils seront libres et exempts de tous peril et danger et ensuite Il faut quils obtiennent ou obeïssent aux commandemant du Maitre et fasse tout ce quil leurs commandera: Mais s'ils se comportent de cette façon tout réüssira à leur souhait.

Les Disciples peuvent encore estre au nombre de cinq, sept ou neuf et tout autant quil seront, ils obeiront precisement aux commandement du Maitre et par ce moyen tout succedera heureusement.

Du Jeûne
Garde et obseruation
necêsaire
Chapitre quatrième.

Quand ensuite le Maitre de l'Art voudra faire ses operations, les chose tant preparées qui se doivent faire auparavant et pratiquer des le premier jour de l'experience, il est tout à fait necessaire de prescrire la gard et l'obseruation, comme de s'abstenir de toute chose illicite et salté ou déformité tant du corps et que de l'âme, comme pourrait être de manger beaucoup; de boire Extraordinairement, de toutes sorte de paroles oyseuses, de gausserie et chóses superfluës, de maudire, de murmurer, et des Entretiens inutils, de s'appliquer a des choses particuliers; Il doit garder En tout la bienseance, dans la promenad dans les repas dans les conversasions et En toutes chose: ce qui se doit principalement dans le temps et Espace de neuf jours devant le Commancement de l'Operation et il faut que les disciples fassent de même.

Mais avant le commencement de l'ouvrage, il faut sans contredit que le Maitre recite avec ses disciples la suivante oraisons une fois seulement le matin et le soir deux fois

Seigneur Dieu tout puissant sois moy propice à moy pauvre pecheur parce que je ne suis pas digne de lever mes yeux au ciel a cause de l'iniquité de mes peché et de la multitude de mes fautes. O toy pere pieux et misericordieux qui ne demande pas la mort du pecheur, Mais quil se convertisse et quil vive. Dieu aye pitié de moy et me pardonne tous mes peché, car je te prie moy indigne, Pere de toutes les creatures qui est remplie de misericorde et de pieté, par ton immense clemence que tu me daigne accorder par toy souverain pere, de pouvoir voir et connaitre ces Esprits que je desire de convoquer pour paroitre devant moy et pour accomplire ma volonte, par toy qui triomphes et regne dans tous les siecles des siecles ainsi soit il.

Seigneur Dieu qui est assis sur les Cherubins et les Seraphins et regardes la mer; J'élève vers toy mes mains, et J'implore ton secours, toy qui es seule l'accomplisement des bonnes Oeuvres; Toy qui donnes le repos a ceux qui travaillent; qui humilie les Superbes, qui a fait la vie et a déstruit la mort. Toy qui Es notre repos et la protection de ceux qui t'invoque, protege, garde et déffend moy en cette article. Toy qui vis regne et demeure par les siecles éternels ainsi soit il.

Les trois derniers jours avant que de donner Commancement a cet Oeuvre tu te contenteras de viandes peu nourissantes seulement une fois par Jour et il seroit beaucoup mieux de te contenter de pain et deau, Tu reciteras l'oraison susdite et le dernier jour quand tu voudras commancer ton operation, tu resteras tout ce jour sans manger et apres tu iras dans un lieu secrets ou tu confesseras devottement a Dieu tout tes peché d'un coeur pur.

Le Maitre et ses Disciples reciteront ensemble la confession d'une voix basse et intelligible qui a été dite cy devant dans le premiere livre. Toutes ces chose étant trois fois recitées avec un coeur pur et contrit dans un lieu purifié et ecarté prenant l'eau de l'Hyssope il dira

Purifie moy Seigneur d'Hyssope et je seray nettoyé, lave moy et je seray plus blanc que neige.

Lave toy ensuitte auec de leau excorcizée et te ~~revets~~ de labit consacré que tu auras despouillé, par fume toy et te remplis dodeur tout autour de toy, comme il se dira plus bas dans les parfums et suffumigations.

Cequi etant fait, tu iras diligemment dans le lieu ordonné auec tes compagnons ou toutes choses étant preparées tu feras le cercles comme il a été dite et les autre choses necessaires que tu commenceras à invoquer les Esprits, par la voye des Exorcismes. Tu feras de nouveau la confession, et Insigne dámandement de reconsilliation et de penitence chacun se baisera.

Note quil fau que les disciples fassent toutes les chosa susdits jus qua ce point le Maitre commandera a ses disciples et pour suivra son operation auec dilligence et travaillera a la reduire a sa perfection.

Des Bains,
Et de
Quelle facon on les fait.
Chapitre cinquiéme.

le bain est necessaire a tous les Arts magiques et de negromance; c'est pourquoy si tu veux faire quel [illegible] de preparation ayant [illegible] toutes les choses necessaires aux jours et heures

convenables

Convenables ; il fau que tu ailles a un fleuve ou riviere courante, oubien aye de leau chaude dans quelque grand vaysseau dans ton cabinet et Inte despouillant de tous tes habits et draps que tu porte, recite ces Pseaumes.

Ps. le Seigneur mon éclairissement,
Ps. le fol a dit en son cœur il ny a
Ps. Dieu rend moy sain et sauve.
Ps. Chantons glorieusement au seigneur
Ps. confessez au seigneur, car &c.

Et quand le Maitre sera nud, quil entre dans leau ou le bain et quil dise.

Je téxorcize creature de léau, par celuy qui ta créé et ta assemblée dans un lieu, de sorte que la terre paru que tu decouvre toutes les tromperies de lennemy, et que tu rejette les immondices et que des Esprits dans un monde ~~fantastique~~ en sorte quil ne me puisse nuire par la vertu de Dieu tout puissant qui vit et domine par les siecle des siecles ainsi soit il.

Tu commenceras en suite à te laver entierement dans le bain en disant.

Morabalia, Musalia, De falia, onomalia, libarina, Guldafaria, Bedulsaria, Gervasia, Geminarim, Giegrofuria, ceduc Gittach, Gaudik, Rogil, Mussil, Grassil, Tranci, Pucri, goduc, Augneb, Ascheroth, sababth, Adonay, Aglon, El, Tetagramaton, sedim, Ancraton, et Anapheron, Sigilator Prarenaton.

Taus lesquels tu repeteras deux ou trois fois jus quà ceque tu soit baigné et entierement mouillé et quand tu seras net tu sortiras du bain, et tarroseras auec de léau exorcizé comme en bas, Et tu diras.

Lave-moy Seigneur d'hisope, et je seray blanc et nettoyé, lave moy et ie seray plus blanc que la neige; et quand tu t'habilleras tu reciteras les Pseaumes Seigneur exauce mon oraison.

Ps. Ayes pitié de moy Dieu.
Lors que Jinvoquois.
Ps. Je te confesseray Seigneur de tout.
Comment aye cheri ta loy.
Ps. Pas la sortie d'Israel.
Le seigneur en convertissant.
Seigneur tu mas eprouvé.

En apres tu reciteras cette oraison.

El fort et admirable, ie te benis je t'adore, Je te glorifie, ie t'invoque, ie te rends graces de ce bain, affin que leau m'en soit salutaire, pour rejetter de moy toute sorte d'immondice et le desire de mon cœur, par toy tres saint Adonay, quil puisse en toutes façons être accompli, par toy qui vis et regnes par les Siecles des Siecles ainsi soit-il.

Prens le sel ensuite et le benis en cette façon.

La Benediction de dieu le pere tout puissant soit sur cette creature du sel et que toute sorte d'empêchement en sorte que tout bien y entre; parceque sans toy les hommes ne peuvent pas vivre; c'est pour quoy ie te benis de plus ie t'invoque affin que tu m'ayde en ce point et article, en sorte que qui conque te connois ne puisse pas vivre sans toy, et ensuite tu diras ce Pseaume.

Ps. Benissez toutes oeuvres du Seigneur au Seigneur.

En prenant les espées et le sel exorcisé, tu le jetteras dans le dit bain, dans lequel tu te voudras laver, tu te depouilleras derechef tout nud et en te devêtant tu profereras ces paroles.

Immamon, Ammamon, Iman, Mameon, Lectaron, monby, Myon, peleaton, vafuron, gardon, Eypisson, Tagaron, Monerton, sinon, Sation, Mamon, Felicon, Zannator, Felicon.

Tu entreras une autrefois dans le bain et tu reciteras ces Pseaumes.

Ps. mon ame benit le seigneur

Ps. Chantons glorieusement au seigr.

Ps. Loues Enfans Le Seigneur.

Cela etant fait tu sortiras du bain et te vettiras comme il a esté dit cy devant d'abits de lin et étant vetu de cette facon tu viendras pour achever ton operation; il faut donc pareillement que les disciples se lavent de la même sorte que le Maitre.

Des Habits.

Chausses et souliers

Chapitre sixieme.

Les Habits exterieurs qui sont pardessus, doivent être de lin et faits du fil qu'aura filé une Jeune fille pucelle, comme ceux de dessous et étant que ces caracteres souscrits y soyent mis sur la poitrine poitrine avec le guil de l'Art et un filé de soye rouge.

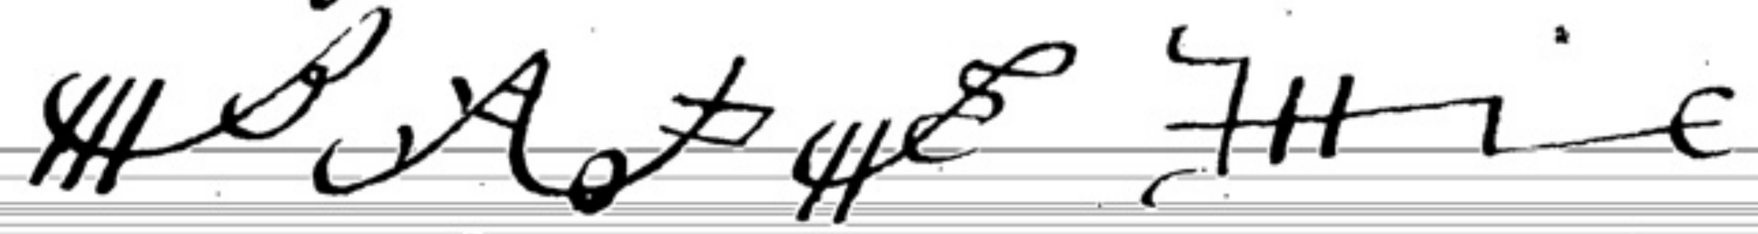
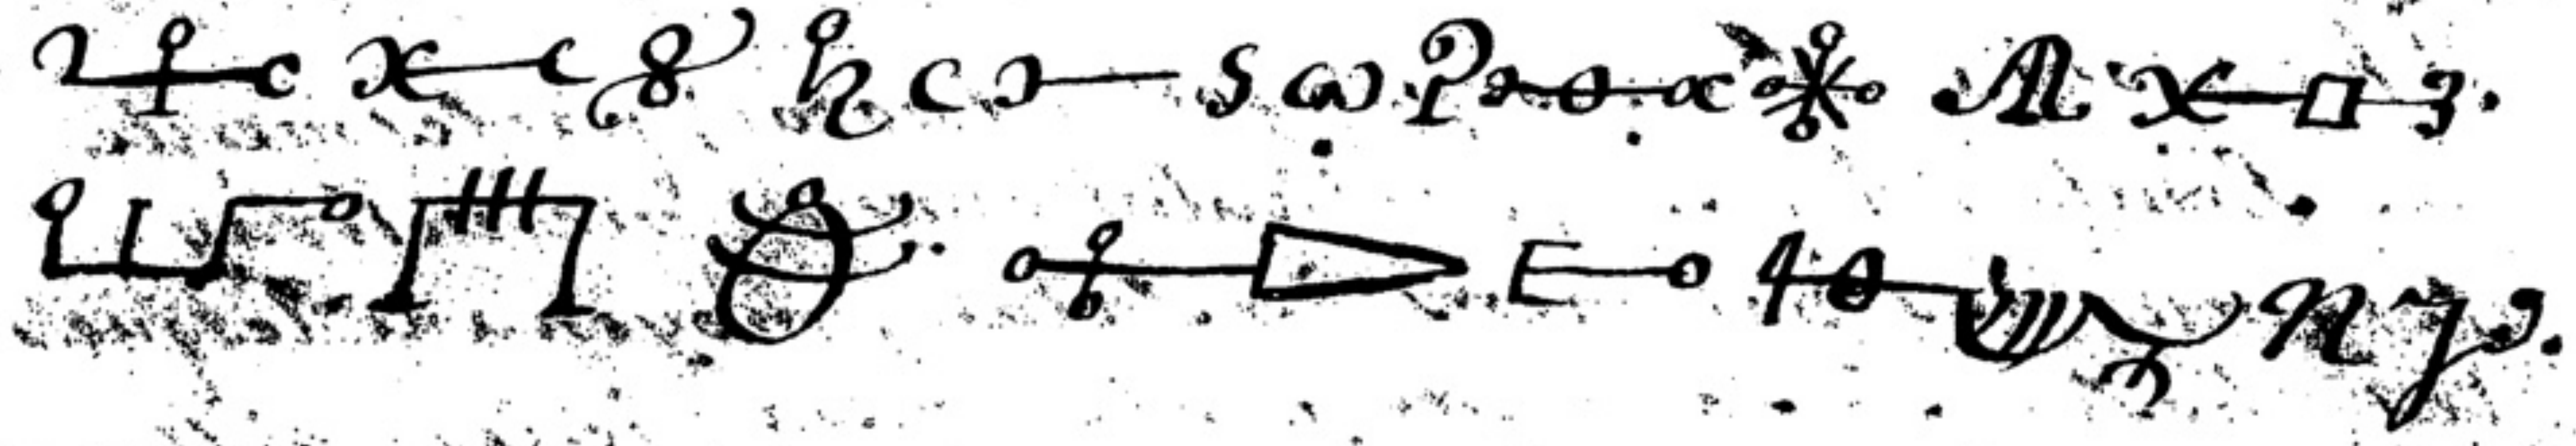
Les soulies ou bottines et aussi les chausses doyvent être celles cy blanches et ceux cy de cuire blanc sur lesquelles on ecrit ces signes ou caracteres.



Ces chausses ou souliers se doyvent faire dans le temps de l'observation et de la garde et on doit preparer aussi tous les instrumens possibles, lustrez et nets en ce temps. Outre cela le Maistre doit avoir une couronne faite de papier vierge dans laquelle ces quatre noms seront écrits dans la partie anterieure Jehova, dans la posterieure adonay, à la droite El, a la gauche, Gibor, et il faut que ces noms s'ecrivent avec l'encre et la plume de l'Art comme tu le pourras voire dans leus chap. et pour les disciples un chacun d'eux doit avoir une couronne de papier vierge dans laquelle ces lettre divines seront escrits avec de la couleur de cinabre



Prens aussi garde qu'en te vêtant ou avant que tu te couvres & habille de semblables, habits, chausses canneçons et souliers tu dise les Pseaumes suivans.

Ps. Seigneur qui habitera.
Ps. Seigneur mon coeur n'est pas exalté.
Ps. Combien sont cheris tes tabernacles.
Ps. Sur les fleuves de Babylone.
Ps. Si le Seigneur ne batit la maison
Ps. Toutes Nations Loüez le seigneur.
Ps. Dieu ayé pitié de nous.
Ps. Que Dieu s'éleve et qu'il dissippe.

Parfume en suite tous les habillemens auec les hodeurs parfums, & suffumigations de l'Art et tu les arroseras auec de l'éau et de l'hyssoppe de l'Art.

Mais quand le Maitre et les disciples commanceront à se servire, apres le premier Pseaume, et avant qu'ils poursuivent les autre, ils doivent prononcer et proferer ces paroles.

ancor, amacor, amade. Theodonia, Bangorpsagor Anotor, par les merites des Saints Anges, je m'habilleray et me vetiray Seigneur des vetemens de salut, moyenant lesquels, les choses se souhaitte instamment; ie les puisse conduire et faire venir à leur fin par toy tes Saint adonay le Royaume et l'empire du quel regne par tous les siecles des siecles ainsi soit il.

Remarque que si les habillemens de lin étoient des habits de lévite ou des Prestres des quels ils se seruent dans les chose sacrées, ils seroient tres asseurement font bons.

Des lieux dans lesquels on peut comodement Les Arts

Chapitre Septième.

Les lieux propres pour exercer et faire les Arts et parler les esprits doivent être cachez, éloignez et separéz et loins des Entretiens des hommes. Et pour cet effet les lieux deserts sont propres qui sont separez des lieux habitez comme les lacs et les bois, les lieux remplis d'ombrages les vieilles habitations renouvellées ou rarement habitées ou presque jamais il ne se fait d'Assemblées d'hommes, les montagnes, les cavernes, les grands Antres, les cimes des montagnes les jardins et vergers les milieux de tous les carrefours, dans le temps du silence de la nuit. Mais quand tu ne puis pas aller commodement dans quelqun de ces lieux, les maisons même et ta propre chambre. Tous ces

28. lieux pourvû quils soient purifies par les ceremonies dites Ilicites et consacrés, seront tres propres pour convoquer les Esprits.

Mais pour les Arts qui se doive faire aux temps ordonnés ils se doivent faire lors quil ne requierent par un temps precis, se font beaucoup mieux de nuit.

Quand tu auras choisi un des lieux cy devant allegues, tu reciteras Les Pseaumes suivants.

Ps. Pourquoy les nations ont elle fremi.

Ps. Dieu aye pitié de nous Dieu sauve moy en ton nom.

Apres tu parfumeras le lieu avec les suffumigations et odeurs de l'Art et tu l'arroseras avec de l'eau et de l'Hyssope et la tu pouras faire toutes les experiences.

Mais quand en suite tu iras dans un telle lieu tu diras au commencement de ton chemin l'oraison suivant d'une voix basse: mais intelligible.

Lazay limay, Ilazay, Orion, Nalarion, tres-fort, ocridamion, tres puissant, Sedon tres robuste. Iod, He, vau, he, Iah, agla, assiste moy indigne pecheur qui ay eu la hardiesse de proferer de tels tres saints noms, que personne ne doit nommer, et

invoquer, si ce n'est dans de grands dangers; C'est pourquoy moy étant constitué dans un grand peril de corps et d'ame, je recours a l'invocation de ces tres sacrés noms. Pardonne moy, si j'ay peché ou si j'ay trompé quelcun en quel que chose, parce que je me commets à ton assurance et seureté et speciallement en ce passage.

Que le Maitre se promene ainsi avec l'eau et l'Hyssop avec lesquels il arrossera, et il faut qu'on chacun des Disciples dise à basse voix cette oraison qui se pratique dans le temps de l'observation et de l'agard des neuf jours.

Il faut de plus que le Maitre divise ses Disciples pour porter les choses necessaires qui sont propres a l'Art, Le premier portera l'Encençoire avec le feu et l'encens; le second le livre, et le papier, et les plume, et l'encre, et en outre les especes de parfums; troisiême le couteau et la faucille; le Maitre le baton et la baguette et s'il y a plusieurs Disciples, il disposera des choses qu'on doit porter selon leur nombre.

Du papier ou Perchemin Vierge, comment il se fait pour L'operation.
Chap. Quinzième.

Le papier vierge est necessaire dans beaucoup d'expertences Magiques et il est requis qu'il soit consacré. Il y en a un qui s'appelle vierge et l'autre non né. Le vierge est celuy qui vient d'un animal qui n'a pas encore sailli et pour cela l'on doit prendre un jeune animal qui a cause de l'age n'est pas propre à la generation, soit agneau, chevreau ou autre, or se perchemin qui en est tiré est nommé vierge.

Prens donc l'Animal tu voudras comme dessus et qu'il soit mâle, ensuite au jour & heure de ☿ tu le porteras dans un lieu secret, ou en travaillant personne ne te puisse voir et tu auras un roseau coupé dans le Marais ou ils croisent avec un couteau neuf et coupé d'un seul coup, et tu le Nettoyeras et ôteras ses feuilles en disant cette conjuration.

Je te conjure par le createur de toutes choses & par le Roy des Anges le nom duquel est El, Saday — que tu reçoives La force et la vertu pour écorcher cet Animal; et pour faire du papier ou parchemin, dans lesquels on puis s'écrire les tres-sacrez noms de Dieu lequ'il acquier une si grand puissance, que tout ce que j'y écriray ou feray, obtienne son effet par celuy qui vit et regne par les siecles, ainsi-soit-il.

Et avant qu'on coupe le roseau il faut reciter le Pseaume.

Tu feras ensuite un couteau dudit roseau avec le couteau de L'Art, et sur celuy qui sera fait dudit roseau tu ecriras ainsi.

Aglay, Adonay, Floha,
Par vous soit accomplie L'Oeuvre de ce couteau.

Tu diras en suite cette oraison sur le même.

Dieu qui a tiré Moyse ton Elu du lieu où croissoient les roseaux lors quil étoit Encore Enfant, ainsi bien que des eaux que des fleuves, accorde moy par ton immense misericorde et par ta compassion que ce roseau reçoive la force et la vertu par l'invocation de tous les Saint noms de tes Saints Anges dont les puissances en reçoivent quelqu'avantage et contribue à faire que de ce roseau on puisse faire un couteau avec lequel on puisse faire du parchemin, qui obtiennent En soy le pouvoir et L'esprit vivant, affin que toutes les choses qui se feront En ce papier ou parchemin obtiennent l'effet desiré par toy ô Seigneur Dieu tout puissant, ainsi-soit-il.

Cela étant dit tu commenceras à écorcher L'Animal avec ledit couteau soit quil soit vierge ou non né: en disant Saday, Adonay, Balmay, Sazay, Tetagramaton, Anereton, Cureton, saints anges de Dieu, venez Et soyez presents et donnez le pouvoir Et la vertu a ce parchemin Et quil soit consacré par vous, de sorte que toutes

L'Animal étant écorché prend le sel et tu diras sur luy,

Dieu des Dieux et seigneur de ceux qui dominent, qui as créé toutes choses de rien, daigne benir et sanctifier ce sel, affin que je puisse arroser ce parchemin que je projette de faire, En sorte que toutes les choses qui s'y écriront recoivent la vertu et obtiennent Leur effet.

Tu frotteras ensuite de sel ledit parchemin avec le sel Exorcizé, et tu le laisseras au soleil trempé dans le sel un jour tout Entier; ce qui étant fait tu prendras un pot de terre vernissé dedans Et dehors à l'entour dans la partie exterieure seront écrits ces caracteres suivants.

Cequi étant éxécuté tu couperas d'un seul coup une baguette de bois de noiselier ou de coudre si longue que ten puisse servir pour faire un cercle en la ployant en elle même. Prend une petite corde filée par une jeune fille pucelle, des petites pierres et caillioux de riviere au d'un ton En prononçant ces paroles.

Adonay Dieu fort et tres Saints Pere, mets la vertu dans ces petites pierres affin quel puissent tirer ce perchemin et En rejetter toutes fraude et puissent obtenir la puissance desirée; Ensuite le susdit perchemin étant dans le cercle et le liant avec la cordelette et les petis caillioux tu diras. Agla, Iod, Hé vau, Hé, Iah, Emanüel, venez et soyez present pour lier ce perchemin affin que vous le gardiez de sorte qu'au cun phantômes ny puissent entrer.

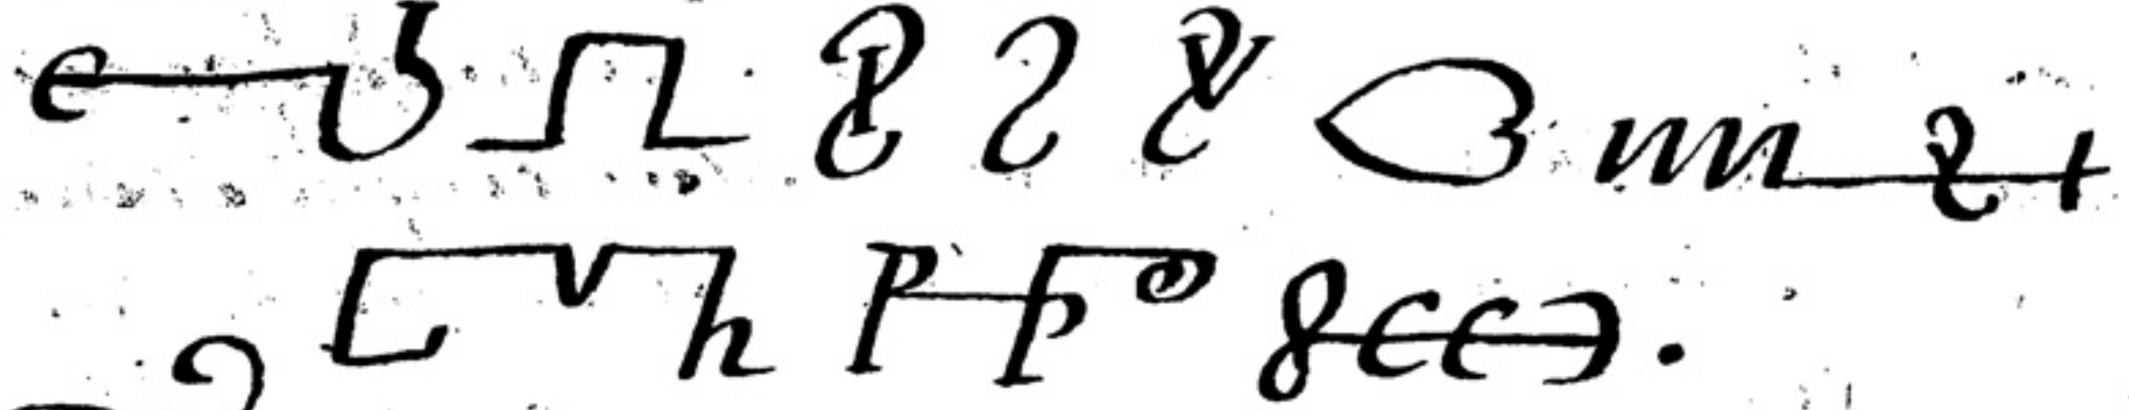
Parfume-lé par apres et l'éncense avec les susdits parfums et le mets dans un drap de soye et que ce parchemin susdit ne soit vu par quelque femme que ce soit, parceque si elle avoit ses fleurs le dit perchemin perdroit sa force Et sa vertu. Remarque sur tout que ceux qui doivent faire un parchemin doivent être purs et nets, comme il a été dit cy dessus Et s'il ne se faits pas En cette façon, aucune Experience ou opération ne poura être reduite à la fin qu'on aura souhaittée.

Que si cela te semble penible et trop difficile et que cela t'ennuye; Ayes du papier ou parchemin vierge, comme cy dessus; Prend quelqu'animal que ce soit et l'exorcize de la façon suivante. Prens garde qu'elle n'est pas de si grande éfficace et vertu que la precedente et tu prendras les Especes de Parfums de l'Art, et tu les mettras dans un pot de terre neuf, plein de charbons nouveaux et tu écriras autour de ce parchemin Les Suivans caracteres.



Et cependant lors que lesdites Especes bruleront, tu tiendras le parchemin sur l'Uncensement Endisant.

Des Sacrifices Qu'on offre aux Esprits

chapitre dernier.

Il arive en plusieurs Arts qu'on fait des Sacrifices aux Demons, et en plusieurs maniers. On sacrifie quelque fois des animaux blancs aux bons Esprits et aux Mauvais des noirs et cela se fait bien souvent de leur sang; et quelque fois aussi des choses qui se manquent.

Ceux qui sacrifiê des animaux de quelque condition et de quelque genre qu'ils soient, doivê en choisir de vierges; car ils sont bien plus librement reçûs d'eux; et font qu'ils obeissent plus volontiers.

Quand il fau sacrifier auec le sang ou le titre de ces animaux ou oiseaux qui sont vierges, et auparavant quon donne et quon en fasse quelque sacrifice, il fau quon dise sur cette oblation, offrande, ou sacrifice ce qui sen suit.

Ce Sacifice que nous auons trouvé appropos de vous offrire, a vous N, N, creatures tres nobles et tres-hautes soit agreables en plaisant à vos volontes, soyez prets à nous servir, puis que vous en devez receuoir de plus grands.

Quon les parfume Ensuite et quon les arroses auec leau de LArt.

Pour Les dits sacrifices, il est besoin et necessaire quon les fasse auec toutes les ceremonies, du feu qui doit estre de bois qui ait quelque proprieté approchante à La qualité des Esprits; comme de genieure ou Cypres aux Esprits de ♄; de Buis ou de Chesne à ceux de ♃; de corniolle aux Esprits de ♂; de Laurier à ceux du ☉; de bois de myrte aux Esprits de ♀; de bois de noisette ou de coudre à ceux de ☿ et de saule a ceux de la Lune.

Mais quand il fau sacrifier du Manger ou du boire; toutes choses se doivent preparer hors du cercle et les viandes se doivent couvrir auec quelque noble drap. Il fau Ensuite étendre la nappe dessus ce drap, quelle soit nette et neuve, quil y ait du paim frais et du vin Exquis, qui approche le plus de la Planette; et les oisons, Pigeons ou autres animaux, il les faudra faire rotir, et noublier pas sur toutes choses une bouteille deau dune fontaine vive et claire; et avant que tu entre dans le cercle tu appelleras les Esprits par leurs propres noms, Du moins les Principaux En disant ainsi.

En quel que lieu que vous soyez, ô Esprits, N, N, qui etes invitez à souper, venez et soyez prets à receuoir

68 les mets, les presens et les Sacrifices que nous vous offrirons plus considerables à l'avenir.

De cette facon se doivent faire les Sacrifices entous les arts et Operations qui le Requierent. en faisant ainsi sans doute les Esprits seront prest de Te servir.

Icy finit nôtre Clavicule, que si tu l'imprimes bien Dans ta memoire, Tu pouras Voler auec les aîles des vents; Que si tu En fais Peut de cas, Et que Tu la meprises, Tu ne pouras jamais venir a bout d'aucune Experience d'aucun Art MAGIQVE.

Here endeth the Booke of SOLOMON
the wise, called the KEY of KNOWLEDGE.

1 … and Kelly …

A worthy Specimen of the great Catastrophe that hangs over the world, Revealed by the Holy Ghost, and set forth in a very short and true Narration

To the devout and faithfull Reader, the Author wisheth all Safety, Peace & Comfort in X^t^ Jesu. Amen.

When I was enjoyned by Almighty God, to ~~[illegible]~~ write of these things to ~~which even~~ which Hee out of his great bounty and abundant grace had communicated to me; I thought it my duty (seeing the Mysteries of the most high ~~of~~ are great, and his Endowments heavenly & marvellous) to have a speciall Care, lest through my default or negligence, the ~~these~~ should be offered to the han: dling or view of Rude, Imprudent, Ungratefull, Envious, Unchast and Malignant persons. But nevertheless to them that are Worthy, ~~[illegible]~~ Devout, humble, modest, sincere men, famous for their Xtian Charity, and to those, to whom the Words of Life and Divine Truth ~~are~~ y or may be a comfort; and sometimes (out of the singular Providence and Command of God) to some others of another stamp: To those I say to shew these things by the by, to commemorate ye ~~[illegible]~~ briefly, and deliver our [illegible] to be diligently considered, (and that indeed written ~~as he said out of~~ in our own handwriting, authen tique and the first Copy) to do this: We have earnestly found out of the very first beginning of our Calling and Function, consistent with this our gift, and do know, it will be acceptable to ye Divine Majesty. In the mean ~~time~~ while, yt is, untill ye Time appointed shall come a great part of these things, which most [illegible], most manifestly, most fully and powerfully, we have received from God and in secret (as it were under a seal of predetermined silence) shall be published and made known to the world, to his honour, Praise and Glory, who is God, the Son of God, and King of Kings, and who shall be the most Righteous Judge of both the Quick and the Dead.

1 But if any Man shall endeavour to take from us by force or cunning, or some other ~~[illegible]~~ occasion to snatch out of our hands, these so good and so precious 2 Monuments: Or if any one shall not blush out of a rash and proud Censure to 3 Condemn these Mysteries (wholly unknown unto him) Or if any one shall dare to affirm, that we are most subtle Impostours, and therefore that those things are forged by us, and that we for that Reason are to be thought pernicious Citizens in a Xtian Commonwealth.
4 Or if any one through his own great suspition would persuade others, that we are Bards, too Credulous or mad, drawn or driven into Errour by any crafty Evill Genius, yt had been sporting with us for many years. Or if any one as it were out of the divine Scriptures shall go about to alledge, yt in this Age and State of the World all Revelation is at an End, and that nothing is now Revealed from above, and y^t it is not given to men truly to Prophesie:

To all those and Everyone of them, and to many Others (Whosoever they bee,) Our like Adversaries; this Last Revelation, W^ch we have Rec^d from above, falls out so prudently, and contradicts so strongly and so powerfully resists and opposes as well their Councells and Stra[illegible] [illegible] as their Actions, Endeavours, & Institutions: That when and wheresoever this last Action shall be publickly Recited: All posterity shall ~~triumph~~ [illegible] in an Incredible Exaltation, y^t Invincible is the Truth the Wisdom & the Power of God. And then shall all the devout the genuine Sons of the Catholick Church confess that the heavenly and excellent energy [illegible] & Comforter doth infill even into efficacy of our Redeemer, & [illegible] into the more inward recesses of their Soul marrow of their bones, and [illegible] with the greatest Comfort, [illegible] ~~[illegible]~~ most is most sweet, most [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. That therefore they that are plentifully [illegible] in prayer. That therefore [illegible] [illegible] & [illegible] truly X^tians faithfull, & famous for godly Charity, our ~~Brother~~ Catholicks, Brethren may (in Gods good Time) be enriched with the knowledge of this little History, and may be encouraged with very great Comfort; And besides that, in the mean Time to ~~[illegible]~~ at the first [illegible] [illegible], a Reading, and an accurate, [illegible] circumspect & faithfull Consideration, may a very [illegible] and more [illegible] granted to them, who duly all [illegible] there is done especially [illegible] where [illegible] their very [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] & Charity, either [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] thority it bestowed, by the [illegible] of God and want of men in this Church Militant) By Gods [illegible] [illegible], I have most willingly undertook this [illegible] [illegible] this History into [illegible] out of [illegible] Mother-tongue English [illegible] [illegible] ~~[illegible]~~ [illegible] [illegible] ~~[illegible]~~ discourses of ours to God and Gods ~~[illegible] with [illegible]~~, [illegible] to us have been, [illegible] the whole subject ~~[illegible]~~ of this History was ~~[illegible]~~ delivered & ~~[illegible]~~ from [illegible] [illegible] Every particular Action [illegible] faithfully writ down, and the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] circumstances [illegible] by me.
But because there were chiefly three [illegible] [illegible] or [illegible] as men are able to [illegible] three manifest [illegible] of this History or Action [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the most secret [illegible] & [illegible] of [illegible], [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Commendation, of [illegible] Truth & [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Revelation [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] upon these 3 Cautions.

Anno 1584 From the Time when the most Reverend Ld Apostolick Embassador [illegible] of Worsett promised to [illegible] from his most [illegible]
Majesty Cesar [illegible] an year & some months before, [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

and our Spirituall Actions, or the Revelations made by us, ~~[illegible]~~
opi. Yea even then Judgments & Censures were abundantly passed on us being absent, neither heard nor known. And because out of many other written testimonies there is yet left me the fragment of an Epistle which was sent from Prague to Polony an year before, I thought it necessary here to adjoyn that same fragment of an Epistle, word for word yea Letter for Letter, and after that, briefly to speak of those other things which are chiefly necessary.
The most Reverend L^d ~~Embassadour~~, Bishop of who within this few days intends to go home, hath an Earnest desire before his departure to see J.M.V. as likewise [illegible] Alfonsinus, Orator of the Catholick Kings in the cause of Vetterius (who also is hastily to be gone home) a great mind to ~~speak~~ speak with the same Persons. Furthermore [illegible] Tasso [illegible]
N. Apost. there were divers difficulties spread concerning and various opinions & Censures past upon him; Amongst which he was blamed, because not looking after those who have ~~[illegible]~~ [illegible] the faculty and power of discerning, he had made no scruple to declare ~~affirm~~ to the Em[perour] of his own accord (through some Magick Characters (The [illegible] their own ~~very~~ form ~~of~~ words) Contrary to the Censure of the Church) the apparition of blessed Spirits (which yet they expound & interpret quite ~~[illegible]~~ contrary ~~[illegible]~~) Yet seeing that ~~[illegible]~~ ~~[illegible]~~ [illegible] on the other side good Spirits are not wont to be enchanted by Magick rites or allured to obedience, but Evil Spirits use to be raised by this means: And since the apparition of good Angels is not ~~[illegible]~~ un expressly formed & visible by man, but being a Light shining round about it happens only to those that are as it were in an ecstasie & besides themselves.
~~[illegible]~~ That therefore ~~[illegible]~~ ye Emperors Matie, lest he should cast a scruple on his own Conscience as to those things, or should thence create any danger of his soul, had by advice kept from this man, and would not admit the same to any farther Audience.
But had sent him back to ye Kurtzio. ~~[illegible]~~ This also was taken Notice of in him, y^t seeing he had a wife, & consequently, was troubled with the Cares of this Life & worldly affairs; It could scarce be possible that he could have any Joy in the Company of good Angels, [illegible] never [illegible] to any but most holy men ~~[illegible]~~ far remote from the [illegible] of worldly affairs, and such as are Solitary Hermits. These Difficult Censures and many others ~~which~~ were there mentioned and observed as well by the said N. who was there then at Dinner, as by other Persons that were with him.
Howsoever ~~it~~ it went. It is certain that the Emperour did commemorate whatsoever D.D. promised in the first Audience to the most Reverend L^d N., seeing no [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Authority of the Church. Whence at length it came to be discoursed of at a Banquett ~~[illegible] [illegible]~~

For they think y^t a Beginning of Treaty could better have ben taken with the Emperour from ~~another~~ some other Business. But I am of that mind that they had rather have one Philosophers Stone then ten Visions of Angells. Which things yet I thought good to be thoroughly weied by J. M. D. that the aforesaid R. D. at his coming may be forewarned concerning these things. For, as the Proverb is, Darts foreseen do not strike so home: Since especially it is way certain that these things ~~are about to~~ would come ~~to~~ [illegible] the Snare to end of ye Ambassador, by the Testimony of D. D. Then furthermore affirms with one consent that the same man was hired instead of a Doctor or Physick. Kurtzio then intermedling in the Hall, for the summe of 40 Thalers sterling: so that so much was offered to him, [illegible] for it. Concerning which when I am asked (which is often) I can neither prove nor confute it. For I know nothing of him. He offered a Spanish Dealer, very laborious inquirer of me, whom he would send hither. Kurtzio being asked of him, gave him his Character, That he was a man excellent in the Knowledge & Science of many things.
Furthermore both his wife & his whole family do well. Nor do they touching of his return make any question, but that he is gone into Hungary. They would send none of the Letters which they had, because they every day expect his return. &c.
Yet let this ~~[illegible] of~~ suffice for that Letter.

1588 Jan^y, [illegible] came back from Polonia to Prague after 2 years, he who had wrote the Epistle, was wth me, and when I ask'd him about ~~that~~ the Letter, he did not only confirm ye Contents of it, but related after many other things which were [illegible] in the mean time, by those who were [illegible] they [illegible] the [illegible] of such a one. [illegible] was very much troubled in mind that [illegible] men should be so voluntarily [illegible], so absurdly erroneous [illegible] manifest, [illegible] most [illegible] of [illegible] God. But perceiving [illegible] good Christians, [illegible] which were not

*Tommy Cap: not all [illegible] the *[illegible] Communications.
In [illegible] we were sent [illegible] to Stephen King of Poland. And [illegible] those things which were [illegible]
God to us & [illegible] And again being warned from Heaven, we returned to Prague, to wit, In ~~the~~ July year 88. After a few [illegible] a certain Great man, who in ye Name of the most Reverend Ar: [illegible] [illegible] to me [illegible] Petition, which was that I should ~~go to~~ go to his most Reverend ~~Protectors~~ Fatherhood; he said, that he would [illegible]

Friendship & Acquaintance with me; and that he had so long heard of & so much of our Praises, that he had a great desire to have & enjoy some ~~[illegible]~~ good conference with me.

Many times after, (for the space of 8 Months) that same Great ~~man~~ Magnifico did inculcate to me the same Petition of that most Reverend Ld W. Arch.
But I as often answered him that it was not out of any proud haughtiness of mind, that I deferred & procrastinated my address to him, or out of any suspicion of any danger might incurre to me from that so Reverend a Person. (Although ye same Great man know what ill Magnifico news was related to me, how that forces were made ready against me, and snares laid for me by that Reverend Person) I added moreover I know of very great Controversies to have been held betwixt our Princes.
by Reason of which, unless I had the generall consent of all ~~our Prin-~~ of them ~~ces~~, my going would not be ~~[illegible]~~ faultless, or at least free from a suspicion of being faulty. For these and such other like weighty Causes, I told him, I deferred, but did not yet utterly deny to go to him.
At length after ye 20th day of March last, ~~[illegible]~~ that same most Reverend D. G. Arch. so eagerly, so urgently, and as it were with an Apostolick Command, more gentle and somewhat more easie words being here and there intermixt, to vehemently impresst the design of his Petition, by the same Magnifico (His perpetuall Oratour in this business, and again after 4 years by Francis Puccius, one that he had been acquainted wth but a few days before; but one of our own domesticks) (Professing that he indeed had rather come so as at our houses, then trouble us to come to his, but that he was so hindred ~~with~~ with business that fell out in his sudden departure, that he did [illegible] to ~~have~~ prevail with us that we would vouchsafe to ~~grant~~ do him this ~~[illegible]~~ kindness ~~humanity~~.) So Then after many [illegible] betwixt E. K. and I concerning this [illegible] so large, so urgent, so constant Petition (So now neither as it were [illegible] unless now at length we should go) we complaind against our inhumanity unless now at length we should go at last concluded on the Wednesday Night, before Palm-sunday last, 1586 Mar: 27 after this manner: To wit, that on the next morning (y^t is Thursday) ~~[illegible]~~
That we might at last know w^t he had to do wth us. Lest he should think us proud, inhumane, unskilfull or fearfull about 7 a Clock we would visit his most Reverend Fatherhood, & would 6 a Clock in ye morning, and before F. P. who might signifie to his most Reverend Fatherhood our intent. Which when his most Reverend Lordship had heard by F. P. at the hour above written; he presently took Care that his own Chariot should be made ready and sent to us.

Which chanel of his met us making towards him in another: But however we went not into it. When we was now come into the Presence of the Embassadour Nuncius himself, we found the Legate of the most Illustrious Duke of Florence, coming back from him. But he courteously ~~we~~ saluting us, and giving us his hand, brought us into his Bed-Chamber: Where, four Chairs being placed he sat down, & set me by him & by me E.K. and over against him he made F. P. sit. Presently his most Reverend ~~Paternity~~ Fatherhood spake these few Words.

" Who is unsensible in how great trouble and danger the present state of " Xtian Religion is, and how much every day Heresie increaseth: Indeed were " not my soul confirmed by Xts Promise, I should be at a stand whether our " Religion is not wholly blotted out & extinguished. And it is come to that pass yt
" as long as ye Catholick Church is in so deplorable a condition, if the King " of Spain should die, both ye City and Apostolick See would be endangered. And " yet is it to be admired that no Remedy or Councell can be thought of every " [illegible] in this Age, wherein is both men and women
" [illegible] devout members of the Catholick Church received Revelations, " Illuminations & comforts from the good Angels of Gd & Gd himself: But after
" whose diligent inquisition was made concerning them it was found that either
" to all those Consolations have been private, not publick: that their Reforma=
" tions are confined to too their own houses, and Cesars sacred Matie have used
" and endeavoured many ways to bring some help to this so lamentable
" state of Xtian Religion: Which how little they have holpen, the iniquity
" of heretics overthrowing increasing & the Metamorphosis of Bishopricks
" (as if it were into stones) into Dignities for the Laity sufficiently declare.
" Yea indeed the harvest of Colleges & Seminaries is not so fruitfull as " might be hoped. Therefore if you, My Masters, to whom, by the singular favour " of Gd Angels present themselves, and God himself reveals Mysteries, have received " any [illegible] can think of any Remedy of this our common Evill, I entreat
" you yt you would discover it to me; and truly I will hearken to it with all " willingness and attention.

When the most Revd F. N. having ended this his speech, did earnestly desire to hear something from us: I said something to him to this sense:
It is true indeed the Iniquity is prevalent, so yt that chast Spouse of the Redeemer enduring great violence is forced to betake her self to solitariness. Yet it scarce is in our power to give any Counsell, or prescribe or apply any Remedy against so great Evills: although it is true, yt we, by Gods singular favour, have informations, and instructions and long time Commands immediately from Gd himself (weighty Commands) together with the Angells we have long time obeyed) yet, seeing we have not as yet received any expresse charge from Gd or admonition from Angels concerning the Cause now propounded to me;

And seeing (otherwise) it is not our business, nor ~~subject~~ belongs to my Authority or Gift: I rather think fit to hold my tongue, than give my ~~humane~~ private opinion in a matter of so great Moment. For we confess yt very many & very great Mysteries & Counsells are revealed to us by Gd, the thousandth thousandth part of which all the wit of men, could not find out, or so much as Bridle of silence hope for: Yet Gd governs us ~~as~~ as it were with a bridle of silence so strait, & hath tempered us with such an equability of internall Joy, that we are neither rash in blabbing out wt is revealed to us, nor puffed up with pride for ye Knowledge of so great Mysteries; yea for the most part we lead a monastery Life, and most unwillingly shew such manifest tokens of our incomparable inward Joy. Wherefore if Almighty Gd shall hereafter be pleased to give us any councell, or bestow on us any help, whereby to overcome these so great difficulties; We shall be most ready to signifie it to them, to whom yt Counsell or assistance is to be communicated. And indeed although some months ago, I had more leisure than I now have to see your ~~[illegible]~~ most Reverend Paternity: yet never before had I yt prompt & absolute mind to see you as I had this day.
And so passing ~~mentioning~~ a few other circumstances of my duty, and making a solemn & protestation protestation of my Fidelity towards our Lady, & most Invincible Queen of England
I made an end of Speaking.
His most Reverend Fatherhood replied, yt he was very well satisfied with my Speech, and yt he was glad yt we at last were pleased to come to him, & have such gratefull conference wth him. Wch words (or some such like) when he had spoke, E.K. began modestly (indeed) gravely & eloquently, but somewhat more prolixly to unfold his opinion.
When there is sought a Councell or a Remedy, how Reformation may be brought into the whole Church: This indeed seems to me to be very good & necessary. That they Who are Pastours set over ye Christian flock, should both in faith & works excell all others. But it is manifest yt these are destitute of ye true faith, since they are so empty of good works. Their Life is so odious to ye People, & destructive to their own Example, yt by their own ill Living in ye Church of God, they make & promote greater Ruines than ~~[illegible]~~ they are able to build structures by the most Elaborate, Long & frequent sermons. And for this Reason due faith & ~~faithfull~~ Authority is not given to wt they say: (as these people think it is unlawfull for ye in as for these, to give good words, and live ill, and ~~are~~ like Infidell) Because they consider yt this is every where continually done, by their Pastours Rulers & Masters.

and both ye Prelates & ye Peoples lives so notoriously bad, yt in this Age, ~~living~~ lively faith & Charity can scarce find in ye Church of God their Harbour. Wt sound Religion therefore can be amongst us? Wt True Worship of God. Let therefore, the Doctours, Pastours & prelates amend yemselves. Let them both in Word & Life teach & live like Xt. For by this means, very suddenly, unless I am mistaken, there will follow a great & conspicuous Reformation of Xtian Religion: Which being sd ye most Revd Card. replyed: These things indeed are very well spoken by you, and do rightly consist wth Christian and Apostolick discipline. I thank you: But I will visit you at yor own house, where I hope we may more largely discourse concerning these things. And so we rose from our Chairs. And at length having discharged the necessary Ceremonies of our duty & humanity on our part, we took our leave, & returned home. Were not those courteous & modest speeches? Were not they full of fidelity, sincerity, Charity, & Humility, & Modesty? By which, had he dealt piously & prudently he might surely have made a more ready way to perform greater services to God & the Church Catholick, had, I say, there bin nothing of deceit in him. But if those things are true wch ye Secretary of a great King (a few days ago) did not only affirm, but solemnly sware he had ~~heard~~ from ye Mouth of ye same Nuncius Apostolic (he being ye last yt had conference wth ye same Nun: Apost: before his departure) It is most evident yt he did not only give yt Answer to my Friend E. K's Oration, but yt there also even then lay Poison of Asps under his Lips, and yt a most inhumane Tyrannie in his heart was cloaked by a certain Divine Providence. Even then when he used such familiar & honey-words. For yt Secretary sware yt ye most Revd Nunc. Apost. he was so furiously vext at ye Short Oration of Edward Kely concerning faith and good works above mentioned, yt had it not been for some respects, he would have caused ye sd Edward to have been thrown out at ye Windows. If those things be true wch ye Secretary, who also would be esteem'd a Catholick, sware (to our Friend Puccius) Wt can we hope for from ye hands of yt Nuncius Apost. (or such like men) if it were lawfull by any Canon of ye Catholick Church, or by any right, or custom of ye Kingdom of Bohemia, or by any Example of holy Roman Priests, to be so tyrannous agt us free men, forreigners, & by ye commands of ye sd strangers by reason of discourses so friendly and true brought & as it were forc'd ~~from~~ us Wt would they do (for they w not endeavour only) if ~~they~~ we were guilty of any fault, ~~were~~ it never so little, who strive to inflict us with so tyrannous a death or Rather to find out so barbarous a kind of manslaughter agt us, who are truly Catholicks and live as it were Monks lives, who innovate Nothing in ye Church of God either by our Words or Writings, agt whom No Crime in ye world can be objected: yea on the Contrary, he openly praised yt Oration, wch hath since touched him to ye Quick.

* Aprill about 1586 on St Georges day.

And besides ye same most Reverend Card it said to have added (Witness the same Secretary) on our ~~malignant Cause~~ behalf Ye shall hear more shortly. Wtsoever either he or any one else hath said or decreed to do agt us. That Almighty God maker of Heaven & Earth, who is our God our Master & our Leader, ye same God will our Protectour & Redeemer, in our Innocence, wch hitherto in all our words & propositions we have, and hereafter shall exhibit both to him & our most chast Mother ye Church, wth all faithfull & sincere Obedience and Reverence. For We have so learnt yt ~~God~~ And that same Spirit of God Almighty ~~eternally~~ proceeding from God the Father ~~& as it were~~ & ye Son, and as if he had subjoyned to ye history doth supply so teacheth & so hath taught us, ~~who supplys~~ us with his most ~~plentifull~~ free Testimony. Of this History, we have already sd there are 3 speciall causes, & Occasions principally to be took Notice of: ~~two~~ Whereof that wch we have already mentioned is one. And ~~these other~~ (because it is evident from ye Consideration of ye sd Time & Event, yt it may as well inwrapped as follows) ~~these~~ 2 other seem to contain within yemselves ye whole fundamentall Occasion of ye Revelation. For these 2 Intervening Causes, wch we shall now subjoyn, fell out, in ye first day of our saluting (ye most Reverend Person) and through ye various form, ~~which~~ he used in threatening us at our Departure: Wch to mention as briefly as can be I think will be enough to a Wise & Pious Reader.

* On ye 2d & fourth day last past of this instant Aprill (when Ed: Kely by a strict fast for some days, & an intent devotion of mind had made himself ready to ease his conscience of ye burden of sins, wherewith it was oppress'd, and to wash away ye filth wch was contracted on his soul) he betook himself, to a certain Jesuit Priest, Professor & Reader of Divinity, and one yt was indowed wth ye Gift of examining ye Confessions of Penitents in Sacrament; That by his clear Confession, humble Contrition, & Wtsoever Satisfaction is enjoyned by ye Priests, & intended by himself; he might enjoy a safe Sacramt of Repentance. And yt so afterwards (according to ye right of ye Catholick Church, he might be made Partaker of ye great Mistery & heavenly table: But see wt fell out unexpected. ~~But~~ After yt E. K. had brought forth all those things, & had told ym to ye Priest, wch he had decreed to bring forth: The Priest ~~he~~ strictly questioned him about this thing, & yt wch is neither necessary for me to mention, nor would be pleasant for you to hear. Yet he went farther, and did much strive to make E. K confess himself guilty of some very great Crime, which hitherto he had concealed. E. K. denies any such thing, yea & denies it again: and plainly demonstrates, yt ye last year, he had largely, accurately, sincerely, & fully laid open, ye Crimes ~~and~~ great Misdemeanors of his fore-past life, to another certain Jesuite of Craton. And yt then indeed he was cleans'd & absolved from and for ever ~~to be clear~~ exempted from ye Burden of Sin & ye most just Punishment (otherwise) to be inflicted on him: And yt Whsoever gnawing Wound, infectious, or dangerous had been irksom to his Conscience (he having diligently weighed all ye circumstan-ces of his Life) he did now seriously, sincerely, and devoutly confess it to his present Spirituall Father. What needs many Words? It came at length to this: He objected agt E.K. as a Crime or wickedness, that we had profest as well to ye aforesaid Cd Nunc. Apost; as to others, amongst whom, even ye Caes.: & boasted)

*Embassadours of Heaven that we have often ~~Communicate~~ Conversation wth good Angels & Gd himself, & often receive many Revelations from ym. It is true, replyed E.K., yt we have had & still have great Consolation from divine & Angelick Re-velations. But he contended, yt it was neither probable nor likely yt we had any business wth good Angels; but yt ye Devill often transform'd himself, into an Angell of Light, and yt hence haply we might be deceived. E.K. replyed, That it was plain to us by many solid Arguments & those out of ye sacred Scriptures yt we have had & have to do with true Angels & faithfull Ministers of Light & Truth. But omitting many other of his Arguments, I ~~have~~ thought fit to mention this one. By the Authority 1 Joh: Cap: 4 & Testimonie of ye Holy Gh. Every Spirit yt confesseth Jesus Xt to have come in ye Flesh, is from Gd: And all ye Spirits yt inform or teach us, do confess yt Jesus Xt came in ye Flesh. Therefore, All the Spirits, yt inform or teach us are from Gd. That ye 1st Proposition is true, we are ready, solemnly to swear, & affirm till our death: and this very large Volumes of or Revelations shall testifie. Therefore. They are not Angels of darkness: Nor, is ye Judgment Gd Father, solid, or ye position ~~at~~ any wise probably grounded. Consider-At ye mention of or Volumes, ye Priest quickly took Occasion to ask him yt he would be pleased to give up our Volumes out of our own hands to be examined & judged, by ye most Reverend Apostol: Nunc., the Cd Rector of ye Jesuites, and himself (the 3d man). Replied E.K. I think yt you neither can judge of, nor yt it becomes you to pretend to judge of these Revelations. For since all your Authority is only in ye Church militant, and or Revelations are not made by any member of ye Church militant, but by those who are shining and holy Lights in ye Church triumphant; They therefore do not come within your reach. The Priest answered out of ye 1 Corinth. 6. Know you not that we shall judge Angells? Said E.K. to him; Indeed it may be, yt ye Apostles assisting Xt when he judges, shall pass their sentence also, yt ye Devills are are hereafter shall be justly condemned by Gd: But I neither think you (your Father) an Apostle. Y-- doth either Gd, nor any Angel, or any Apostles the throne; nor [illegible] of Judgment mentioned in yt place by Paul. Besides only evill Angels shall undergo yt Judgment, not good Angels: But our Angels [illegible] Languages are good and therefore neither are subject to ordinary to your sentence. Therefore No Angel shall be [illegible], by you, Father, notwithstanding ye Warrant of St Paul.

* The most famous Cd Wt of St Clements

But we (who are Subject to ye Ecclesiasticall Authority) neither teach, nor write; neither believe, nor ever will believe any Doctrine contrary or repug-nant, to ye Catholick, Apostolick, or Orthodox Religion: But all those things wch we receive, very much tend to ye Praise, Honour, & glory of Gd: They always exhort us, you lead us by ye hand, to an amendment of our Lives, and to practice Godly peace & Charity towards or Neighbours. It is true indeed, that they contain very many wonderfull Mysteries & Secret, wch are revealed only to us, and not to others.
Our documents are private, and or Informations in ye School of Heaven.
And we are very loath to make mention of ym, unless warned by Gds command or warranted by divine permission. Besides those books, said E.K. are not in my hands, but are kept in ye custody of a Doctor of Divinity my friend.
He hearing yt, by a cunning fraud & stratagem strove to tempt E.K. to wrest as it were those Books out of my hands. E.K. detested his impiety, and reso-lutely refused to follow his so wicked advice. At length, E.K. ~~[illegible]~~ zeal carry'd so ~~Zeal of mind~~ fervent yt he proposed to ye priest this way of Experiment, and this Enqui-ry of ye Truth. Let your Fatherhood & I (faithfully) go into some commodious and secret Place; and there let each of us after our own Manner, call upon Gd Almighty, Maker of heaven and Earth: humbly and ardently beseeching him yt, if those Angels who are our Counsellours be good, and from Gd, Fire from heaven might consume and destroy your Paternity: But yt if, they are bad ~~Angels~~ & Angels of darkness, Fire from Heaven might instantly devour me, and take me off from ye face of ye Earth. He refused to try this Option, or Condition: He would not, he said, so tempt Gd. At length ye same Father having turned himself to any other waye, asked us, How we Lived? Since we had no Maintenance from England? (for there, he affirmed, we were greatly hated) He most severely charg'd E.K. by Vertue of his Personal Autho-rity, yt he would discover ye Truth of this Question to him. E.K. answered, Although I well know yt this pertains not to ye office of yor Paternity yet, Because I would obey you, (or Father) as ye Minister of Almighty Gd and Because, in Gds Name, you so singularly do require and demand this from me; Behold. by doing so & solely by speaking every thing truly & really) hitherto we are sufficiently provided for wth food & Cloathing, by ye goodness of God.
Many sharper words afterwards being past, betwixt this Father & E.K.
as well concerning this answer of E.K. as other things, & past on ye Wed-nesday aforesaid and past on Good Friday ~~then~~ next following: They gave each of ym one to another enough to do. Finally, ye Priest would by no means bestow ye benefit of Absolution on E.K.: But, saith he, ye Reason of yor Revelations is to be examined by a greater Authority than mine, nor can I persuade my self to bestow on you ye Remission of yor sins.

Nevertheless, sd E.K. you may cleanse me from the filth of those sins wch I have piously, devoutly, and humbly confest to you: But he Could not so much as obtain yt favour. E.K. therefore perceived it was Time for him to be gone. How irreligiously (yt I may not say worse yet) E.K. was then dealt wth, ye Catholick Church in its good Time shall truly Judge. And how necessary it was, yt those things wch E.K. twice at his return from ye Confess told me (to wit, some of those things only, wch did not belong to his Sacramentall Confession, but yet were undecently and very unlawfully askt and spoken of by ye Priest) should be written owt so briefly & truly, a more diligent consideration of ye ensuing Historie will demonstrate: All good men surely in these our days, ~~and~~ & them yt are truly Catholick, will be sorry yt so great a scandall was raised in ye Catholick Church, in these most deplorable times of Xtian Religion; and yt too by one, from whom ye fruit of true Penance & ye greatest Charity (to wit, Remission of sins & Peace of Conscience) ought to have proceeded. True Xtians will be sorry yt Vinegar & gall was drunk, where & when there was expected ye Oyl of Gladness through ye Blood of ye Lamb, who taketh away ye sins of ye world. Very many devout men & Peacemakers will be sorry yt ye Jesuites have at length and especially in almost ye latter part of ye world laid an Egg [illegible] terrible [illegible] will be sorry yt a Christian [illegible] The very [illegible] will be sorry yt [illegible] wounded [illegible] complaining of [illegible] healed [illegible] many new wounds [illegible] many, yt are most [illegible] as it were spiritually [illegible] to have spoken [illegible] Divine Revelation [illegible]. A very brief [illegible] so great [illegible] of ye Divine Revelation [illegible] I will thank you, O Pious Readers [illegible] Explication of ye [illegible] Divine Revelation [illegible] Trials [illegible] Dissentions, Experiments, & Cavills [illegible] necessary yet [illegible] On Tuesday in Easter week E.K. sitting at dinner wth a Friend of [illegible] a spirituall Voice [illegible] his Friend [illegible] & finding [illegible] Future Witness, & [illegible] 2 other Spirituall Fathers [illegible] quietly, and truly, to call to mind all those things wch were moved, strove about, and conferd between him & his spirituall Father, yt ye certain summe, and some of the same words wch both spake (if it be possible) might be [illegible] laid upon to these Witnesses. Lest at any time [illegible] there should be false rumours spread concerning them, or erroneous Relations or conjectures past upon them. *At last it was agreed upon by ye consent of both Persons, that as far as might bee, ye Truth of those words should bee attested. Presently laying the meat out of there hands, dinner being but half done, E.K. rose from Table, without saying any thing, and with him his friend, to ye admiration of all who were present. They go out of the house, & make towards the Jesuits Colledge. As they went along, a spirituall Voice warns E.K. telling him ~~(if you go nigh)~~ unless you take care, Ossa & Puccius will deceive you, and frustrate all your endeavours. Presently therefore E.K. told all those things to his Friend. When they were now come to ye Colledge, and E.K. had enquired of the Porter, concerning some Fathers, as also his spirituall Father the Jesuite, whether they were in the Colledge, the Porter said they was. But lo, When E.K. and his Friend a little way of ~~[illegible]~~ ~~and E.K. the other man his Friend~~, had just entred ye Colledge, Ossa & Pucci meet him; Who curiously enquired of him the cause of his coming. I have, saith he, some business wth some Fathers here, amongst wch ye Father my Confessionor. They desired nothing less than yt E.K should then go to ym (For so afterwards, ye night following, Fr. Pucci openly confessed) Wherefore suddenly they used their utmost art & industry to prevent his address. For they pretended yt they would take Care, & Ossa said he would send his man, to find out ye Fathers, and bring them to his * (wch * he had inhabited for some days.) But in ye mean time they desired E.K yt together with them in their School he would hear ẞ Elegant & compleat Oration of a certain student. E.K remembring his spirituall admonition, both took notice of their cunning, & almost despaird of finding out or coming to there Fathers, wch he desired. But when the declamation was ended: E.K enquird strictly concerning ye those Fathers; and it was told him they were not at home, nor could they be found. How much E.K was then troubled ~~them~~ it can scarce be exprest, was ~~E.K~~, yt he had not performd ye divine command, nor made use of the forewarnd admonition, and yt one of our Domesticks yt was not altogether ignorant of our Mistories & affairs should so much favour our enemies, yt he should not be ashamed to frustrate our so holy & so honest Endeavours. That grief afterwards & an immoderate zeal of performing ye duty enjoynd him did so enflame E.K. yt after supper (the same Tuesday night) Fr. Pucci speaking of a wished for & acceptable event wch had yt day happen'd to him, to wit,

that E.K. had not seen those Fathers wch he look'd for, because (he (said) he perceived by the countenance of E.K. yt he came angry & discontented in mind, & yt therefore other greater troubles were likely to ensue: Wch words being spoken by Fr. Pucci: E.K. was very angry, ~~Whilst~~ Because Fr. Pucci rejoyc'd at yt. for which E.K. was much troubled; ~~Whilst~~ Because he said yt E.K. came angry & disquieted, to seek those Jesuiters ~~Whilst~~ Because he ~~had~~ would be so bold as to hinder those Endeavours, wch ~~are~~ were injoyned from God, Because yt Fr. Pucci did triumph to Ossa his friend yt he had so well overcome by his deceit cunning & fraud ye ~~past~~ diligence and industry of E.K. though it was never so great: But chiefly because ye Opportunity was lost, by wch he could sufficiently have proved ye product of ye Confessionary Action ye ~~memory~~ of the same words being yet fresh in his memory) Because the father Confessour himself had said before, yt this cause of the Revelation was to be examin'd by a greater Authority And behold E.K. being driven on by the most sharp pricks of so great an indignation, was enflam'd as it were wth the fury of so vehement a zeal, because Fr. P. did in a manner doubt, yt ~~[illegible]~~ his last Destinies did as it were hang over his head. And yet when E.K. in this his most vehement zeal, had consider'd, yt all these things (as Pucci himself confest) did proceed from ye criticall errour of Fr. P. yt out of ye very countenance of E.K. in a matter of so great moment he presum'd not only to interpose his so rash judgment, but also from this by his actions as much as in him lay to hinder ye will of God; This being consider'd made him run out to call, yt his friend, who might be an infallible, & at this present hour, a very necessary witness as well of his whole intent, as ye aforeshown caution & ye full event thereof, to a most just condemnation ~~commendation~~ of yt so bold, rash & curious Action & judgment of Pucci. In ye ~~be~~ ~~depth~~ middle of the night, yt his faithfull friend and witness neither forewarn'd nor suborn'd, being call'd out of his bed, presently ran to him. It was permitted me publickly to examine that witness, all others being in the mean time quiet attentive & obedient. He then witnessed yt E.K. was both very quiet at Dinner, & had come ye day with him to the Colledge or House of Jesuites, in a remote quiet, hush, and peace, and yt there met ~~them~~ Ossa & Fr. Pucci, & that they two did by diverse means strive to frustrate the design of Ed: Kelly, as it was also presignified ~~to him~~ by ye spirituall voice to E.K. wch he had declar'd to him to him as they came along: These things being unfolded, when E.K. saw yt his honest purpose, enjoyn'd him from above, & undergone by him wth a quiet mind, & yt those other things, which yt witness had mention'd, did appear to us by sufficient testimony, he was much more quiet in mind then before. After yt faithfull witness was gone, Fr. Pucci perceived yt he was deceived in his Physiognomicall judgment, & yt he had moreover hindred Gods command & Precept. Wherefore he was much grieved, & added; Had you but warn'd me, yt you received a speciall command from God, in this yr business, I truly would not have hindred it: Now therefore said he (bending his knees & holding up his hands to ye Assembly) I am here ready to suffer wt punishment you will inflict on me. Immediatly a spirituall voice nigh the head of E.K. told him saying, Pardon him. Presently E.K. spoke these words: I pardon thee. And a little while after, we all betook our selves to our beds. For it was now past midnight. These three Occasions (wch have spoke of) of the following Revelation being unfolded & made manifest to us, I will now subjoyn those ~~after~~ to long ~~[illegible]~~ things wch may declare the very method, in wch those causes, were ~~af~~ ~~after~~ made conspicuous by a certain effect of the Revelation.

On Wednesday, to wit, ye next day, in ye morning at eight a Clock, ye Spirituall Voice spake to E.K. & forbad us 3 ye use of all things yt had life, yt whole day (Injoyning us a light fast) and ~~bad~~ commanded us, yt on ye next day being Thursday, at eight a Clock in the morning we should go to our accustomed place, there to understand ye will of the Lord. We therefore fasted, as was prescribed, & did wth great & cheerfull hope expect ye divine visitation.
1486 Apr. 10) But, on Thursday the 10th of yt instant Aprill, in the morning about 8 a Clock we came to ye accustom'd place, to wit, yt my Oratourie which was in the top of the Tower, as being an handsom & Commodious room. Where I (being as it were ye speaker to God of all wch we had to say) on bended knees said, In ye Name of the Father, & son, & Holy Ghost, Amen. (signing my self, after my manner, wth the sign of the Cross, to wit, from my forehead to my Navell, and from the left shoulder to the right, ye 2 lines ~~my right hand being stretcht~~ being made ~~out~~ by my right hand stretcht out: In ye upper end of the first of these, I pronounc'd the name of the Father, & when I touch'd as it were ye place of my navell, I pronounced ye name of the Son.
and

and when I drew ye middle line ye goes over-cross, I pronounced the name of the Holy Ghost; & when I said Amen, I touch'd ye post ye point of ye division of ye 2 ~~Terminii~~ extreme's, or as it were ye Centre of ye Cross. Many causes being conceived within me of this my imagination. Afterwards I clearly & distinctly repeated ye Lds prayer, Our father &c. Afterwards I spoke these words; O Almighty, everlasting, true & only God send down thy light, and thy truth, yt they may guide & bring us to the holy mount Sion, & to thy heavenly tabernacles, there to praise & glorifie thee for ever & ever, Amen.
And afterwards I silently repeated ye 67th Psalm: God have mercy upon us & bless us &c. I repeated it thrice.
And a little while after, we 3 all sitting viz. I being prepar'd to write, & E. Kelly on the other side at ye same Table (wch was new & very clean) & Fr. Puccius upon a Bench by ye wall of the closett. A voice came from on high, as it were wth kind of a spirituall Eccho of ye sound, heard by the face of E.K. Wch seem'd to have ye Center of its pronunci= ation not far (about — foot space) from ye face of E.K. and thence to have reach ye ears of ye same E.K. in words really English (That ye energie & proper significa= =tion of ym might much more punctually appear to our Judgment. All and every one of wch, I have wth the grea= in the following context of ye Latin speech, yt not in ye least point of yt wch is declared to us in a double sense, can any difference be discern'd in my Latin version by anyone wch is skilfull of both tongues.

Now therefore let us attend to ye words of ye holy Ghost wch are ~~capable~~ full of ye greatest Comfort.

The Voice. Behold, Behold, lift up ye selves & consider &c.
As you have it in ye ensuing History

The Voice. Behold, Behold, lift up yee selves & consider: ~~of~~ for this manner he speaks, who is ye Comforter, to whose Candle, is always for a delight to his people; ye Sons of Sion. Who hath cloathed wth joy ye sons of Sion & their Garments:
and hath gathered together Nations, under ye compass & consolation of my wings; who ~~are~~ are prepared against ye seat of darkness; who cannot be overcome by those who have gone astray; Who shall die & not live; Who shall linger in grief of wch there shall be no end. Behold. I am ye garment of Nature, & ye Mother wch produceth ye fruits as well of heaven as earth. And behold, Sion wch lives in me Zyon. & I in Syon, is torn a pieces: Her robes are rent asunder by the hands of disobedient sonns: And her beauty is laid wast; And her judgments Laws are stifled through ye multitude & Number of ungodly men. But hark, hark, O ye Nations and people of ye Earth. O ye sons of sin, & Fathers of darkness, &c; I am not a Widow: Because my Bridegroom doth now make ready to come again: and the fame of his coming his spread abroad, even into ye hearts of all people, & ——— it hath gone through ye hearts of both you & ye Sons. Where then can the Gods of ye Earth protect & conceal you from the indignation to come? Where can you be welcome whilst Heaven looks grim upon you. Where can you be safe, who are shut up & brought to the ~~Tribunall~~ Judgment seat? You really in your own Consciences, & ye manifold Injuries wherewith ye have polluted the sight of the sanctuary & of the holy Ghost, who proceeds from eternitie; I lament over you, because ye Lord is armed agst you & gone out into yor Cities.
And, lo, all manner of evill shall come upon you from the North, & such as are reserved for a time, shall lead away yor Wives & sonns, & shall be supprest by bondage even to the last day. I lament over you & groan by reason of yor destruction; For so did he take care which & judges all flesh

O ye Hypocrites & painted Sepulchres! O ye eloquent & deluding Thieves! Lo, lo, Pride shall be taken from your shoulders, yt ye nakedness may be discovered! And ye Temples wch you have erected to ye Ghosts, shall be thrown down, & be utterly demolish'd: That ~~it may satisfied~~ ye souls wch cry out for vengeance, may be satisfied, for ye blood wch they have spilt through you, & yt ye Beast may perish by ye reason of the multitude of its heads.

O ye wicked generation, who more regard your Political Negotiations, then ye safety of your own Souls, Who promote your worldly Interest, & contemn him yt made you; Who fervently love your abominations, & as entirely hate God your Creatour & Redeemer.

F How hath Satan seduced you, yt you dare sit in judgement against him, who hath brought under subjection all Creatures. Turn your Eyes upwards to ye Stars; & say to ye people: Lo, I understand, & its letter is ye end of ye word, which signifies ye prescience of God, in ye obedience of ye Creatures, in ye prepared fulness of Time. Ye are ignorant ye cannot read. Ye subject ye Spirit of God, to ye weakness of your Understanding, & do not consider ye power & glory of ye Spirit, who is ye Life of all things, & from whom your Authority is derived.

But, O ye yt are faithfull & ye Sons of peace; Ye that O like obedient Sons, do serve your Everlasting Father; To day learn of me

1 The promise of God, in ye Originall of faith, is made from heaven, as it were from ye place & habitation of him, who sends forth ye abundant beams of his Truth

2 The Love of God, after he had gathered his people together, opened forth his hands out of heaven: And lo, those yt were in captivity, were freed; But the proud was cast down in ye imagination of their own hearts

3 When ye People began to neglect ye favour granted them from heaven, & to attribute more to the weakness of their own Government, then to his power, who had exalted ym. Behold, There was given ym a King like unto them, who (because he was ye first fruits of their palpable ignorance & incredible pride), perished before ym, as it were ye prelidium of their own Destruction.

Because, behold ye people of Israel were dispers'd for their disobedience! The Kings, who succeeded were potent & wise, such indeed as fear'd God But 4 they who were foolish, & scorn'd ye knowledge yt was sent from above, did ignorantly (forgetting his strength & magnitude, who had brought them out) give themselves over to weakness; And so in ye abundance of their Idolatry, were destroyed.

At what Time Jesus (who is called Christ) ye Son of God, ~~who is~~ God & man (by whose Spirit ye are now comforted) was to be conceived of the accomplish't Virgin, through ye power of the holy Ghost (who is ye Spirit of your present conso-lation) ye books of ye Law & ye Mouths of ye 5 prophets were sealed in ye Embassage sent from heaven.

When ye Angels, brought ye Gospel of peace & consolation upon ye face of ye Earth, they brought it not into Jerusalem, nor into ye Temple, nor into ye holy of holy's, but into ye field, amongst poor shepherds.

When Christ was to be born (of her, yt was ye chosen Vessel) he was not brought into ye Temple, nor magnified

-nified by ye Scribes & Pharisees, But by ye Spi-rit of God, by ye Spirit wch dwelt within him, he was brought into a little City, That ye words wch were spoken of before might be revealed in him.
When they who, before God, were judged wise men, followed ye apparition of ye Star, & directed their journey accordingly; Behold, In Jerusalem they were in a manner involved in darkness; their Light was taken from ym. But assoon as they had left Jerusalem, they quickly regain'd their Comfort, & were conducted to ye very place where they found him, by whom they were to be saved.
The Saviour of ye world (in whom we are all safe, & exalted in ye honour of ye Election) imme-diately, was subject to ye Government of ye World, &
ye perversity of darkness.
Wherefore did he not betake himself to ye Temple?
Why did he not take care, yt it should be manifested by a multitude of signs & wonders, yt he was ye very Messias, whom, they hop't, should come?
Because he is ye God of Wisdom, & came to fulfill ye will of his Father, which relyes not upon humane Traditions, but his eternall Divinity. But however,
So at last ye same God returned & declared his Au-
* Marc. 11 thority, in ye Temple in Jerusalem, by throwing* out ye Sons of iniquity, from ye sight of his Father, & out of ye house, wch was made holy unto him by his Servant David Thus altogether, doth God proceed with you, whom he hath sworn to magnifie in ye honour of his ~~Right~~ hand, & in ye vehement heat of his power.

Now he is coming again into ye world, That he may chastise it, for its many abominations, & that he may comfort ym who live, & acquiesce in him.
But such were they, who were chastis'd, such as were become Scribes & Pharisee's, Hypocrites, & Sons of all abominations: Who were a scandal to that Truth, wch was deliver'd by ye Apostles, & were certain Authors of iniquity to all people. These therefore are ym yt shall be punish'd & receive no Comfort, because they have drank of ye Cup of all fornication & abomination.
And therefore, they shall not be admitted to be Judges (because they themselves shall be condemn'd) nor to sit in judgment, because they are not to be justifi'd.
For they have sold for mony, ye Spirit of truth, which ye Apostles (their Predecessours) taught them not to do. The Instruments of Sanctity (by wch ye people ought to have bin sanctified) they themselves have polluted.
And so, They have dispersed ye seeds of their Father to come amongst all ye Sons of ye Earth, so yt their seed is cursed. And therefore, The God of Heaven & Earth appears to you: To you, who are Shepherds, & plac'd out of ye polluted City: To you, who seek ye Star, & ye visitation of him, who is to come: To you, who have escaped out of ye hands of Herod: But return ye to ye Temple, with the rod & power of God; And cast out those, who
The fulness of Time is not yet by ye signs [illegible] should be manifest justifie themselves; That ye powerful hand of God, may be great amongst you. But, The fulness of Time is not as yet. Wherefore, as Christ kept himself in secret (as ye Virgin Mary, whom they object against you) was content wth her Lord, & desired not ye judgment of them, yt were of ye Temple, but only, ye use of their Ceremonies,

So do ye rest your selves content.
Because, in this, wch ye receive, ye are subject to him, who lives.
But, as ye are of ye Number of ym, who receive ye Consolation, ye are subject to ye holy Ghost, for this reason, because ye may be purified, comforted, or exalted by ye Sacraments which are by him instituted. Therefore, as ye are of the Church, submit your selves to ye Church. And as ye are of them & those who receive ye Comfort from above, Submit your selves to him, who instructs you: Who is ye Spirit of ye same Church, but in a greater abundance of Love: Who is ye holy Ghost, proceeding from ye Father & ye Son; who were from ye beginning, & before all beginnings: Whose Name, yt it be glorified in you & amongst you, see ye.

Δ — Glory be to ye Father, & to ye Son & to ye holy Ghost.
As it was in ye beginning, is now, & ever shall be, world without end, Amen.

The Voice. Read these things, & I will again visit you

Δ — I did read ye Premises in ye presence of these two * Edward Keley, & Francis Pucci. Out of which we were filled with great Consolation, & as it were, corroborated.

A little after, ye Voice began again to be heard.

The Voice — Behold, The Lord answers for you. The Lord may reply to those things yt are alledg'd agt you, by saying
" O ye Hypocrites, ye say, Judge or Declare to us, or " Devise if ye can, some method for ye restauration of ye " Church, & ye multitude, which is now afflicted, & which " after ye death of N. such a man, will be in great danger " of perishing. If ye cannot perform this, the Doctrine, wch ye re" ceive is not of ye holy Ghost, & is not from any good Spirit

The Scope of ye Doctrine propos'd to us by God.

I say unto you, This Doctrine is taught, & ye Spirit of God Descended, to restore & set in order ye people & flock of God. Who cannot be restored, unless ye be first extirpated.
Therefore, ye shall be extirpated & rooted out: And ye Flock of God shall be purg'd, That he may descend, & dwell in it.
If any amongst you hath a Spirit, which pleaseth you, & ser-veth your humours, he is thought to have ye Spirit of God.
But ye are all mare Gods, potent Giants; & are full of ye Spirit of your Father, ye Devill. Whosoever therefore strives to please you, shall be partaker of ye same Spirit, in which at length, ye shall be confounded, who shall also be confounded with you. From this, ye shall understand, yt ye Spirit of God here teaches things agt you: Because he doth not teach a Doctrine, wch is suitable to your Affections, but wch is necessary for your amendment. All whoredom's & abominations are multiplied by you. Ye are indeed Priests by Name, but ye execute not ye Office of a Priest. Ye reside upon ye holy hill, but ye have defiled ye same, & have suffer'd your own corruptions to overcome & overwhelm, ye herbs & fruits of ye place, wch were prepared for ym, yt are subject to your Authoritys, And for this Cause, ye shall be thrown down
And ye great Wind, sent from God shall purge ye ye holy place yt fruit may abundantly increase, And yt there also ye Waters may be cleansed for ye comfort of all Nations.
I will not therefore rely upon your Judgments: Nor will I acknowledge you to be Judges. But I will preach unto you repentance, yt ye may be freed from ye vengeance prepar'd for you by reason of your Iniquities. He yt hath ears to hear, let him hear. He yt will be esteemed wise, let him turn neither to ye right hand nor to ye left; neither to him yt is call'd Catholique, nor him yt is nam'd Heretique (for so are ye call'd). But let him turn to ye God of heaven & earth, & to his Son Jesus Christ, who hath gave the Spirit

Spirit of his abundant & manifold Graces, to those, who live in yᵉ purity of Nature, & in yᵉ works of Grace Behold, The Whore shall be justified; But yᵉ Hypocrite shall be cast down & troden under feet for where Truth is not nam'd, there it is; & where it is most Nam'd, there it is hidden. Happy is he, who understands. Happy is he, who neither flys to Judah, nor yet to Israel, But to yᵉ Sanctuary of yᵉ Lord, through his Son Jesus Christ, & through yᵉ peace of him, who is yᵉ Comforter.

Because, lo, Iniquity prevails, & all flesh is called into Question before yᵉ Tribunall. Whosoever therefore is upon yᵉ top of yᵉ house, Let him not come down; Neither lett him yᵗ lieth in yᵉ same Bed with his Brother, rise from his Brother. Because yᵉ Sword of wrath & indignation, is taken up by him, who justifieth, all yᵉ yᵗ trust in him, against yᵐ of his own household, as if it were yᵉ rod of correction; And against yᵉ impiety of Pride & Sin; as if it were yᵉ last Vengeance of sin & impiety. Blessed is he who lives & is wise, & fears God, learns from his Creatures yᵉ Testimony of truth, & is not full of humane imaginations to death everlasting Amen.

Δ — God grant us that Blessing. Amen.

The Voice · I return.

Δ — I read over this second Act (as it were) in yᵉ presence of my Friend E.K & F.P. and assoon as I had done reading, the voice began again to rattle in yᵉ ears of yᵉ sᵈ Edward. in these following words:

Voice — Again, sᵗʰ yᵉ Lord, Who is he yᵗ protects you? Or, who is he that instructs you? Is it not yᵉ Spirit of truth? If therefore yᵉ Spirit of truth cover you, & your nakedness, Why do ye discover your selves, and cast from you yᵉ Garments of Obedience & Patience which are necessary for your Vocation.

If you are learned and your learning be from above, why are not your works also heavenly.

BRITISH MUSEUM

Behold, ye are full of anger & malice: Ye are led by a perverse zeal, and tost to and fro, by an unquiet Spirit. None of these things are from above. As yet, ye are subject to yᵉ Tyranny of yᵉ flesh and carnall Imaginations. Fie upon you. Ye deserve to be scourg'd and punish'd for your Errours. For ye are a scandal to him yᵗ teaches you, and to that Peace, whereof He hath made you Partakers. Wherefore putt of, and cast away from you yᵉ flesh, with its lusts; and fill your selves with yᵉ Spirit of universall Obedience, & humility; loving and embracing one another even as he, who loves you all. Be ye fervent in zeal; in the abundance of hope, and in bringing forth the fruit of universall Obedience. For yᵗ zeal, which is not founded upon obedience, is odious, even in yᵉ sight of yᵉ Lord, who is a Zealous God. Let him be instructed, yᵗ wants knowledge; and impart understanding to yᵉ Ignorant. For ignorance, wherewith there is charity, is better then knowledge, with anger and peevishness. He yᵗ works, let him work according to yᵉ will of him, yᵗ sent him But let him not act according to his own will, and say, This is the will of my Lord. For he that wills that, which is good, expects it in glory: which glory is exalted in yᵉ Spirit of Patience, by his means, who was grieved for your sorrows. Ye are mistaken, both one and yᵉ other: One in the curiosity, the other in the blindness of your zeal. If any one hereafter be curious, let him be curious, let him be curious in that which is committed to him: But let him not take another mans Office into his hand. For whosoever touches yᵉ Ark of yᵉ Lord without command, is (before yᵉ Lord) thought guilty of Presumption. 2 Reg. cap 6

If any one be carried along by any zeal, let him shew it in yᵉ fruits of Obedience, doing all things (in yᵉ sight of grace, which is an Ornament of Peace, and of him yᵗ is exalted.

And since ye have but one God, be ye all of one mind.

For ye are three, and not two: & your vocation, is all one, But your offices are diverse.

E.K. — 1. Let him therefore yᵗ sees, Prophesie, when yᵉ Time shall come, & Let him fol-Apoc. 14 -low yᵉ harvest, & yᵉ gatherers of yᵉ harvest.

Δ — 2. He yᵗ marks, & writes down yᵉ words of yᵉ most high God, let him publish their strength, in yᵉ fulness and abundance of Time, through his power and might who hath exalted him.

F.P — 3. He yᵗ is called, to be a Preacher, let him abound in good works, that he may be famous in yᵉ sight of his Auditours, and may be magnified in him who hath sent him.

He therefore yᵗ neglects his vocation may be cast out, and his office taken up by another, To him yᵗ does yᵉ will of him yᵗ teacheth him, which is yᵉ will of him, yᵗ created all things, shall be given grace in Abundance

Be ye therefore full of peace, & ye fruits of Repentance, and Love one another after ye same manner, as hee, who embraces you all in Love. For where ye Love [illegible] is wanting, there ye Spirit of God is nott. For he fills all things wth ye fulness of his charity, Which is ~~merit~~ mercy, Naturall, & necessary to mankind & without which, No one is happy.

Consider all these things more attentively, Then recollect your selves, For ye have received Comfort

At 2 a Clock, after your recreation, I will visit you again.

Δ — To our Almighty Creatour, Redeemer, & Comforter, be all praise, honour, and glory, Amen.

Apr. 10. In ye afternoon, ye same day, Thursday, after Dinner, at ye time appointed, the voice was sounded in ye ear of E. K. saying Voice — Come.

Δ — Presently we made hast to go to our Oratory, ye place, where we were used to see ye Divine Visitations, Where, after a little prayer out of ye Psalms we expected ye voice of ye Lord.

Voice — Hearken.

Δ — For some minutes, there was Silence; after, these words.

Voice. He yt rises against his Neighbour, on purpose to rob him of those goods, which he hath got by his Labour, & honest means, whether as a Thief, or as an injurious Usurper, of that which is not his own, sins against ye Light of Nature, which is ye Law of God: against ye Law of justice, which is ye Law of the Commandments: against ye law of ye Gospell of ye Son of God, which is ye Law of ye Lord: And for this his sin, He ought to be corrected with ye rod of Justice But he that riseth against his Neighbour (who hath received a Command and comfort from high) & hath resolved to deprive him of ye benefits of grace, he is guilty of damnation, & deserves hell-fire.

For whosoever resists the Lord Jesus, or his Spirit, is accursed, unless he repent.

Now, therefore hearken unto mee, and understand to day, what I am about to say to you, That your Enemies may perceive, that they fight against him who hath created, & redeemed them, & by whom they are fed. Listen therefore, and give ear to my Voice

I, have brought you out, from a curs't nation, puft up wth Pride, which is an Innovatrix, and resists ye Law, & ordinance of ye holy Church Wch is ye Ordinance of Jesus Christ, True God, and man, The Son of God, To whom might, & ye sword of power is given by his Father, over ye multitude of heaven, & over all flesh, and all Creatures.

By miracles, & by a powerfull hand, have I brought you forth. I have made manifest to you, ye bread of knowledge, & understanding, & since I am ye Spirit of Wisdom I have instructed you in the knowledge of Christ, which is the knowing of all things.

I have taught you a remedy, against ye perversity of Sin, and have revealed unto you things hid, even from ye Church. For as I am eternall, so also is my power Eternall. But neither to one man, nor at one time, nor in one age, nor to one people, or generation, do I pour forth the manifold, & unsearchable depth of my infinite wisdom.

Therefore they that lived in ye Light of Nature, received a Law from Nature, as from ye finger of God.

But they that lived under ye yoke of ye Law, through ye Law came to know Sin.

They lastly, yt lived and still do live under ye Gospell, receive ye Spirit of God; But not all after ye same manner. For all Souls are not endued with power alike. Nor do all places receive ye like blessing.

According therefore to ye necessity of ye Time, when ye askt Stones, I gave you bread: and when ye followed the imaginations of your own hearts (which are after ye flesh) I opened your eyes, yt you might see your palpable Errours, & that you might tread in his Steps who hath paid ye price of your Redemption.

Now then, when I consider, yt I have brought you forth to be as it were Schollers, in ye School of heaven, & your Vocation, It concerns me, to defend & protect you, by my invincible wisdom, & power, that I may overthrow ye vain imaginations of men, in ye abundance of their high, & abominable Pride

Therefore rise, lay before mee, the books which thou hast, & every thing, wch thou hast received from mee, and then shalt thou understand, what I am about to say to thee; And how, in ye twinkling of an eye, I will pluck out ye eyes of thy Adversaries, even when they think, they see best.

Δ — I rose. Then I came down, & fetcht all ye Monuments, & Volumes (which for 4 years continually had bin dictated to us, by God, & his holy Angels, and wrote by mee) and some things, else. I brought them in a long white box, almost 3 foot long, 1 foot, & $\frac{1}{4}$ of a foot wide, and $\frac{3}{4}$ of a foot high. But I brought not ye holy Table, which was called ye Table of ye Covenant ice. Gather together thy books, those wch are standing books, from ye first to the last, & that also, which you have now in your hands, all but what was done to day, & lay them here before mee.

Δ — What shall I do, O Ld, wch to days Action?

oice — Cut ~~it~~ out of ye Book.

Δ — And what shall I do, with ye holy Table?

ice — Do, what you are injoyn'd.

Δ — The books, or rather ye volumes, which were in Folio, and bound up or sewn together handsomly, in Number 27, I laid by themselves, and afterwards, when [illegible] set to days Action, put to ym, ye Volume, wch I had in my hand, and so, There were in all 28 (yt is, 4 times 7) and did contain (as it were in an History) all things which were reveal'd and demonstrated to us, by ye faithfull Angels of God, & God himself, from ye first Aera of our Juncto. And in one of these Volumes, there were 48 particular books, for ye most part mysterious, and (as God himself is witness) of greater Value, then all things in ye world are worth. For in those were contained ye admirable power, & wisdom of God, which we, at Gods good time, ought to use to his honour, and glory. There was another Volume of these 28, which was subservient to those 48 particular books, the title of which was, The Angelick Key's. This whole Volume, was written in ye Language of Angells, ye interpretation of which in our own English Tongue, very clear we had in another Volume of those 28. Besides ye 48 particular Books, There was one very short one, & yt was call'd ye mistory of misteries, & ye holy of holies. For it alone contained, ye deepest mystery's of God, & ye divine Almighty Trinity, which any Creature shall ever be able to know. Of this we had not yet ye Key.

Another volume of those 28 contain'd ye wisdom & knowledge wherewith Enoch (by ye Beck of God) was endued. Wherein also there was something yt agreed wth ye testimony of Jude ye Apostle concerning ye prophecy of Enoch. In some of those 48 books besides other things of an inestimable value, were contain'd all sacred Books, ~~flett~~ & Perfect, as well those yt were writ before, ~~& after~~ Xts incarnation, as those 2, after written by ye Spirit of Truth.

And what other things were comprehended in ye same books, I think it not fit before ye Time ordained by God, particularly, or indeed, in generall to open, and mention. But yet to commit to perpetuall memory something out of these 28 volumes, seem'd both fit and very necessary, and I hoped, not unpleasing to God Almighty. When therefore (as I was bid, I had lay'd aside ye aforesaid Volumes, and plac'd them upon ye Table I said, as follows.

Δ— Have I now, O B., fulfilled thy Commandment?

Von.— Do you, Kelly, bring the black bag, ye book, & ye dust, wch you hid

To ye godly Reader Δ— Here I think fit, according to ye Truth of ye Story, to take some Notice of E.K. and of those things, wch were committed to his Charge. This command of God, came so unexpected to E. Kelly, and so unpleasing, as I might say, that his mind was overwhelm'd wth great stupidity. Yet his Spirit was truly ready to obey God, although ye flesh made some small reluctance, and he was so tormented with pain, that ye little Nerves by ye hip seem'd to be broke, and his Joynts loosned; a pain wch he said he never felt ye like in his life. We prayed to God that he would make him strong in faith, ready and willing to obey. So great was his inward grief, and so fierce ye contention betwixt ye flesh, & ye Spirit, that in the very height of his sorrow, and this strife, he broke out into these words. — E.K. — O Lord, I received not this at thy hands. We exhorted him to Obedience towards God, and undoubtedly to believe, the past promises of God, so bountifully made to us, and so often confirmed to us by an holy Oath. Replied E.K. [My Spirit is ready to fulfill this Command of God, though for his sake I was just now to die; But pardon mee, & God pardon me, that my flesh betrays it his weakness by my delay. After this he ~~[illegible]~~ sudden leapt out of his seat briskly, and went away, & when he come again brought along with him, the black bag, with ye book, & dust aforesaid in itt, & laid it upon ye Table, by ye 28 books. The bag was new, made of black Fustian (that I may exactly describe itt) with new black buttons to shut it up at ye mouth like some Purses. It was so big that I thought it might hold, a Bushell of wheat

This book (or Volume of 2 Particular books, of a diverse Subject) and ye sacred Dust, were assigned by God, not only for us two E.K. & my self Δ, and for our Children, but also for other services of God, and before the Time ordained by God, were not to be converted to any use, in any way of Practise. The keeping of this great treasure, was trusted to E.K.

There was that great mystery of Nature and Art, which arrogant and proud Sophisters & ye greatest part of Students, have to so little purpose sought for. Hence had we good reason, from an Argument weighty enough to judge, discern, and condemn ye ~~pride~~ and ignorance of ye men of this world. I do truly, and before God affirm, yt that Treasure was so great, both in quantity & worth (as well relating to ye owners, as others) yt that all ye Riches of Christian Kings, gathered together into an heap, could not counter-vail ye tenth part of itt.

I therefore encouraged E.K. in 2 or 3 words, and bid him to call to mind ye faith of Abraham. Who, though God had promised him before yt in Isaac, his seed, & generation, should be called Blessed, yet afterwards, when God commanded, yt he should offer up his Son Isaac for a Sacrifice, stuck not to offer ~~for a Sacrifice~~, even his only Son, and by promise ye Father of Blessings to his future Generation; nor did he (by comparing ye Promise to ye Precept, begin to reason the thing with himself after ye manner of men, Nor think with himself yt God was unconstant, or that he was about to [illegible] wch agreed not to ye Light of Nature. After the like Manner, said I, it doth not become us to delay, but cheerfully and humbly to obey ye will of God, and to lay down both ye Books, and all ye Treasure we had, Adding that since God was so constant in keeping his promises, we also should be sure yt whatsoever he would do about or with those Books, and Treasures, should all tend to his glory, and honour, and to our great Comfort

Gen. cap. 22.

Gen. cap. 22

Theodoret in Quest. Gen. Abraham when he was betwixt Nature & faith, and bent hither & thither at last yielded to faith.

And lastly to ye conviction, & disdain of our Adversaries. After this I spoke to God.

Δ — Behold, O Lord, here I have the black bag, with ye book, and dust in ye same bagg. We desire to know, what else thou wouldst have done wth ym.

Voice — E.K. Let not ye world overcome thee, Nor do thou esteem Riches, which only please mens fancy, more then my will and Commandment. Behold how hold it is to leave this world? And since all things are mine why didst thou say, Thou receivedst it not from mee.

I will make a New Promise

But I say, stir not, till you are commanded for ye place is holy: And God to day, will make unto you a promise, which yet ye know not off.

Lo, still, thou hast kept some part of ye Book, which also thou shall bring hither, Be not froward, but shake off ye world

He yt loves ye Creatures, more then ye Creatour, is blind, and without Light, and for yt cause, shall be shut out, when ye Bride-groom cometh. Whatsoever I command you this day, see yt you do itt.

Put those books too, yt lye there, into ye Bag.

Δ — E.K. put those 28 books (or primary Volumes) into ye black Bagg, & closing it up wth ye buttons, as ye manner is, shut it up close.

Voice — Now do you, Kelly, rise, & remove ye Stones from ye mouth of yonder furnace, & put ye bag, in their place, & then come again.

Δ — E.K. rose out of his chair, & took ye baked bricks out of ye furnace mouth (those bricks by wch ye heat was kept in, & cold air, & ye wind kept out): Then he put ye bagg into ye mouth of ye hott furnace, in ye very same place, where ye hott bricks aforesaid, were placed; and then he came back to his own chair, & sat down.

Voice — Now rise, and bring what is left, but hide Nothing.

Δ — E.K went & brought some papers written in quarto (& folded up into octavo) The writing seem'd to be very old & ye character bigger then our common ones. These he had cutt out of ye volumes, which was misted wth him; Assoon as he had brought them, and was satt down by us, ye Lord spake to him in this manner.

Voice — Rise, & throw ym into ye furnace

Δ — O Lord God, wouldst thou have ym put into ye fire, or only laid upon ye bagg? He is ready, O Lord, to obey thy will.

Voice — Rise, Puccius, & go wth E.K. & see yt he throws ym into ye very fire, and see likewise, yt he thrusts in ye bagg & books after ym.

Come not back till ye fire hath quite devour'd ym.

Am not I ~~he~~ yt quickens ye Dead?

Therefore go, E.K., and take faith along with you.

The greatest Sacrifice yt was ever made from ye beginning of ye Books

Δ — They rise, & go to ye furnace, & presently throw into ye burning fire those quartos of paper. And after yt, couragiously & willingly thrust ye bagg into ye same fire. Then I (whilst they were thus busie) lifted up my Voice to God, on my bended knees; and then with great joy, gladness, and exaltation gave thanks to our God; I desired him yt he would encrease, & confirm our faith; That we should not mistrust those large promises, which before he had made to us; and that he would make us sure witnesses & ministers of his wisdom, powers & goodness, to his praise, honour, & glory. They in ye mean time, diligently, and industriously tended to ye Sacrifice, then they putt into ye furnace little dry bitts of wood, & chips, & shavings in a great abundance; they stirr'd up, opened, & made light ye heap of books, with an Iron poker, wch they had, yt ye fire might ye better burn small up, and mightily burn, whatsoever was combustible, into dust, & ashes. Now when they had been busie at this for a quarter of an houre E.K. heard ye voice speak to him

Vox — Now old Puccius go back to ye Oratory.

Pucci came to mee into ye Oratory, and on his bended knees, wth mee, made thanks-giving to God

Assoon as Pucci was come into ye Oratory to me; E.K. standing before ye mouth of ye furnace, (all of a flame) cri'd out wth a loud Voice, that he saw ye shape of a man (only upwards from ye) walking as it were hither, & thither, in ye middle of ye fire, but yt his face was not seen.

He seems (sth E.K.) to gather in his hand something from ye very Top of ye flames. Now methinks plainly he gathers up ye leaves of ye books out of ye fire one leaf after another.

Now methinks he hath made one whole book.

And (after a little while) he said; Now methinks he hath ye second book, But where he hath put ye first, I know nott.

Now methinks he hath gathered together another book from ye Top of ye fire.

But now from ye Top of ye flames, methinks wth his fingers he makes ye Box and dust

He goes on still to gather leaves from ye Top of ye Fire.

Now methinks he hath got 2 more Books, But I can in no wise perceive wt are become of all ye rest.

Now indeed he is vanished all of a sudden, sth E.K.

When therefore, all was consum'd by ye fire, wch could be consumed, And ye vision was ended, E.K. came to us, & said; Come, Pucci; see & judge. He went, consider'd on it, & came back; and affirmed to mee, that nothing was left but dust, & Stones, and a very few coals, & a few Sparkles of ye paper leaves, wch ye heat of ye fire had forc'd to ye furnace side.

Voice — Now put on ye rest.

Δ — What are those rest, O Lord.

Vox — The Books; Burn what remains of ye paper, as you burnt ye former. Keep ye other things, & do with them, as I shall teach, & instruct you before ye go away.

Δ — Wouldst thou have us burn this little heap yt is roll'd up together & seal'd, & wch by thy Command we took from Ed: Alceius.

Voice — No.

Δ — This paper — (a piece of ye Book of Enoch, wch thou gavest mee, wouldst thou have yt testimony burnt too?

Voice — Burn it nott.

Δ— Then I laid upon ye Table, all ye loose Papers, & leaves full of Dictates from God, which were very many, & had come out of ye long white Box. I left not one leaf yt was writt upon. E.K. & F.P. took out of my hands all those Papers, and threw ym into ye hott Furnace. And presently caught up by ye flame, they were soon consumed by ye fire. And this they signified to mee.

I said therefore with all my heart,

Δ— Let this sacrifice of our obedience, be pleasing & acceptable to thee, O Almighty, everlasting, & living God, our Protectour and Redeemer. Amen

Δ— Presently followed ye voice of God, in these very words, in our sight, received by E.K. & afterwards expressly deliver'd to mee.

Voice — Behold, I swear by my self, yt not one Letter shall perish, of all those wch are thrown into ye fire.

But, as I have power to raise to my self glory out of Nothing; So have I power to gather together all those things, wch by mee are scattered abroad. Therefore, hereafter, when their Tyranny shall cease, Gather your selves together, & lay before mee your desire, & call upon ye Name of ye Father, through ye Mediation of his Son Jesus, and observe: As they are thrown into ye fire, So after ye same manner, ye shall receive ym again. Nor shall one Letter perish, of ye wch I have spoken.

But because, they shew yt they have to do wth ye Enemy of mankind, & because ye visitation, I have made to you, is to ym a stumbling block: And ye rather because ye mysteries of heaven, are not to be opened, to any but those, whom I choose out, and (by my call) separate from others: And moreover, because they will not understand, but still be overwhelm'd by Ignorance (For No one receives ought from ye Father, without Faith; nor is any one approved, unless he be justified:) Therefore have I destroy'd them in ye midst of their Imaginations.

Say, NOW, if they desire to learn, let it be said to ym, as it was to ye rich man in ye Parable; They have Moses, & ye Prophets. Wt need have they of any more Learning from heaven? They have ye testimony of ye Son of God, but they want understanding. And therefore, I say unto them; O ye of little faith! O ye yt sit in ye Temple of Justice, but are overwhelm'd in misery! God hath visited you, and ye have not perceived.

Behold, he hath offered unto you but ye receiv'd nott. He hath call'd you, but ye are ye Sons of negligence, & disobedience. Now therefore, make an end, and be at rest. Because, I will go out amongst them: and will overthrow them in ye heat of my indignation; I will smite ym, and they shall be scattered, yt they may know, That they have offended ye Spiritt of ye Lord, who gives to all freely, yt call upon ye Name of ye Father through ye mediation of his Son Jesus Christ

As for ye rest, ye shall not be troublesom to ym: nor shall ye any more speak against ym, but be ye troubled for them. And pray to your Father, which is in heaven, yt his mercy may be poured forth upon all Creatures. Be ye obedient to their Authority, as to ym, yt sitt in ye seat of Justice. Worship God in his Saints, But chiefly in his Son Jesus Christ: Worship him in all his Creatures, and praise his Name. If* they afflict you, bear it patiently, and expect my coming. Be ye, lastly, full of all humility, & Obedience. Neither cease to pour forth your prayers to him, who is ye Spiritt of understanding, that your eyes may be opened, and yt you may become heavenly, and yt you may abound in ye glory of him, who can give you grace, and Life everlasting.

* The coming of ye holy Ghost often promis'd but, at such a certain Time

The wisdom, & peace of God, in his Son Jesus Christ, be upon you, defend & instruct you, in all godliness, & tranquillity of life. ~~Amen~~.

Δ — Amen.

Voice — Take both those stones, out of their —— & lay ym asunder. Hang up ye Table, at ye end of ye hall, by ye door, where ye chappell was; hang it up, in that very place.

Δ — Tell me this, O L, more expressly.

Voice — Hang ~~it~~ I bid you, upon ye bare wall, upon a wooden pegg. That it may be always a sign & memoriall before your eyes.

Δ — Who is, like our God, who comforts, enlightens, protects, directs, and sets free, his humble Children. He only is wise: He only is good. Lett him therefore arise, & lett his enemies be scattered & perish before him. Because He is ye King of Kings, Lord of Lords, & Prince of glory. To whom alone bee all praise honour, & glory, now and for evermore. Amen.

Discourse relat: to ye philo: stone
By E: Kelly &c

The Practise how to draw the vegetable Spiritt the first mover of Nature in vegetables; Called an Areons humor in Animalls, & mineralls it is Called a Radicall humor; This I drew out of the secrett Booke of George Ripley

Take Argall of ye Strongest wine y^t may bee, wch doth grow aboute ye Sides of the wine vessell, & drye the same in ye heate of the Sunne, & after bake it in a hott Oven wth greate Loves of bread, & then it will be tart on the tongue and on a gray color, After this pouder ye s^d Argall small then put the same powder into a greate body of Glasse, and then put thereon ye most Strongest Aquavite that may be made of ye most mightiest or Strongest wine, & unto every pound of the same Argall soe made in powder put thereto a ~~Like qty~~ pound of y^e afore said Aquavite, & soe lett stand together in a cold place close stopped soe as no Ayre goe in nor out for y^e space of 24 houres, then with the heate of Fire still up the water againe from y^e s^d Argall=earth the wch water soe distilled shall then have nomore sharpnesse or heate of burning then Common water for why y^e fire of y^e s^d Aquavite shall then remaine behinde wth y^e s^d Argall earth according to y^e saying of Raymond, Absconde ignem in intimis Terrae, and Hermes said Dispone ignem et Terram p Calliditatem & Humiditatem donec convenient; et ait pone ignem in igne, i: Sal Cumbust in Aquavite, donec ignis in igne liquefiat; and soe when this Argall earth is congealed dry, in ye bottom of ye Glass by ye aforesaid distilling or drawing of from it, ye aforesaid Aquavite water, then distill nomore, but after when the said glass is cold then put thereon soemuch more strong aquavite as before, & doe soe still, & continue the same manner of working in all pointes like as you did before, for ye Nomber of 15 times or more if you will unto 100 for now kindleth ye fire y^t is called ignis naturae influxus a Sole et Stella, this reiteration or processe being ended as beforesaid, doth wth ye most strongest fire distill up a fire that burneth our bodies more then fire, the wch said fire of Nature or matter is a subtle Oyle soe white as wax & it is o^r Eagle our ☿ o^r aquavite wch is gotten out from ye Earth & water, alsoe it is o^r Sal Armoniack Sal Almisadir alsoe o^r Sal Alebrot being seperated altred & distilled calcined & dissolved, it is o^r heaven o^r quintessence & the key of all o^r sience, wth the which key wee must open ye lock of Dame Philosophie & come in her Chambers whereas is treasure without end; But truly few men can Catch this Heavenly bird, & therfore they vanish from this noble sience as doe fooles & therein finde noe fruite, & now how you shall without anymore hiding proceed, & come unto every seecrett y^t is wrought in this blessed water send mee a token of perfect Love & I shall both write & cume unto you to teach you all the whole sience wch sience shall be worth unto you more y^n 10000 poundes a yeare for hee is not living in England y^t can write or teach you such a perfect lesson how to come unto this Heavenly sience & therefore never seeke you further. 1474.

Script ut opin: Regi Edward: 4: Angl:

And now yt you shall understand yt when you have distilled up yor fire in manner of a white subtile Oyle as aforesaid how yt in this aforesaid water you shall slipp thereinto ye foyle of fine ☉: i: gold & alsoe ye foyle of fine ☽ not into one glass but into 2 severall glasses, & anon ye 2 bodyes will — disolve into a thin Oyle without any other fire; for why ye said water is fire burning the bodyes minerall more sorer then any Common fire will burne them, for surely it is or ☿ mettaline, wth ye vegitable spiritt of wine minerall in ye place of his generation vegetably mixed with ye substance of wine Animall, for it is animated by ye Influance of the Sonn without ye wch no Living thing hath Life & soe or water is of a three fould nature, grounded of three things, vizt Water, Ayre, and Fire, as Raymond then [illegible] said quod aqua nostra ex tribus naturis Compon: et est aqua mettalina quae ex Solo genere metalico generatur i: ex mercurio, & it is ye menstruall Resolube of ye which Raymond speaking in ~~this~~ his practicall Alphabett thus de menstruo Resolubile: est vapor potentia existens in quocunque corpore metaline Commigens d extrema: i: ☿ & ♃ fixed by nature into Gold & silver, here unfixed & therefor it is called the greene Lyon, for ye green Lyon vegetable by rest is in his owne naturall place there as he was drawne from ye matter of the earth, by ye attractive vertue, & power of ye Sonn./

Therefore truly there be many a one yt speaketh of ye green Lyon that wetteth full little wt ye green Lyon doth meane, howbeit I thanke God for ye knowlidge thereof, & soe doe you for why, when yor aforesaid 2 minerall bodyes be disolved in this noble, & pretious ☿ then are — they 2 bodyes reduced, & brought back againe into theire first — matter; & ye Philosophers then call that theire greene Lyon vegetable, & soe when 2 bodyes are soe disolved in yt pretious ☿ into 2 thinn Oyles in manner, & forme aforesaid, then must you circulate those 3 bodyes wth ye same menstrue or quintessence, till they come thereby into a standing Oyle; & then have you not only ☉ & ☽ potible & fitt firment for ye elixers; but alsoe this Oyle of ☉ healeth all manner of sickness soe well Leperous as alsoe all other kindes of disseases — And alsoe doth renew Youth./

And now for ye knowlidge of ye true elixer & true transmutacon to be had, you shall understand, & know yt Dame Venus ye Goddes of Love is not only ye meane to joyne ye Tinctures betweene ye ☉ & ☽ vizt qd bonus est medium Conjungendi Tincturas inter ☉ & ☽ & yt alsoe — shee ye same Venus is a body very easey to be converted to both their natures, & for yt cause shee is put into the Lesser worke hereafter, — & is alsoe called ye Alkymists body and the greene Lyon and not in ye more, & greate worke, for why, as before expressed, the greate — worke is onely in ☉ & ☽ wth whose nature is fixed by Circulation the quintessence into a standing Oyle of ☉ & ☽ as aforesaid having — power not only to transmitt ☿ & all bodyes into perfect ☉ & ☽ but alsoe by this same manner of workeing ye same standing Oyle has power as aforesaid to heale perfectly all manner of Diseases & sicknesses that is in man & to preserve them from all manner of corruption untill the last houre prefixed of God that noman shall escape./

Now understand and know yt ye Less worke is onely that thing wch comes — after, yt serveth only for ye sience of Allchimye wch is only for ye true transmutation of mettalls to be had wch less worke or sience of Alkymye was first found out or invented by Alkamus ye Philosopher who first invented how to transmute every unperfect body of ye mine or metalyne bodye, & alsoe into ☉ & ☽ Quicksilver And therefore truly in this lesser — worke ye meanes of ye true transmutation is only ♀ ye wch body of ♀ is ye rude body, & is alsoe ye Alkymists body; & because his body is soe corruptable & alsoe being alterable, therefore she is easey to be altered in this lesser worke into a ~~nutrall~~ shee is ~~easily altered~~ into a neutrall body new body, ye which nutruall body is soe well masculine as feminine & all this is no more to say but a corruptable body of ♀ is as well easely to be altered into ☉ as into ☽ & therefore after her putrefaction & cleansing in her — owne mothers milke vizt after she is cleansed in or Alchymists ☿ & mettallyne Aquavite and firmented alsoe wth a little of ye aforesaid two — ferments of Oyles of ☉ & ☽ shee shall become thereby a perfect Elixer either white or Redde according as you desire to have./

Of the Composition or making of ye Allchym:

☿ vel: [illegible] / vel: [illegible]

In Dei nomine &c ℞ ☿ ij — ℥j: & grinde it well wth ℥ iij of our — vegetable Salt exprest as before in ye Chapter of this treatice out of ye wch vegetable Salt ye vegetable ☿ is drawne by force of fire upon a marble — stone untill such time as they 2 thereby be both incorporated together, & yt done then put all ye water in a glass & stoppe ye glass surely, & sett it in Balneo of a meane heate, & there shall yor Common ☿ therein disolve into a white water soe white as milke & then put ye same white milke or ☿ disolved into a vessell of glass upon a pound weight more of other new Common ☿ not disolved and then sett these in Baln: & then shall all ye Common — ☿ disolve in Balneo, & turne into a milky white water as the other — ☿ did before & soe you may disolve by this manner of working, more & more Common ☿ according to yt proportion till thereby you have disolved soemuch Common ☿ as you list into a white milkey water as aforesaid & when you have ☿ water somuch as you list then must you putrefie that white milke or ☿ soe disolved untill such time as it is very thyn & then you must distill all the same ☿ soe disolved & putrified in ashes, first with an easey soft or lent heate & then there will arise forth a little fainte water (wch fainte water cast away) then after yt with a little more stronger fire there will rise up a second, & come forth therefrom a silver rine water wch silver like water will be some what thick & this silver rine — water will not only disolve all bodyes, & doth putrifie, & Clense all bodyes & alsoe doth fix all bodyes, but alsoe then at last (after the same silveryne water) with a greate heate of ffire there will arrise up a second and come forth thereof a Redd oyle of the collor of Gold, keepe this redd Oyle well, for ye disolveing of the Redd ferment, & alsoe ~~[illegible]~~ & ye multiplying.

[illegible] Elixer for why; truly the Redd Oyle is our [illegible] singular Gold not fixed by nature; & those 2 humors drawne out of our ☽ & out of our ☉, wch is our ☿, of the which ☿ Avicen speakes of in his Epistle when hee said to his Sonne those wordes following; O fili oportet te habere ad minus 60: ℔ Auri et tanti Argenti propter suum humorem extrahendum, of ye which ☿ Gindo also saith oportet ut sit multum de Aqua et multum de olio que tam erit multitudo tincturæ quantum et olei, vizt That much water, & much Oyle for the multitude of tincture.

And here you must understand yt yor ferments must be altered wth ye imperfect body of Dame ♀ the which body is ye Goddes of Love, & alsoe the Lady of Life, & therefore to ye white elixer you must melt lib. 1: of ♀ as it comes from ye mine without any altering thereof, & thereto put an ℥ 1: of fine ☽ & soe melt them two together, and soe doe after the same proportion for ye Redd elixer: vizt lib. 1: ♀ & ℥ 1: fine ☉ & soe melt them 2 together like as before was done wth ye ☽ & ♀: and soe when they are severally molten together vizt ♀ et ☽ by it selfe & ♀ & ☉ by it selfe ye one for ye white, & ye other for the Redd elixer, then sleck or beate them severally as they are molten into 2 severall thynne plates ye ♀ & ☽: in one plate & the ♀ & ☉ in another & then cutt those 2 thin plates severally by themselves into very small peeces, & when you have soe done put these same peeces into 2 severall glasses 1: ye ♀ & ☉ into one glass for ye Redd & ye ♀ & ☽ for ye white worke in another glass, & into either of these glasses put a lib: weight of ye aforesaid Silverine water upon ye said clipt peeces of thin plate being finely clipt into very thin small peeces as I have said before; & then put these same 2 severall glasses in balneo, & by & by you shall see them both severally dissolve in ye aforesaid silverine water, & it shall then as Alletion saith viridi velut virtus olivæ, it shall be soe green as ye oyntment of the Oyle of oyle of Olive, & soe those 2 matters ye one for ye white and the other for ye Redd must be wrought together each of them severally in ye 2 severall glasses by themselves; vizt the ♀ & ☽ together wth ferment for ye white Elixer in one curculatory vessell of glass in a temperate heate untill such time all ye white matter become soe black and like to molten pitch, & after yt lett it drye up wth a temperate fire and soe lett it pass in ye drying up from color into collors innumerable untill such time as ye eyes of ffishes appeare, & that it doth con geale into an earth Like unto bright pearle, the wch Congelacon is ye first order of ye white elixer, & then must you multiply yor white earth wth ye distilled milke of ☿ soe long as you shall think most & convenient, as you list yor selfe, till thereby ye said matter become very gummish there wth, & yt hath ye said gummish matter power strength & vertue to fix Common ☿ & to alter, trancomute & change ye natures & kindes of all other imperfect mettalls into good & perfitt fine ☽./

Now for ye other circulatory vessell or glass wherein ye ♀ et ☉ is proportioned & dissolved together for ye Redd ferment as aforesaid for ye Redd elixer you shall continue still the said glass in a greate heat untill ye same white earth like fishes eyes thereof be first become [illegible] like unto ye eyes of fishes & then afterwards yt it [illegible] unto ye Cullor of Redd purple; & untill yt time you must continue still ye same fire./

And then with ye aforesaid Oyle of ☉ or Redd oyle being drawne out of our ☿ as before is declared you shall multiply therewth ye Redd purple earth like as you did before ye white earth both in quantity & vertue even as you list yor selfe, & soe ~~continue~~ still ye order of multiplying ye Redd Elixer wth ye Redd ☿ like as you did before ye white ☿ to ye white elixer vizt untill it become thereby a very Redd Gumme, & then truly ye Redd Elixer shall then have such vertue strength & power yt it shall turne Common ☿ & all Imperfitt mettalls into the most excellent ☉ yt ever was seene or heard of, wch shall bee a greate deale more fine better more glorious & higher of collor then any naturall gold had out of the mine, which Gold will alsoe surely abide all manner of assayes, & examinations by ye excellente power, help, grace, & gifte of ye Almighty God to whose name therefore be honour & glory both now & ever more without end Amen./

Soe yt now you may not only perceive by this example aforesaid yt of ♀ & ☽ & ☉ may be made both ye white & redd Elixer as before is exprest &c. But further you shall understand, & know hereby; yt ye first matter of ye treatise hereof shewes & declareth ye Composition of ye Philo: ☿ out of ye wch Philos: ☿ are drawne 2 partes vizt water & oyle, ye which 2 are two tinctures: Redd & white, & wth yt 1: ye white all bodyes are naturally dissolved in ye wch matter resteth all our secretts./

An Accurtation of Raymond.

The best way & of least cost is thus: put ℥ 1: of ye Calx of egg shells into a circulatory, & put thereon of ye white or Redd ☿ soemuch as will cover ye same calx, & then close ye said glass with a peece of glass shaped therefore for ye nonce, & then lute it well with lute made therefore wth Calx vive Iron powder of Glasse, & honey being strongly boyled together, & soe make circulation thereof in Balneo untill all be a drye powder, & then give it more & doe as you did before, & soe doe it still untill such time it stand like an oyle & then cast one part thereof upon Crude ☿ or any other mettall & it shall turne it into perfect ☉ or ☽ according as the Elixer is; & soe inlike case may you make Circulation wth yor ☿ on ye Calx of mettalls, & a shorter way there may be none for if fixed together & then put thereupon so much of red ☿
you put into yor circulatory ℥ 1: of yor Calx of ☉ & ☿ as will cover ye same Calx of ☉ & ☿ by 2 fingers space of thicknes, & lute the hole with a peece of glass wth past made of honey, bolus, Armen, and powder, of ye scales of Iron, tempered & boyled together untill all bee very thick, & black which luting will not faile if it be very well boyled, & then sett ye Circulatory in a furnace with a very easy heate

[illegible] till it bee stand till ye Redd ☿ be turned to a deeper Redd cake & fix. & then putt therto soomuch more Redd ☿ and soe Circulate it againe till it be drye & doe thus Continually till it have drunke up somuch of the said Redd ☿ till it stand very thick like oyle being some deale blacke, & that it will drinke up noe more of the said ☿./

Then take ℥ 1: of this ~~[illegible]~~ oylish elixer, & Cast it on ℥ 10: of ☿ well purged & clensed, & when it begins to smoke over hott embers it shall turne to a redd powder fix & drye, then putt this ℥ 10: wch. is incerate into a circulatorye, & doe therewith as you did before, & then is yor. elixer encreased somuch themore, & soe may you thus increase yor. elixer infinitely & then will an ℥ of this congeale ℥ 100 of redd ☿ into powder of ye which ℥ 1: will alsoe turne ℥ 10 of any mettall into perfect ☉ att all assayes. & in the same wise may you likewise doe with the Calx of lune and Common ☿ from thence being evaporated by Circulation with yor. naturall white ☿ into oyle proceeding therewith like as you did with the redd ☿ upon ye Calx of ☿ et ☉ & you shall have a white elixer to Convert ☿ & all other mettalls into perfect ☽ at all examinations &c./

A Demonstration or opninge of the Secrett of Seecretts; Done by the Art of Philosophie by Raymund Lully Kt: in Libro vetromam script—

First you shall understand, & know yt all our seecrett mistory is donn by a temperate heate of ye Ellementall fire; The which temperate heate moveth & stirreth our mettall naturally to worke in his nature ye ~~att~~ yt God hath appoynted & ordained it unto; & thou shalt understand yt it is donn by wisdome & Arte./ (memorand: ye first degree of heat should be placed here

The second degree or order of ye Ellementall fire or heate a meane heate, & yt is a heate yt is betwixt ye least heate & ye greatest heate of all & this meane heate is hott & drye, & is donn in ashes or such other like./

The first degree. This Ellementall fire or heate is devided into three orders or degrees whereof ye first degree or order of ye Ellementall fire is hott & moiste & it is put in Balneo in fimo equino or in vinaria of ye huskes of Raysons standing upon a stew of hott water or some otherlike./

The third heate or degree of ye Ellementall fire is ye greatest ~~fire~~ heat of all & it is allsoe ye most hottest, & this theire degree of heate is donn in sande or in the filings of Steele &c./

Fouer other Fires.

Now ye shall understand there bee 4 other fires haveing diverse and

Sundry natures, The first ffire is ye Fyer of Nature; The second is Innaturall or materiall Fire:/ The third is ye Fyer against nature. The fourth is the Ellementall ffyer; wee use ye 4 ffyers & nomore./

The first ffyer being called Ignis naturalis; the ffier of nature is naturally in all vegetables; & in all animall things, but this fire of nature is most principally in Aquavite ~~or fire of nature~~ vegetable & this vegetable Aqua vite or fire of nature doth marvelous Acts for ye comfort & nature of man; And as Raymond saith this Aqua vite vegetable is drawne of wine by a temperate heate of ye Ellimentall ffire & yt when it is perfectly rectified yt yn ye aqua vite vegetable is called vegetable menstrue Resoluble of all vegetables yt is to say yt this vegetable menstrue Resoluble is not only ye resolver & drawer out of all ye vertue power & strength of all spices & of all flowers of all fruites of all hearbes & of all seedes, & when it is distilled away againe from ye same vegetables therein resolved yt then all ye vertues strength & powers of all ye same vegetables being in ye same menstrue resolved, as alsoe ye vertue power & strength of ye sd vegetable menstrue it selfe; Doth yn remaine & tarry ~~be[illegible]~~ hind still in ye bottom of ye vessell in a quintessence of oyle ye wch. quintessence of oyle is a pretious and comfortable thing for ye nature of Man; but alsoe when this Aqua vite vegitable is (by Circulation) brought into a Celestiall menstrue yt is to say a Heavenly menstrue, called a quintessence; then this heavenly menstrue or quintessence will disolve ☉ & ☽ & therefore when yt ☉ is dissolved in ye same heavenly vegetable menstrue & is circulated therewith into a quintessence then hath yt heavenly or vegetable menstrue much more vertue, & greater power to comfort ye nature of man, then it had before./

Aqua vitæ mineralis est prium menstruum vel Ignis innaturalis:

Is ye second Fyer./

The second fire is called ye innaturall fire, & it is soe called because it is (after their kinde) in all ye 7 bodyes of naturall ~~mines~~ mines but yett principally it is in Aqua vite mineralis to doe acts for healing or curing of ye unperfect bodyes of ye myne, or for ye comfort of the nature of Man: This Aqua vite minerall is a Cristaline water (wch. Cristaline water is drawne out of ☿ & mettall disolved naturally together by ye Art or sience of Philo: & therefore hee yt knoweth not theire disolution surely knoweth nothing in our sience, or secrett
a do councell us yt we should perfectly know the Aqua vitæ minerall & learn how to make the same or else the philosophers mistrey, therefore ye Philosophers say we shall but loose all yt ever we doe or medle in this Art or Sience, & therefore thou shalt now understand & know, yt like as Aqua vite ~~vegetable~~ is drawne out of wine by a temperate heate of ye Ellementall fyer even soe our stone or Aqua vite minerall is drawne out of ☿ & of mettall dissolved both together Philosophically) & therefore if thou canst not drawe out this minerall Aqua vite (which is cristaline water) out of ☿ and mettall natturally disolved together Philosophically, then doe not thou meddle with our magistory for why, hee yt can make this Aqua vita minerall truly surely hee hath a speciall cause all ye dayes of his Life to thanke God, hee may then bee surely bold to say yt hee hath ye permanent water ye noble Gay — & alsoe ye innaturall or materiall fire which — innaturall or materiall fire is ye most surest thing yt wee desire./

Raymond calleth this Aqua vitæ mineralis his first menstrue that both dissolveth calcyneth & putrifieth all bodyes of ye myne, & other — Philosophers doth call this innaturall materiall or second fyer or first menstrue Aqua vitæ mineralis; & some other there bee that doth — call ye ~~resolutive or resolutive minerall menstrue~~ Aqua vita minerall or first menstrue: The minerall menstrue resolutive wth resolutive minerall menstrue or minerall Aqua vitæ doth by his Attractive vertue loose & unbind
the minerall menstrue resoluble./

The metaline body of ye myne (the which is closed conjealed or — cleaved together naturally by ye vapor of mettall potentiall is by our said minerall Resolutive menstrue brought back againe and is unloosed into his first mettall, & then it is called mercurie of Crafte & then ye Philosophers call it their ☿./

And then in this water onely is Compounded & Joyned our two — menstrues, & are both of them here brought into one water, & this — one water of ye mettalyne body brought back againe into, & unloosed into its first matter, is then called our Adrop & our green Lyon where withall our maisterie is wrought, & therefore truly all our — seecrett resteth, & consisteth in this water only whereunto agreeth — & accordeth All ye Philosophers saying thus:/ Out of one image spring= =eth all ye seecretts of or magisterie: & yt is surely out of this water — only for why: in this water only is contained all things needfull — to our worke whereupon all ye Philosophers doe ~~saly~~ say yt our — seecrett mistery is made of one onely thing in kinde but of 2 in nomber, & therein they have said truly for why:./

In this our said water is both ☿ & 🜍 ye which 2 mercury & sulphur are likned unto man & woman & alsoe they 2 are likned to ~~and~~ water & earth also they two are likened to a body & a soule being of one onely kinde; But as I have said in them they (body & soule) are two: The Philosophers doe alsoe say yt our — seecrett magisterie, is made of 3 things, & they have said truly for why:
truly in our said water are 3 things vizt A Body, Soule & Spiritt
The body is black 🜍 the soule is ignis vivificans: |: or quickning — ffire drawne out of ☿ & 🜍, The Spiritt is ye water in which — Spiritt or water ye Soule is borne which Soule is our Tincture & is led out & in with the same Spiritt or water, like as the Dyars Tinctures is borne up & lead into there Clothes./

Alsoe they say yt our maistery is made of 4 things, & therein alsoe they have said truly for why:- in or said water is comprehended the 4 ellements, Water, Earth, ffyer, & Eyre, & those 4 Ellements have 4 contrary ~~ffaculties~~ Qualityes, hott, drye, cold & moist, & when the — blood of the green Lyon is drawne out of those 4 Ellements wth.

This is ye thing in ye wch all men have labored for to seeke a thing ymade wch is profitable to ye use of Man, ye wch may keepe his — corruptable body from Corruption, & to conserve it from wasting, & it were possible to keepe a man Everlasting in Life & healeth for yt is a thing yt all men desire never to die witnessing ye holy Philosoph: St Paul in ye epistle ad Corinthias Chap:5 nam et qui sumus in grace to come to such high cuning, but as or true Philosopher paul saith in his epistle ad Hebrees Chapt:9 every man is ordained once to die, ergo it were a phantacy to Labor in this deadly Life — to seeke such a thing yt might keepe every deadly body imortall and never to die for God saith in Gen: Chap: now therefore least Adam put forth his hande & take of ye tree of Life, & eate to Live for ever, therefore or Lord put him forth of lusty paradice to worke in earth, of ye wch he was made, And see he sett him before paradice and ordained Cherubim wth a brenning Sword to keepe ye way of ye tree of Life, ergo it were but a fantacy to say yt God gave to Adam without Paradice any thing by ye which he must Live for ever, sith the Lord cast him out yt he should not touch ye tree of Life least hee should Live for ever, This wee ~~have~~ seene openly in holy writt yt God hath sett & ordained to every man a terme [illegible]

passe by no craft no witt as Job sayeth Breves dies hominis sunt et numerum mensium ejus tecum est, Constituisti terminos ejus qui preteriri non poterunt, ergo to seeke helpe & remedy over ye time yt God hath sett it were but vaine therefore it is to seeke remedies to conserve & keepe or bodyes from Corruption for the time & term wch God hath sett to man to live, & to make him whole & him marvelosly to comfort, & restore to ye last day of death wch or Lord hath assigned to us, To Save a man from all death before ye day of God assigned is not in or power; As death of thunder or Lightning or faling or slaughter or of any violence, but to rehearse of Death before ye terme limited of surfetts & of corruption of ye body, & yt default of ye vertue in kinde as oft it faileth, Reason sheweth that the Corruptible body desireth to be nurished by corruptable things & Rotten & see reforme ye body by an imperfect thing & see the Body is made corruptible by things yt beene corrupt & failing, & they seeke to heale by things yt bin corrupt & foule & to make faire by sti~~lli~~nking crafte all such beene but fantacies & vaine matters, ergo ye Roote of Life is to seeke a thing of himselfe yt might abide evermore incorrupte, ye wch may keepe all things yt ~~it~~ is put therein evermore from Corruption, as flesh in his kind vertue & state ye wch nourisheth ye vertue of Life & encreaseth & restoreth kinde & all rawe humors defieth, & bringeth it to even quallities & all qualityes yt hath excess or every manner of quallity yt is lost it restoreth, & it maketh kinde moystness to bee plenteous, & it maketh heate of kinde mightie And know ~~in~~ well without any falsehood, yt none of ye 4 ellements is of such kinde no nothing yt is compounded of any matters of the 4 ellements for all such bine cause of corruption & all corruptable & sick & feeble, if corrupt matter or Like to corruption be put there to it increaseth it, And for all Lords by such corrupt matters wch bin compounded of ellements & of matters, & wrought therewth, might never come to ye high privitie yt wee seeke but some sayne yt all yt is bodily in this world to ye use of man, be ellements or compounded of ellements ergo ye Roote of Life may not in this world be found of man ye which may quicke ye body unto ye Last terme of Life marked to Man by or Lord God

Indago Coeli nri: seu Quintessentia

The Epilogus of or heaven or Quintessence

To answer truly to this matter it behooveth to seeke a thing ye wch is in Comparition & in respect of ye 4 qualities whereof or bodies are made as heaven is in Comparision of ye 4 Ellements for heaven is of himselfe incorruptible & unchangible receiving none other impressions

[illegible]
bee digested in Balneo. / And afterward circulated & alsoe brought into a Celestiall menstrue i: into a heavenly menstrue called a quintessence: then may wee say boldly & prove yt ye same circulated quintessence is ye very true & right Aurum potabile wch is drawne out of or tincture puer, whose collor will never fade I thee ensure. /

And now againe to our formall matter: Take heed what I say unto thee and marke it well for why:

Like as the Aqua vitæ vegetable is drawne out of wine (wch wine comes of the grape, which grape is alsoe a vegetable thing) & is made & brought forth thereof 2 menstrues whereof the one menstrue is Celestiall; & the other menstrue is not so, for lack of Circulation wch 2 menstrues do worke diverse & marvelous things in vegetables even so in like manner is Aqua vitæ mineralis drawne out of ye wine minerall: The wch minerall wine is a water yt cometh out of mercury & out of the mettall that is disolved therein by the secrett meanes & Art of Philosophy, & of this Aqua vitæ mineralis is also 2 menstrues whereof the one menstrue is made Celestiall vizt the one menstrue is made heavenly by Circulacon & ye other menstrue is not so, for lack of Circulation. /

The which 2 menstrues (so being made of ye Aqua vitæ minerall drawne out of ☿ & out of mettall disolved therein & whereof ye one of ye same two menstrues is Celestiall, & the other not soe doth all or wonderfull Maistery in ye transmutation of mettalls & minerall bodyes: But I councell thee to be ware of one thing & yt is this: if thou wilt by this or maistrey any thing winn, lett never no corrossine water come therein; for I tell thee it is ye distroyer of all or maistrey for why or intent is to have a water puer & yt the Corrosive will distroy I thee ensure, Because the Corrosive is green, & wth his earth is neither surely mixed nor yett well fixed, & therefore thou mayst take example hereof by ye gold finers, for thou mayest see by them, how yt they in theire departing silver from gold wth Aqua fortis, doth bring gold in to a subtle powder or earth & silver into pure water; in ye wch departing of ye gold from silver, in ye same corrosive water, if their tinctures were not well mixed, & alsoe surely fixed with their earthes, Truly they would both of them be fullsoone deprived of theire tinctures. /

And yett not withstanding I say thusmuch more unto thee yt thou maist put mercury, being sublimed wth vitriall & salt peeter into our ☿ red or white; allthough he be sublimed wth ye said vitriell & salt peeter aforesaid, because truly (all their venome in the disolution of our ☿ is then taken away from them. /

Wherfore for thy principall grounde learne thou here to draw out the blood of ye greene Lyon wisely for why: in yt pinte surely –

take ye aforesaid water (of mercury) called our greene Lyon (or [illegible]) & put him in a glass, & sett thereon a limbecke well & surely closed & then sett ye same glass in an earthen pott or pann in sand, upon a ffurnace with a receaver put thereunto: And first of all thou shalt make there under a very lent fire, untill such time as thou shalt see thereby a white fume appeare in ye head of ye alembicke called fumus albus & then incontinently take away yor first receptorie, & quickly put thereunto annother receiver & then increase yor fire some wt by little & little, & then at ye last make a greate fire as you doe in distilling Aqua fortis & soe continue & keepe still yt greate fire throughout for the space of 24 howers, or so long as any liquor cometh out or shall ascend forth of ye stillatory, And soe shalt thou drawe out thereof a water so redd as Dragons Blood, of ye wch redd water soe drawne out is ye blood of our greene Lyon to bee had: & it is our innaturall or materiall fire, to us most sure, & also it is our quick gold unkinde by nature, & alsoe it is our vegetable gold yt is quick hott, & moiste, & it is alsoe or minerall Aqua vite or water of Life yt receiveth & renueth all dead bodyes of ye myne, in or secrett maiesterie, And it is our Eagle; & Raymond calleth this red water his second menstrue & his Cristaline water, yt giveth Life unto all those yt are dead & alsoe it is or minerall water or venome & or Tincture, & it is alsoe or Soule, or quintessence, & or heaven & alsoe it is ye very same thing yt doth all or maiesterie, and therefore what shall wee now say more of him: except wee put him to digest in Balneo & after that to circulate him into a quintessence of Oyle. /

The which quintissence of oyle wee call then or true & Right Aurum Potabile, ye wch Aurum potabile or quintissence of Oyle doth not onely heale & cure all manner of deseases whatsoever they bee in man & alsoe maketh an old man to become yonge againe — But alsoe it causeth a man to Live without any disease in his body till ye Last houre (prefixed of God) yt hee shall die & live no longer And now if thou wilt worke ye white worke & have thereunto — white tincture: Then thou must first devide thy aforesaid Redd water into 2 partes severally by themselves, & ye one part of the same Redd water then must be kept apart severally by it selfe for the redd worke & ye other part of ye Redwater so devided thou shalt distill in Balneo wth a Lent fire, & then out of ye same red water there shall distill & come forth a white Cristaline water, The wch white Cristaline water is our white Tincture & it is or Eagle & it is or lac virgins & it is alsoe this white Cristaline water is our Aqua vitæ mineralis or or minerall water of Life that — receiveth & renueth all dead bodies of ye mine in ye wch water or — Spirit aforesaid or tincture is borne, & or tincture is or Soule, ignis

no kind but as God hath Commanded, Soe is ye thing wch wee seeke in comparition of ye 4 qualities of or bodies, Quintessence is of himselfe incorruptable if it should stand for ever, not hott & drye with fire, nor Cold & moist wth water, nor hott & moyst wth Ayer, neither cold & drye wth earth: But it is quintessence avayling against all — contrariousness: for right as Heaven is incorruptible, & as when need is it rayneth moysture, & sometime it giveth heate, sometime — cold, somtime drought, such is ye roote of life quintessence The wch or Lord Almighty made in kinde to fullfill ye needs of or bodie, & unto the time of death of or Ld assign'd I say that our Ld almighty made quintessen and wrought it of a kindly body & — made it crafteley wth mans reason & will: And yee shall name it wth these 3 names ye wch was given of old Philosophers sometimes first yee shall call it brenning fire, the Soule of wine, or the — Spirit of wine; And Aqua vitæ, water of Life: And when — thou wilt hide his name from rude men, yt they shall have no understanding call him quintessence or quinta essentia: for his kinde & his name quintissence, was shewed by old Philosophers & with them they kept this conninge close, & yt it is neither cold nor moyst as water is I shall shew by reason, for it is brenning, & soe is not the Ellement of water, & yt it is not hott & moyst as ye Ayre is, it proveth — well for ye ayer will rather gender corruption, & venym as it — sheweth well in mists, & Contagious Ayres, ye generation of flyes spiders adder cropps, & other corruptions, but or quintissence is — ever biding incorruptible, if it bee kindly closed from ye Ayer — & yt it is not cold nor drye as Earth is, yt sheweth expresly; for it is lightest of ~~making~~ - in heate, & yt it is not hott & drye as ye fire is, it sheweth in working, for it maketh hott things cold & hott sickness it loseth, & putteth of, as you shall prove hereafter, And that it taketh away corruptions, & keepeth a thing from corruption experience proveth it thus, for take wt manner of bread or peace of fleshe yt thou wilt, or of fish, & put it therein & it — shall never appeare corrupte while it is therein, then by reason it should worke more in quick flesh, & in lively creatures and keepe it from all corruption, This is quintessence Man, heaven which or Lord made in keeping of all things; And know it for sooth yt Philosophers now adayes & leeches know not this quintessence nor his kind, therefore wth ye Grace of God I shall shew hereafter ye proprities of him, here I have shewed a secrett thing; quintessence [illegible] mans heaven in Comparison of heaven is everlasting.

In Dago solis ad influendum principium vita in nobis et ad ornandum cælum in sumum

The prologe of ye Sonne yt is to say gold to bring in ye beginning of life to us & to raye or heaven at ye full, & yt is called quintessence, it helpeth not only mans body by himselfe, but by ye vertue only of ye Sonne, & other Starrs, this Heaven quintessence will hight, & florish ye Sonn Marvelusly, & make him shining without Corruption, but even as quintissence, this Sonne may not worke in distroying of heate; & therefore I say to thee of very Charitie, & good Conscience yt this sonn is illightned & shining & ever able to bee with fyre wasted for it is incorruptible, & bringeth in ye Roote of Life as much as possible may bee, as I have shewed before, ye wch is made to glorifie our heaven, & to increase the influence of quintessence, yt same bee taken wth ~~it~~, mans hand: & God hath ordained it in ye power of Deadly creatures, & yt at ye instance of God & for charrity I say to you holy livers & good men, wt is this sonne yt shall stand in or heaven quintessence, I shall show him to you by his proper name, it is Gold ye wch is take of very myne or of ye Ore in ye earth & not gold which is made of waters & is made by crafte, for gold of ye Doctors of Alchymie was made of Corosive waters But this good gold of ye myne, is clyped among ye Philo: ye sonne for it is ye sonne, of ye sonne of heaven, for this Gold is ingendred in ye earth of ye reflection of ye Sonne, & to him ye sonne giveth his kinde, and color, & his substance keeped free Corruption as Comparison may be made, But quintessence is of ye nature & colour of ~~heaven~~ our sonne shall high him as ye sonne higeteth heaven, & these 2 moved together, yt is to say quintessence & gold have ye Condition of heavenly heaven yt is above & as heavenly Sonne as possible may be in nature of creatures yt bindeadly to restore Life, & nature lost, & to renue youth thereby & hir giveth kindly healeth as man desireth to have.—

The plogue of or Starrs to ye beauty of or heaven

Salomon said in his Ecclesiastes in ye first all things bin hard & may not utterly beshewed with mans word ne tongue, for among all wonderfull things yt ever God made in this world, & most to be wondered of is this yt sonne spirit medicinable have vertue & power to draw Corrupt humors & superfluety from every certaine member, & from a nother as Here piera yt draweth humors from ye head, from ye neck & from ye breast & not from ye Naville & soe beneath & not from other partes of members but how & whereof yt is, it is full hard for man to know But ye high Philoso: Chosen & Jno. Mesue, otherwise called John of Damaste, in his booke of Simple medicins aboute ye beginning sayth above & how & of wt place & parte of heaven they cannot say, & this yet they were soe good Clarkes yt all leeches & Philoso: in those dayes called them as Evangelysts, & they yt understood ye truth of such wordly things yt been of such mervelous vertue, ye cause thereof is of God But these wordly Philoso: & but commonly Lettered Leeches; have noe feeling hereon, & holden it but falasie & leesing, But to every falshood, truth is put afore: I shall seeke ye nature of or Starrs to array or heaven yt ye flowing of quintessence, yt wee have sought, & of or Sonne, yt is to say of ye Gold of myne beforesaid in ye plouge how much ye kinde of heaven & or Sonne beene encreased by putting to of other Starrs, And know ye well yt every starr of heaven above, hath his flowing doune to earth, & every Starr hath his owne property, and every Starr hath a Singular kinde of ye Commandemt & ordinance of God in working upon certaine things in earth as ye load starr hath on ye Adamant Stone & upon Iron; And ye moone hath her workeing upon water of ye Sea; ye Sonne upon gold, ye moone upon Silver; & Images of men above in heaven workinge in mens bodyes beneath & Images of wedren or sheepe above in heaven, geven kind to sheepe and weders here beneath on earth, for as a Carpenter with his Axe in his hande makes a Shypp, & unlesse hee have his axe hee cannot make hit; Right so neither God governeth not ye world, ye which hath give working to ye Starrs, but only letts ye Starrs worke in theire kinde in things herebeneath as hee will & hath Comanded & no otherwise & understand in thy heart, yt among Starrs and Images of heaven of ye one partie, & earthly things ye wch her kind falleth upon it is so strong & mighty yt they will have hir kinde course of working it may not bee with stood; for Aristotle saith yt heaven should rather to brest yn kinde should faile her beneath from working of ye Starrs above for there is such knitting of kind & love amongst ye heavenly bodyes, yt all things here beneath Answereth in kind to their governance, Consider how & see Shippmen in ye Sea setten a needle to an Adamant stone, & maketh him to turne even agst ye load Starr how hath ye needle yt vertue & kinde to turne agt ye Starr, so allway & wthout any defalt, & turneth to none other place, forsooth & without any doubt this ye cause for beath Iron & the Adamant Stone by Commandemt of God bin caused & ingendred in ye earth of ye & they have ye kinde & property in ye selfe of ye Load Starr Load Starr & therefore for ye liknesse yt ye needle & ye Adamant Stone have of him & kind therefore every thing desireth his kinde & soe ye needle turneth to him as for liknes of reason & kinde I beseech wt is ye cause yt as oft time as ye moone riseth, ye [illegible] beginneth to flow & arising & when ye moone [illegible]

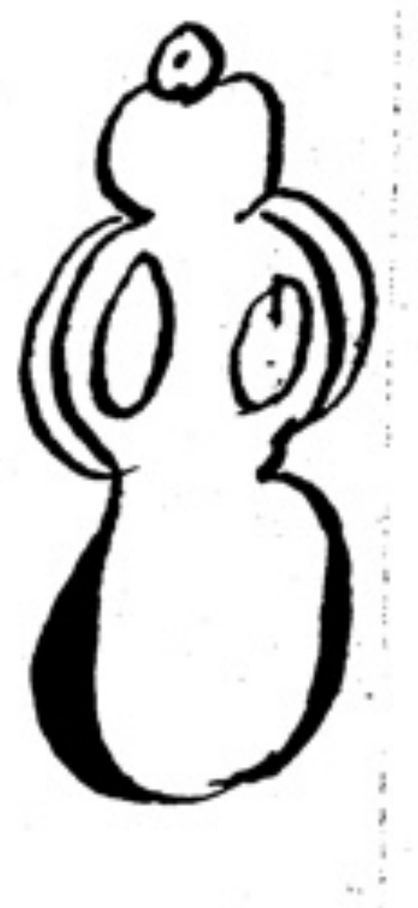
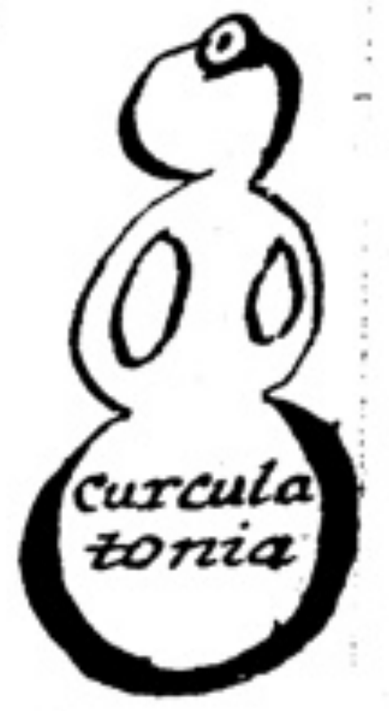
midst of ye firmament it beginneth to ebb & when ye moone is in ye west it beginneth to flow agen till ye moone cometh to ye Angle of ye earth & then it beginneth to ebb againe & soe till ye moone arise agen & after this course of ye ~~kinde~~ moone twice in a day naturall is flowing & ebbing but why is it ye flowing & ebbing ye Sea followeth ye moone & not ye Sonne but neverthelesse the sea followeth not ye course of the sunne ye cause is this ye moone hath his kindly Influence upon water & flowing & ebbing followeth ye moone & not ye Sonne for as man invisibly followeth kindly a woman in his thought ye wch he loveth, & an hungrey man desireth meate & followeth it & yt ye thursty man to drinke soe to ye purpose following I say yt Starrs the wch have kindly influence upon ye head & ye neck & ye breast of man those Starrs been those, ye wether ye Bull & Gemyn wch giveth kinde upon hierapigra & therefore by the Commandmt of God; hierapigra draweth Corrupt humors from ye head ye neck & ye breast, & of noe member beneath them; And soe I say of other species yt drawen humors from ye knees Leggs & feete ye wch have a singular reflection & kinde of ye Starrs & they beene those Capricorn Aquar Pisces & soe it may bee said of many others ergo if thou will cure ye head of any sickman wth quintessence & gold thou must take such things yt bine ingendred of ye constellacon under ye starrs of Aries & putt therein as ~~hierapigra~~ hierapicra & such other yt longeth to ye head; & soe of other lymes in ye same wise & soe wth or Sonne & earthly Starrs thou shalt make goodly cures & marvelous herein earth as I shall teach ye in this booke hereafter./





Here is ye Second Canon of ye first booke wch sheweth the Maystry of Quintessence how & in wt wise or quintessence wth ye Sonne & ye Starrs shall be arrayed & how it keepeth ye healeth and Life of Man and how Quintessence is made

here beginneth ye first prologue

Trow you not yt I lye or Color false matters for it is quintissence ye which is Called Aqua Ardens brenning water & I said before yt noe Philoso: no leeches now adayes could not come thereto but of Aqua Ardens every man may find overall, but forsooth ye masterie of quintissence is hid from them & I never saw but one devine yt understood anything of yt mastry & privity of this quintessence & I tell you forsooth yt quintessence is brenning water, & it is not brenning but god putteth wisdome in ye heartes of Holy ~~Leers~~ Livers & good men for whome I make & translate this booke yt they common it not with reproved men and myslivers in slanders of ye high previties of god, Loe

Loe I shall here open to thee ye very truth thou shall take wine not over cleare no watyne black wine earthly & thick, but noble wine, & glad savery & sweete smelling, ye best yt may be had & distill it by a ~~[illegible]~~ oftimes till you have made good brenning water at ye highest degree yt you cann make & distill it 6 or 7 times if you can, & this is brenning water This is a watery matter, of ye wch quintessence is made and drawne out of it, therwhich wee purpose on in this booke, & when thou hast this noble Aqua Ardens then thou shalt make a vessell of glass or a stillatory all whole of one peece, wth a little whole above in ye head by ye wch, water shall bee putt in & drawne out & this vessell shall have Comors within hanging downward soe yt it is within by vertue of fire, shall Ascend & distill within ye vessell, by the cannes streching out as Armes doune in a body but they bee inward in ye stillatory & many & so distill doune, & rise agen & then doune agen continually day & night, till yt brenning water by ye high will of God be turned heavenly into quintissence ye wch ye seeke for, & ye shall understand yt ye best water ardens yt may bee made hath of himselfe a materiall mixtion of ye 4 ellements & therefore by ye spiracon of God & by ye stillatory aforesaid & by continually ascending & descending 5sence ye wch ye seeke after shall bee departed from Corruption & composition of ye 4 Ellements & soe by greate labor & continuall distilling wth ye vessell & by assending & descending & sublyming, it shall come to ye high gloriousness, yt it is made almost incorruptible as heaven & of kinde of heaven & therefore it is called 5tessence for it is of such kinde in respect of or body, as heaven is above in respect of all ye world almost in ye same wise, as craft may follow kindly such a manner of similitude as much as nature may Conclude

Here you shall know when 5tessence is fullmade and departed from ye 4 Ellemts & Heaven in himselfe, hee is nor hott nor cold nor moyst nor dry as ye 4 Ellemts been but it is as heaven wth his Starrs & his beauty made by ye space of many dayes in ye vessell of circulacon before distrived by continuall assention & discention by circle distillation.

Then to know when he is perfitt thou shall open ye hole of ye vessell ye which is in ye head fast closed wth lute of wisdome of Philoso:phers small flower & of moyst paper small tosyed & wth white of eggs medled & tempered together as yt noe breath pass in nor out, & when thou hast opned ye hole, yt thou feele a marvelous savor soe wonderfull yt no worldly sweetness no savor wth smelling may bee likned to him but hit shall seeme to thyne understanding yt aire & sweetnes shall bee principall, as it were ye high Joye & Glory of God & this may bee called a greate marvaile yt a vessell putt in ye Corner of ye house, wth any Liquor enclosed wthin him [illegible] yt it may have such a sweete smelling & turne into 5tessence hitt to him invisibley wth yn feele the sweetnesse may bee called a marvayle for it draweth all this sweetenesse & marvelous odor. then hast thou 5tessence ye wch wee callme heaven, as thou hast heard before to ye wch no Philoso: nor Leeches in or time might come to except him as I said before, & ~~yff~~ ~~any~~ you feele no such savor ne smelling, to a mans taste, as I said before close ye vessell agenn, & sett it to ye fyer as I shall shew hereafter, yt by sublimacon & circle assentions & descentions hit may bee fully wrought & brought to full perfection of glorious 5tessence this glorious matter & Spirituall shall not have ye heate in ye mouth as water Ardens hath, nor such qualities of cold moist ne drie, as ye 4 Ellements hath, for ye sharpe heate of Aqua Ardens & his aquosaty by circle sublimacon beene wasted away, & ye earthly matter & ponderous shall leave in ye bottome of ye vessell, & soe ye heaven & ye starrs yt is to say or 5tissence is compleate & made of a body & of a soule, but not in yt wise as a body is made of the 4 Ellements, for it will be but little glorious subtyle & soe noble forme, yt ye power of yt matter shall not bee conformed unto none other kind & soe remaine uncorrupte till God dissolve & breake ye power thereof But 5tessence ye wch wee speak of is as who saith incorruptible as heaven is as craft may follow kind, And so in respect of any matter made of ye 4 Ellements hit is berely incorruptible, but & that it were utterly incorruptible as heaven is hit would ~~worne~~ through mans body as witnesseth or Lord Jesus Christ maker of all things./

Now I have opned a part of this secrett matter to ye Worshipp and Joy of or Lord Jesus Christ./

Here is ye beginning & wytt, to have fire without fire, & to make 5tessence without labor & expence & without occupation & loosing of time & how we thinke in this booke to comfort poore men & holy livers; yt they bee not lett from theire prayers, by working of this pretious water, I shall shew to you a wonderous thing & marvelous heate without fire, & without wood or coale & therein is or 5tessence made & engendred without expence; The wise maker of all things and shaper of all this world hath ordained 2 things convenient to this thing among all other, the which is this./

Take ye best — cl. 2:cy yt you may gett & putt it in a pytt & knead it fast together & lett ye pitt or place bee right well & close dawbed & make after yt a bedd of ll: l: beneth & round about And ye 2:cy: there wth in & yt in ye midst of ye 2: cy well pasted & kneaded, thou shalt sett thy vessell yt is to say ye stillatory of circulation unto ye middest for it is needfull yt all ye head of ye vessell stand open in ye cold ayre — soe yt by vertue of yt heate of ye 2:cy; ye matter yt assendeth & riseth up to the

[illegible] agen & this Continually by Circulation thou hast 5tessence wthout labour heate wthout fire. And here I shall shew thee another manner of fire as I have said before Take ye draffe — of Grapes, as they beene pressed when ye wine is wrought out & doe there wth as you did wth ye cl: 2:cy before for it hath marvelous fire: Alsoe another sett ye vessell in a ~~[illegible]~~ in ye sonne & soe lett him stand day & night & soe without labour Quintissence may bee wrought./

Here is cunning without expence & almost for nothing &
this is for good livers yt have but little to live bye ::/

Varfire men wch ~~Layeth~~ sayeth wth Peter, Gold & silver is not longing to me, & when they have need of ye vertue of or Sonne, lett them pray a rich friend to lend them 2 gold florins or one & heate him as red as fire colour & if thou have Aq: Ardens quench it therein 50 times; And if thou have not Aq: Ardens quench them in good white wine not over cleare ne thick, but most delectable & odorouse & best liking yt you may have, for wine hath kind in him to receive all ye vertues of gold; And when thou hast done this worke at ye full thou shalt have thy florins as good as before, & as who sayth of ye same wth use this golden wine or water & thou shalt have greate healeth & gladnesse & bee yongly withall./

The 5 Canon of infixion of all Earthly Starrs in our heaven yt they move shew their proper influence and vertues:/

God of heaven hath given such vertue to 5tessence yt it draweth off every fruite, trees, herbes, seeds, spices & fleshe, & of every medicinall thing, all vertues, properties & natures & all manner of effects of them ye wch God maker of joy hath shaped & made in them, & within 3 houres hee shall drawe out all ye vertues into himselfe, And thus or 5tessence aforesaid draweth all 5tessence of all things aforesaid ergo all things necessary to every syrippe, put hit in Aq: Ardens & wthin 3 houres yt shall bee a syrype, And therefore it shall bee 100 fould more better by reason of 5tessence, then it should bee without it, And in this wise take all medicines comfortatives & putt ym wth 5tessence & hit shall bee 100 fould more comfortative yn hit was before, in all acts & properties, ye same in medicines Laxatives for they shall worke more wonderfull in kind & their vertues shall greatly bee encreased of ye gifts of god, as I shall teach hereafter, & if you put all spices & all sweete odors, smelling savors within 5tessence, you shall feele ye so greate sweetnesse yt wonder it is to say ye same of Drinks made now of fruite as wine Sider & perry or such other, ye same of things that beene ~~refrayning~~ restraining bee they seeds or flowers, fruites or berryes, or cold or hott, or sweete, or bitter, or moyst or drye or good or ill, if you put any of those in 5tessence such 5tessence shalt thou have of them, lo here is crafte & ~~Kunning~~ cunning to translate & encrease ye kind of all perties:/

God of Heaven is wittneſs yt I shall shew soe greate a privitie & expreſs it to yor knowlidge, wch was never shewed nor knowne but of full few men & is privitie of all secretts to draw 5teſsence of Antimony; Take Antimony & grind it as small as you may, when thou hast don soe then take ye noolest vineger distilled yt thou canst have, & put ye powder of Antimony therein & sett it over a softe fire till ye vineger wax very red, when it is soe, put out ye vineger softe & subtly into a glaſs from ye Antimony, then put new vineger to ye Antimony agen & sett it over ye fire in manner aforesaid till it be collored then put it off as thou diddest before & put it to the first colored vineger & doe soe as oft times as thou mayest have ye vineger cullored, & when thou hast gathered all ye parcells of collored vineger together put ym all in a stillatory of glaſse distill them, & furst of all there shall arise vineger by himselfe, & after yt thou shalt see a marvelous miracle, for by ye pipe of ye limbecke there thou shalt see 1000 vaines small of ye likessed myne of Antimony descending wth small red dropps, as it were very red blood, wch blessed Liquor thou shalt gather & keepe in a veſsell of Glaſs by himselfe, & when thou hast this; then hast thou a thing wth all their treasure of this worke may not unto it bee likned in comparison of value, quantity for quantity, see here an open maracle how greate sweetneſs this 5teſsence of Antimony hath in himselfe for yt paſseth ye sweetneſs of honey in all degrees & I say to thee of goodly intention & of very Charity, yt mans wytt doth not conceive ne beleive ye value ne miraculous vertue of 5teſsence of Antimony aforesaid, wt shall I say to thee: Aristotle in his booke secreto secretor saith yt this 5teſsence aforesaid is his Lead though hee name it not by his proper name of Antimony as wee have rehearsed oft times before, trust mee well there was never nothing of soe greate secrettneſs as this is, nor nothing of soe greate workeing in kind understand yt, wt I say, all men have laboured to subline ye Spiritts of myne & they ~~must~~ might never bring it aboute & yt I said to thee 1000 times this is ye secretest privity of all ye privityes, yett may I not suffise by noe wyt to shew all vertues nor halfe of them & privities yt lieth in them, for hee taketh away greate ach of all wounds, & helpeth them marvelously his vertues beene marvelous profitable & incorruptible Then you yt take & puttit in a pott 40 dayes fast closed in horse fime yt it may putrifye, & then it shall worke greate marvailes; This is a greate wonder yt of yt pure Mine of Antimony may come soe greate a sweetneſs, Trow not this Impoſsible yt I have shewed to thee for if you putt ceruſs in vineger & distill it, & put it over an easey fire ye space of 2 houres or more till the vineger bee vapored away, yt it bee torned into ye thickneſs of Oyle & yt oyle is called: ol: pumby, & hit is sweete as honey or sugar, or any other sweetneſs, beleive mee if thou wilt; But ye sweetneſs of 5teſsence of Antimony wth his red paſseth hit many degrees for in this Antimony been many wonderfull things search all the bookes of Philosophy & in search wt is Philosophy plumbe & thou shalt never finde what it is in working in no craft; but mercury, ye which the myne thereof may be fullymed into redneſs Fyxe o: lead of yt I have shewed thee here in this worke:/

For she must Yeild whom Loue & Gold betray.
What is Hippomenes, true Wisdom knows.

Thi: W[illegible] carryed him in his belly

Discourse 1

Hermes the most industrious searcher into all the secrets of Nature, doth in his Smaragdine Table exquisitely tho succinctly describe the Naturall Work when he sayes, Wind carryed Him in his belly as if he shold have said that He whose Father is Sol & mother is Luna must before he can be brought forth into the light be carried by windy fumes even as a Bird is carried in the Aire when it flyes. Now from fumes or winds (wch are nothing else but Air in Motion) being coagulated water is produc'd & from Water mixd wth earth all minerals & metalls do proceed. And even these last are said to consist of & be immedictly coagulated from fumes so that whether He be placed in Water or fume the thing is the same for one as well as the other is the matter of Wind. The same tho more remotely may be said of Mineralls & mettalls. ~~Now~~ but the Question is who is He that ought to be carryed by winds? I answ: Chymically it is Sulphur wch is ~~contained~~ in quicksilver carryed in Argent Vive as Lulle in his Codicill Chap: 32 & all other Authors attest. Physically it is the ~~Little Infant~~ Embryo wch in a little time ought to be borne into the light. I say also that Arithmetically it is the Root of a Cube. Musically it is the Disdiapason. Geometrically it is a point the beginning of a continued ~~running~~ line Astronomically it is the Center of the Planets Saturn Jupiter & Mars. Now although these are different Subjects

Lully ibid: The wind carrys him in his belly that is sulphur is carried in Argent Vive & Ch: 47 the Stone is thus carried in the Belly of Air.

Yet if they be well compared together they will easily demonstrate what the offspring of wind must be But this enquiry must be left to every mans own Industry. but more of this But I shall point out the matter more plainly thus. All Mercury is compos'd of fumes that is of Water elevating Earth together with it self into an aeriall rarity or thinnesse & of Earth forcing air to return into watry earth or earthy water ffor when the Elements are in it altogether & mixt throughout & mutually blended subdu'd & reduc'd to a certain Viscous Nature they do not easily recede from one another but either follow the Volatile flying upwards or remain below wth those that are fix'd The first of wch is evident in Comon mercury the other in the Philosophick mercury & fixd metalls In these the fixd Metalls are predominant over ye Volatile in that the Volatile over the fix'd; Nor is it indeed wthout reason that Mercury is call'd the Messenger or Interpreter & as it were the running intermediate Minister of the other Gods & has wings fitted to his head & feet ffor He is windy & flyes through the air as wind it self wch many Persons are really & experimentally convinc'd of to their great dammage But because he carries a Rod or Caduceus, about wch two serpents are twin'd across one the other, by wch he can draw souls out of bodyes & bring them back again & effect many such contrarieties He is a most Excellent figure or representacon of the Philosophicall Mercury Mercury therefore is Wind wch ~~takes~~ Sulphur, or Dionysius or (if You please so to call it) Æsculapius being yet an imperfect Embryo out of the mothers belly or out of the Ashes of the Mothers body burnd & carries it thither where it may be brought to maturity And the Embryo is Sulphur wch by the celestial Sun is infus'd into the Wind of Boreas that he may bring it forth in maturity. who after the compleat time of his Teeming doy bring foth twins, one wth white Hair Calld Calais the other with Red nam'd Zethes These Sons of Boreas (as Orpheus the Chymick Poet writs) were Companions to Jason amongst the rest of the Argonauts when he went to fetch the golden fleece from Colchis. for Phineus the blind Prophet being infested by the Harpyes could not be freed from them but by these Sons of Boreas & for so great a benefit obtaind by their means He out of gratitude show'd the whole course of their way to the Argonauts These Harpyes are nothing else but corrupting Sulphur wch is driven away by the Sons of Boreas when the come to full age, & from a thing imperfect and fect & not subject to that Evills afterwards Jason its Physician the way how to obtain the Gold Fleece Basil as well as other Authors takes Notice of these winds & in his sixth Key says thus For there ought to come a double wind namd Vulturnus & a single wind calld Notus wch will blow impetuously from the East & South. upon the cessation of whose motion so that water is made of their air You may confidently believe that a Corporeall thing will be made of a Spirituall & Ripley gates says that our infant ought to be born again in air that is in the Belly of the Wind, In the same sense must that be taken wch we find in Scala Philosophorū degree the 6th You must know that the son of the wise is born in the air & Degree 8th Airy spirits ascending together into the Air do love one another as Hermes said the wind carryd him in his Belly because the generation of our Son is made in the Air & being born in the Air is born Wisely for he ascends from Earth to Heaven & again descends to Earth acquiring both the superiour & inferiour Virtue.

Emblem 2d The earth is his Nurse
Discourse 2d

It is determind by the Peripatetick & other Philosophers of sound Judgement that the thing nourishing must be converted into the substance of the thing nourished & made like to it not before but after it has receivd an alteracon & this is admitted as an undoubted axiom. For how should the thing nourishing supposing it before hand to be like to, or the same wth the thing nourished have need of any change in its essence wch if it should happen would hinder it from remaining the same or alike For how should verted into a like substance wth the thing nourish as wood stones &c. As therefore the first is vain to t second is contrary to Nature But for an infant ne born to be nourishd wth the milk of Animals is a thing not repugnant to Nature, for milk will become of ~~the~~ like substance wth it, but more easily if it be suck'd from the Mother then any other Creature Wherefore Physicians conclude that it conduces to the health & strength of an infant as likewise to the conformity of temper & manners if its is always fed & nourishd by the milk of its own mother & that the contrary happens if it is done by that of a Stranger. This is the Universall Harmony of Nature, That Like delights in its Like & as far as it can possibly follows its footsteps in every thing by a certain tacit consent & agreemt. The same thing happens of course in the Naturall work of the Philosophers wch is equally governd by Nature in its Formation as an Infant in its Mothers womb. And altho as Father Mother & even a Nurse be ascribd to it by way of Similitude, yet it is not more Artificiall then the generation of every Animal Two seeds are by a pleasurable Artifice joind together by Animals & both the Human sexes wch being united by successive Alteration produce an Embryo wch grows & is increasd, acquires life & motion & then is nourishd by Milk But it is necessary for a Woman in the time of Conception & impregnation to be very temperate in heat. Food, drink, Motion, Rest & all things else otherwise Abortion will follow & destruction of the conceivd Embryo, wch Observation in the six non-naturalls because it is prescribed by the Physicians according ~~to~~ their Art is also Artificiall. After the same manner if the seeds be not joind together in the Philosophicall work, they ought to be joind; but if they could any where be found joind together as the seed of a Cock & Hen do subsist together & are contained in one Egge then would the Philosophers work b: mon naturall then the generation of Animals. But let us grant (as the Philosophers do assert) that one comes from the East & the other from the West & are made one: what more is administred to 'em then mixture in their own Vessell Temperate Heat and Nutriment The vessell is indeed Artificiall but in this there is no more difference then if the nest were made by the Hen her self or made for her the Country in some convenient place as comonly it is. The Gen-rati of Eggs & Hatching of Chickens from them will be the same Heat is a Naturall thing whether it proceed from the Temperate Heat of Furnaces putrefaction of Dung from the Sun & Air from the Bowells of the mother or otherwise. Thus the Ægyptian from his Furnaces does by Art Administer a Naturall Heat for the Hatching of Eggs. The seeds of Silk worms & even Hens Eggs are said to have been Hatchd by ye warmth of a Virgins breasts. Art therefore & Nature do mutually join hands & officiate one for the other. neverthelesse Nature is always the mistresse & Art the Handmaid But a doubt may raisd how the Earth may be said to be the NURSE of the Philosophicall Infant seeing it is the Element wch is most dry & void of Juice, insomuch that Dryenesse appertains to it as its proper quality. It may be answerd that Earth Elemented is to be understood & not the Element of Earth, whose Nature we have fully explaind in the first day of our Philosophick week. This Earth is the Nurse of Cœlum or Heaven not by opening washing or moistening the Infant but by coagulating fixing colouring & converting it into mere Juice & Blood For Nutrition implyes an Augmentation in length breadth & Depth wch extends it self thro all the Dimensions of a Body & seeing this can be afforded & administred to the Philosophicall Infant by Earth onely. it can in no wise be improper to call the Earth by the name of his NURSE But this admirable Juice of Earth has a quality different from other kinds of Milk wch are converted & do not convert. for this by reason of its most efficacious Virtue does mightily alter the Nature of the thing Nourished as the Milk of the Wolf is beleivd to have disposed the Body of Romulus to a Nature that was Magnanimous & propens to War

Emblem 3d. Goe to the woman washing Cloths & doe after the same Manner

When Linnen Cloths are soild & made dirty by earthy Filth they are cleans'd by the next Element to it namely water & these cloths being expos'd to the Air the moisture together wth the Faecis is drawn out by the heat of the Sun as by fire wch is the fourth Element & if this be often repeated they become clean & free from stains This is the work of women wch is taught them by nature. For we see (as Isaac remarks) that the Bones of Beasts if they are often wet wth Rain & as often dryed by the heat of the Sun will be reduc'd to a perfect whitenesse. The same is to be observ'd in the Philosophick Subject for whatever ffaecis or Crudities are in it will be purged & taken away by the infusion of its proper Waters & the whole body will be brought to a great perfection & clearnesse. For all Chemicall preparacons as Calcinacon, Sublimacon Solucon Distillacon Descension coagulacon Fixacon & the rest are performd by washing onely. For whoever washes a thing unclean wth waters does the same thing as He that runs through all these Operacons. For as the Rosary of the Philosophers saith the Linnen Cloths of Prince Duenech being soild by sweat are to be washt by fire & burnt by Waters so that fire & water seem to have interchang'd their mutuall Qualities or else the Philosophick fire is not to be suppos'd of the same kind wth the common fire & the same ~~thing~~ is to be said of the Philosophick Water. As for Calx viva or Quick lime & Ignis Graecus we know that they are kindled by water & cannot be extinguishd by it contrary to the Nature of other things that will take fire. so it is affirmd that Camphire once kindled will burn in water And Anselm de Bood says that the Stone Gagates being set on fire is more easily quenched by Oyle then Water for Oyle will mingle wth it and choak the fiery body whereas water not being able to mix [illegible] its flaming to the fire unlesse it totally covers & overwhelms it wch it cannot easily do, because although it be a Stone it swims upon the top of the water like Oyle. so Naphtha Petreolum & the like are not easily quenchd by Water. Some write that there are Subterraneam Coals in ye Country of Liege wch taking fire under the earth cannot be extinguishd by waters but by Earth thrown in upon them Cornelius Tacitus mentions such a sort of fire wch cannot be quenchd but by Clubs & Cloaths taken from the Body & thrown upon it There is therefore great diversity in fires both in their being kindled & extinguishd. & there is no lesse in Liquors for Milk Vinegar Spirit of Wine aqua fortis aqua Regia and Common water differ very much when they ar thrown upon fire, sometimes the matter it self will endur fire as those fine Linnen Cloaths wch were of great Esteem among the Antients & were cleansd by fire their dirt being burnt away What is said of the Hairs of a Salamander that they will make the wiek of a Lamp that shall be incombustible is not to be credited But ther ar persons who really affirm that there was a contexture prepard from Talc Plumous Alume & other materialls by a Cunning woman of Antwerp wch she usd to cleanse by fire. but that she out of envy sufferd that art to dye wth Her & the Temperament could never be found out afterwards We do not speak here of combustible matter. The Philosophicall Subject whenever it is prepard must be considerd under all these differences for their fire water & Matter itself is not Common But their fire is water & their water is fire. Their water at the same time washes & calcines & so does their fire. & their Cloaths wch must be washt have the same nature wth the fine Linnen befor mentiond or Talc prepard but the Tempering of it & the Art in its preparacon is not known to every one. For the washing of this Linnen a Lye must be made not of Oak ashes or their Salt but from Metalls wch is more durable then any other. and it must not be Common water but water Congeald into Ice & Snow under the sign Aquarius for this has finer Particles then the standing waters of fenns & Marshes & consequently can better penetrate into the Recesses of the Philosophick Body to wash and purge it from filth & Blacknesse

Emblem 4th Join the Brother & the Sister & drink to'em in the Bowle of Love

Discourse 4th

Divine & Human Lawes prohibit those Persons to intermary who are joind by Nature in too near degrees of Blood wheth: in a Line ascending descending or collaterall & that for very just reasons But when Philosophers speak of the Marriage of a Mother wth her Son a Father wth his Daughter or a Brother wth his Sister they neither speak nor act against the Laws before mentioned Because the Subjects distinguish the Attributes & the Cause the Effects For the Persons of whom the Philosophers speak are as much at liberty as the Sons & Daughters of Adam who intermarried without the Imputation of any Crime The cheifest reason seems to be that Human Race might be more strictly United & associated by affinity & freindship & not be divided by enmities & Hereditary Factions of ffamilies So nothing hinderd the Sons & Daughters of Adam thô Brothers & Sisters to be joind in marriage for mankind did exist in them alone & their Parents & therefore although they were allyed in blood yet were they to be joind in affinitye But the number of men increasing & being distributed into innumerable Familyes the true & just Cause was found why Brothers & Sisters should not marry. The Philosophi: have a different reason why the Brother should marry the Sister wch is the Similitude of their Substance that Like may be joind to its Like Of this kind there are two wch are alike in Specie but different in Sex One of wch is Calld the Brother the other the Sister These therefore being in ye sam liberty & Condicon as the first kindred of men are Lawfully 56 57 indeed & by an inevitable necessity to be joind together in Matrimony The Brother is hot & dry & therefore very Cholerick The Sister is cold & moist haveing much Phlegmatick matte in her wch two Natures so different in their Tempers agree best in fruitfullnesse Love & propagacon of Children. For as Fire will not easily be struck out of the hardest Bodys Steel & Steel nor out of those brittle Bodyes Flint and Flint but from the hard & brittle that is Steel & Flint so neither from a burning male & Fiery female nor from both of'em being cold (for cold is the unfruitfulnesse of the Male) can a living offspring be produced but he must be hot & the more cold then He for in Human Temperamt the hottest woman is colder then the coldest man supposeing him to be in health as Levinus Lemnius in his book of the hidden miracles of Nature affirms The Sister therefore & Brother are rightly joind by the Philosophers. If a man desire offspring from a Hen bitch or Ewe or other animal He joins it to a Cock Dog or Ram, every animal to that species to wch it is most like & so he obtains his End For he does not regard the Consanguinity of these Brutes but ye generosity of each & agreemt of their Natures The same may be said of the body of a Tree & the slip that is to be ingrafted into it So the metallick Nature wch above all things hay a likeness or Homogeneity of Substance desires its like when any thing is to be joind to it But the Brother & Sister being married will not be fruitfull or long persist in their Love unless a Philothesium or Cup of Love be drunk to'em as a Philtre For by this their minds being composed & united ye become drunk & (like Lot) all shame being banishd they are joind & produce an offspring that is spurious but Legitimate. Who can be ignorant that mankind is very much obligd to medicine & that there thousands of persons in the world who had not existed unlesse their Parents had been freed from Barrennesse either by removeing the Cause or taking away the impediment either near or remote and preserveing the Mother from Abortion Therefore the Cup of Love is given to the new married Pair for these reasons which are three the Constancy of Love the Removall of Barrennesse & the Hindrance of Abortion

Emblem 5th Put a Toad to the womans breast that she may suckle him till she dye & he become grosse wth her milk.

Discourse 5th

The whole body of Philosophers agree in this that their work is nothing else but male & female the mans part is to generate & govern the wife & Her part is to conceive impregnat; bring forth suckle & educate the offspring & be subject to the Comands of her Husband. For as she nourishes the conceived Embryo before it is brought forth wth her blood so she does afterwards wth her milk. Hence Nature has prepard for the tender Infant a Digestible & well propor:tiond Nutrimt. in the mothers Breasts wch waits for his coming as his first provision & sustenance in his Course of Life. By milk therefore He is nourished grows & is increased till he be furnishd wth teeth his fit instrumts to eat bread withall then He is properly weand because Nature has provided him more solid food. But here the Philosophers say that a Toad must be put to the womans breasts that she may Nourish him as an Infant wth her milk. This is a miserable & horrid spectacle & indeed an impious thing that milk designd for an infant should be given to a Toad being a Venemous beast & con:trary to the Nature of man We have heard & read of Serpents and Dragons suckings the Teats of Cows & Toads perhaps might do the like if they could gain an opportunity There is a noted story of a Toad that fixd himself upon the mouth & outside of the lips of a Country man that was asleep & could not be removd by any con:trivance unlesse by Violence wch could not be attemted without the hazard of the mans life for he would then have spit his poison wch he uses as his offensive & defensive weapon A Remedy was found for this [illegible]erable man from that [illegible] the Spider beats the Toad for they hate one the other mortally He was carried to the place where an overgrown Spider had made his web who as of 58 soon as he saw the Toad he let himself down upon his Back & prickd him wth his sting but this doeing no hurt the Spider came down the second time & struck him more violently upon wch the Toad im:mediately swelld & fell dead from the mans mouth without any harm to him But here the contrary happens because the Toad does not seize the mouth but the Breast of the woman by whose milk he increases so much that he becomes of an extraordinary strength & bignesse, but the woman having her spirits exhausted consumes & dyes for poison is easily comunicated to the Heart by ye pectorall Veins & infects & destroys it as it is evident in Cleopatra who ap:plyd Vipers to her breasts that by a Voluntary death she might prevent her coming into the hands of her enemies & being led in Triumph by them But least any man should think the Philo:sophers so cruell as to fasten a Venemous reptile to a womans breast it must be known that this Toad is the offspring or son of this wo:man brought forth by a monstrous birth & therefore by naturall Right must be fed wth his Mothers milk & that it is not the sons desire that his mother should dye for he could not infect his mo:ther seeing he was formd in her Bowels & nourishd wth her blood till the time of his birth It is indeed a thing ominous for a Toad to be born of woman wch in our knowledge hath happend otherwise William of Newbery an English writer saith (how truly let others judge) that in a certain Quarry in the Diocese of Winchest: a great stone being split, there was a living Toad found in it wth a golden Chain & it was by the Bishops comand hidden in the same place & buried in perpetuall darknesse least it might bear an ill omen, wth it, such also is this Toad for it is embellishd with althô not outwardly with an artificiall chain but inwardly wth naturall gold to wit that of the Stone wch some call Borax Chelonitis Batrachites Crapaudina & Garatonium for this far excells gold in Virtue against the poyson of all animals & is comonly set in gold as a case or cover that it may not be hurt or lost, Regularly it ought to be had out of an Animal But if the Stone be taken out of subterraneous Caverns as it is comonly, it may be neatly con:trivd in that shape & usd instead of it, being chosen from ye best minerals & most relevant to the Heart. for in these the Philoso:phicall Toad is reall found not in the Quarry (as yt fabulous author asserts) & has gold in it self thô its pomp does not outwardly appear. For to what end should a Toad adorn himself seeing he lurks in darknesse & secret places. Perhaps there he might be very magnificently accosted by the Beetle if by chance he should meet him in the Twilight. What subterranean Goldsmith

Theophilus in turba makes mention of a Dragon ioind to a woman should make him that golden cham[illegible] [illegible]haps as [illegible] the Greenchildren that came out of the Land of St Martin or rather from the Earth it selt as the two Dogs came out of a Quarry according to the same Author

Plato says Discourse 6th

Plato says that a City does not consist of a Physician & a Physician but of a Physician & a Husbandman that is of men of divers Crafts & Professions & he mentions these two more especially because their Labours are most visible in the Imitaion Improvemt. & Perfeciton of Nature For they both take a Naturall Subject to wch according to their Art they either add somthing that is necessarily wanting or remove those things wch are superfluous. So that both their Arts may (as mediume is by Hippocrates) be defin'd to be the addition of what is wanting or Substraction of Superfluity For the Husbandman does no more then add ploughing furrowing Harrowing. dunging or manuring & lastly sowing to the Land that is left in its originall State But as for the increase & product of it he leaves that to Nature wch administers Rain to it & the Heat of the Sun & by these two multiplies the seeds & improves them into standing Corn fit for reaping whilst the blade is growing he weeds out the thistles & throws out all othr impedimts He reaps the Corn when it's ripe & cleanses it when reap'd from its Straw & Chaft. So the Physician (likewise the Chemist in a different respect) administers preventing Physick to the Patient as well as Restorative removes the Cause Cures the malady asswages symptoms takes away superflous blood by opening a Vein & if low restores it by a Regulaton of Diet evacuates ill humors by purging & so by a thousand methods imitates, supplies & corrects Nature wth the operacons of Art & Understanding Our present Consideratons are not concerning these things wch are comonly known but of matters merely Chemicall For Chemistry shews its Affinity to Husbandry even in its secret Terms & courses of Operacon.

The Husbandmen have their Earth into wch they sow their seed & so have the Chemists They have their Dung wth wch they enrich their ground so have these without wch nothing can be accomplish'd nor any fruit expected. They have seed from wch they hope for an increase & unlesse the Chemists had so too they would be like a Painter (as Lully says) endeavouring to £ 59 draw the face of a Man of whom he had never seen so much as the least resemblance The Countryman expects Rain & Sunshine & so indeed the Chemists must supply their work wth such & Heat & Rain as is proper & convenient What need of many words? Chemistry runs intirely Parallel wth Agriculture is its Deputy & represents it in all things but under a most compleat Allegory. From hence the Ancients produc'd their Ceres Triptolemus Osyris Dionysius Golden Gods or such as had Relaton to Chemistry but at the same time represented 'em as teaching mortalls to cast their seed into the Earth & showing them Husbandry & the planting & Cultivacon of Vines & the use of wine all wch things the Ignorant falsely applied to their Country Employmt. For these abstruse mysteries of Nature under these Veils are at the same time explaind to the Wise whilst they are conceal'd from the Vulgar Hence the Philosophers affirm it is to be sowed in white foliated Earth as if they would have said That the sowing of wheat must be look'd upon as an example & consequently imitated which the Authr of Tractatus de tritico & Jodocus Greverus have most excellently perform'd in in their Descriptions for they have very elegantly adapted each Operacon of Husbandry in the production of Corn to the Seminacon of Gold & the generacion of the Tincture. White earth as being sandy yeilds little fruit to the Countryman who esteem that wch is black as being fattest But the other is of most Value to the Philosophrs if it be foliated that is well prepar'd for they know how to improve it wth their Dung wch the othr do not For seminacon is the propagacon of the world by wch Care is taken that what cannot last in ye individuall may be contin'd in the species This is in men Animals & Plants in the first Hermaphroditically in the two last under different sexes, but in Metalls it is far otherwise for in them a Line is made from ye flux of a Point a Superficies from the flux of a Line a body from the flux of a Superficies But the Starrs produce that point before eithr the line the superficies or the Body Because it is the Principle of them all. Nature added the flux a long time afterwards, yt is ye Celestiall Phebus generated a Son underneath the earth wch Mercury comitted to Vulcan to be Educated & to Chiron that is to manuall operaton to be instructed as it is reported of Achilles that he was detem'd & Harden'd in Fires by his Mother Thetis Among other things He learn't Musick & the Art of playing on the Harp from his Mastr Chiron. Achilles is nothing else but the Philosophick subject whose son is Pyrrhus wth red Hair without wch two Troy could not be subdued as we have demonstrated in the sixth Book of our Hieroglyphicks

That wch Hippocrates the standard of all Physick affirms concerning Humors that they are different & many in the Body of man & not one onely, otherwise Various disease would not arise in found by us to be true likewise in the Elements of the world For if there was but one Element there could be no change of that into another no generacon nor corruption would happen but all would be one imutable thing & no meteors mineralls plants or animals could be naturally produced from it Therefore the supreme creator compos'd the whole system of this ~~whole~~ world of divers & contrary natures namely of Light & heavy hot & cold moist & dry, that one might by affinity passe into the other & so a composition be made of bodyes wch should be very different one from another in Generes Qualitys, Virtues & effects. For in things perfectly mixt are the light Elements as Fire & Air & likewise the Heavy as Earth & water wch are to be poisd and temperd together that one flys not from the other But the neighbouring Elements easily suffer themselves to be takin & detaind by their Neighbours. Earth & Air are contrary one to the other & so are Fire & water & yet fire ~~wth Air~~ maintains freindship wth Air by heat comon to both & does so wth Earth by reason of siccity & so Air wth water & water wth Earth ~~[illegible]~~ By wch means they are joind in bonds of Affinity or rather consanguinity & remain together in one composition, wch if it abound wth the light Elements elevates the Heavy wth it. if wth the heavy it presses down the light This is illustrated by two Eagles one wth wings the other without, the first of wch endeavouring to fly is restraind by the second There is a plain Example of this Matter in the fight between the Falcon & Heron, for the Falcon soaring higher in the Air by his speedy Flying & swift wings takes & tears ye Heron wth his Talons by whose weight both fall to the ground The contrary appeard in the Artificiall Dove wch was an Automa or self moving piece of Workmanship made by

by Archytas when heavy things were caried upwards by light, tho its wooden body was lifted into the Air by the Spirit yt was inclosd within it. In the Philosophicall Subject the light things are first predominant over the Heavy as to their quantity but they are 59/60 overcome by Virtue of the heavy & in processe of time the Eagles wings are cut of & one very great Bird (namely an Ostrich) is made of two wch Bird can consume Iron & being hindred by its own weight seems rather to run upon the Earth then fly in the Air altho it has goodly wings Concerning this or one like it Hermes (as the Author of Aurora chap: 5th affirms) writes thus I have considerd a Bird Venerable to the Wise wch flyes when it is in Aries Cancer Libra or Capricorn & You will acquire it perpetuall to yor selt out of mere mineralls & Rocks of Mounteinous places. Senior in Tabula relates to the same thing where two birds are seen one flying the other without wings whereof the one holds the others Taile by its beak that ye cannot easily be seperated. For this is the machinacon or devise of universall Nature always to raise heavy things by light & to depress light ones by heavy as the Author of the perfectum Magisterio declares who constitutes seven minerall Spirits as it were erratick or wandring Starrs & so many metallick bodies & Fixd Starrs and enjoyns these to be married to the others And thence Aristotle the Chemist says, The Spirit having dissolvd the Body & Soul so that they may exist in their form does not remain unlesse You Occupate it, now this Occupation is that You join it wth the Body from whence you prepard it in the beginning. Because in that the Spirit at the superexistence of the Body is Occupated from flight In Camphire as Bonus observs, the light Elements that is Air & Fire prevail over the Heavy & therefor it is said wholly to exhale & evaporate into Air. In Argent Vive the Flowers of Sulphur Antimony the salt of Harts blood Sal Armoniack and such other things the Earth flyes wth the Alembeck & is not seperated from it. In Gold, Glasse Diamonds the Stone Smiris Granates & the like the Elements remain joind a long time notwithstanding the Fire without any detriment For the Earth retains the other Elements wth itself In other Combustibles a seperacon or division of one from ~~the~~ another is effected so that the Ashes are left in the Bottom & the water Air & Fire fly upwards We must not therefore have respect to the unequall Composition of these last being not so strongly mixd nor ~~to~~ the Commixture of the first wch is more durable though composd of Volatiles. But to the solidity Constancy & Fixity of the middle ones: for so the Bird without wings will detain that wch hath and the Fixed substance will Fix the Volatile, wch is the thing that of necessity must be Effected

Emblem 8th Take an Egge & smite it wth a fiery sword

There are many & divers kinds of Birds whose number is uncertain & their Names unknown to Us Story tells us of a very great Bird nam'd Ruc, that appears at certain seasons of the Year in a small Island of the Ocean wch can bear an Elephant up wth it into the Air India & America send us Crows & Parrots of divers Colours. But it is not the Philosophicall intention to enquire after the Eggs of these birds The Egyptians yearly persecute the Crocodiles Eggs wth weapons of Iron & destroy them. The Philosophers do indeed smite their Egge wth ffire but it is not their intent to mortifie it but that it may live & grow up For seeing that an animated & living chicken is thence produced it cannot be said to be Corruption but generacon. It ceases to be an Egg by the privacon of the Ovall form & begins to be a two footed & volatile Animal by the introduction of a more noble Form, for in the Egge are the seeds of both male & female joind together under one shell or Cover. The Yolk constitutes the Chicken wth its radicall parts & Bowells, the seed of the Male forming it & becomeing the internall Efficient whereas The white

The externall heat is the first mover wch by a certain Circulation of the Elements & change of one into the other introduces a new form: by the instinct & guidance of Nature For Water passes into Air, Air into ffire ffire into Earth, wch being joind together & a specifick being transmitted by the Starrs an individuall Bird is made of that kind whose Egg it was & whose seed was infused into it This is said to be smitten with a fiery sword when Vulcan performing the office of a Midwife as he did to Pallas comeing from the brain of Jupiter does by his ax make a passage for the new born Chicken This is what Basil Valentine affirms that Mercury was imprisond by Vulcan at the command of Mars & could not be releasd before he was wholly putrified & dead But this death is ~~the~~ him the beginning of a new life as the Corruption or death of the Egge brings new generacon & life to the Chicken So an Embryo being freed from that human Vegetable life wch alone it enjoyd in the Mother Womb obtains another more perfect one by his birth & comeing into the light of this world, so when we shall passe from this present life there remains for us another that is most perfect & eternall. Lully in many places calls this fiery sword a sharp Launce, because ffire as a Launce or sharp sword perforates bodies & makes them porous & pervious so that they may be penetrated by waters & be dissolvd & being reduc'd from hardnesse become soft & Tractable. In the stomach of a Cormorant wch is the most voracious of all Birds there are found long & round worms wch serve it as the instruments of Heat & as we have sometimes observd seize upon those Eels & other fish wch she has swallowd & pierce them like sharp needles & so consume them in a short time by a wonderfull operacon of Nature. As therefore Heat pierces so that wch pierces will somtimes supply the absence of Heat. Upon wch Consideracon that wherewth ye Philosophrs Egge ought to be smitten may not undeservedly be calld a fiery sword. But the Philosophrs had rathr have it understood of a Temperate Heat whereby the Egge is cherishd as Morfoleus in Turba declares It is necessary wiseman moisture be burnt up wth a slow fire as is shewd us in the Example of the generacon of a Chicken & where the fire is increasd the Vessell must be stopd on all sides that the body of the Æs or brasse & the fugitive spirit of it may not be extracted But what Birds egge must it be? Moschus tells us in the same place. Now I say that no instrumts are made except of our white starry splendid powder & of ye white Stone, of wch powder are made fit instrumts for the Egge. But they have not nam'd the Egge nor what Birds Egge it must be

Emblem 9th Shut up the Tree wth the old man in a House of Dew & eating of the fruit thereof He will become Young

Discourse 9th

All things that grow in length breadth & Depth that is are Born nourishd augmented brought to maturity & propagated, ye same things likewise decrease that is have their strength diminishd dye fall away as we see in all Vegetables & Animals Wherefor man also when he arrives att full growth admitts of decay wch is the same thing as old age whereby his strength is sensibly diminish'd till he dye For the cause of old Age is the same wth that of a Lamp that burns dim for want of Oyle for as there are three things in ~~the~~ a Lamp the wieck fatnesse & flame so in a man the wieck is the vitall members the Bowells & Limbs. The fatnesse is the radicall moisture the Flame is the Naturall Heat the only difference is, the flame of a Lamp shines bright But the naturall heat does not it not being fire but only Heat & whereas that fatnesse is oily, the Radicall moisture is viscous being of a seminall principle As therefore a Lamp is extinguish'd for want of oyl so man by old age without any other disease falls into a marasm: & aged consumption & lastly into his grave It is reported of the Eagle that when he grows old his beak becomes so crooked that he would dye wth Hunger unlesse he could cast it So Harts seem to grow Young again by throwing of their Horns serpents their skins & Crabs their shells not the really do so for their radicall moisture is not restor'd to 'em only in appearance There is nothing that can restore Youth to man but death it self wch is the beginning of Eternall life that follows it However there are some that say as to his externall Form & the restoreing of his strength in some measure together wth the taking away of wrinkles & changing of grey Hairs a proper remedy may be found out as Lully affirms of his Quintessence & Arnold of prepar'd Gold. But here the Philosophers say that if the old man would become Young he must be shut up in a House of Dew & then he will eat of the fruit of the Tree & so recover Youth It is scarce beleiv'd by the Vulgar that such Trees can be in Nature The Physicians write wonders of Myrobolans the Fruit of a certain Tree that ye restore grey Hairs to blacknesse purify the blood & prolong life. But this is scarce credited. Marsilius Ficinus in his book of preserving the health of Students recomends the sucking the milk of a beautifull Young woman others recomend the eating Vipers flesh but these remedies are more troublesome then Old Age it self & could not be obtain'd by one in a Thousand altho' their Effect should be certain. Paracelsus in his book of Long life says a sick man may attract to himself the Health of another by imagination only & so an Old man may gather youth But in this he seems rather to be guided by his fancy then experience It is certain that the people call'd Psilli with their double eyeballs & witches by their very aspect bewitch Cattle & Children According to that of Virgil. Nescio quis teneros oculus mihi fascinat agnos These things are done without contact But as for the Tree wch is to restore the old man the Fruit of it is sweet, red & full ripe turning into the best blood as being

[illegible] digestion & afording the best Nutriment leaving [illegible] the body that is feculent or superfluous But the old man abounds wth white Phlegm has white Hair & Complexion wch Flem: Colour & Hair are chang'd into that Red wch appears in Youth & Vigor 62 Therefore the Philosophers say their Stone is first an Old man that is white & then a Young man wch is Red And they say further that the Old man must be plac'd together wth the Tree not in the open air but in a House & that not dry but moist wth Dew It may seem strange that Trees should spring & grow in a close place but if it be moist there is no doubt of their continuance For the Nutriment of a Tree is moisture & Airy Earth that is fat wch can ascend into the body & Boughs & there produce leaves blossoms & fruit In wch Naturall work there is the concurrence of all the Elements. Fire gives the first motion as the Efficient, Air gives tenuity & penetrability Water Lubricity & Earth Coagulation, For when any of their superfluities ascend Air turns into Water & water into Earth By fire I understand the native Heat wch being propagated wth the seed does by the Power of the Starrs as if it were a Smith forge out & form such fruits as are like to those things from whence the seed ariseth But a Dewy Evaporation is not only Expedient to moisten the Tree so as to make it yeild fruit but likewise the old man that he may the more easily be made Young again by that fruit, for the Dewy Vapour will mollifye fill up & restore his dry & wrinkled skin wth temperate heat & moisture Wherefore Physicians very rationally & wth good successe prescribe warm Baths for the marasme or Consumption of Old Age But if the thing be well consider'd that Tree is the Daughter of the Old man wch as Daphne is chang'd into a Vegetable of the like sort & therfore the Old man may not unjustly expect Youth from it seeing He himself was the cause of her being

If this saying be taken litterally it onely increaseth the quantity of Fire & Mercury but introduceth no new quality into the subject For every like addeth to its like makes it become more like. Hence Physians affirm that contraries are heald & removd by contraries so we see Fire is extinguishd by water but fomented by ye addicon of Fire so the Poet says. Venus in wine is fire in Fire does rage. But it may be answerd that Fire differs very much from Fire & Mercury from Mercury for there are severall sorts of Fire & mercury amongst the Philosophers. Moreover the same heat & cold being distant only in place & situacon differs from another of its own kind so as to attract to itt that wch is like to itself so we see that Heat fixed in any part is drawn forth by the same Heat Limbs benummd & almost dead wth Frost & cold water will be restord by putting them into cold Water rather then by ye aplicacon of externall heat For as the greater Light obscures the lesse so also greater heat or cold has power over the lesse so it is necessary that the Cold or heat that is outwardly applyed should be lesse then that wch was before imprinted or fixd in the joints otherwise the same impression would be made as before & the like would rather be much more increased then drawn forth by the like. This drawing out of cold by cold water & of fiery heat by heat is agreeable to Nature for all suddain changes in contraries are dangerous & less acceptable to it. but that wch comes by degrees can more easily endured So we say there is ~~more~~ one internall Fire wch is essentially infixed in the Philosophicall subject & another externall The same may likewise be said of Mercury The internall Fire is Equivocally so cold because of its fiery qualities virtue & operacon, but the Externall Fire is Univocally so Therefore Externall Fire & Mercury must be given to the internall Fire & Mercury that so the intention of the Work may be compleated For in boyling we use Fire & water to Mollifie & mature any thing that has crudities & hardness For water penetrates into & dissolves the parts contracted whilst the heat adds strenght & motion to it This we see in the comon coction of Pulse wch being in hard in themselves yet well are broken and reduc'd to a pulp in Water the heat of the fire rarifieing the Water by ebullition & reduceing to almost an aeriall substance so the heat of fire resolves the crude parts of fruit or flesh into water & makes them vanish into Air together wth it. After the same manner Fire & Mercury here are Fire & Water & the same Fire & Mercury are the Mature & Crude parts of wch the crude are to be matured by Coction or the mature to be purged from superfluities by the assistance of Water. But we shall in short demonstrate that these two fires & these two Mercurys are principally & solely necessary to the compleating the Art Empedocles was of opinion that the Principles of all things were 63 Friendship & Discord That corruptions were made by Variance and generations by Love This Discord is manifestly apparent in Fire & Water. Fire making water evaporate & water extinguishing fire when applyd to it But it is likewise plain that generacons will proceed from these same things by a certain friendship. For by heat is made new generacon of Air & by the same Heat ye induracon of Water into the Stone is performd & so from these two as the first Elements are made the other two & consequently from these the production of all things. Water was the matter of Heaven & all Corporeall things Fire as the form moves & informs this matter so this Water or Mercury yields the matter & fire or Sulphur the Form. That These two may operate & mutually move themselves by solucon Coagulacon Alteracon Tinction & perfection there will be a Necessity of Externall Helps as instruments without wch no effect can follow for as a Smith cannot Work without Hammer & fire so neither can the Philosopher without his instruments wch are Water & Fire This water is by some calld the water of Clouds as this Fire is called occasiond Fire It is without doubt calld the water of Clouds because it is distilld as May Dew & consist of most thinn parts, For as it is affirmd that May Dew being inclosd in the shell of an Egge will raise it up by the Heat of the Sun So this water of the Clouds or Dew makes the Philosophicall Egg ascend that is sublimes exalts & perfects it The same water is also most sharp Vinegar wch makes the body a mere spirit. For as Vinegar has different qualities & can penetrate to the bottom & bind so this Water dissolves & coagulates but is not coagulated because it is not of a proper subject The water is had from the Fountain of Parnassus wch contrary to the nature of other fountains is upon the Top of the Hill made the Hoof of the flying Horse Pegasus. There must also be actuall Fire wch notwithstanding must be governd & qualified by its degrees as wth Bridles For as the Sun proceeding from Aries into Leo & so approaching nearer gradually increaseth heat to things growing, so it is here necessary to be done for the Philosophicall infant must be nourishd by Fire as wth Milk & the more plentifull that is the more he grows

Emblem 11th. Whiten Latona & tear yr books

There are so great differences amongst Authors that such persons as search after Truth despair of finding any End of this Art. For Allegoricall discourses being in themselves hard to be understood are the Cause of many Errours especially if the same words are applied to different things & different words to the same things Whoever would free himself from these difficulties must either have a divine Genius to perceive Truth thrô much darknesse or he must have inexhausted wealth & patience to experiment what is True & what is not But according to the Philosophers one will not doe without the other, ingenuity will do nothing without Labor so on the contrary For no man can have understanding enough to avoid a hundred thousand Errors Obscurities digressions Ambiguities &c yet still persist in the true path of Nature Wherefore the Philosophers say he that hath not yet Erred hath not yet begun & that Errours teach us what to doe & what not And they likewise affirm that a man may spend his whole life thô if it were possible he should live a thousand years in distilling & redistilling before he could attein to truth by experiments onely The Corrector of Fools intimates that no progresse can be made without study & reading of Authours for he says study removes ignorance & brings human understanding to the True knowledge of Every thing It is therefore necessary in this work to quicken the ingenuity by naturall Philosophy the knowledge of Truth being conteind in it, Let not therefore operators despise Study But as for those who are averse to it yet willing to operate let them take care that their Art be the Imitacon of Nature it self, wch Art desires to amend because it is impossible for Her to prepare the Philosophicall secrets to a perfect End. The wise say of these men that they run to practice as an Asse to Hay not knowing what he puts his nose to led to his food by his sight & Tast those exterior senses without any understanding And so far goes this Author But least a man should vex himself wth overmuch Study wch is an imense & profound sea & would bring every word (wch perhaps may relate to quite another thing) into practice thereby wasting & consuming his strength time reputacon & Riches The Philosophers use this

[illegible] speech that Latona must be [illegible] must be torn Least their Hearts be broken for most books are so obscurely written that they can only be understood by their Authors severall of them are left out of Envy to seduce others or rather to retard them in their Course that they may not attein to their end without difficulty or to obscure those things wch they themselves had written before But the cheif work & labor is how to whiten Latona The book called Clangor Buccinæ defines Latona to be an Imperfect Body of Sol & Luna The most Ancient Poets & Writers affirm Latona to be the Mother of Apollo & Diana others call her their Nurse & that Diana was first brought forth (for Luna & whitenesse do first appear) who afterwards but the same day performd the Office of a Midwife in bringing forth Apollo her brother For Latona was one of the twelve Hieroglyphicall Gods of the Egyptians by whom these & other Allegorys were propagated among other Nations. Very few even of their Egyptian Preists knew the true 1:n: & meaning of them, the remainder of the People applying them to other Subjects that were not in the Nature of things namely Gods Goddesses & the like. Wherefore Latona had the most sumptuous Temple next to Vulcan adornd wth gold because she was the mother of the Philosophicall Apollo & Diana. But this Latona is brown & blackish & hath many moles in her Face wch must be taken away by Dealbacon or blanching. Some make their dealbacons of Ceruss Sublimate Mercury Talc reduced to oyl & the like by wch they incrust, Cover & so would whiten ~~the~~ outside of the skin But the whitening incrustacons fall of by every wind or liquor because they do not penetrate ye inward parts & so deceiving only their eyes by their false Colours are not regarded by the Philosophers For they would have Latonas face made white by penetracon & the skin it self cleard that is truly & not superficially or by Fucus only. The question may be asked how it can be done I answer Latona must be first sought out & known wch thô she be drawn from a Vile place, yet she must be sublimd to a more worthy But if she be taken from a more worthy she is to be submersd into a place more Vile that is into Dung for there indeed it ~~become~~ grow white and become White lead wch being obteind their is not doubt of successe; or of Red lead wch is the beginning & end of the Work

Emblem 12. The Stone wch Saturn vomited up being devoured instead of his Son Jupiter is placd in Helicon as a Monument to Men.

We find ~~in~~ the Allegory of Saturn to be taken divers ways, for ye Astronomers repute him the Highest of the Planets & the Students of Chemistry the basest of metalls namely Lead, The Heathen Poets say he was the Father of Jupiter & Son of Cælum. The Mythologists explain him by the Notion of Time But tho all these may seem to have had a probable Opinion according to their own sense Yet they will never be able to explain those things wch are elsewhere spoken of Saturn As why should he devour his Sons & Vomit up a Stone instead of Jupiter why should be the ~~Inventor~~ Finder and or Discoverer of Truth, be remarkable for His Scythe, Serpent Blacknesse morosenesse & distorted Feet. The Mythologists think ye give the best Interpretacon when the say Time reveals & manifests Truth out of Darknesse That it rowles it self round & glides away like a Serpent That it cutts all things down wth Death as wth a Scythe That he devours his Sons, towitt all beings that He ever begot but that he cannot consum or digest hard Stones & therefore may be said to Vomit them up again These may in part have some resemblance but they do not agree in the Truth of the things in all its Circumstances But the Experienc'd Philosophers say that Saturn is first in their work & that if he be reall present they cannot Err For Truth is discover'd in darknesse But that nothing exists besides blacknesse Wherefore they say in Turba Philosophorū whatever Colour comes after blacknesse is praiseworthy because it is the beginning of the Work And the Rosary out of Arnoldus says when it first grows black we say it is the Key of the work because that can not be made without blacknesse. And out of ye Speculum. when You are working see that in the beginning You obtein a black Colour for then You will be certein that You cause putrefaction & proceed in ye right method And again That blacknesse is cold Earth wch is made by a light decoction so often reiterated till blacknesse be most Eminent Hence they say that Saturn possesses the Earth Mercury the Water Jupiter the Air, Sol the Fire Blacknesse therefore is Saturn the Discoverer of Truth who devours a Stone instead of Jupiter. For Blacknesse that is dark cloud covers the Stone at first that it cannot be seen Hence Morienes says each body that wants a Soul is dark & Obscure. And Hermes prescribes thus, Take his brain & wear or rub it with the sharpest Vinegar or Urine of Boys till it become dark This being perform'd he lives in putrefaction and dark clouds that were upon him & in his Body before he dyed are returned. This Stone is again cast up by Saturn when he becomes White & then He is plac'd upon the Top of Helicon for a Monument to mortalls as Hesiod writes for Whitenesse is really hid in blacknesse wch is extracted out of his belly wch is out of the Stomach of Saturn Therefore saith Democritus. Cleanse Tin wth a speciall absolution extract from it its blacknesse & obscurity & the whitenesse of it will appear And in Turba it is said join the Dry wth the moist that is the black earth wth its water & decoct it till it become white Arnold in his work call'd Novum Lumen chapt: 4th very well expresses the same 65
thing when he says That moisture therefore wch cur'd the blacknesse in the decoction shews it self to be dryed up when the white Colour begins to appear & a little after. And my Master said to me that Brunity or brownesse ascended because the whitenesse was drawn out of the Belly of the Blacknesse as is said in Turba For when you see it black know that whitenesse is hid in the belly of ye blacknesse first appearing This blacknesse as it is call'd Saturn so it is likewise call'd Lead. Hence Agadimon in Turba says Decoct the Æs or brasse till the blacknesse wch ye call mummy or money come forth & well mix the res or materialls of our Art & then You will presently find blacknesse wch is the Lead of the Philosophrs so much spoken of in their book Emigamus has relacon to this when he says that the Splendor of Saturn when he ascends into the Air appears no otherwise then Darkened & so Plato in the Rosary The first Regimen of Saturn is to putrefie & put it upon Sol. From all wch it is Evident that the sense of the Philosophrs when they speak of Saturn is quite different from the Vulgar acceptacon This Saturn generates Jupiter that is an obscure Whitenesse & Jupiter begets upon Latona first Diana that is is perfect Whitenesse & Apollo wch is Rednesse & this is the successive permutacon of perfect Colours This Stone cast up by Saturn is said to be plac'd upon the Top of a mountain as a monument for men wch is a thing most True

Discourse 13th to be seven wash't in a River as Naaman ye Leper was in Jordan

That Naaman the Syrian should at the Prophets comand take a journey into Judea to wash himself seven times in the River of Jordan is to be ascribed to the confidence he plac'd in the Prophets words. But yt he was freed from Leprosy by that Washing is a miracle of the Divine Omnipotence For the Leprosy wch being seated in the blood & radicall parts of mans body is as it were an universall Cancker, cannot be taken away or cured by any externall washing much lesse by that of cold water such as that of Jordan so likewise that the Philosophers Brasse labouring un the disease of a Dropsye should be freed from it by washings of Water & that even an imperfect thing should be made perfect & a sick thing healthy & that to so great a degree as to be able to impart its health to sick bodies must be next to a Miracle For such an Example is not Elswhere extant in Nature nor is it indeed the ordinary Course of Nature to produce the Philosophers most absolute Tincture unlesse it be governd by Art & fit subjects be administred to it wth the externall Efficient so the restitucon of luxacons or things dislocated or out of Joint is not peculiar to Nature but Art Neverthelesse the Os Sacrum opens itself miraculously in the birth of a Child that the Infant may come forth thereby as thro a door & in this the most great & mercifull god operates by Nature above Nature So that the stone should be perfected seems a thing supernaturall tho it really be Naturall From whence the Rosary You must know says He that our Airy & Volatile stone as to that wch is manifest & apparent is cold & moist but as to that wch is occult & hidden is hot & Dry And that coldnesse & moisture wch is manifest & is a watry fume corrupting blackening & destroying it self flys from & by the Fire But the Heat & drynesse wch is occult is Hot & dry gold & a most pure Oile able to penetrate in bodyes & is in no ways Fugitive Because the Heat & drynesse of Alchymy tingeth & no other thing whatever see therefore that the coldnesse & moisture wch is manifest be equall to the heat & drynesse wch is in the Occult so that they may both agree & be joind together being at once made one penetrating Tinging & Fixing Body But these moistures must be destroyd by Fire & degrees of Fire wth a soft Temperament & an agreeable & moderate Digestion & so far the Philosopher But if this be true how shall it be from Waters? But it may be answerd there are certain Waters of Hot & dry qualityes such as are many Baths in wch it must be Philosophicall washt For this is the meaning of what they say wash wth fire & burn wth water for that fire wch washes & that water wch burns differ in Name onely but agree in effect & operacon Therefore wth this water or this Fire the Philosophicall Os or Brasse must be washd from its superfluous Humor that is it must be dryd. We have known Experiments of Dropsicall bodyes curd by six months abstinence from all manner of Drink by burying them in Hot sand & Cow Dung, by putting into Hot Furnace & sweating innumerable other helps as likewise by drying Baths such as not far from Menk By the same methods must this patient be curd sometimes by water sometimes by the Hot Air of Furnaces now wth Cow dung then wth Sand & Abstinence from Drinking & these are the most Effectuall Remedyes in both Cases some at one time to be use & some at another But in all these things Heat is the Operator wch by the Emunctoryes or Pores of the Body draws out the superfluous waters For the outward heat quickens the inward that is the Vitall spirits that they may expell that moisture wch is hurtfull to them as an unprofitable excremt: by wch the Naturall Heat was before suppressed as by an Enemy. in this Cure there, of great diligence & precaution [illegible] whilst another may be hurt In a Quartan (wch according to the [illegible] try the skill of a Physician) we have experiencd that thick serosityes like the Gum of Glew of Trees being gatherd together from all ye Veins or Masse of blood do descend thro the Vena Cava or great Vein even to the bottom of the back where obstructing the emulgent Veins wch draw the serous matter out of the blood or the passages of them They are lesse able to operate & more of the serous matter remains in the Body & so in a short time if care be not taken a Dropsie may happen the other bowells being no way hurt at ye first. Diureticks do here little or no good Purgatives yet lesse unlesse Diminution or eduction be made in some certain series of time Sudorificks manifestly do harm because they draw out the more subtile parts & leave the thicker & if they are continued will weaken the body For Natures custom is to find that way of Evacuating ye serous matter thro the Pores when she is obstructed about the Bladder. One therefore is Scylla the other is Charibdis both wch he that hath a mind to preserve himself ought to avoid But that Dropsie wch proceeds from an impaird Liver or spleen is most difficult to be curd Now in the Philosophicall Brasse the Cure is not impossible the distemper being rather by Accident & secondary then Essentiall & primary provided it be undertaken cautiously as we have said concerning the plenty of serum in a Quartan to wit that it may not by too much exiccaton fall into a Consumption or by too much moisture into such a Dropsy as may be difficult to be Curd

Emblem 14th: This is the Dragon that devours his Tail. Discours. 14
It is the saying of ye Ancients that a serpent that has devourd a serpent becomes a Dragon for like a Theif or a Murderer it preys upon its own kind, there were such serpents in Africa of a Vast bignesse & in great Numbers wch devourd part of Alexanders Army the largest are bred among the Asachaans a people of Ethiopia wch being plated together after the manner of Hurdles doe

wch their heads erected make their way to [illegible] re:perted that the Kings of India nourishd two Dragons one of [illegible] the other of ninety Cubits in bignesse It is remarkd by ye observations of Later writers of these times that there are serpents found near Angola wch equall the main masts of ships so there is a report that in some mountains of India & Africa there is great store of gold but that it is kept by Dragons least any person should come & take it away For at the fountains of Rivulets wch fall from the mount the Dragons meet & so by Accident are said to keep watch over the gold inclosed in them For this reason do the Philosophers ascribe so many Dragons to their Treasurys, as to the golden Fleece the Garden of the Hesperides & to other persons or chemicall subjects As to Cadmus saturn Æsculapius Mercury whose Caduceus is bound wth two serpents a male & female For they mean nothing else by Dragons but Chemicall subjects. Hence they say. Dant Rebis montes Dracones, Terraq; fontes. Dragons to Rebis do give mountains and the earth does give him Fountains & they denote his extreme hunger by his devouring his Tayle, wch tho others may interpret of the Year returning into ~~itself~~ & resembling a Circle yet it was first applied to their work by the Philosophers who by this Dragon would have such a serpent understood as devours another of its own kind & wch is properly calld Sulphur as all of them Attest in innumerable places Lully in his Codicill chap. 31. This o my Son (saith he) is Sulphur & this the serpent & Dragon devouring his Tayle the roaring Lyon & sharp sword cutting mortifying & tearing all things And the Rosary says the Dragon dies not dye unlesse he be kills with his Brother & sister & a little after the Dragon is Argent vive extracted out of Bodies having in itself a body soul & spirit This in the same place by another Name is calld Fetid water wch is to be had after ye seperation of ye Elements Now the Dragon is said to devour his Tail when he consumes the Voluble Venomous & moist part so that afterwards being without a Tayl he may seem more corpulent & slower as if his Motion & Volubility had in a great measure consisted in his Tayle Other Animals relye upon their Feet but serpents Dragons & such like Vermine use the contriction & explication of their bodyes instead of feet & like Flowing water certain circles inclineing themselves somtimes this way sometimes that as may be seen in most Rivers wch run obliquely in Circuits & turn their courses like serpents The Philosophers therefore did not without reason call Argent vive by the Name of a serpent & give serpents to Mercury seeing that also does as it were draw its Tayl & run somtimes this way & somtimes another wth a Voluble weight or Poize For as a serpent moves so also does Mercury who therefore has Wings upon his feet & Head It is reported that in Africa there are flying serpents wch would depopulate all ~~things~~ places

if they were not destroyd by the Bird calld Ibis Wherefore Ibis is placed among the sacred Images of the Egyptians as well for the manifest good that it does to the whole Country as for a secret reason wch very few of them understood This Dragon having devourd his Tayl & cast his old skin is said to acquire a new one & youthfulnesse both together & that Nature has granted longer life not onely to Crows Ravens Eagles & Harts but likewise to the Race of serpents. The Ant when it grows old has wings so have many other Worms. Man growing old is put into the Earth but being revived from the Earth is consecrated to Eternall Life. There is a powder made of every serpent when it is burnt wch is safely taken against all poisons & that wth very good Effect. Such an Alexipharmacum ought also to be made of this Dragon when he hath devourd his Tayle (wch is likewise usually cut of in Vipers) & it will prove a most effectu:=all & present Remedy against the adversities of Body & Fortune

Emblem : 15th Let the work of ye Potter consisting in siccity & moisture Instruct You: Discourse. 15th

As this Orb is made into one Round Body by a Complication of Earth & water so likewise the Potters work seems to be compounded of the same par:=ticular Elements that is the Dry & the moist so that one may temper ye other for if the earth should be without water & no Ocean Sea Lake Rivers or fountain should be near it the earth could bring for nothing of it self but must perpetually remain unfruitfull. So if water should not be recivd into the Cavities of the Earth but stand round about it it would easily cover the whole face of it & so it would remain uninhabitable But one entring amicably into the other & water moderating the siccity of ye Earth & Earth the moisture of the Water by a mutuall Commixture the Fruitfulnesse & advan:=tages of both Elements do very speedily appear In like manner ye Potter mixes Clay wth Water that so he may make his masse tractable wch he shapes upon his wheel & setts in warm Air that so it may drye leisurely Then he adds the Violence of Fire that his Vessells may be well harden'd & condens'd into a durable stone wch can resist both water & Fire, so the Phi:=losophers say we must proceed in the Naturall work & therefore set the Potter before us for an Example For it is certain as to the dry & moist that is the earth & water they have both of em a very great Affinity but there is no doubt much difference in their way of Coction

& in the matter & form of the Elements that are to be compounded For the Potters Vessells have a Form thats Artificiall But ye Philosophick Tincture has one that is altogether Naturall & so much Nobler then Theirs as the matter of it is more Excellent then theirs. Each of them is indeed the work of Earth but their is nothing said to be in the Philosophicall wch hath not ascended & attaind to the Heavn of Air whereas in the other a thick & faeculent Earth is predominant the Effect of both is a Stone this a Comon that a Philosophick one By wch name a certain Person being seduced put a great Number of Artificiall Stones or Tyles into one chest & the whiter sort of Flints into another using Diabolicall conjurations over them that one might be turnd into silver the othe into pure Gold But when these were imagind to be the Stones of ye Philosophrs & a great sum of money had been expended in purchasing severall things & ye new gold & silver wch were expected at a certain time did not appear & none of the Stones as it was hopd receivd conversion Death came very opportunely to put an end to his shame & Folly For Gold & silver is not to be sought for in yt thing wherein they are not implanted by Nature & Diabolicall magick is so far from having any place in these works that it is as distant from them as the Authr of them is from a devout & pious man & as Hell from Heaven So although a man should have the True Philosophick Stone yet let not any one imagine that impossibilities can be performd by it as Isaac admonishes us seeing no man by Law of Nature or Policy can be bound to things impossible As for the Transmutation of Gemms & making Glasse able to indure the Hammer any man may know whether they are possible, or agreeable to the Nature of it or no Geber affirms concerning the Philosophers that they speak many things by Allegories & of himself that when he has spoke clearly he has said nothing but when undr a figure there he has hid the Truth as Wheat under Chaff Those things wch a man sows the same he shall reap wch saying takes place in Vegetables & Animals though different species may somtimes proceed from ye things sowd. but whether these things ought to be applyed to mettalls wch are not propagated by seed as they are will be worthy of Consideracon —

In these the parts are onely Homogeneous as Sulphur & Argent vive in those they are Heterogeneous or organicall in these are no receptacles of seed in them there are In these is found no Nutrition Augmentation or extension into all Dimensions, But have em all to the greatest degree Lastly these are Elemented Weights admitting nothing else but mixtion whereas they besides Mixtion have also a Vegetative or sensitive Soul Nevertheless it is True without doubt that there is something in places under the Earth wch as yet is not Gold but by nature will become gold after a thousand Years. And who will deny this to be the Analogicall seed of Gold. And seeing both Gold & the Aurifick Nature are of one Originall though this be of the more Noble Form & therefore the seed of Gold being known, the seed of the other will likewise be known The Philosophers affirm that it is the Dry & moist that is Sulphur & Argent Vive and that it is to be extracted out of two Mountains in the greatest Purity

Emblem 16th One Lyon hath wings & the other hath none

It is a thing known by experience that a Lyon does not so much excell other Animals in bignesse & strength of body as in the generousnesse of his Nature When he is hunted being ashamd to run away he makes his retreat leisurely if he finds himself opprest by multitudes When he is out of the view of his Pursuers he makes hast away thinking the basenesse of his flight is attond for by his Endeavour to conceal it He leaps upon the Prey that He follows but He never uses that motion in his retreat His bones are solid without any Vacuity & are said to be so hard that Fire will be struck out of two of them as from a Steel & Flint He fears Fire above all things He seems to derive his substance from the Nature of ye Sun for in force & heat he excells other Animals as the Sun doth the Starrs He always appears wth fiery & open Eyes as the Sun beholds the Earth wth an open fiery Eye. A Lyonesse fighting for her whelps fixes her Eyes upon the Ground least she should be affrighted at the Hunters spear When the Lyon perceives the coition of ye Panther he takes revenge upon the Lyonesse for Adultery & inflicts severe punnishmt She therefore washes away & scent in a River or being conscious of her offence doth follow the Adulterer flying for fear of the Mate The Philosophrs therefore observing the wonderfull Nature of this Beast have made divers Allegories from Him wch they Use as so many Hieroglyphicall writings relating to their secret Work And finding the Lyon to be a firm & constant animall Void of deceit himself and consequently of suspicion of others they resemble the best part of their Philosophick work to so noble a Character For as He flyes not so neither does that, as his bones are solid so That is Fixd & knows no Conquerour But as the Lyonesse is not always innocent & free from Adultery so neither is Luna or Mercury without some spot or blemish but by the Ignorant is joined sometimes to one sometimes to another sort of matter from whence an adulterous conjunction of things different in Nature may be said to proc[illegible] rather than [illegible] contracted, for the product of the Lyonesse & Leopard have comely Mains about their Neck & shoulders wch is ye signall Ornament of the Lyons Legitimate offspring. Therefore let the Philosophicall Lyonesse be joind to her proper Male & thence will be born a whelp that is genuine & generous which may easily be known by his paw But is not any sort of Lyonesse but one that has wings wch may be able to fight & contest wth the Lyon as relying upon the swiftnesse of her plumes that she may not be suppress by the violence of his wrath but may be prepard for flight if any time he become furious without just reason For when she is about to flye away & Heretards her He is incited with a greater Love towards her & a firmer friendship is contracted after such a Variance But you will say who ever saw a Lyonesse wth wings? or what use can be made of her plumes? There is a deep Valley near the Mountain Cythæron in wch are seen none but flying Lyonesses But to the Top of that Mountain there resorts a Red Lyon of the same kind wth that wch was slain by Hercules The Lyon therefore must be taken & brought into the Valley and then immediately He will be coupled with the Winged Lyonesse She allso will easily suffer herself to be overcome because like will be seduced by like Afterwards they must be both advanced out the said Valley to the Top of the Mountain and henceforth they will never desert one another but will always remain together in inviolable wedlock The taking of these Lyons I confesse is not easy but Lyable to many dangers. But neverthelesse it must be attempted. A Lyon feeds not with the Lyonesse but wanders apart as story relates therefore they are to be sought & hunted for in different places But if these two Lyons can be taken when they are Whelps when their Claws first appear & they begin to walke which is two months after their Birth and afterwards they be joind upon their coming to riper Age the whole matter will be effected without any danger but they are born in the Spring time wch thing requires the nicest Ob=servation But seeing the Lyons after whelping use crosse & winding ways least their Den should be found out great Care & diligence must be used to seek them & deprive em of their Whelps. Emblem 17th Four Orbs govern this work of fire. Discourse 17th
The Philosophers in many places make mencon of four sorts of fire necessary to the Naturall work namely Lully, the Author of the scala Ripley & many others Hence Scala says that Raymund speaks thus of fires. It is to be remarkt that here lye contrary operacons because as fire does against Nature dissolve the spirit of a fixd body into the water of a Cloud & binds the body of a Volatile Spirit into a congealed Earth so contrarywise the fire of Nature congeals the dissolved spirit of a fixd body into a glorious Earth & resolves the body of the volatile Spirit fixd by fire contrary to Nature not into the water of a Cloud but into Philosophicall water Ripley speaks more clearly of these fires Gate 3 Stanza 15th.

Fouwer Fyers there be by whych you must understond
Naturall, innaturall. against Nature alsoe Elementall whych doth bren the bond
These four Fyers use we & no mo:
Fyre against Nature must doe thy bodyes wo
That ys our Dragon as I thee tell Fersely brenning as Fyre of Hell

Fyre of Nature ys the thyrd menstruall
That fyre ys naturally in every thyng
But Fyre occasionat we call innaturall
As hete of Askys & balnys for putrefying Wythout these Fyres thou may not bring

Whych brenneth the Bodys more then Fyre
Elementall; yf thou wylt wyn

Then shall thy seeds both root & spyre
By help of Fyre occasionat
That kyndly after they may seperate

But they are calld Fires because they have a Fiery Virtue the Naturall in coagulating the unnaturall in Dissolving The Fire against Nature in cor=rupting the Elementary in administring heat & the first mocon & there is an order observd in em like that of a Chain that second may be incited to action by the first the third by the second & the fourth by the third & first so that one be Agent & the other Patient & the same be agent & patient in a different respect. That wch is observd of Iron rings held together by a Magnet & joind by mutuall contact may be done likewise in these Fires For the Elementary like a magnet doth send forth its Virtue through the second & third even into to the fourth & join one to the other by mutuall operacons & cause them to cohere together till internall action be effected amongst the Uppermost The first is Elementary Fire both in Name & Substance the second is Air or Aeriall The third is watry or of the Nature of Luna the fourth is Earthy Thing no need of speaking of the first because it is pre=sent to every mans sight & feeling The other three are Dragons men=struums waters sulphurs or Mercury. Dragons because pertakin of venom they devour serpents of their own kind free & alter whever bodys are mixd wth em that is dissolve & coagulate em they are calld Menstruums because the Philosophers Infant is produc'd & nourishd from em till the time of his Birth. Lully in his book of Quinta Essentia distinction the 3d has a double Menstruum a Vegetable & a minerall Ripley in his prefac to his Gates has three wch agree & are but one in reallity For the generacon of the Infant is made from them all & white water precedes its birth wch is not of the substance but the superfluity of the Infant & therefore is to be seperated. They are waters because in Fire they show a watry Nature that is they flow & are liquid wch are properties of water, it is certein that the properties of Water are diverse & wonderfull some whereof do petrifie being coagulated into hard stones for building. Not unlike these are the minerall waters of the Philosophers wch grow harder & turn into a stony resistance They are likewise calld Sulphurs from the Sulphureous virtue wch they have in them. For the Sulphur of Nature is mixd & made one wth the other Sulphur & the two Sulphurs are dissolvd by one and one is seperated from two & the Sulphurs are conteind by Sulphurs as Eximidius says in the Turba Now what Sulphurs are Dardary in the same plac declares in these words Sulphurs are souls hidden in the four Elements wch being extracted by Art do naturally contein one another and are join'd together But if you can by water govern & well purifye that wch is hidden in the Belly of Sulphur That hidden thing meeting with its owne Nature rejoiceth even as water with its like Mosius also sayth I will now tell you what it is. One indeed is Argent Vive & that Fiery. the second is a Body compounded in it the third is the water of Sulphur by which it is first washd corroded & governd till the whole work is perfected What has been said of Sulphurs the same must be understood of so many Mercurys for so says the same Mosius,. Argent vive Cambar is magnesia but Argent Vive or Orpiment is Sulphur which ascends from a mixt compound But I shall produc no more Testimonyes because they are infinite These four Fires are included in four orbs or spheres, that is each has its particular Centre from which & to which an to which ~~their~~ motions tend But neverthelesse they are kept so bound together by Nature partly, and partly by Art that the one can operate little or nothing without the other so that the Action of the one is the Passion of the other and so on the contrary.

Discourse 18th

Natures way of working in all individualls of the universe is to use one single process to complete & perfect one single mocon. As appears in the Anatomy of mans body in wch one Muscle only serves for one mocon that is the Attractive but another opposite to the first for the expansive so that if any member is to be brought into a bending mocon it must be effected by various muscles put into a Circle So the operacon of fire is one & single that is to make hot or be fiery & to Assimitate to it self to & burn all things to wch it is applied if they be combustible Ilener Avicen says in his book of congelacon of Stones. What falls into salt pits becomes salt & what into fire becomes fire but somthings sooner some more slowly according to the Power of the Actives & resistance of the Passives And there is a place in Arabia wch coloureth all bodyes wch exist in it of its own colour so each Naturall thing possesses a Virtue infus'd into it by nature by wch it acts upon those things wch are mixt or applied to it by assimitating or altering their Nature & form That wch in Vegetables & Animalls is generacon by the propagacon of seeds that in simple & simply mixt bodyes is the infusion of Virtue & Assimilacon. The sun the light of heaven casts its rays upon the earth wch collected into concaves or burning glasses demonstrate themselves to be produc'd from such a cause & to seem as if they were the projectible forms of the sun from whence it is evident that the Rays of the sun are nothing ex- but a fiery flame extended & dispersd into an ample latitude, which being collected & condens'd again into it self by concavous Diaphanous circular & repercussive instruments. Concavous & steel mirrours doe shine forth as a flame & burns all that approaches it In the same manner there is a certein Virtue dispers'd as a Vapor throughout every Elemented body wch if it be gatherd together & attracted into one turns into water & from that water into Earth Ilener Avicen in the plac quoted before says that water becoms earth when the Qualities of earth overcome it & so on the contrary But there is a certein matter wch some ingenious men use when they would coagulate a thing that is Dry. this compounded of two waters and is call Lac Virginis wch is the most certein effect of it so far that Authr: There are some who think themselves able to double or further to multiply the Virtues of the Loadstone [illegible] in Silver of scarce a pound weight wch attracted & held up an [illegible] of eight & twenty pound wch it was impossible for it to have done if its force had not been increasd & strengthend wch undoubtedly was effected by the revocation of the dispersd virtues into one point or po[illegible] or by the attraction of them from a greater body into a lesse There are others who affirm that a Lead-making Stone may be made of the Sulphurous breath of Saturn infused & reteind upon & by common Mercury till it be coagulated wch imediately turns Comon Mercury into Lead. Some boast that they can from Antimony or its Stellated Regulus make Copper from the Fume of Copper in as short a space as a man can Eat an Egge & that they have made all metalls. I will not detract from their reputacons tho to me it does not seem probable I know not whether they are more confident or successefull who endeavr to deduce gold from gold according to the saying of ye Poeta Aureus. He that desires Barley sowes only Barley. In Gold are the seeds of Gold. Every naturall thing hath indeed a Virtue of multiplying itself but this brought into Action in vegetables & Animalls only not in metalls Minerall earthy Fossils or meteors Some plants sprung from a small grain of seed do oftentimes yeild a thousand seeds or more & so multiply & propagate themselves & so Yearly Animals also have their product in greater or lesser Number according to each of their Natures But gold silver Lead Tin Iron Copper or Argent Vive are never known to Multiply themselves or their kind after that manner although it is often found that one may be comuted into another & made more noble Neverthelesse ye Philosophers affirm that the principle of Ignifying is in fire & so that of Aurifying is in gold But the Tincture must be sought for by whose Intermediacon Gold is to be made You must search for this in its own proper principles & generacons & not in things of another Nature For if Fire produceth Fire a Pear a Pear a Horse a Horse Then Lead will generate Lead & not silver. Gold will generate Gold & not the Tincture. But besides all this the Philosophers have a peculiar Gold which they donot deny but must be added to the Aurifick Stone as a fferment at the End of the work seeing it leads the thing fermented into its own Nature without which the whole composition would never return to Perfection

Emblem 19. If you kill one of ye four they will all suddenly dye

The Poets feign that Geryon King of Spain consisted of three bodys that had Oxen of a Purple Colour & that a Dog wth two heads & a Dragon with seven were set over them to watch them The same Geryon is reported to be the Son of Chrysaor sprung from the blood of Medusa as the Dragon was from that of Typhon & Echidna But since all these agree neither wth History nor the Truth & yet fall in exactly wth the Chymicall Allegories we think we have reducd them to that proper head by applying them to that Subject For by the threefold body of Geryon we understand three Faces beheld in one Father according to the sense of Hermes or as others would have it four Faces they having regard to the four Elements For a Triangle must be made of a Quadrangle as that was made of a Circle so this must return into a Circle Now there is so great a consanguinity & naturall conjunction of the Bodies of Geryon or the Elements that one being overcome & slain the rest also dye of themselves & putrefy without the application of any manuall Force As to things wth two bodies it is well known that one being dead the other wasts & consumes as we saw in Italy by a boy of four Years old wch had two bodies the head of one Brother was hid within the body of the other & was fixd to him just at the Navel & so hung down from thence & being much lesse then him was carried about by him. If You pressd the hands or feet of the lesser more hard then ordinary the bigger felt the pain nay & hunger too when the belly of the latter was Empty for want of sustenance. And this is the Combinacon & Sympathy of Nature whereby the members & parts of one & the same body or of a body joind & born wth another are mutually movd & affected together whereof if one be sound & unhurt it is not necessary that the others should so remain. But if one be grievously hurt the rest do also sympathize & perish by the same malady. so if one Neighbour gains much money yet no profit accrues thereby to another of his Neighbours, but if he suffers losse by Fire his neighbour receives much dammage For Your affairs are in danger when the next house has taken Fire Therefore it is no way repugnant to Truth that from the death of one of these brothers the destruction of the rest should happen seeing that may come to passe by divers me therefore ordaind that wives might be afraid of poysning their Husbands unlesse they also are resolvd to dye wth them, so in the Philosophicall Work when one brother is dead, the others perish by Fires not compelld but Voluntarily, that they may not survive in infamy & sorrow Or if one be assault wth a Club sword or Stone he will raise a Civil war wth his brethren as in those Gyants sprung out of the Earth who were born

Emblem 20th. Nature teacheth Nature how subdue Fir

Discourse 20th

The common token & symbol by wch the Philosophers may know one=
:another is That Nature is guided taught governd & subdued by Nature as a scholler by a mistresse a waiting maid by her Lady a Subject by a Queen a Daughter by a Mother a Kinswoman by a Kinswoman—
The truth of this appears by daily experience in the Educacon of Youth amongst men the institutions of Learning Governmt & the like. Pliny writes of Nightingales that one teaches attends observes imitates overcomes another in singing or being overcome laments & that somtimes being Vanquishd in the conflict & her throat torn wth her notes she perishes & falls down dead in the midst of her singing
We see also how all sorts of birds begin to instruct & accustom their Young ones being yet tender & not quite fledgd how to flye. so that it is not onely Nature but Art & use that brings them to the habit of flying tho Nature alone gave power & organs for the Exercising yt Action without wch no Art or Institution can find place or Foundacon
So Colts are taught to run by the Mare whelps to bark by the Bitch & Young Foxes to be cunning by their Dam Nor is there any animated or sensitive Nature or species of Nature wch does not guide instruct & govern another Nature wch is its offspring or else suffer it self to overruld by another Nature as a Parent We do not find such discipline in Vegetables but use & the handywork of man is observd to prevail much upon them For whilst the Corn is in the blade it may be cleansd from Tares & unprofitable Thistles. whilst a Tree is yet a Twig it may be bent & made to grow as you please so in Metalls & Philosophicall bodies one nature keeps preserves & defends another Nature in Fire as is known to Founders & refiners but especially to Masters of Naturall things. Iron added to silver or gold being yet very tender & spirituall as they call it mixt in its mines wth Cadmia Arsenick or depredating devouring Antimony be:
:comes very helpfull & performs the part of a Midwife if it be cast upon mines to be burnt in the Fire of Furnaces. After the same manner when Iron itself is to be changd into Steel it is savd from burning by some white stones that are found upon the Sea shore some do cast the powders of Chrystall glasse or the gall of glasse upon metallick powd:es to be dissolvd that they may not perish by overmuch Fire. In the room of this their Eudica wch Morienus Romanus says is the gall of glasse & to be had in glasse Vessells for the heat of Fire consumes the body wth hasty burning. but when Eudica is applied it will cure bodies changd into Earth from any burning. For when bodies doe glasse is indeed agreeable to all bodies for it revives & prep them & defends them from all burning This therefore is ye natu wch teaches another Nature to fight against Fire & be inured to this is the Mistresse that instructs the scholar & if You consider well the Queen governing the subject & ye Daughter giveing Honr to her Mother This the Red servant wch is joind in Matrimony wth his odoriferous Mother & of her begets a progeny far more noble then its Parents This is Pyrrhus the son of Achilles the Young man wth Red hair golden Vestments Black Eyes and White feet This is the Knight that has the Torques or Collar about him Armd wth a sword & sheild against the Dragon that he may rescue from his jaws the pure & unviolated Virgin namd Albifica Beja or Blanca This is the monster-killing Hercules who freed Hesione the Daughter of Laomedon from that monstrous Whale wch she was exposd to. This is that Perseus who by showing the Head of Medusa defended Andromeda the Daughter of Cassiope & Cepheus King of the Ethiopians from a sea monster & having freed her from her chains afterwards married her This is He that may be compard wth those Ancient Romans the Restorers & deliverers of their Country M. Curtius L Scævola. Horatius Cocles, Manlius Capitolinus & the rest and can free a City as well as his mother from Dangers For this is the way & method of Nature tending to the perfection of any work It deduces one thing from another & a more perfect thing from an imperfect makes an Act out of a Power but she does not finish all in a moment but by doing one thing after another at last arrives at her End Nor does she doe this onely but she likewise in the first place constitutes herself a Deputy to whom she leaves the Power of life & Death that is of Forming other things For example in ye generacon of a man she uses a long processe of ten months But first according to Aristotle she frames the Heart as her Deputy & the Principall Bowel & then the Heart delineats forms & perfects the other members which are necessary to nutrition Life sence & the generateing power & imparts to them Life & vivifying spirits by its Systole & Diastole that is by the dilating & Compressing of Arteries, so long as it is not hindered by diseases & Violence And so one nature teaches another which You must remark and follow as the most clear Example of the Philosophick Work

Emblem 21. Make of ye man & woman a Circle of that a Quadrangle, of this a Triangle of the same a Circle & You will have ye Stone of the Philosophers

Plato that most Excellt Philosopher was of Opinion that those notices or Ideas wch are the Foundacons of Arts & sciences are as it were actually engraven & imprinted upon the mind of man & that by the Repetition & remembrance of them he can apprehend & know all mannr of Learning To prove this he introduces a Young Lad, rude & uninstructed & asks him such Geometricall Questions that the Youth might be perceivd to answer right whether he will or no, & altho before he understood nothing of the matter Yet by these answers seems to have penetrated into the Depths of so abstruse a Science From whence he concludes that in children all Discipline & Doctrine is not at first taken in & learnt, but calld to mind & brought by the memory, alluding by this to his Annus magnus or great Year, of wch he says that forty eight thousand Solary Years agoe, before ye Revolucon of the Heaven, the same persons things & actions were then in being wch are at the presen time when soever that is But every Person may perceive that these things have no more foundacons of truth in them then meer dreams We do not deny that there are some sparks of Notices & meer powers imprinted in us wch must be reduced into Act by institution, but we utterly deny that they are such or so great as to be the Sommaries of Arts & sciences wthout any precedent instruction It will then be askd from whence Arts & sciences have proceeded if men have not invented or whether they were not at first deliverd from Heaven & the Gods of ye Nations; I answer that to say that burning Coals lye hid under Ashes in so great a quantity that if the Ashes were but removd they would be sufficient for the dressing of meat or othr uses is a different thing from affirming that onely some small sparks lye there conceald wch before they can be of use & administer a sufficient heat must be cherishd & nourishd wth fresh fewell by human art care & Industry or otherwise they would be easily extinguishd. The Aristotelicks assert the latter as the Platonicks do the former Reason & experience seem to agree wth this latter, whereas the first depend only upon Imaginacon & Phansy Here it may be askd why Plato wrote over the Door of his school That no one that was ignorant of Geometry was there to be admitted, seeing He affirmd that little boys did actually know it Are men more unlearnd then boys? or when they grow up do they forget what they knew when children? That cannot be suppos'd for we see that Brutes do by the instinct of Nature as soon as they are brought forth abhor & avoid the danger of Fire & water precipices & the like Yet an infant neither knows nor shuns such things. Why do not the Bee fly & gnatt precipitate themselves into the Fire seing that ~~by experience~~ they cannot know by Experience that danger will arise from it, Why nature has taught them but she has not done so by man when newly born, If Geometry is so easy & Naturall to children? How comes it to passe that Plato did not know the Quadrature of a Circle? so that Aristotle who was his schollar affirms that it might be known but was not yet known. But that this was not unknown to the Philosophrs of Nature is apparent from this That they command a Circle to be turnd into a Quadrangle & this by a Triangle to be reduc'd again to a Circle by wch they understand the most simple body wthout angles, as by the Quadrangle they do the four Elements as if they should say The most simple corporeal Figure that can be found is to be taken & divided into four Elementall Colors & become an Equilaterall Quadrangle. Now every man understands that this Quadration is Physicall & agreeable to Nature, by wch far more benefit accrues to the Publick & more light appears to the mind of man then by any meere Theory of Mathematicks when abstracted from Matter. To learn this perfectly a Geometrician acting abt solid bodies must enquire what is the depth of solid Figures, as for example the Profundity of Sphere & Cube must be knowne and transferrd to manuall use & practice If the Capacity or Circumference of the sphere be 32 foot How much will one of the sides of the Cube be to Equalize the Capacity of this Sphere on the contrary if the sphere contein 32 measures in so great a circumference How much will the side of the Cube be to contein so much or by looking back from the Measures wch the Sphere or Cube conteins to the feet of each Circumference. In like manner the Philosophers would have the Quadrangle reduc'd into a Triangle that is into a Body Spirit & Soul wch three appear in the three previous colours before Rednesse, that is the Body or earth in the Blacknesse of Saturn the Spirit in ye Lunar whitenesse as water the Soul or air in the Solar Citrinity Then the Triangle will be perfect, but this again must be chang'd into a Circle that is into an invariable rednesse by which operacon the Woman is converted into the man & made one with him and the first Senary out of ye perfect a number absolvd by one. two having returnd again to an Unite in wch is Rest and eternall peace

Emblem 22 Having acquird white Lead do the work of women that is Boyle: Discourse. 22d

As the Statues of Mercury used to be erected where three ways met with inscriptions upon them to guide the dubious Travellers into the true way. So there are severall remarkable Sentences deliverd by the Philosophers altho they be scatterd up & down in their obscure books & Allegoricall writeings wch will direct the Inquirers after Truth & lead them as it were by the hand into the Right path. The present Emblematicall inscription is one of these. The meaning whereof is, that Lead must be made of the Philosophicall Brasse, & Tin of that Lead wch by Geber is calld white Lead who likewise teaches us how, by washing, Saturn together wth mercury may passe into Jupiter Wherefore credit is to be given to this Index or direction altho spoken by Battus if at any time he discover ye Philosophicall Oxen & what place they frequent. when he says they were in the mountains & that they were under the mountains For many men as Arnold in his Novum Lumen cap. 1. Affirms That Persons wandring in ye mountains know not these Animals But they are openly sold at a very small price. In the highest mountains Snow is found even in Summer & Clouds most comonly by wch as it were by Vapour & water black Lead is washd and turnd into Whitenesse But in the lowest Valleys & their mines their Chrystalls are found congealed & hardened out of Ice together with Lapis Specularis & Talc commended for making the Face white and beautifull if an Oyle be made thereof But cheifly clear & running Mercury which being well prepard mends the Blemishes of Saturn and advanceth Him into the Throne of Jupiter But this is not to be understood of Saturn & Jupiter as they are commonly found (For common Metalls do not enter into the Physicall work) But it is said of them when purg'd by a long preparation & made Physicall Saturn is the Father of all the Gentiles or rather of all searchers after the Golden work and the first Gate of Secrets. By him (says Rhasis in his Epistle) the Gates of Sciences are opened. To him succeeds his Son Jupiter who expelld his Father out of his Kingdome and dismemberd him least he should begett more Sons and from that member cut of and thrown into the Sea Venus the most Beautifull of females is born From Jupiter

From Juno Mercury from Maia the daughter of [illegible] a mountain in Mauritania, Luna & Sol from Latona which four are brought in the Light by Coction onely which is the work of Women. But by Coction is understood Maturation and dispersion of the more ~~the~~ Crude parts which is performed by Vulcan in the Vessells of Philosophers, for it is not to be supposd that it is comon boyling as to the method of its operation but that it agrees with that onely as to its end or Intent For as a woman Matures Fish in Waters that is by resolving all superfluous moisture from them into Waters and Air softens boyls and seeths them, so the Philosopher handles his subject in proper Water which is ~~sharper~~ stronger then the sharpest Vinager by macerateing, Liquefying, Solving, Coagulateing and mixeing it in the Vessell of Hermes, the joints of which as it is ~~most~~ requisite are most strictly Closed least the Water exhale and that which is in the Vessell be burnt This is that Vessell above the Vessell and the Philosophers Pott the Balneum Laconicum or Vaporous Bath in which the Old man sweats Some there are who Boyle Fish Lobsters Crabs and Green pease in a double Pott so that the things before mentiond are placed in the upper pott Water being only in the Lower and the Potts placd one above the other with Orbs least the Vapour should come forth By which means the Vapour of the Water ascending onely penetrates and matures the things conteind & makes them much more perfectly soft and tender then if they had been boyled in Water This is the most Laudable way of the Philosophers whereby they soften that which is hard, dissolve that which is compact and Rarifye that which is Thick For it is Air or an insensible Vapour which matures decocts & perfects the fruit of Trees and not water Crude and Cold as it is such water. It is Air also which Tinges and Colours the Golden Apples in the Garden of the Hesperides For if it is well considerd the Ebullition of Water whereby raw flesh is boyld till it be fit to eat is nothing else but rarefaction of waters which Easily Vanish away the Air betakeing itself from the Waters to its owne Sphere and the water subsideing in to its owne Centre

Emblem 23 When Pallas was born & Sol in Conjunction wth Venus it raind gold at Rhodes.

Unlesse it were to be understood Allegorically it would be madness to Affirm that Gold ever raind upon ~~[illegible]~~ the Earth. For there are no Gold-bearing Rivers nor mines in the Clouds that it may possibly be said to be produced there. nor is gold of so little a weight that it may be thought to be attracted thither by Vapours But a Trope admitts and excuses all these things. For so truly as Pallas actually sprang from the brain of Jupiter and Sol was joind in Adultery with Venus so truly also fell Gold in Showers not as if we any ways doubt that both these have happend but that we may remove the litterall & vulgar sense from things that are spoken Allegorically For if we follow the plain words of this emblem there is nothing more absurd but if we attend to the meaning there can be nothing more true Now Rhodes is an Island at first calld Ophiousa from the Multitude of serpens. then Rhodes from the Gardens of Rhoses which flourishd there and lastly Colossicola from the Colossus of the Sun which being there was esteemd one of the seven wonders of the world. Hence the Antients Philosophers seing that their mercuriall matter when it is Crude has the resemblance of a Serpent but after it is prepard and decocted assumes ~~to~~ itself the purple Colour of a Rose, have taken severall of their similitudes from this Island of Rhodes and for the same Reason ascribed to it that Golden shower wch fell upon Apollo's conjunction with Venus. This being at first spoken figuratively gave the Rhodians a pretence to grow Haughty upon their imagination that so great Deityes should desire to have an offspring conceivd upon their Island and therefore they erected an Idol to the Sun of a most Stupendious Value and Magnitude For that Colossus as History relates was seventy Cubits high and so placd that ships under full sail might passe between the leggs. Its fingers were as big as ordinary Statues and few men could embrace its thumb The Artist was Chares Lyndius the Disciple of Lysippus who was twelve years in smithing of it After it had stood fifty and six years it was overthrown by an Earthquake and yet as it lay prostrate was thought wondrous When the Soldan of Egypt conquerd Rhodes he is reported to have laden nine hundred Camells with the Brasse of this Statue, what Sol is among the Planets says the Philosopher that is gold among the Metalls and this is cheifly appropriated to the Sun in the respect of its Heat, Colour Virtue & essence Hence a golden rain is ascribd to the generation of the Sun & little Suns are conceivd by Venus For Venus has a Rosy colour in her Face, wch if it be infusd into the seed of Sol the offspring wch is hence produc'd must really be born at Rhodes For the Son of the Philosophers is beautifull & like Roses He draws and allures the Eyes and minds of all men He deserves Love, therefore it is not strange that at his birth Miracles should happen for he is afterwards to be miraculous in all his works and to raise up a shower of Gold He is brother of Augias the Son of Sol who had Oxen for his patrimony the Dung of whom in one days time was purgd away by Hercules He is the Brother of Aetes who possesses the Golden Fleece obtaind by Jason It is reported of Pallas that was born from the Brain of Jupiter without a Mother That she was calld Tritonia because she was brought forth near the River Triton She is feignd to be the Goddess of Wisdom & is not undeservedly so esteemd seeing she springs from the Brain wch is the seat of it. Golden showers did likewise signifie her birth-day at Rhodes, that so the time of her coming into this Light might remaine in the memory of mankind. For as at the time of a publick rejoycing whether it be the Coronacon of a King or the Birth of a Prince there are gold medalls thrown ~~the~~ among the people so the same was done at the birth of Pallas For Pallas is Sophia or Wisdom which carries health in her right hand & riches & her left providing at the same time both for mans Ease & plenty. To Her Perseus brought the head of Medusa wch turnd all things into stone & was horrid in its appearance wth serpents & Vipers instead of Hairs wch she afterwards placd in her sheild to use it against her Enemyes a Rude & Barbarous people & therefore to be turnd into stones And in Truth Wisdom or Naturall Philosophy renders its incredulous & envious contemners quite stupid & void of sense & understanding by the means of that same thing from whence Chrysaor was borne who was the fathr of Geryon yt had three bodys) That is by ye means of ye Lapidifick Gorgonian blood wch is nothing else but the Tincture of the Philosophick Stone

Emblem 24th A wolf devourd ye King & being burnt himself restord him to life agen. Discourse 24th

The Hunger & voracity of a wolf is remarkably knowne to be very great insomuch that when his prey is wanting he will feed even upon the Earth. with wch he is likewise used to fill his belly when he is about to set upon large heards of Cattle that so being made heavier by that burthen he may resist more strongly & not easily be shaken of from his hold When he enters a fold he doth not onely kill enough to satisfye his hunger but thro greedinesse destroys the whole flock He is sacred to Apollo & Latona because he stood by her when she was in Labour, for Latona could not have been deliverd unlesse he had been present Hence likewise the wolf is thought acceptable to Apollo because he celebrated his birth day as also because his Eyes shine & cast forth light in the midst of the night Therefore the breathlesse body of the King is thrown to the wolf when he is ravenously hungry not to the end that he should wholly consume and annihilate him but that by his own death he should restore strength & life to Him. For there is a certain amatorious Virtue in the Tayle of the wolf which is infusd into the King being half dead wch makes him very desireable to all men. upon the recovery of His former Health & Beauty. The Hyrcanians nourishd Doggs for no other Use but that they might cast their Dead bodys to be devourd by them as Cicero tells us. & so the Massagetes give men that dye of disseases as a prey to dogs But the Philosophers give their King to a Wolf. Nor indeed are they plesd wth ye Custome of the Sabaans who carryed out their dead in the same manner as dung & threw their King upon the Dunghill. nor that of the Troglodytes who tyed the Necks of their dead men to their feet & hurried them along wth Jests & laughter & so put em into the ground without any Consideracon of the place of Buriall But they chose to follow the Custom of the Magi who did not bury their dead bodyes till they had first been torn to pieces by wild beasts: or of the Indians who being Crownd & singing the praises of the Gods comanded themselves to be burnt alive least old age should come upon them But these customs were imposd upon them all without any hopes of resurrection or Renewall of Life [illegible] they certainly know that from their King devoured by a [illegible] will appear one that is alive, strong & Young & that the Wolf m[illegible] be burnt in his stead. For when the belly of the Wolf is so gorg'd he will easily be slain But altho the King be dead he hath a Mar-tiall or Cygnean Virtue that he can neither be wounded nor consumed But where is this Wolf to be hunted or whence this King to be taken The Philosophers answer that the wolf wanders up & down in the mountains & Vallies that he may seize his prey who must be drawn out of his dens & preserv'd for use But the King being fatigued wth the long journey he has taken from the East at length falls down & his death is then hasten'd by his greif seeing himself among strangers. depriv'd of all his Honrs & so little esteem'd as for a small price to be sold into slavery. But it is necessary that the wolf must be taken out of a Cold Region for those that are bred in cold Countryes are more fiercer then in Libya or Egypt by reason of their greater hunger occa-sion'd by the externall cold. Hence the devoured King revives wth the heart of a Lyon & is able afterwards to conquer all beasts, & although the meanest in his Aspect among his six brothers as being the Youngest of them all Yet after many miseries & tribulacons he shall at last come to the most powerfull Kingdom Hereupon Gratian in the Rosary saith In Alchymy there is certain noble body wch moved from Master to Master in whose beginning there shall be misery with Vinegar but in the end Joy wth gladnesse And Morney in the same place ~~says~~ There is one thing to be chosen out of all wch is of a Livid Color having a clear liquid metallick Species & is a thing Hot & moist watry & Adust & is a Living Oyle & Living Tincture A minerall Stone & Water of Life of wonderfull efficacy. It is not always safe for Kings to travell out of the ~~c~~ Confines of their Kingdomes for if they endeavr to conceal themselves & yet happen to be known by their Adversaries they are taken for Spyes & imprison'd. if being know they would proceed wth out an Army they are in the same manner in danger. And so it has happen'd to this Indian King, or if he had not been prevented by death it would so have happen'd. This the first Sublimacon Solution & Nobilitacon wch the Philosophers use that the second & third may be perform'd wth more happy successe. For they without this are of no moment the King being as yet Pusillanimous Drowsy & sick For He must first require Subsidies & Tributes of his subjects by which he may purchase himself garments and other necessaryes and afterwards he will be rich enough and able to new cloth all his subjects as often as He pleases. For great things being generally spring from small beginnings can afterwards raise up small things or even suppresse great ones if such their pleasure be. As appears by some Cities wch at first were small but afterwards govern'd mighty Kings and from Villages became populous & Manificent Towns.

Emblem 25th The Dragon does not dye unlesse he be slain by a Brother & Sister wch are Sol & Luna. Discourse. 25

In the acquisition of the Golden Fleece the Dragon was first to be kill'd wch Labour having been in vain attempted by many men they were overcome by the Dragon & destroy'd wth his deadly poison The reason was because they were not sufficiently arm'd against his Venom nor in-structed by what device he might be slain But Jason the Physician neglected no manner of Remedies severall of wch he receiv'd from Medea (the counsel of his mind) & among them the Images of Sol & Luna, by the true use of wch he obtain'd the Victory wch was the golden Fleece Therefore the Dragon was slain by Sol & Luna or by their Images as the Philosophrs often observe. So the Author of the Rosary out of other writers as Hermes says The Dragon dies not unlesse he be kill'd be the Brother & Sister not by one alone but by two together to wit by the Sun & Moon. The Philosophicall Mercury never dyes unlesse It be kill'd wth his sister that is it is necessa-ry to congeale him wth the Moon or Sun Note the Dragon is Argent-vive extracted from bodies having in it body soul & spirit, where-upon he saith the Dragon dies not unlesse wth his Brothr & Sister that is Sol & Luna that is Sulphur extracted having in itself the Nature of moisture & coldnesse by reason of the Moon. wth these the Dragon dies, that is Argent Vive extracted from the same Bodyes at first wch is the Aqua permanens of the Philosophers wch is made after putrefaction & after seperacon of the Elements & that water by another Name is called aqua Fœtida so far he goes wth whom all the rest do agree, & therefore I think it unnecessary to quote 'em The People of Epyrus worshipp'd a Dragon in the Temple of Apollo in memory of Python that was slain by him There is by Nature a continuall war between the Dragon & the Elephant, at whose eyes & throat he always strikes till the Elephant falling upon the ground kills the Dragon wth his Weight, from whence by many is said to come that Dragons blood wch is imported into these parts, The Dragons eyes are of equall value wth Jewells His sight is very sharp & clear & therefore he is plac'd as a guard over Treasures as to the Garden of the Hesperides & the Golden Fleece at Cholchos The Ancients also joind him to Æsculapius as a hieroglyphick But the Chemists appropriate Dragons to their work not in reality but an Allegory For a Dragon always denotes Mercury whether he be fixd or Volatile, Hence Mercury has two serpents about his Caduceus (for a Dragon is a great serpent) & Saturn has but one wch devours his Tayl, as also has Janus. A serpent is dedicated to Æsculapius ye Son of Apollo the Inventor of Medicine (the Philosophick medicine) & it is believd that he was carried in ye shape from Epidaurus to Rome & there always worshipped for ye cessation of the pestilence wch (as they thought) was effected by him, Now the Philosophick Dragon is always most Vigilant & lively not easilye to be wounded both by reason of the thicknesse of his skin & sharpnesse of his teeth & Venom wth wch he is Armd: for altho the comon Dragons are said to be without poison yet this is not without it venting it upon any one that comes near unlesse he be managd warily He therefore can rarely be overcome by Force unlesse the Craft of those who are related to him by consanguinity be added to it. For it is truly observd by an Author That it is a safe & usuall way to deceive under the name of a Freind But how safe or usuall soever it may be it carries a Crime along with it. It may be so in oth. affairs but it is not so in this. Juglers & mountebanks are said to kill worms & drive them out of Children by a powder made of such worms, that is to kill brothers wth their brothers & sisters: So here the Dragon is to be killd wth the Brother & sister wch is wth Sol & Luna Whence it appears that the Dragon is also one of the Planets towit (as before shewd out of ye Rosary) Mercury extracted out of Bodys. Some of the Grecians have told us that in the Reign of Herod King of Judea a Dragon fell in love wth a beautifull maid yt was marriagable & lay wth her in Bed & That Tiberius ye Empero. delighted in another wch he comonly fed wth his own hand. So also the Philosophicall Dragon if he be rightly handled leaves his fiercenesse & becomes a freind to man but he is dangerous if usd otherwise. Xanthus the Historian as Pliny relates it, tells us that a Dragons Young one being killd was by his parent brought to life again wth ye Herb calld Balm wch notwithstanding I ascribe to a Philosophicall Allegory rather then a true History For in Chemicall processes only Death happens to the live Dragon & life returns to ye dead one & that by turns alternately But it may be enquird where & how the Dragon may be taken The Philosophers answer The mountains give Dragons to Rebis & ye Earth Fountains But in Tacitus may be seen the way of takeing him & wth what care & Industry many men watchd to seize a very great Dragon wch had been observd in Africa that so he might be carried to Tiberius for they found his accustomd path among stones, this they enclosd & having reducd it to a narrow compasse they then included him in bands & netts & tamd him by Clubs & stripes till at last by the help of many Land Carriages He was brought to ye ship wch conveyd him to Rome

Emblem 26. The Tree of Life is the fruit of Human Wisdom

Discourse 26th

Tully has excellently describd the Essentiall difference of Man whereby he is distinguishd from all other Animalls after this manner. As a Bird for flying a Horse for running so a man is born for Reasoning For as Lyons Bears & Tigers do exercise & delight themselves in fiercenesse Elephants & Bulls in strength of body, Eagles, Falcons & other Hawks in preying upon birds & swiftnesse of Wings so man excells them & all other Creatures in Reason, inference & understanding So there is no fiercenesse no strength of body no swiftnesse in Brutes so great, as not to be tamd subdued & outdone by mans reason onely. For Reason is not a thing humane or proceeding from ye Earth but as the Poet saith a particle of divine breath sent from heaven into man It is somtimes calld memory somtimes ye intellectuall Virtue to wch if Use or experience be added Wisdom springs from thence wch is the most precious thing that a man can obtein For Use is said to be as the Father, & Memory as the Mother of so generous an Offspring But the Question is what is true Wisdome? & most worthy of mans enquiry. since the opinions concerning it are infinite every man transferring it to their own imaginations It may be answerd that Wisdom (exception being always made of that wch in divine things relates to the Welfare of the soul) in human things does not consist in Sophisticall Arguments Rhetoricall periods Poeticall sound of Verses Criticall subtilties of ye Gramarians, Not in the craft of heaping up Riches by Violence, lyes, deceit, perjurys oppression without any regard to the Crys & Labour of the Poor For Wisdom is nothing else but the true knowledge of Alchymie joind wth practice wch is of the greatest benefit to mankind. This is the Wisdom surpassing all things wch wth her right hand penetrates the East wth her left hand ye West & Embraceth the whole Earth Tis of this Wisdom that Solomon discourses so Excellently in her Book of Wisdom & shows us how they that are acquainted have Eternall perseverance & her freinds partake of sincere pleasures. And he that diligently inquireth after Her, shall receive much Joy For there is no tediousnesse in her conversation but to be present [illegible] heart of Man yet Wysdom is pleasant [illegible] Tree of life to all that lay hold upon Her & happy is every one that retaineth her Lactantius therefore calleth her the food of the Soul. The wise shall inherit Glory. & He that Esteems Wisdom shall be exalted & Honourd by Her. She is more powerfull then all things & comforts a wise man more then ten mighty Princes that are in the City And to this worldly wysdome may be applied what is said by the Prophet Baruch Where is Wysdom where is strength & where is understanding that thou maist know also where is length of days & Life where is the light of the Eys & peace & as Solomon affirms in the Book of Wysdom Great pleasure it is to have Her Freindship & in the works of her hands are infinite Riches & in the exercise of conference wth Her is prudence & in Talking wth her a good report Morienus the Philosopher speaking of it ~~reports~~ says This is knowledge wch draws him that possesses it from the misery of this world and brings him to the knowledge of those good things that are to come, & he Affirms it to be the Gift of God. For this is nothing but the gift of God most High who comitts & reveals it to such of his servants & faithfull as He pleases They therefore ought to be Humble & subject in all things to the Omnipotent God. And in another place. For it is convenient for you to know o King that this Magistery is nothing else but the Arcanum & secret of secrets of the Most High & Great God for he hath recomended this secret to his Prophets whose souls he hath placd in his Paradise It is also calld the Tree of Life not that it hath Eternall Life in it, but because it doth as it were shew the Way to it & bears fruit profitable for this Life wch it cannot be without as Health & the Goods of Fortune & mind For without these a man living is as if he were dead & not unlike to a Brute altho outwardly he represent Him that He ought to be but is not in his better part

Emblem 27th He that endeavours to enter into the Philosophd Rosarye wth out a Key, is like him yt would walk without feet

Discourse 27th

They write of Erichthonius that He sprang out of the Earth whilst Vulcan wrestled wth Pallas the Goddesse of Wisdom & was born not wth the feet of a man but formd like a Serpent Such are those Persons who by the means of Vulcan alone without the Wisdom of Pallas do beget Offsprings that are monstrous without feet & abortive wch can neither profit others nor benefit themselves It is a miserable thing for men to goe upon all four that is upon his hands & feet but worse to be altogether destitute of feet & to use his Arms instead of em for they seem to have degenerated into the Nature of Worms who go after the manner of reptiles But the two legs are the two organick members of man without wch there can be no true walking no more then seeing without eyes or grasping things tangible without hands So likewise medicine & every operative Art are supposd to have two legs namely experience & Reason upon wch they are to stand without either of which their Art is lame & imperfect in its Traditions & precepts nor can it arrive at the End it proposes But Chemistry cheifly has two subjects as its two legs) one of wch is the Key the other is   With these the Philosophickal Rosary altho lockd on every side may be opend and free admittance given to such as have a Right to enter But if one of these be wanting to him that is about to enter therein, it will be the same thing as if a Cripple should endeavour to outrun a Hare He that without a Key enters into the Garden wch is every way inclosd is like a Theif who comeing in the dark night can discern nothing that grows in the Garden nor enjoy what He steals thence But the Key is a thing of the meanest Value wch properly is calld a Stone, known in the Chapters & is the Root of Rhodes without wch no Twig is put forth nor doth a Budd swell nor a Rose spring & send forth leaves in a thousand fold. But it may be askd where this Key is to be sought for? I answr with the Oracle it is there to be lookd for where the Bones of Orestes are said to be found to wit Where the Winds the Striker the Repercutient & the Destruction of Men may be found together that is as Lychas interpreted it in a Braziers Workhous

(For by the Winds his Bellows by the Striker the Hammer by the Striker back the Anvil & by the Destruction of Man, Iron seem to have been meant by the Oracle If a man knows how to number well & distinguish the signs he will certainly find this Key in the Northern in ye Southern Hemisphere of the Zodiack & & being Master of these it will be easy to open the Door & enter & in the very entrance he will see Venus & her beloved Adonis for she hath ting the white Rose of a Purple Colour wth her blood in the same place a Dragon also is observable as in the Hesperian Gardens who watches over these Roses And the scent of the Roses is said to be increased by Garlick planted near them & that by reason of the exceeding degree of Heat wch is in Garlick whereby it resists cold poisons, for the Roses want the Heat of the Sun & Earth before they can acquire a colour & smell that is most Gratefull to the Eyes & Nostrills. Moreover the Fume of Common Sulphur makes Red Roses white if it touch them and so on the contrary the spirit of Vitriol and Aqua fortis refreshes them with a deep or full red Colour which endureth. For common Sulphur is an Enemy to the Philosophicall Sulphur though it cannot destroy it but the solution water is friendly to it and preserves its Colour The Rose is sacred to Venus in regard of that Beauty in which it surpasseth all Flowers For it is a Virgin which Nature hath Arm'd that it might not be Violated without revenge & punnishment Violets are unarm'd & trod under feet But Roses lye among Prickles and have Yellow Hairs hidden within and a garment of Green without No man can pluck them and seperate them from the Prickles but he that is Wise. if otherwise he shall feel a sting in his fingers so that none but the most Wary Philosophers will crop their Flowers least in the Hives He should find stings as well as Bees and Gall instead of Honey Many have secretly and like Theives enterd the Rosary But have reap'd nothing from thence but misery & losse and time & Labour Whereupon Bacusser saith in Turba. For our Books seem very injurious to those who read them onely once or twice or perhaps thrice whereas they being frustrated in their Understandings & whole Study They also, wch is worse loose all their money pains and time which they have spent in this Art. And a little after When a man thinks he has perfected and has the World he will find nothing in his hands

Emblem: 28 The King sitting in a Vaporous Bath, and freed from the Black Gall by the Physitian Pharut,

Discourse 28

As there are three concoctions in man the first in the stomach the second in the Liver the third in the Veins & likewise as many universall evacuations of Excrements wch are correspondent to them & daily carry of their superfluityes namely the first by stool wch is proper to ye first concoction the second by Urine wch belongs to the second the third by Expiration thrô the Pores of the whole Body or by sweat wch is peculiar to the third. In ye first the Chyle in the next Chymus in ye third a Dew or dewy substance is Elaborated & applyd to every part of the Body The Excrements or Faeces of the first are thick, bilious & Fat wch are carried thrô the Bowells backward & if they be at any time obstructed they are gently moderately or strongly expelld by purgations The Excrements of ye second are liquid more thin bilious & saltish wch are brought out of the Veins by the Kidneys & Bladder as Aqueducts,

The superfluities of the third are yet more thin & therefore do for the most part expire of themselves thrô the smallest pores or are carried out together wth the serum of the Humors as sweat These are help'd by Sudorificks as the former by Diureticks The Antient Greeks & Romans took a great deal of pains for the evacuating of this latter sort of Faeces & to this end Us'd so many sports & Exercises, as the chafing all parts in ye morning Anointing wth oyle & Wrestling Fencing Running Hand-ball Tennis, daily washing & Bathing in Rivers or Artificiall Baths & for ye conveniency of these things so many Magnificent structures were built at Rome wch we may rather admire then imitate such as were ye Baths of Dioclesian wch are for the most part still remaining (& unlesse I am mistaken dedicated to the Arch Angels) an Aspiring superb and splended Work The same kinds of concoction as we have before menciond are likewise in the Elaboracion of Metalls For the first is made after its manner in the Magnus Annus or great Year that is in the Revolucion of the Highest sphere the second in the Revolucion of ye lowest sphere the third in that of the middle one But that ye Philosophers may by the help of Art more easily draw forth this masse of Excrements and superfluityes they invent severall methods as Washings Purgations Bathings and Laconica or Vaporous Baths by which they perform that in the Philosophicall Work which Physicians doe in human Bodies. Duenech therefore is by Pharut introduc'd into his Laconicum that there He may sweat & evacuate thorough his Pores the [illegible] Authorities [illegible] Princes as being charged wch the moroseness of Saturn & the Fury of Mars He therefore has a desire to dye or be curd if [illegible]sible Amongst many Physicians one is found who undertakes the charge being induced to it by rewards and intreatys This Allegory is very frequent in the writings of the Philosophers as of Bernhardus Alanus in the Treatise of Dueneck & innumerable others and therefore we dont add severall other Circumstances which may be found in them, but would here observe only what Excrement and of which Concoction it is that ought to be evacuated by Bathing for hereupon the whole matter will turn. In Stoves or hot Baths that Heat which is included in the Body is usually together with the Blood brought ~~out~~ to the superficies of the skin whereby a Beautyfull complexion is made in the Face & whole Body and if this appears it will be a sign that the Melancholly Blacknesse wch infects the skin may insensibly be evacuated and all the humors corrected so that a pure and Rosy blood may afterwards be generated For it is necessary that the whole temperamt: of his body be amended because being cold and dry it is repugnant to the bettering of his blood whereas He on the contrary is Hot & moist, and whether this can be done or no it is necessary for the Philosopher to foreknow and foretell by Prognosticks, There have been some men who have taken a Cobler for a great Prince or Kings Son but they have at length from certain signs perceivd what he was in his Descent & education Least this should happen the Artist in the first place must be carefull to chuse the true offspring of the King who altho he does not appear splendid with his golden Attire but is despicable & mean in his clothing as likewise of a Livid & Melancholly complexion Yet let him not reject him or take another in his stead For if he be very well washd his Royall Genius will soon appear as in Cyrus Paris & Romulus who were educated among Rusticks But it is further to be observd that the Bath must be Laconicum that is Vaporous and sudorifick least the water should parch his Tender flesh or obstruct the Pores from whence would proceed more Harm then Advantage nor could the Effect of it be remedied. Lett no person be sollicitous what cloths the King should put on after his bathing, for as the Daughter of King Alcinous presented Garments to Ulysse that was shipwreckt & naked, so there shall be one who will send him those wch are most precious Whereby he may be acknowledgd deservedly to be the Offspring of the Sun

Emblem 29th. As the Salamander lives in fire so also the Stone

Discourse 29th

There are two Elements in wch Animals live, Aire & Water, & as many in wch nothing that is Animated can remain towit, Earth & Fire, for as ye former are of a temperate & middle Complexion in the first & second qualitys so these latter are of an extreme one, or are bodies either too thick or too subtile so that the thicknesse does not admit some bodies, the subtiltety does indeed admitt some but then it penetrates & burns them. But that men can live in subterraneous Caves is occasiond by the Air descending thither and filling those places least there should be any Vacuum But here we speak of every Element apart In the waters Fishes live in incredible Numbers Variety & fruitfullnesse & even the biggest of all Animalls. In the Air live men fourfooted beasts Birds worms & Insects Whatsoever is said of Spirits wandring in the secret parts of the earth is another thing for ye are no Animalls. But as for the Fire there are no Animals said to live in yt. except the Salamander Now the Salamander is a creeping worm not much unlike a Lizard but of a slower pace bigger head & different Colour such as I remember I have seen in the Alps under the mountain Spulga coming out of the Rocks after thunder & Rain & lying in the Way & a Country man of the place told me it was calld Ein Molch & it had round about it a clammy & Viscous moistnesse by the Virtue of wch it freely passes through ~~the~~ Fire without Harm But the Salamander of the Philosophers is very different from this altho it be likend to it For that of the Philosophers is born in Fire, This is not so, but if it fall into ~~the~~ Fire by reason of its extreme coldnesse & moisture it is not presently burnt but can freely pass thorough the Flame That is Hot & dry This is cold & moist For every ~~thing~~ participates of the Nature of the Mothers womb & resembles the place & country of its production Fire produces nothing but what is Hot & dry as being like to itself; on the contrary the moist & cold Caverns of Rocks wch being full of Water send forth this moist & cold Vermin. That by the similitude of its Nature rejoyces in Fire, This by the contrariety of Nature extinguishes it or for some time repells its force. They say that ye Fly Pyrausta is generated in Fire & flyes out of the Brasse Furnaces in Cyprus But no man has believd this to be true but in an Allegory For Fire if it be continued destroys & corrupts the bodies of any Animalls whatsoever seeing it can burn Earth into Glasse & the most solid Timber & all other compounded things into Ashes some few excepted towit such as are Mercuriall, wch either wholly remain or wholly fly away out of the fire without any seperation being made of their parts. For Vulcan is a most cruell Executioner who calls all things that are mixt & compounded of Elements to his Tryall & Judgmt. some few onely being excepted from his Tribunall by the speciall Priviledge & Indulgence of Nature who is Empresse of all things over [illegible] alone unlesse he joins to him the Areopagites as other assistant Judges Salamanders are such as are above his Violence which they doe not feare Avicen in his Porta reckons up the various Temperaments of bodyes wch are all unequall & therefore corruptible by Fire & other injuryes. But He affirms that there is one exactly Equall which has as much heat as Cold and as much siccity as moisture not according to Weight but Justice as the Physicians term it and this is that which is more Patient then Agent. in which if Fire endeavours to resolve water its Adversary into Air that is its Familiar. Earth does not admitt this Resolucon because it is incorporated with water And the Internall Fire of the Compound doth by its suffrage approve this prelence of the Earth because he is the intimate Friend of the Earth Therefore Vulcans Judgement wavers who tryes yet another Intrigue by endeavouring to burn the Earth into Ashes as he uses to doe But water adhering to Earth brings Exceptions against Him & shows that she is United to the Earth and the Air to Her As the Fire by one side is to the Earth Therefore He that would reduce the Earth to Ashes would likewise reduce the other Elements And so Vulcan being disappointed suspends his Judgement least He should become ridiculous This Body is like the Truest Salamander in which the Elements are Equalld by the Ballance of their Powers. Concerning this Rosarius out of Geber saith. Likewise the Philosopher would have the substance of mercury mortified, but naturally his Mercury is in that Venerable Stone as is plain to all men therefore&c. Also the Philosopher would have the substance of Mercury Fixd as is Evident because he teacheth the ways of Fixing with many Cautions & devices But who can doubt the substance of that precious stone to be most Fixd? certainly no man that knows it By which it appears that the stone is by Fixation to be reducd to the Nature of the Salamander that is to the greatest Fixednesse wch neither declines or refuses Fire. For it is no Salamander till it has learnt to endure Fire with the utmost patience, which must of necessitye be effected in long processe of time. Hereafter in ye 35th Emblematicall discourse it will be showne how Achilles and Triptolemus were by night placd under Embers of Fire till they could endure the most Vehement Heat who likewise by use and custome attaind to the propertyes of a Salamander For Custom is a second Nature But unlesse Nature communicates the Power and as a Mistresse begins the Alteracon Custom will be able to do little or nothing And thence it is impossible to Fix Ice at the Fire, but to fix Christall is possible because Nature has begun it. The same must be thought of Watry & Volatile Mercury which in its own Nature cannot be Fixd but by the Marriage & coition ~~with~~ of Sulphur which is the Philosophicall Tincture and Fixes all flying spirits

Emblem 30th Luna is as requisite to Sol as a Hen to a Cock

Avicen in his Book de Anima does severall time us this admonition That no Eggs should be taken by the Artist unlesse they were of such Hens as had been trod by a Cock That is that the female subject is of no value wthout the Virtue of the Male & so on the contrary that the cock is of no Use without the Hen For these two sexes are to be joind in ye Philosophicall Coop that so multiplicacon may from thence proceed But the Philosophers do more especially use this similitude of a Cock because he has a nearer correspondence wth the Power of ye Sulphur then the Male of any other kind of Birds seeing one Cock can preside over many Hens & does not easily endure any Rivall upon the Territoryes of his owne Dunghill for He knows & esteems himself to be sufficient for all his mates He is the Bird of Mars, made as the Poets feign by the Transformacon of ye boy Gallus whose buisnesse it was to Watch the Sun least he should espye the Adultery wch Mars comitted wth Venus & then is very Martiall in War for He will fight with his Enemy even till death in ye Philosophicall work he represents the Sun as the Hen does the moon For there is ye same necessity of joining Sol wth Luna as the Cock wth the Hen. The Cock is likewise sacred to the Sun wth whom he both rises & goes to sleep He often looks up to Heaven & erects his Tayle on high wch falls in the shape of a sickle He fights for his Hens against Serpents He is the forerunner of Light & is Lovd by Latona because he was present at her delivery For Latona brought forth Sol & Luna from whence ye Cock is appropriated both to the mother & the son. But Sol Luna & Latona agree wth Chemicall subjects & so do the Cock & Hen, for these two came out of Eggs & doe likewise produce Eggs from whence their Chickens may be hatchd. so likewise the Philosophers have their Eggs wch will passe into birds of ye same kind if they are nourishd wth a temperate Heat such as the Heat of a Hen that setts who remains upon them continually For whereas among other Birds the male setts upon the Eggs the Cock onely shews himself to be free from that Office & Burthen when all the care & labour of hatching the Chickens & breeding them up mostly upon the Hen wherein her diligence & Industry is very remarkable wth what hast she eats & drinks & performs all the necessaryes of Nature that she may run back to her Eggs least ye should grow cold Then wth Force & eagernesse she defends her Chickens with how lowd a voice like that of a Bell she calls & clucks them together with what Endeavours she bruises and Cutts with her Bill

All as ye [illegible] least Eggs should be wanting for the food of mankind or ye production of Chickens After the same manner the Philosopher or Artist makes the provision for all his operacons For he gathers his Eggs from such places where a Cock has been treading & diligently searches least ye be wind Eggs after that he cleanses seperates & disposes them in his Vessels as in Nests he administers proper heat to them by wch from day to day ye subjects coming among themselves do mutually Act & suffer till after a long time passing thro Various Colours they at last arrive at one Colour & Essence In wch work solucon coagulacon sublimacon A[illegible]ion Descension Distillacon Calcinacon & Fixion must be perform[illegible] intermediate operacons. For what is hard & compact cannot be alterd Therefore solucon must precede that so it may grow soft & liquid But when a thing is dissolvd then it must be coagulated not to its former Hardnesse but to a Tractablenesse proportionate to that of Honey Then sublimacon seperates ye Pure from the Impure & makes what was Vile become Honourable & advances Inferiour to a superiour. whence this cannot be wanting but is like ye mistresse & Governesse of all the rest Whilst this sublimacon is performd some parts mount upwards wch is ascension & others fall downwards wch is descension: afterwards Distillacon being often repeated clarifies the whole & that wch remains at ye bottom is calcind. Then both are Fixd & ye work is perfected But a man may in truth reduce all these speciall operacons to one Generall wch is Coction For as severall Chickens wch run about are Cluckd together under one Hen who is their Mother & nurse so these various courses & methods of operacon run all into one wch is the work of the woman that is Coction. It is the moon that must be exalted to the sublimenesse of the Sun & all these things are transacted for her sake That is the finall intent is a durable Marriage between the sun & moon & when that is accomplishd all Embassies contract congresses mistrusts shall have an End there will be one bed & one Flesh The Love mutuall & constant the league indissolvable & peace eternall. The Sun without the Moon is of no great Esteem & the Moon without the sun is of an abject condicon and Vile Originall But it is from her Husband the sun that she receives splendor Dignity & strength or Firmenesse both of mind & Body And the Sun obteins from the Moon the Multiplicacon of his Offspring & the Propagacon of his Kind Hence Rosarius says if there were onely one of them in our stone the Medicine would never flow easily nor give the Tincture, nor if it did give it. it would not Tinge but for as much as was in it & the remainder & mercury wold Fly away in smoak because a Receptacle of the Tincture would not be in it And Geber, in libro Examinum proves that if Sol and Luna were incorporated togither wth Art they are not easily to be seperated

Emblem 31 The King swimming in the Sea cryes out wth a Lowd Voice He that delivers me shall have a great reward

Discourse 31st

The first Rudiments of all Discipline were antiently ye knowledge of swimming & the Institution of letters & from hence it used to be said of a rude unpolisht man that he could neither swim nor read For the Antients considerd that swimming would oftentimes prove a means to save & deliver the Body from the dangers of the water as ye knowledge of letters would the mind amidst all the waves of Fortune. Swimming is as necessary in War as Learning is at home in the times of peace And as we observe that Brutes have their Weapons in readinesse & provided by Nature but that Man instead thereof has his wit & hands given him agt all externall Force that as one contrives his Arms the other may use them, so the same Beasts have the faculty of swimming naturally implanted in them, wch man has not for they often will escape tho very Young from those waters in wch the most skillfull & strongest man will be drownd It was therefore needfull to enjoin the exercise of swimming to Children it being usefull towards the preservacon of their lives that what was wanting by Nature might be supplyd by the Use of Art The same Exercise has been usd by Noblemen Princes & Kings for the safeguard of their Persons for they who are descended from Noble blood are not wholly Exempted from the chances of fortune but exposd to them as well as other men If Dionysius had neither understood swimming or letters when he was driven out of his Kingdom of Sicily as a Tyrant he would have perishd in the Waves of the Sea when he was shipwreckd in ye Corinthian Gulf neither could he have to Corinth as there to setup a School to teach boys & professe humane Learning from a King being made a Schoolmaster & wielding a rod instead of a Scepter that Satyricall Proverb Dionysius of Corinth In the like manner if the Royall Son of the Philosophers had not been able to swim no man would have heard his Voice nor relievd him being long since drownd in the Waters. Swimming therefore is necessary & usefull to all degrees of men for altho it cannot presently deliver a man from the surges of the Vast ocean yet it gives him time of Life whereby he may be savd by others. but this King sustains himself the longest time of all & cryes out even to this day tho he be seen or heard by a very Few by reason of the Vastnesse of the sea & his remotenesse For by chance in swimming he hath touchd upon a Rock or a very great stone where he may remain in of y Waves prevail [illegible] what kind of Sea this [illegible] it is the Erythrean or the Red Sea subject to the Tropick of Cancer, whose Bottom there being the most abundant Quantity of Magne it is not safe for ships compacted of or Loaden wth Iron to sail on it, for they may easily be drawn to the Bottom by the Force of the Magn Which the King befor mentiond being ignorant of & ye rest perishing when their ship sunk he alone Escaped by swimming. A Crown still remaining upon him shining like [illegible]y Rubies by wch he might easily be known & restord to his [illegible]n But what are these good things wch this Royall Son is ~~able~~ or willing to bestow on him by whom he should be restord to his own Kingdom? Certainly not such rewards as Ptolemy the last King of Egypt bestowd on Pompey by whom his Father was restord to that Kingdom towit Perfidiousness & De[illegible] But Health the removeall of diseases the preservacon of life free from them the Use of things necessary & the Horn of plenty wth Love & Honour which being things not mean & Ordinary but the cheif Viaticks & ornaments of this Life. Who, except he be stupi would not desire them? Who would not swim to Him? Who would not stretch forth his hand & draw him into to Boat? But care mus be taken least in rescueing this Prince his Diadem should fall int the Sea For then He would scarce be acknowledged for the King or receivd by his subjects, Because then would perish the Pyropus venerable to all men, because then the Bezoar Stone assureing Health to all men would Vanish quite away Hence, the Rosary quotes Aristotle in these Words: Chuse to thyself a Stone, that by wch Kings are reverencd in their Diadems & by wch Physicians can cure their Patients. because it is near to Fire For without a Medicinall Virtue a Crown would be of no Value But what is to be done to the King when he is so deliverd? First from those Waters he had receivd in He must be releivd by sudorificks, from Cold by the Heat of fire, from the Numnesse of his Limbs by Baths moderately Hot, from Hunger & want of food by the Administracon convenient Diet & from other Externall maladies by their contrarys & Health-restoring Remedyes Then must a Royall match be provided from him & in due time there shall arise from him an Offspring most desireable most belovd by all men most beautifull & most fruitfull who shall excell all his Ancestors in strength Kingdoms Dominions people Riches & Wealth & shall subdue his Enemyes not by War but gentlenesse not by Tyranny but Clemency which is genuine & peculiar to Him

Emblem 32 As Corall grows un[illegible]ater & is hardend by the Air so also is the Stone.

Discourse. 32.

The Philosophers call their Stone a Vegetable because it Vegetates grow & is increasd & multiplies like a plant. This indeed to the ignorant seem strange & contrary to the Truth it being, as they think) manifest tha Stones do neither Vegetate nor grow after this manner nor that the can any ways appertain to such Metalls as may be liquefied or melte but they are deceivd in their Judgements For, whatever is unknown to them, that they beleive not to be in Nature, measuring the immensity of the Universe by their own Capacities. For who would ever have beleivd that a Stone should grow under Waters or a plant there generated shou become a Stone unlesse Experience & the credible testimony of Writers had confirmd it. Where does that petrifying, where does that tinging Virtu wch hardeneth & tingeth Corall exist? whether in that Water or in the Air We may reasonably beleive it to be as they affirme a soft & flexible plant whilst it is under the Waters yet of a Very earthy Nature wch when it is cut & exposd to the cold winds becomes hard & may be broke like a Ston for the watry parts which abound are dryed up by a cold and dry Air (for Northern Winds bring drynesse along with them) & the Earthy bod which remains having cold & drynesse as its qualities is congeald. Bu constriction or the binding faculty is the Earth alone not in the water or Air as to either of their genuine or proper qualities The Sea likewise in other places produces three Medicinall Stones taken partly from the Vegetable Kind partly from the Animal or rather earthy from the hidden secrets of Nature as Pearl Amber & Amber Gryse The Production of Pearls & the Way of taking them is known to Us. but not of the rest Amber is gatherd upon the Sea Coast of on the Shores after a most Vehement wch without doubt boyls out of the Earth into the Veins of the Sea or is washd out by the Water & driven by the Waves to the Shore for we have seen some Veins of Iron & silver growing to & in the Amber, wch could not be done but in the earth. But that Flies Gnatt Spiders Butterflies Froggs Serpents should be seen in some peices of it (we our selves having had 120. beads turnd out of Amber wch did every one contain some Flies gnatts Spiders Butterflies & one of them not without a singular miracle of Nature had nine of em together) happens by the influence & Imaginacon of the Heaven as we have elsewhere demonstrated That Ambergryse is found after the same manner upon the Shores of the East & West Indies cannot be denyi & tho some declare it to be the juice or Gum of Trees (as they do ye Ambe before mentiond) yet they who conceive it to be produced out of ye Vein of the Earth do judge more probably For Trees that bear Amber or be they must certainly grow in open Air & not conceiv -fore ascribe both sorts of Amber to subterraneous Veins or Mines we do Pearls to Zoophyta or Plant-animals & Corall to the Vegetables The Stone of the Philosophers is likend to these & Especially to Corall For as Corall grows in the Waters & draws Nutriment from the Earth so also the Philosophick [illegible] concreted out of Mercuriall Water & has taken thence whatever [illegible]thy in it towards its own Augmentacon the superfluous m[illegible]re expiring The Red Colour likewise is raisd upon the Corall by the coagulacon which the Moderns call the Tincture of Coralls & so it is in ye Physicall stone wch becomes red in ye last Congelacon of it & appears like the red[illegible] Corall which is the Tincture But the Corall grows hard by th[illegible]ld & Drye, the stone by the Hot & Drye wch being augmented [illegible] likewise dissolves contrary to the Nature of other Stones [illegible] do indeed dissolve but run into glasse wch thing is in nowise agreeable to this And as Corall is prepared into severall Medicines of great Virtue so also hath the Philosophicall Corall transfird into itself the Virtues of all Herbs & can alone performe as much as the medicines of all Vegetables For ye Celestiall Sun who infuses a medicinall Virtue & Efficacy to Vegetables has given more to this Son of his then to all others, This is the Philosophicall Corall Vegetable, animall, & Minerall wch lyes hid in the Vast Ocean & is not known unlesse it be put into the hands & exposd to the Eyes of the Ignorant. But it must be cut of whilst it is under the Waters & that with very great Caution least it loose its juice & blood & nothing remain but a Terrestriall Chaos without its True Forme For herein consists all the difficulty of gathering Corall and besides this scarce any occurrs. By these waters I understand the superfluous humidity which kills the Stone unlesse it be seperated which does not suffer the Coralline Rednesse to appear and which admitts of no Coagulacon whilst it is present——

Emblem 33d The Hermaphrodite lying like dead man in darkness wants Fire. Discours 33d

It is remarkable in Nature that at the coming on of Winter Froggs & Leaches lye under Water as if they were dead & in the Spring by the Operacon of the Suns heat recover sense & mocon so as to be able to perform the Actions of a sensible life But if in the winter time they be found in the water & brought into Warm Air or a Stove immediately they begin to move as in Summer From whence it appears that nothing is wanting to them but externall Heat to excite the Naturall internall heat & bring to Action. After the same manner do the Philosophers speak of their Hermaphrodite For if he appears dead as he lyes in darknesse he then requires the Heat of Fire. But he is said to lye in darknesse as being left in a dark & most cold winters night that is remains in blacknesse wch is a sign of Cold, from wch he ought by a greater intension of Fire to be brought to whitenesse & by a greater still to Rednesse. For without Heat as Bodillus in the Turba says nothing is generated & a Bath of intense heat causeth a Body to perish But if it be cold it drives it away But if it be temperate it becomes agreeable & pleasant to the Body Bonellus likewise says. All things that live do also dye according to gods pleasure Therefore that Nature from whom moisture is taken when it is exposd by night seems like a dead man & then that Nature wants fire till the Body & Spirit of it be turnd into Earth & then it becomes dust like a dead man in his Tomb These things being accomplishd God restores ye Spirit & Soul to it & all infirmity being taken away our Nature is comforted & amended It is requisite therefore to burn that matter without fear &c. Fire therefore wch destroys all other things repairs this & is is its Life as it is their Death— One onely Phœnix there is wch is restord by Fire wch is renewd by Flame & revivd out of Ashes & this being known to the Philosophers onely is burnt & restord to life. whatever others fabulously may report of a certain Bird that never yet was seen or had any Being. The Hermaphrodite of wch the Philosophers speak is of a mixt Nature Male & Female one of wch passes into the other by the Operaion of Heat For from a female it becomes a male wch ought not to seem strange in ye Work of ye Philosophers since if History may be credited severall examples of it may be found The Poets mencon of Ceneus Iphis & Tiresias as Pontanus in book de Stellis

here ye latin verses follow

So when Licinius Crassus & C. Cassius Longinus were Con a boy was made of a Virgin & Licinius Mutianus as he is quo by Pliny relates that he had seen one Aristo whose name had be Aristusa and that she had been marryed But that she soon after had a beard, & manhood appearing the same person became a ~~woman~~ Husband Pliny himself says ~~that~~ in Africa he saw Lucius Cossicius a Citizen of   changd into a man upon the day of his marriage. These things are true & might be proved by many other Examples if there were occasion for it is certain that by the increase of heat the genitall parts are thrust out of the Body: for seing a woman is much colder then a male and has those parts hidden within wch a man has outwardly as the Physicians say, hereupon Nature being dubious whether she should generate a man or a woman expresses a woman outwardly tho inwardly she intended a man for wch reason heat & motion increasing wth age the hidden parts brake forth & became apparent After the same manner it is with the Philosophers for by the increase of heat their woman becoms a man that is their Hermaphrodite looses the female sex & becoms a man stout & grave, having nothing in him of Effeminate softnesse & levity so we sometime since saw a noble youth that was an Hermaphrodite changd or rather promoted into a perfect man not uncapable (as it was hopd) of getting Children for a New passage was made through the Yard which wanted one & the other as appertaining to the Woman was stopd And this piece of Chirurgery was performd by Caspar Tagliacottius that famous Chirurgeon of Bononia The Philosophers are not without their manuall operatons, for when the coldnesse & the moistnesse of the Moon appears that they call the Woman. when the Heat & drynesse of the Sun that is the Man. When all these for qualities together then is their Rebis or Hermaphrodite & thus conversion of the Woman that is of coldnesse & moisture may Easily be made into the Man wch is done by the sole Heat of Fire as hath been said For Heat sequesters & seperates the superfluityes of moisture & will Establish the Idea of the Philosophicall subject which is the Tincture

Emblem 34th He is conceivd in Baths born in ye Air & being made red walks upon the waters

Discourse 34th

The opinion or Flattery of men has attributed severall wonderfull Births or Originalls to some persons above others but they are certainly Fabulous. so it is said that Alexander the great was not begot by Philip King of Macedon but by Jupiter Hammon, Romulus & Remus by Mars & that Plato sprang from ye Virgin Perictione conceiving by a Phantasme of Apollo so the Heathen would demonstrate themselves to born from the Gods, as also Thessalus the son of Hippocrates ye Physician would among other things perswade the Athenians that he was born from Apollo But we give no credit to these things for we know that ~~they~~ from whom ~~they~~ would deduce their Originall were neither men nor Gods & if there were any Heroes among Mortalls who might have been reputed Divine we think it to have proceded from ye flattery of their subjects or disciples speaking & writing great things of them however false to gain a reputaton of them in the World But the thing is different that the Philosophers ascribe an unusuall conception & Nativity to their Son for he hath somthing above all other things born in the World, for he is concivd in Baths, born in the Air We know that women being barren be reason of too much coldnesse & siccity are much helpd by hot baths so as to be made able & fit for conception but that such conception ought to be or can be in such Baths is a thing unheard of. That seems to be peculiar to him alone from the wonderfull power of Nature wch is far different from all others In other places they say that his conception ought to be in the bottom of ye Vessell & his birth in the Alembeck: which opinion is still more clear. For the waters of the Baths if there be any will neither be in ye Top nor in the middle but in the bottom of the Vessell & in the Alembeck will be Vapours that are aeriall Therefore when conception is made he ascends into the Alembeck & his Birth appears in a White Colour. Blacknesse rules in ye bottom, of this saith the Rosary It is conception when the Earth is dissolvd into a black powder & begins to retain somwhat of the Mercury for then the male acts upon the female that is Azoth upon the Earth And a little after conception & Desponsacon is made in putrefaction in the bottom of the Vessell & the generacon of things generated is made in the ~~Air~~ towre in the Head of the Vessell that is the Alembeck And conception in Baths is nothing but putrefaction in Dung for the same Rosary proceeds the Body does nothing unlesse it be putrefied & it cannot be putrefied but wth Mercury & again let putrefaction be made with the most gentle heat of warm and [illegible] thing & by [illegible] other thing [illegible] thing asend there would be a seperation of the parts wch ought not to be till the male & female be perfectly joind together & one receive the other whose sign of perfect solucon is blacknesse in the superficies His birth is white wch is made on the Top of mountains that is in the Air or the Alembeck This is explaind by Rosnus ad Euthiciam, after this manner the Wiseman said take things out of their mines & exalt them to higher places & send them from the Top of their mountains & reduce them to their roots. By Mountains he signifies Cucurbites & by the Tops of mountains Alembecks & to send after that way of speaking is to receive the Waters of em thro an Alembeck in a Receiver And to reduce to their roots. is to that from wch they proceed & he calls Cucurbitys mountains because Sol & Luna are found in mountains so also in their Mountains wch are Cucurbites their Sol & Luna is generated & so far this Author Afterwards the Son of the Philophers becomes red & begins to go upon the Waters that is upon Metalls melted by Fire wch stand in ye form of a Mercuriall water For he is the Lord of Waters upon wch he exercises Authority as Neptune is King of the Sea & possessor of Mountains Story tells us of Xerxes King of Persia that being upon an Expedicon into Greece he sent an Embassy to the Sea & to the Mountain Athos that they would doe him no wrong either that by its waves or this by the force of Fire otherwise he would be revengd upon them both But the Tale was told to them that were deaf for the Sea drownd some of his ships & Athos destroyd not a few of them by Fire Hereupon the King being angry did as Lord of the Sea and Mountains command a certain number of stripes to be inflicted upon the first & a great part of the Mountain to be cast into the Sea But these things demonstrate rather the rashnesse then prudence of so great a King But he concerning whom we speak purgeth all waters from Obstacles & impurities not onely by his command but Actions & freely passes thro them & what is still more wondrous congeals them that ye same waters in wch ships saild before may by their hardnes endure his charriot wheels, He levels mountains with Valleys and fears not the flames of Fire & therefor marches without opposition from the Columns of Hercules to ye utmost coasts of India where are seated the Columns of Dionysius

After this manner therefore it is convenient to amend & direct Nature to the best things for she is pliable as Wax either to Vice or Virtue What he demonstrated to be true in Politicks the Philosophers do agree to be true also in Physicks The Examples of the whole world show how custom prevails over man & Beast & severall occurr likewise in Vegetables, but in mineralls & metallick bodyes we have not so much experience Nevertheless it is by much use & Custom that the Philophers fix their Stone in Fire proper for it, & this they declare in abundance of their Writings For it must be nourishd by fire as a child by milk upon its mothers breasts Hence Emiganus says Behold the Infant sucking & hinder him not, And Bodillus says The babe being born is nourishd by milk & Fire alone & by little & little whilst he is very Young & the more he is burnt his bones are strengthend untill he is brought to Youth & having attaind to that he is able to provide for himself & Arnold in ye Rosary says L: 2 C: 1. Yet the Medicine must be long time roasted by Fire & nourishd as a child by the breast The Ancient Philosophers would demonstrate these very things to be the Allegories of Triptolemus & Achilles & their using to lye under Fires & be hardend by them since each of them denote nothing else but the Chemicall Subject, for otherwise it would be an insipid fable unfit to be applied to morality & not worthy of the consideraćon of the learned, Ceres as a Nurse nourishd Triptolemus all day wth her milk & at night placd him in the Fires by wch means the boy being very well grown his Father Eleusius at a certein season took notice of it Hence Ceres killd Eleusius & gave the boy Triptolemus a chariot drawn by serpents in wch he passd through the Air into all parts of the world & taught mankind how to sow Corn. Now this Triptolemus is the Philosophick Tincture nourishd by Fire after the same manner which being carried by serpents that is Mercury taught men how the Philosophers should cast their seeds into the Earth. These same things are ascribd to Osyris who went round the Earth for the same reason as we have demonstrated in another place, & to Dionysius who travelld through the world to teach men the use of wine For these three Triptolemus Dionysius & Osyris have one design & office & indeed are one thing as is likewise Achilles who was the strongest man that was sent to the Trojan war His Father was Peleus that is the Earth or the mountein Peleus. His mother was Thetis or the Goddesse of the sea or waters & from these Achilles was born. But at their Nuptialls the Apple of Eris or discord was produc wch was the first cause of the Trojan War. Achilles therefore being sprung from such a marriage no wonder if he be ye cheif Instrument of that war. Achilles is likewise said to be hardend by his Mother after ye same manner as Triptolemus was before & of this we have treated at large in the sixth book of our Hieroglyphicks Therefore the Nutriment of the Stone is Fire but it is not from thence as some Vainly think that it is extended into length breadth & depth nor receives increase in weight for it acquires onely Virtue Maturity & Colour from ye Fire All other things are Viaticks & provision it brings along wth itself For when from diverse places its parts are gatherd purgd & conjoind it has all things requisite for it in itself Whence this Verse of the Philosopher in the Rosary. Omnia fert secum quibus indiget hoc aquisitum — For from the beginning to the very end nothing that is foreign is added to it unlesse it be Homogeneous and nothing is seperated but what is Heterogeneous. But every man ought to take care that he be very well acquainted wth those Dragons that are to be joind to the Charriot of Triptolemus before he undertake any thing for they are winged & Volatile & if You desire to know them You will find them in the Philosophicall Dung, for they are dung & generated from Dung & are that Vessell wch Maria affirms not to be Necromantick but that Regiment of ye Fire without wch You will effect nothing I have disclosd the Truth to You which I have gatherd out of the monuments of the Ancients by incredible labour and the expence of many Years

Emblem 36th. The Stone that is Mercury is cast upon ye Earth exalted on Mountains resides in ye Air & is nourishd in ye water —

All persons that have once heard of the name or power of ye Stone unlesse they are altogether incredulous ask presently where it may be found that so they may run directly to it The Philosophers answer is twofold First that Adam brought it wth him out of Paradise that is in You & me & every Man that birds flying bring it wth em out of far Countries secondly that it may be found in the Earth Mounteins Air & Rivers Which path therefore must be taken? I say both but in a different respect although the last pleases us best & seems most safe It is said to be thrown upon the Earth because the Element of Earth does first appear in an obscure & black body Then because it is Vile & of small price wch is trod upon in ye path of the Traveller & in the very Dung it self Hence Rosarius says Although I should name it by its Name the Fools would not beleive it to be the Thing. And Morienus his Answer to Calid whether much of it is to be found? is this. It is not this unlesse as the Wise-man says it be both to the Poor & Rich to the Liberall & ye Covetous to him that goeth as well as sitteth for this is thrown in the way & is trampled on in its Dunghills & many have already dug in Dunghills that they might extract it thence but they have been deceivd Mundus likewise in the Turba says If they who sell it did but know it they would not sell it so cheaply & Arnoldus affirms that the Stone may be had gratis in as great plenty as any man can desire neither will he be forcd to to ask for it. All wch things are True For who but a Churle will deny Earth & water to him that asks it? The Ancient Cimbri as History tells us when they were denyd the benefit of these two things by the Romans enterd Italy wth large Armyes & slew severall thousans of ye Romans together wth their Consuls For the Earth as the Mother of all things is most precious as it is the last matter of things putrefied it is most Vile For nothing can be Viler then mud or dirt wch yet is nothing else but Earth mixt wth Water, What is more common then a Clod of earth? But Euripylus the Son of Neptune offerd it to the Argonautick Heroes as a present & they not refuseing it but accepting of it gratefully & Medea having dissolvd in water divind many things by it For it is necessary that Earth be dissolvd in water otherwise neither one or the other will be of any Value After this

=ding it does not remain [illegible] a thing abject but [illegible] such as Athos Vesuvius Ætna & others that send forth Flamis many whereof are to be seen in divers parts of the world For in these there burns a perpetuall Fire wch sublimes the Stone & exalts it to the highest dignity As it grows in mountains in a rude form from Sulphur & Argent Vive so it is perfected & brought to maturity upon ye Tops of Mountains where else grows that Herb without wch ye fire cannot be temperd because this being cold & moist & so thrown into ye fire repells the Vehemence of it by its contrary Nature From the mountains it passes into the Air where it finds a habitacon for the Air is its house that incloses it which is nothing else then that it is carried in ye belly of the wind & born in the Air, wch ways of speaking we have explaind before. At last he is fed in Rivers that is Mercury is fed in waters & thence the Athenians celebrated certain Feasts in his Honor wch they calld Hydrophoria for the Matter of the Philosophicall Stone is water as the Rosary saith & is understood of the water of those three. For wch reason Mercury is likewise said to have three heads as being Marine celestiall & Terrestriall because he is present in the Water Earth & Air He is said to be Educated by Vulcan and given to Thievery because Mercury is taught to be accustomd to Fire altho it is Volatile & carries away whatever is mixt wth it. He gave Lawes ~~to the~~ & Discipline to the Ægyptians and anciently instituted the Religion of ye Theban Preists & great part of the world besides For the Egyptians had their policy & sacred Rites from Chemicall Institutions from them the Grecians receivd them & lastly the Romans as we have in other places abundantly demonstrated. He slew Argus wth a piece of a Rock or Stone & turnd Battus into a Touch Stone what need of many words? All the Volumes of ye Chemists are nothing else but repetitions concerning Mercury & they sufficiently confirm his power by this one Verse. Est in Mercurio quicquid quærunt sapientes. What wisemen seek in Mercury is found. Here therefore he must be sought for till he may be found whether he remain in the Air the Fire the Water or the Earth For he is wandring now running hither now thither to perform the Services of the Chemick Gods for he is their Footman which is declared to be his proper Office when some men ascribe to him a Daughter calld Angelia

Emblem 37. Three things are sufficient for the Magistery, ~~that~~ the white Fume that is water, the Green Lyon that is the Brasse of Hermes & aqua fœtida. Discourse. 37th

As there are three things Essentially necessary to the building of a Fabrick so that if either of them be absent there can be no perfection in it & these are the Foundacon the walls & the Roof so the same number is requisite for the compounding of the Philosophick compound wch are here namd by their proper Names The Authour of Aurora speaking of the seperacon of ye Elements in his 25th Chap. says, that the Earth is left there that the other three Elements may be rooted in it, for if that were not there they would have no foundacon whereupon they might build a new repository for their Treasures. This Foundacon is here calld Aqua fœtida wch is the Mother of all Elements as Rosarius declares, from wch, by wch & with wch the Philosophers prepare It. that is their Elixir both in ye beginning & in the End This water is calld Fœtida because it sends forth a sulphureous Stink like that of Sepulchres This is the water which Pegasus Struck out of Parnassus wth his hoof which Nonacris a mountain of Arcadia produces gushing out of a Rock at the Top of it, wch can be preservd in nothing but the hoof of a Horse by reason of its most excessive ~~coldness~~ strength This is ye water of ye Dragon (as Rosarius calls it) wch ought to be made by an Alembick without adding any other thing, in the makeing whereof there is an extraordinary Stink some persons misunderstanding these words have betook themselves to the distillacon of the Dung of man or other animalls in wch operacon they perceivd indeed a very vehement Stink but found nothing else but Dung in their Dung But do not suppose the Philosophers to be beetles that work in Dunghills for you must know that the Stink if it be any is presently changd into a great Fragrancy as Lully asserts of his Quintessence to wch if it be rightly made he ascribes so sweet a Savor that being placd on the Top of a House it allures to it Birds that are upon the wing & causes em to stay there. But he places his Quintessence in Dung by whose temperate Heat the Fragrancy follows. some men have tried this wth strong wine but in Vain and therefore have accusd Lully of Vanity whereas they were rather to be reprovd for their folly that never tasted of this wine of Lully but that the Aureus Poeta understood Lully much better when when in the eleventh book of his Chrysopœia he sings thus. qu-

Arnon ille quidem &c:

after the Aqua fœtida comes the Green Lyon, concerning wch Rosarius says. You have sought after Greenesse supposeing that Brasse was a Leprous body because of that greenesse wch it hath & therefore I declare to You that whatsoever is perfect in Brasse is that greenesse alone wch is in it because that Greenesse is by our Magistery suddenly turnd into our most true gold & this we have experiencd But You can no way prepare the Stone wthout Duenech green & liquid wch is seen to spring in our mines. O blessed greenesse that dost generate all things For as You know that no Vegetable or Fruit appears in its Bud without a Green Colr: so in like manner the generacon of this thing is green wherefore ye Philosophers call it the Bud & so far Rosarius This the Philosophers Gold & Brasse & Stone noted in the Chapters A Fume Vapor & water the Spittle of Luna wch is joind to the Light of Sol This Green Lyon fights wth the Dragon but is overcome & in processe of time devourd by him & the Lyon being putrefied sweetnesse is Expected to proceed out of his mouth (as if had been slain by Samson) The Dragon getting the upper hand so fill himself wth the Lyons flesh as a while afterwards to burst himself & Dye From which seeing the Lyons Fat can daily by it self cure Feavours & make grace & Favr: mutually spring up between King & people that are annointed therewith there may be made of it a most excellent Medicine wch will be most healing in many maladyes In the third place follows the white Fume wch if it be coagulated becomes water & performs ye Office of water in washing dissolving & takeing away spots like Soap This the Fire against Nature wch take care that You find out & it is so calld because it is contrary to Natures undoeing & destroying that wch she with her diligent Care hath compounded This is a Fire not kindled from a spirit of wine or Oyle but from an incombustible matter of Equall duracon & Heat & is a Fire without Light & combustion of great Virtue & Efficacy which seeing it does not shine cannot without difficulty be found in the Dark, but it is still more hard to apply it rightly to the work. whose circumstances & propertyes we have sufficiently describd in divers places

Emblem 38 Rebis is as Hermaphrodites produced from ye two mountains of Mercury & Venus.

Discourse

Socrates being askd what Countryman he was answerd that he was Cosmopolita or a Citizen of ye world by wch his intention was to signify that tho he was born at Athens as to person yet in his mind he could freely run thro the whole world & all things containd in it and look upon that as his Country For the wise man that lives well is at home every where So if any man ask the Philosophrs what Countryman their Hermaphrodite is they answer that he belongs to the world or is in all the Corners of the world where the Elements can be found as being the son of the wise & consequently has a Country common wth them But since one man is not borne twice or oftener nor enters into this light in diverse places but in one only as Socrates the Athenian is acknowledgd to have done so Rebis is thought to be the Inhabitant of two mountains to wit of Mercury & Venus from whence the Name of Hermaphrodite is derivd to him from both his Parents His house is Mountainous & is Country is high & therefore he exists by things got in a High place A Noble & large Country are no small helps towards the performance of great Actions for there men are promoted to publick offices & need not lye in obscurity as it happens to Persons born in mean places where it is difficult by their proper merit & Virtue to arise from a small fortune to be a glory to their Country In this manner these mountains unknown to many men acquire fame from ye Hermaphrodite by reason of his Illustrious actions & Name famous thorough out all the world For who, tho never so little verst in the Books of the Philosophers hath not heard of ye Name of Rebis? Who hath not seen & considerd Androgynus wth two heads? His fame has been known even amongst the Indians & is dispersd farther then that of Alexander. Many goe from far Countries to see & discourse wth a learned man or one particularly famous for War or any othr Art or Science But many men would travell to ye mountains of Rebis if they could know where they may be found Morienus testifies in his book wth what care & study he departed from Rome to make diligent search after Adfers Alexandrinus & at last found him & is therefore to be accounted more happy & acceptable to God in that he had a Liveing Teacher & not Dumb Masters, whereby He

Nor must they use lesse diligence & [illegible] who by themselves [illegible] reason & out of Books would seek for thy Country For although there may seem to be some clearnesse in them somtimes Yet are they so Vaild & clouded wth intricacy & obscurity that it is very difficult to distinguish one thing from another. Wherefore we must cautiously proceed wth them least they wch are prepard for remedies may be usd for poisens They are an immense Ocean in wch expert Mariners sailing by Astronomicall Instruments may know the Latitude or the Elevacon of the Æquator above the Horizon. the Magnet showing the North pole But as for the Longitude or how many degrees space they are distant from ye first meridian wch is next to the Fortunate Islands they cannot discover From whence they are uncertain in what place they are between East & west. What is therefore to be done? That wch the same Mariners use to doe, consult experience wth reason & thereby learn how to determine a long Voyage by particular signs Promontoryes Islands & other things that they may not for want of consideracon fall upon sands & Rocks. But here is lesse danger if the thing do not prosper, but if it does there are hopes of greater gain then there where goods & life are all lost in an hour Now this mountain of the Philosophicall Mercury is not Nonacris nor Atlas where sometimes it is reported to be brought forth. but Parnassus wth two Tops in one of wch Hermes resides in the other Venus. Here also is Apollo & the Muses & Hippocrene the Fountain of Pegasus & Lawrells that are always green It is one mountain in Name but in reality it is two, as Hermaphroditus is beheld wth two heads & two members in one Body But what man of a thousand perishes in the ascending to the Top of this Mountain? Who does not stop at the bottom? being hindred by variety of obstacles? who is there almost that attains to the middle of it. For wherefore it is no strange thing of one in ten thousand undertake these Herculean Labours so as to set their Foot on the Top of the Mountain & enjoy the immortall reward of a Lawrell garland. Which That all those that are upright docible & addicted to Learning & Virtue may receive wth Joy but that may be depriv'd thereof is much to be hop'd for & desir'd

Discourse. 39th

Bacasser the Philosopher in the Turba. That wch you seek for says He is of no small value for you seek the greatest Treasure & most excellent gift of God And learn o ye Students, that wch the Philosophers have long times intimated saying, that Truth is not discern'd but by Error & that nothing begets more greif to the Heart then Error in this work for when a man thinks he has done & hath the world he shall find nothing in his hands The Antient Philosophers would intimate these same things under the Emblem of Sphyngx & her propositions whereby they might set forth the obscurity & intricacyes of this Art Hence the Ægyptians in their sacra Isiaca wch were celebrated in Honor of Isyris by mitred Preists wth their heads & all parts of their body shav'd & cloth'd wth a white & linnen garment down to their heels. that these solemnityes might not be known or discoverd to the comon people erected a Statue of Silence wch was calld Sigalion in the Front of ye Altar the Assistants being enjoind to keep silence & turn their Eyes to that Image & for the same reason they added the Effigies of Sphynx at the Corner wch did represent the physicall knowledge of sacred things; as Boissardus does from Antient writers demonstrate For Sphyngx is a kind of monster proposeing the most obscure Riddles to the Thebans & not onely to them but as she had done before to the Ægyptians so afterwards to others that aspire to Art She lyes watching in the Philosophicall books as she did before ye gates of Thebes If any one passe by the monster he suffers no harm by it but if thro the presumption of his wit & Courage he endeavour to resolve its riddles & cannot perform it he acquires his own destruction wch is greif to his heart & dammage to his affairs by his error in this work He that referrs the Allegories to true History is utterly mistaken for they will seem to be childish & Foolish Tales if they be taken litterally but otherwise they are signs & Tokens of profound learning There are said to be in Africa certain wild beasts that have the Name of Sphyngx but our discourse is not concerning them. tho the originall denominacon of this fiction seems to be deriv'd from thence The Sphyngx of the Philosophers both usd & understood human speech namely the Greek & likewise propos'd subtile sentences & ænigmaticall questions in wch appears a singular sharpnesse of understanding & learning & such a not common to men from wch consequently Brutes must be very far distan And that is conversant in the assertions of the Philosophers will easily discover them to be of this Nature For where one thing is spoken & another thing is meant there Equivocation will beget Error & this is not only permitted to the Philosophers but likewise enjoind them The City of Thebes having been ~~long~~ perplext wth the Riddles of Sphyngx at last one Oedipus appeard who gave such answers to her questions that Sphyngx could not refrain from throwing her self down from a Rock But who is this Oedipu The son of the King Thebes who was foretold by an Oracle that he shold be slain by his Son & therefore when Oedipus was born he comanded him to be killd who having a Cord run thro his feet & hangd upon a Tree and there left was freed from thence & educated by a Countryman He therefore growing to mans estate had swelld feet but sufficiently declard the quicknesse of his wit before other men by resolving this Riddle wch Sphyngx had proposd. Sphyngx is indeed reported to have had many Riddles but this offerd to Oedipus was the cheif What is that wch in the morning goeth upon four feet upon two at Noon & in the Evening upon three? What was answerd by Oedipus is not known But they who interpret concerning the Ages of man are deceivd For a Quadrangle or four Elements are of all things first to be considerd from thence we come to the Hemisphere having two lines, a Right & a Curve that is to the White Luna from thence to the Triangle wch consists in body Spirit & Soul or Sol Luna & Mercury Hence Rhasis in his Epistles The Stone says he is a Triangle in its Essence a Quadrangle in its quality And our 21th Emblem & its Exposition relate to the same matter. But Oedipus moreover notorious for parricide & Incest wch are two of the most detestable Vices that can ever be thought of Nevertheless they promoted him to a Kingdome otherwise due to him he having unawares killd his Father refusing to give way to him and married the Queen the wife of Laius his own mother But this is not written for History or example it being onely feignd & Allegorically introduced by the Philosophers to discover the secrets of their doctrine For in this work both these things happen for the first Efficient the Father is killd & thrown out by his Effect that is his Son, and afterwards the same Effect couples second Efficient to himself so long till it become one wth him. & so the son is joind to his Mother by Matrimony & enjoys his Fathers Kingdom as it were by a tripl Right of Arms Wedlock & Succession He has swelld because he cannot run & is like a Bear as having the greatest secret or a Toad going wth a slow pace because it is fixd fixing another and not flying or dreading the Fire which though it be a medium of a mean repute yet the Philosophers can by no means be without it—

Emblem 40th Out of two waters make one & that will be the water of Sanctity.

Discourse 40th

The miracles of waters are so great & so many that they can scarce be comprehended in a large volume, concerning wch severall Authors have treated up & down in their writeings But above all there are two Philosophicall waters wch are celebrated wth that Name because they do not onely Rivall but also exceed the Virtues & properties of all ye rest The Rivers Sybaris, Axus of Macedonia & Melas of Boeotia make Cattle black if they drink of them But the Rivers Crathis Clitumnus of Mevania & Cephissus make black Cattle white The waters of Sinuessa in Campania take away barrennesse from both sexes The River Afrodisius makes women barren. Cabura a Fountain of Mesopotamia hath a sweet smell The water of Anyger in Peloponnesus stinks very much The Fountain of Jupiter Hammon is cold in the day time, Hot in the night, in the Evening & morning lukewarm by turns Not to mention any more All things altho they be contrary one to the other are performd by the waters of the Philosophers Lully speaks of them in his Book de Quinta Essentia distin: 3 de Inceratione. And so there is saith he a double consideration in Art, that is ~~of~~ from one Nature ~~from~~ of one metall to make two contrary liquors in composition, one that has a fixing congealing & hardening quality the other that is Volatile unfixd & soft But the second liquor is hardend fixd & congeald by the first From both wch liquors there results one Stone congeald fixd & hardend wch hath the Virtue of congealing that wch is not congeald, of hardening what is mollified, of mollifying what is hard From whence it appears what these two waters are & why they are to be reducd to one water. for the Stone is said to be water because it is fusible & on the contrary the water is calld a Stone because it is frangible But these waters are drawn out of different places sometimes by a long tract as may be seen in Rome by the Aqua Virginis & other Artificiall Fountains & then they are to be mixd by the confluence of other water that from two may be made One. For if one be of a Hot & the other of a cold Virtue when these are mixd together they will acquire mixd Virtues & will temper themselves after a wonderfull manner From hence will arise the most Excellent Baths & medicinall water wch will dispell all sorts of Maladies & diseases & restore sound health to Mankind. Nature does indeed by her hidden Artifice of Composition confound & mingle

many [illegible]
Earth wch are beneficiall [illegible] proportions But if added wth due Rules so that not onely the Evacuacons of Nature w have been before but those of Art wch are to come before are totaly effected so that those things wch should be mixt are mixt among themselves the composition will become far more Efficacious. w altho it may seem Artificiall yet is merely Naturall because one simple Homogeneous thing is made out of divers wch can never be effected by Art. Art may cause a mixture & confusion but without the help of Nature there can be no true & naturall Union for that is made by Nature onely. In Treacle there is an Artificiall mixture of Various simples wch is made by contritio & fermentacon but no man will affirm it to be a Naturall composition much lesse to be an Homogeneous Medicine
As to the Artificiall mixture of Substances it is manifest that the least particles do not enter one into the other although they cannot be divided & seperated again by the Industry of any man whatsoe
But as to the mixture of all qualities we must enquire whether the first Treacles of all simples may passe into one Quintessence or whether they remain still in their first substances or powders as they did before as Acci-dents in their Subjects or Colours upon a wall? & then what must be said of the second third & fourth Qualities? It is probable that all Qualities do still adhere to their proper subjects & that they are not compounded among themselves with a true & naturall mixture otherwise if the qualities should leave their bodies there would be four Quintessences in every Artificiall compound according to the num-ber of the Order of the Qualities first second &c that must be without their bodys & seperable wch thing is not so. They write of ye Coagulacon of the Hares blood that in a flux occasioned by thinnesse of blood it doe stop & as it were coagulate. but in coagulacon & concretion it cuts & dissolves the same so there are contrary operacons of Vinegar & Lead & many other things according ~~to~~ their Use is diverse because Nature has mixd them so wonderfully And thus the Philosophicall water has diverse & contrary Virtues, because Nature by the help of Art has out of contraries mixt it into one indivisible substance which is nothing else but a Quintessence in respect of other things that are to be mingled with it

Emblem 41. Adonis is killd by a Boor to whom Venus hasting tingd the Roses wth her Blood Discourse. 41

Some of the Mythologists when they would explain the Allegory of Adonis say that He is the Sun & that the Boar by whom he is slain is ye winter season Hairy wth Frost. Others say that He is the seed of Corn which is six months under the Earth with Proserpine and six months above the ground with Venus But how improperly this is done has been sufficiently shown by us in other places For we affirm & that by universall consent that by Adonis is to be understood the Sol of the Philosophers according to this Verse

Omnia sunt idem Dionysius Sol & Adonis
Sol Dyonyse Adonis are the same

And Orpheus
Qui vario celaris nomine Adoni
Adonis Honourd by a Various name
Germinum et idem Author pariter puer atqz puella
Author of Budds thou art both maid & Boy

Now all these things cannot be understood of the cælestiall Sun but may be of the Philosophicall one. for this expresses both sexes whereas that does not & so these Mythologists attribute the same thing to Dionysius & Sol as they do to Adonis & on the contrary & so likewise to Osyris But Adonis is slain by the Boar that is by the sharpest Vinegar or dissolving water wch hath terrible teeth like a Boar with which he wounds Adonis, for the Philosophick Sol is mortally wounded by that Boar & has his members loosend & cutt of. But Venus Endeavours to help her Lover & when He was dead laid & preserved him among Lettice In the same manner Osyris is slain by Typhon & cut into severall pieces which Isis the wife of Osyris gatherd up & having joind them together buried them The same mourning wch yearly followd the Death of Osyris in Ægypt was also celebrated after ye death of Adonis in Syria & the neighbouring Kingdoms where after weeping & lamenting for severall dayes together there were great expressions of Joy with Dancings & other Ceremonyes as if he had been again & conveyd into Heaven From hence arose the Vanity of the Heathen Religion or Superstition wch vastly increasd by the Divels who thence took occasion to promote it & to procure false Miracles. Adonis was born of Cinyras (according to ye Fable) the King of Cyprus & his Daughter Myrrha, he is said to be sprung from a detestable Incest if we look upon the History but if we regard the Allegory it was so far from being unlawfull that it was absolutely necessary For in this Art nothing can be perfected unless it be born from a conjunction between the mother & the son and the Father & his Daughter For here by how much nearer in blood whether in the first or second degree of consanguinity ye married couple may be so much more fruitfull they will prove & on the contrary the farther remote so much the more barren, which if taken litterally is not to be sufferd Hence Oedipus married his Mother Jupiter his sister & so did Osyris Saturn Sol Servus rubeus or the Red servant & Gabritius Sol speaks thus of Adony that is concerning himself in the Metaphor of Belinus in the Rosary. Know Ye says he that my Father Sol hath given me power above all powers & clothd me wth new garments of Glory for I am his onely son and more like my Father &c I devest my servants from their power & Nature & cloth them with my beautifull splendor & light which my Father gave me for I am excellent & do exalt & depresse all & none of my servants is above me but one who is permitted to be repugnant & contrary to me & to destroy me yet he does not destroy my Nature & he is Saturn who seperates all my parts: afterwards I goe to my mother who gathers together all my divided & seperated members I Illuminate all those things that appertain to me & cause light to appear openly in the way from my Father Saturn & also from my mother who is an Enemy to me. These words are so clear that they may dispell any darknesse that is before the mind of a person never so little versd in reading. who may behold the agreement that there is between things & Persons For Truths although hid under the Veils of Allegorys have a wonderfull consent among themselves whereas those things which are false are repugnant and inconsistent both in themselves & others

Emblem 42. Nature, Reason, experience & Reading must be the Guide Staff spectacles & Lamp to him that is imployd in Chymicall affairs

Discourse 42

There are innumerable accidents which may happen to Travellers especially if they are to walk in the night time thro dangerous & slippery places But besides Provision & strength of Body there are four things that are extremely necessary In the first place a skilfull guide or Companion for if the ignorant lead the ignorant it may happen either as to the blind that they may both fall into the Ditch or at least they both may run into difficulties & Errors In the next place a Staff by wch a Remedy may be provided against the slipperinesse of the way Thirdly good eyes for else the way is almost as dangerous to those that are dim sighted as to the blind. Fourthly a Lamp or lighted Torch by wch severall obstacles may be avoided So that if any Person applyes himself to the search of the Philosophicall Medicine besides strength of Body & money sufficient for his expences there are four other things requisite, to wit Nature Reason experience & Reading for if any one of these are wanting the others will be of little prevalence For these are the four wheels of the Philosophicall Chariot to wch one of the wheels cannot be wanting & if it be left it avails nothing Nature presupposes Naturall Bodys & Spirits as the Subjects first ministerd by Nature upon wch Art may afterwards exert it self by prepareing purifying & rendring them capable of having that produced from them wch Art proposes for its end So the Potter takes Earth & Water ye Glassemaker ashes & sand, a Smith Iron Brasse Lead Tin Copper Silver & Gold, a Tanner Raw Hides & so other Artists take other things. The Chemist likewise has regard to his Materialls Theirs are known to them the very first day but when he begins his are utterly unknown to him for many years & perhaps for his whole life Nature does indeed lay its finger upon the matters but there are many things wch obscure the impression of Nature that it cannot be known Therefore the first intention must be intimately to contemplate Nature & to see how it proceeds in its operations. to this End that the naturall Subjects of Chemistry without defect or superfluity may be attaind to From whence let Nature be the Guide & Companion of so great a journey & follow her footsteps in the next place let reason be like a staff which may keep the steddy & firm that they may not slip nor waver for without reaso any Person will be apt to fall into Error, whence the Philosophers say whatever You hear, reason upon it, whether it can be so or no. For n man is forc'd to beleive or Act Impossibilities unlesse he be of a wea memory, dull genius & foolish Imagination to impose upon himself by takeing false things for True & rejecting True things as false. They say likewise that they take no care of the words what is said but rather of the things as what may be understood & that words are for things & not things for words As for Example. if any man should say that Glasse may be made malleable by the Philosophicall Tincture? Why shall not I beleive it provided reason dictates it Thirdly Experience will be as spectacles by wch things may be seen at a distance These are Optick instruments invented & made by Art to help & amend the weaknesse of mens eyes. Not unlike these are all Experiments of every kind that have been tried about the minerall matter whether seen or truly relate & the more these remain in the memory the more will be drawn from thence by a man of Reason who will compare them with themselves & other things, that he may see what is truth & what is not Fourthly Reading does as it were kindle a clear Lamp in the Understanding without which there will every where be darknesse & thick clouds But the Reading of good Authours ought to be often repeated, otherwise it will not be profitable. Hence Bacassar in the Turba saith. He therefore that is of an even Temper and exercises Patience without regrett will goe in the right path of this Art But He that thinks himself able sooner to reape benefit from our Books is deceiv'd and it had been better for him not to have look'd into or touch'd them &c.

Emblem 43. Give ear to the Vulturs words wch are in no wise false

We daily in many places hear Birds such as Parrots Ravens Dawes & Pyes that prattle & imitate a Human Voice. Pliny writes that at the same time that He publish'd his History Agrippina the wife of Claudius Caesar had a Thrush that could speak & that the Young Caesars had a Starling & Nightingales that were accustom'd to the Greek & Latin Tongues and daily spoke new things in a long thread of words or sentence But since at this time such Birds are more frequently to be met with they are now lesse wonder'd at, for use & Custom will make any Birds capable of speaking if their Tongues be more broad then ordinary. But that Vultur wch the Philosophers mention has not learnt his words if he utters any by use, his own Nature expresses them tacitly But the Philosophers say that He continually cryes out & wth a loud voice pronounces who & what He is, in wch He imitates great Princes who in the beginning of their Publick Instruments will alwayes make known what are their inheritance & Titles, not out of Pride, but that others as well as themselves may know what Principalities they govern or what rights of Inheritance they pretend to. So it is very necessary to know, what colours as Ensigns of Arms & Titles the Philosophick Bird enjoys & wherein he excells all others. I saith he (as the Rosary hath it from Hermes) am the Black of the white & the Citrine of the Red & certainly I speak Truth & Lye not. He affirms himself to be Black White Citrine & Red & such He really is For tho He doth not as yet actually possesse these last colours yet he expects the inheritance of them Hereupon saith Rosinus in his Book Divinarum Interpretationum Take saith he the Stone wch is Black white Red Citrine that admirable Bird wch flyes without wings in the darknesse of the night & in the clearnesse of the day For Coloration is taken from bitternesse existing in his Throat but more water is taken from his blood as Alexander saith Take O my son the Stone of four Colours The Books of the Philosophers do abundantly declare that the Stone has all these Colours wch are principall ones in a successive order. But it may not be improper to declare why the Philosophicall Subject is call'd a Vultur. Those Vulturs wch are Black have most Force & are rapacious but they fly slowly because of the bulk of their bodies They say this Bird conceives without the help of the Male & generates without coition & their offspring arrive to a great age even an hundred years

They build in high Rocks & no man has touchd their nests seldom more then two of their Young ones are seen They are an assistance against Serp They conceive by the East wind when they begin to lay Eggs they bring a thing out of the Indies wch as a Nut has somthing within it that may be moved & forthwith yeilds a sound wch when they have applied to themselves they produce many Young ones, but one onely remains which is called IMMUSULUS We have the Testimony of Hermodorus Ponticus in Celius that Vulturs are the most innocent of all Animalls because they touch nothing that mankind sow plant or feed, beside they kill no living creature. They abstein from Birds tho dead by a certain instinct of Affinity For this reason they were accounted the signs in Divinacon as the Foundacon of the City of Rome may declare The Philosophicall Bird expressing almost all these Qualities of the Vulturs is therefore not undeservedly called a Vultur by Hermes & others, He is slow in flight & of Colour Black He conceives from himself for so Rosarius towards the End And he is the Dragon who marries himself and impregnates himself & brings forth in his own season & Rosarius to Sarratanta And that is the Serpent Luxuriant in it self impregnating itself & bringing forth in one day It lives & endures a very long time & multiplies it self. For what Virgil writes concerning the Phænix agrees likewise to this for it is the same Bird

It is very difficult to climb the nest of this Bird It fights wth the mercuriall serpent & overcomes it that is Sol wth Luna it is conceived by the wind & carried in its belly & born in the Air The stone Aetites conteining within it the little stone sounding is by many men called Totium. one onely IMMUSULUS is found in the nest of the Philosophers. The Philosophick Bird is also most Innocent because it hurts no body it is beneficiall to all that know it & most excellt in Divinacons But does he make a Nest on the mountains & sitting there cry out? Rosinus according to Rhasis gives this Answer Contemplate the Highest mountains both those on thy Right hand & on thy left & climb up thither There our stone is found & in another mountain which produces all sorts of Printers colours & spirits or species there it is likewise Morienus says ascend the High mountains covered with Trees because there our stone is found & hidden. And Hermes says Take You the Blessed stone & break it to small pieces & wash the Red stone from which is extracted which is found in Mountains & Especially in old sinks or shores

In the first book of our Hieroglyphicks we have fully explaind & reduced the Allegory of Osyris to its true Originall wch is Chemicall And tho we shall not repeat that yet we shall make a discourse parallell to it whereby we may retain Osyris within the bounds of Antient Chemistry all which has been so often sung of & figur'd out by the Antient Poets For you can never possibly perswade me that Osyris was a God or a King of Ægypt For to me the contrary to both seems apparent from severall circumstances He is indeed the SUN. but it is the Philosophicall one Now that name being often attributed to him the Vulgar who read it & know of no other sun but that which gives light to the world interpreted it in that sense The SUN of the Philosophers has its denominacon from the sun of the world because it conteins those properties of Nature wch descend from the cælestiall Sun or are agreeable to it. Therefore Sol is Osyris Dionysius Bacchus Jupiter Mars Adonis Oedipus Perseus Achilles Triptolemus Pelops Hippomanes Pollux. And Luna is Isis Juno Venus the Mother of Oedipus Danae Deidamia Atalanta Helena As also Latona Semele Leda Antiope Thalia These are the parts of that compound wch before Operacon is called the Stone, & by ye Name of every metall, Magnesia After operacon it is called Orus Pyrrhus Apollo Æsculapius. The Adjuncts are Typhon Python the Boar The Artists are Hercules Ulysses Jason Theseus Perithous And the labours & dangers wch those Artists undertook were innumerable. We may see the Labours of Hercules the errors of Ulysses the Dangers of Jason & the endeavours of Theseus the Remoras of Perithous This is the great Volume of Matter & Doctrine thro wch in every page Saturn Mercury & Vulcan do often occur the first as Father of all the Cause without wch nothing can be effected, the second as the matter or form, the third as the Efficient. Sol takes Luna his sister to be his wife Jupiter takes Juno as Saturn Rhea & Osyris does Isis. Dionysius is snatchd out of of his mother Semele who was burnt by the thunder of Jupiter that so he may come to maturity in the thigh of his Father Jupiter Æsculapius from his Mother Coronis. Dionysius being grown up shews men the use of wine making an Expedition as far as the Indies Osyris & Triptolemus that of Corn & how to sow it & Æsculapius that of Medicine The Greeks call him Dionysius the Latins Bacchus the Ægyptians Osyris & the Syrians Adonis. Oedipus killd his Father [illegible] of the Boar Adonis, Ceres the Nurse of Triptolemus his [illegible] Hippomanes overcame Atalanta by a Golden Apple, Tantalus ye Father of Pelops obtaind Hippodamia by overcoming her in race of Chariots Osyris being cut in pieces was joind together again by Isis his mother sister & wife, The child Pelops was boild & drest his shoulder eaten by Ceres & again restord to life, an Ivory shoulder being added to him Achilles & Triptolemus were put under coals of fire by night and in the day time nourished by milk, one by Ceres his Nurse, the other by his Mother Thetis. Achilles & Helena were the Causes of the Trojan war she as the impulsive He as the Efficient Cause Helena was hatchd from an Egge. & at the Nuptialls of Peleus & Thetis from whom Achilles was descended. that Apple of Eris which was the first cause of the Rape of Helena was thrown about, Pollux was assisting to the Argonauts who are supposd (if ever they lived at all) to have lived at least fifty years before the Trojan War began, & both He and Helena were produced out of one Egg, therefore Helena was an old woman when she was ravishd by Paris, Medea when an old woman & without a tooth in her Head was married to Achilles in the Elysian Fields, unless she restord Youth to her self as to Eson the Father of Jason & as Ceres did to Pelops for which reason he is said to have been twice Young, Perseus receivd a flying Horse from Pallas, and in recompence brought the Head of Medusa to Her to whom Mercury gave a Scymiter and the rest of the ye other weapons, Ceres gave Triptolemus a Chariot with flying Dragons, when Pallas was born of the Brain of Jupiter and Sol was in conjunction with Venus, it raind Gold at Rhodes, And Jupiter in the form of a golden shower lay with Danae, as a Swan wth Leda as a Cuckow with his Sister Juno, As a Bull with Europa as a Satyr wth Antiope And so there is a concord in them all—

Emblem: 45 The work is perfected by Sol & his shade. Discourse 45

As a light kindled in a Round or sphericall Place enlightens all the walls above or below except where some Table or utensil in ye middle obstructs its influence so likewise the Sun being placd in the vast Arch of Heaven illuminates wth its Rays all the concavity of heaven & those Bodyes wch are containd in it that are Diaphanous & capable of receiving light that is all the stars both the wandring & ye fixd except where the Thickness of the intermediate Earth prohibits it for there a black shade or darkness wch is calld night remains so long till it is driven away by the presence of the Sun, & light is pourd out and beheld in its stead, Shade therefore or night is the privacon or absence of Solar light, & day on the contrary is the Irradiacon & circumfusion of it. Shade is that wch cannot endure the aspect of the Sun & therefore absconds it self & avoides it somtimes in this sometimes in another part of the Earth according as the Sun is in opposition to it The Sun & shade never yet saw one another although if Nature would admitt it they might doe it every moment But the Sun considering her as an Enemy to himself always pursues her whilst she flys so that he can never weary her so as to overtake her as Buchannan says in his Book of the sphere After the Image & example of that great Sun & his shade the Philosophers have observd that their Sun likewise a black cloudy flying shadow Hence Hermes saith my Son extract its shadow from the Ray that is see that you bring your Sun round about by the Primum mobile over wch Vulcan presides that that part of ye earth wch is now coverd wth a shady night may enjoy the clear light of the Sun For if the whole Firmament of Heaven wth all that is containd in it were not carried round in each Naturall day that is in the space of four & twenty hours by its first motion, but the Sun shold move by its proper motion wch is calld the second or annual one those Antipodes who are below us would have night for almost the space of six months & we in the mean time shold have day light & so on the contrary so that the whole Year would consist of one day & one night as it is now under both the Poles as Reason & experience shows us But it hath pleasd Divine Providence to order it otherwise wch therefore ordeind two motions of the Planetts the first & second & so distributed the year into many days Now the shade & the sun do together make a day & night wch the sun by it self alone could not doe It is its property to Illuminate all Bodies & places that are opposite to it, but it is by accident onely that its absence makes a shade. so also the Philosophicall sun with its shade make a day that is Light & darknesse or night. towit Latona or Magnesia whose shade (as Democritus says in the beginning of the 3 book of his mensa aurea) must be remov'd & burnt up by a fiery Medicine The use of shadows in Astronomy is so great that without them that Science can scarce be accomplishd it is to shade likewise that the Chemist ascribes ye perfection of his Art. For what is this sun without a Shadow? the same as a Clapper is without a bell, That indeed makes the first motion to a sound. that is the Quill this the Instrument of Musick, that the Tongue this the great mouth. A Shade is the most contemptible thing & next to haveing no Being so also the Philosophers shadow is a thing Black. Blacker then Black as they call it or Viler then a weed. not in respect of it self but of the opinion of men & the plenty of it. What more usefull then fire? more precious then water? more amiable then Earth? wch yeilds flowers and all things that are lovely? what more delightfull then Air wch if it once be obstructed will make make all things cease to seem pleasant But because in their Vast spheres they are exposd to the common use of mankind by a preposterous imagination they are thought to be of no Value. In like manner both ye comon & Philosophicall shade are disesteemd They who have lived long in subterranean shades lose their eysight if they are brought suddenly to the clear light of the sun so they who remain & work onely in the Philosophicall shade and do not join the sun to it are depriv'd of their judgment which is the guide of their mind & so can bring nothing to effect When the Celestiall sun is elevated to the Height of Noon the Heat is greater & the shadow lesse so here when the heat is increas'd the shade is lesse & likewise on ye contrary We must therefore begin when the sun from ye meridian call side bends it self again to the Top of our Head in Capricorn and the first operation even to Aries will be finisht, then begins the work of Women even to Leo & afterwards labour proceeds from Labour till the year as a serpent take hold of the Tayle wth the Head that is to say is completed

Discourse 46th

Cicero in his book of the Nature of ye Gods declares the most Antient Apollo to be the son of Vulcan the Defender of Athens wch opinion is very true. when, as it ought to be it is transferrd to an Allegory, For Vulcan produces the Philosophicall sun wch is Apollo But the opinion of his being the son of Jupiter has prevaild. But when Latona has twins in her Womb that is Apollo & Diana wch she had conceivd by Jupiter Juno being jealous sent Pytho a serpent of a Vast magnitude to persecute & Vex her whilst she was wth child The miserable Woman after many & tedious wandrings was at length carried by a ship into the Island of Ortygia to her sister Asteria who governd there & that Island being almost wholly overflown with the sea yet afforded a place for Latona whilst she was in Travell from whence it was calld Delus or manifest wch before was ἄδηλος or not manifest There she brought forth her children the first that came forth was Diana & she did the Office of a Midwife to her Mother who labourd in ye birth of her Brother Apollo From whence it came to passe that Women in Travell call upon her Deity by the names of Diana or Ilithyia because she shews light to Infans newly born their eyes being opend. Apollo therefore being born & grown up slew Python the Tormentor of his Mother with his Arrows. He likewise slew the Cyclops because they made Thunder for Jupiter to destroy his son Æsculapius. for it was wth Thunder that Jupiter struck him down to Hell because he had restord Hippolitus to life that had been torn in peices by Horses That these things are merely Chemicall we have demonstrated in many places For Latona Cynthia Apollo & Python are requisites of this Art wch have such relations one to another as have been declard before For these same things being divulgd in the writings of the most Ancient Poets as Orpheus Linus Musæus & Homer they gave occasion to the ignorant to ascribe religious worship & Veneration to Apollo & to erect innumerable Temples to him both in Europe and Asia But that wch was most celebrated was at Delphos where there was a Vast number of statues made of solid gold & silver of great weight & Artifice being there deposited by many Kings & Princes wth other most precious gifts presented by all sorts of persons out of [illegible] by Hippocrates There was likewise [illegible] made & gave to Pelops that was afterwards consacrated to Apollo by Pelops when he married Hippodamia the Daughter of Oenomaus King of Elis This was erected in the middle of the Temple where Pythia sitting upon it receiv'd the Inspiration of the Divill breaking forth from a profound hollow & being filld wth it prophesied & gave answers to those who enquird after the events of things to come. Delphos was seated near the foot of Parnassus in Baotia, not far from the Temple was the Dimming Fountain namd Cassiotis which extinguishd such burning Torches as were brought near it but if they were remov'd afar of the suddenly took fire & were rekindled. The water of the same fountain gave a power of prophesying to such as drank of it but then their lives were shortend by it There being a concourse therfore from all parts of Europe & Asia to the Delphick Oracle the Poets feignd that Parnassus was in the middle of the earth & that they provd by an example ~~that~~ of Jupiter who had made experiment of it by sending forth two Eagles But this thing not being supported by the Credit of any History it may not be repugnant to the Truth to ascribe it to Chemicall matters Especially since Apollo in all his Circumstances & his Originall has before been declard to be Chemicall, altho afterwards the Divill confirmd the superstition of men & under that Name gave forth Prophesies The two Eagles are two Stones one of which comes from the East the other from the West as the Philosophers have many wayes demonstrated Jupiter has sent them forth as his Ensign bearers the Eagle seems indeed to be the Friend of Apollo or Sol because she proves her Young ones by the Sun beams & disowns those as illegitimate who cannot endure them. Its feathers are reported not to putrefye altho mixd with other things & that they devour the Feathers of other birds & that they easily admit of being guilded. It does not dye of old Age or sicknesse but of Hunger For the upper part of his Beak grows so crooked that he cannot feed himself wch haveing cast of he plunges him self three times in a fountaine. and is said by yt means to be restored to youth againe, Hence the Psalmist sayes thy Youth shal be renewed like that of an Eagle, this of all birds is never affected wth thunder it has warr wth the Dragon who therfore hunts after its Eggs all these endowments of its Nature have given Occasion to the Philosophers in theire Art to Extoll the Eagle, & liken their Stone to it, there are innumerable Examples of this Kinde in their Books wch at present we Shall not Mention.

The philosophers in many places make mention of two Stones that are freely given to us as Arnoldus Isaick & others) Avicenna amongst the rest affirms that they are throwne out into the Dung. Neglected by the vulgar, But if they be joynd together they perfect the majestery. Some Extolls the Occidental Mercury, wch hath prefered it self before Gold & overcome itt, But the author of the Consilium Conjugi Solis & lunæ out of the Epistle of Aristotle, does best of all discribe the two Stones, when he saith there are two Stones principals of this art, white & red of Wonderful nature, at the Setting of the Sun the white begin to apeare upon the surface of the Waters, hideing itt Self till mignight, & afterwards decends to the Bottom, But the red Operates Otherwise, for it begins to arise upon the ∇s at the riseing of the Sun till noon, and afterwards decends to the bottom these Stones are therfore are the two Eagles, Sent by Jupiter out of Delphos, as we Said before, these also are the Wolf & dog coming from different or opposite parts of the earth which bite & worry one another, and both become Mad, as Rhasis ~~sayes~~ declares in his Epistle, these Stones are the most true Bezoer wch comes from the East indies taken out of the Bellies of wild Beasts the West indies yeild another but of lesse Efficacy, and is calld that of peru, and taken out of tame Animals, Soe the East affords a most feirce Wolf, the West a Dog Familiar to man that is Sulphur comes from the Eastern as Mercury does from the Western Regions, of wch the one is Soft & tractable, the Other is Cholorick & feirce, as soon as they meet they fall upon one a Nother But the dogg being of a remarkable size obtaines ye first victory by Prostrating the wolf, and almost killing him then the Wolf recovering his strength, overthrowes the Dogg & never suffers him to rise againe but kills him in the mean the Wolf receives such wounds from the Dogg, that are not less mortall yn those he gave him, & soe they are Wounded to death by one a Nother, Rosinus to Euthicia sayes concerning the Wolf. that he is a Stout Souldier Conqueror of two, & of much Esteem and most intense Strength, that can perforate Bodyes when he meets with them & is white in apearance, red by Experiment, & is the male that took luna to wife wch some men Supose to be Gold of a most pretious Connection whose Congelation is never dissolved.:.

Zerxes that most powerfull King of Persia, Leading his army thro dry and vn:inhabited Countrys in the midst of Extream heat being very thirsty, didnot refuse a draught of Muddy water, Offered him by a Souldier; but dranke most plentifully & gaue a very Large reward to him that brought itt, and indeed if a man att this time (as some of our latest Historians affirme) should trauaile thro the dominians of Persia, He would very Seldome meet wth fountaines of Fresh Water, for theire Standing Waters are Brackish, and the soile itt self vpon the surface has a very great Saltnesse, After the Same Manner the King of the Philosophers, being tormented wth thirst, Commands his seruants to bring him plenty of fresh Water, wch being brought him, he drinks til he is satiated As apeares by the Alegory of Merlin, Diuers Physitians Vndertook the cure of the King that was Sick & discolord, The Egiptians administring their Mede:cines stird the Humours whilst they ware yett crude, Wheras Hippocrates sayes they must be concocted before they be purged, Vnless be stiring & fluxible For then they must Imediately be Expelld least they make an Effort & fall vpon the more Noble parts Hereupon daungerous Simtoms as Happen to the King. But the Physitians of Alexandria comeing afterwards & being Esteemd More Successful in Chronick diseases, restored the King to his former health, It is very well worth while to cure soe great a King, who being made healthy Extends a liberal hand, and a Serene aspect to his phy:sitian, we haue read how many mens cures haue binn Nobly rewarded, by seueral Kings as that of Demonides by Policrates, Tirant of Samos wth two talents Erasistrati who as Pliny writes was the deciple Of Chrysippus and the son of Aristotles Daughter, its likewise of Jacop Coeterius physitian to Lewis the second King of France, from whome he receiued a Sallary of fower thousand crowns a Month. Not to Mention more Moderne instances But the cure of this King is acompanied wth a reward that is still farr greater for Say Hermes and Geber in the Rosary, He that can once compleat this Art if he should liue a 1000, thousand Yeares, & Euery day Should feed 4000 Men he could not want nor footsteps or Impressions Euer defaced wch God has bestowed vpon the kin and Elect Philosophers, You must know that ~~God~~ nature has taken an Equal as an Enime And a little after he sayes, that Sulphur is most Strong, and fights against fire that itt containes and is Contained, for a most pretious Cullor proceeds from ym conjoynd together, & that Sulphur wch is Naturally volatile, Can neuer afterwards fly away, because the Soul hath perforated itt, And in like manner the tinctur of the soul hath perforated & is Mixt with the Body, & the Body hath containd the Soul & restrain the Natural flying of itt, And then to one Demanding wch of the stones was strongest He answers that Stone wch is Noe Stone, is Stronger then the Other Enemy, but ye Red is Stronger, then that wch hath Strengthned his Companions by its fortitude, The Oriental Wolf is therford Stronger then the Occidental dogg, altho the does not Obtaine the Effect of his victory but falls together wth his Enemy, But the tinging poyson is produced from both, The differences therford between the Wolf & the Dog is but Small, for a Mastiff or dog may apeare wth the forme or kinde of a Wolf. Soe as to Seem to haue binn a Wolf Originally, but to haue become tame running thro many Generations, After the same manner, Sulphur & Mercury differ but little from one another, Because that proceeds from this, and this from that, Mercury indeed begat Sulphur, But Sulphur Purged Mercury & rendred it wt itt is

The same Rosinus asks these questions, Whence comes its cullor, And answers from its Most intense bitternesse, Whence comes its bitternesse & intense ion Ansr: from the impurity of the mettall, Is its red Colour neuer Supreminent, He Anser: Yes, And againe he asks, is itt neuer hotter then fire, Ansr: Fire in respect of itt is as water, in respect of fire, againe Qr is itt not Stronger then fire He answers Not, why then doe You assert itt to be stronger then fire, He Answers because Fires meeting together doe destroy one another, it is therford Manifest that one is the food & aliment of the other, And soe much as the one Increases the Other decreases, till that wch increases preuailes & the Dragon de:voures the Serpent; In great Battles it Often happens that they yt vndergoe the greatest Slaughter win the feild & victory, Soe also tho the Dog lye prostrate yet he was not soe Overcome att his death but that he could hold his Enemy So fast that as the Other could not liue without him so neither could he without the Other; NB mistoke the Folio or side:-

And Senior confirms this by Saying, He that has this Stone from wch ye Eli is made, is soe rich, that he can like the man that has fire, giue it to wh he will, & when he will, and as much as he will, without his one daunger or want of itt, The Father of Democritus was soe Rich that he gaue a feast to the army of Xerxes, and Pitheus a man Exceeding wealthy offered the Same prince that he would pay his whole Army and finde them prouis^{on} for fiue Months, provided that the Youngest of his fiue Sons who was the Comfort of his Old age, might Stay att home wth him, and not be forced to goe into the Kings army. But the Barbarous, Basely rejecting his petition commanded ye Youth to be cutt in two peeces & impal'd on Eaither side of the High way throw wch the whole army was to pass, as Sabellicus relates in ye Second Book of his Enneads –

But the wealth of these Men are Nothing to the Riches of this Kin wch are without Number or Demension, Being cured & freed from the waters all the Kings & potentates of Other Regions haue Honored & fear'd him and when they would See any of his wonderful workes, they put one ounce of Mercury well washt in a Crucible and cast thervpon as it ware one graine of Millett seed, of his Nailes or his haire or his blood, and blowed gently wth coales, they lett itt cool wth them & found Such a Stone as I know This is he of whome Count Bernard makes mention, that can giue to his Six courtiers as much of his Kingdome as he himself posseses, provid they waite till he recouers his Youth, in the Bath, and be adorned with various Garments, to witt a Black brestplate a White Shirt & purple Blood, for then he promises to giue Some of his blood to Every One of them, and make them pertakers of his riches ,

Women that keep Company with many Men Seldom conceiue liueing Children, for Nature Very rarly admits of a Superfœtation, Hence whateuer Ofspring is borne wheather it be one or More indeuiduals they proceed from one Father & mother, There is a Remarkable instance in History of Margaret the wife of Herman Earl of Henneberg who in ye Year 1276. bore 365. children wch ware all Christned, the males by the name of John, the females by y^t of Elizabeth, all dyed & ware buried in ye Church of Lausden in Holland about a mile from the Hague towards the sea and in the same place may still be seen ye Brasen bason in wch they ware babtised wth an inscription of the whole Story. The reason giuen for it is That the Countess seeing a poor Woman wth twins in her armes call'd her an adultress as if it ware impossible for more then One to be conceiued att one birth from one Man, but y^t they must Necessarily Spring from diuers, whereupon the poor woman knowing her self clear from any such guilt, made this imprecation that the Countesse her self might att one time, & by one man, conceiue as many Children as there ware dayes in ye year this is a [illegible] Miracle But a Natural worke wch happen'd by the deuine vengance.

But in the Philosophical work that wch is Otherwise contrary to Nature is Easily admitted vnder the vaile of an Allegory, For here One ofspring is said to haue thre ffathers, or two ffathers, & likewise soe many Mothers, Hence Raymond as cited by the Rosary sayes, Our infant has two Fathers & two Mothers & because he with his whole Substance is tenderly Norrished in fire, therfore he neuer dyes, So Dionysius Or Bacchus is cald Bimatur as haueing two Mothers who when his Mother was burnt before the time of his Maturity was taken out of her belly and Sowed into his Fathers thigh who thereupon became Father & Mother too, but these things are better declared in the Conception of Orion who is Said to haue bin produced by the seeds of Apollo Vulcan & Mercury mixt together, and preserued in the hide of an Ox for ten Months, Now all this would not Only be fabulous but Monstrous vnless the Secret of Nature that is not Obuious to all men, lay hid vnder itt, Lully in his Theorica Testamenti attributes as many and almost the same Fathers to his Philosophick birth to witt, Sol who is Apollo, or the Celestial Sun the first Author of this Generation, who by his vnspeakable Occult and Astral power, works vpon vpon a Certaine Matter knowne to the Philosophers as vpon the Matrix of a Woman and in that produces a Son or Offspring like himself, to whome afterwards he will leaue and resigne his Armes and Ensignes of virtue as belonging to him by right of Inheritance, that is the Faculty of Maturating things immature, & ye Ennergy of tinging & purging things Not tinged or purged, For whatsoeuer Sol perfects in a Thousand yeare. his Son can performe in half an hower,

Therfore that his virtue may be a 1000 times Stronger then that of Sol: his father deliuers him to Vulcan, & the artist for Education, that his generous disposition may be improued & multeplyed in Strength by there meanes & assistance, For it is Manifest to be very aduantagious to be accustomed to a thing from a Childe, So achillis Iason & Herculus ware for the same intent comitted to Chiron to be instructed, For Milo the Crotonian who carried a Calf when he was a boy, by custome came to be able to carry an Ox when he grew came to be a man Therfore tis not without reason that Vulcan and the Artist are Said to be the Fathers of this Childe as well as Sol, for As he was the cause of his being att first, soe these make him Such as he is and soe great as he apeares to be No Equiuelent Reward can be made to Masters for Institution, noe more then to parents for Generation, these dispose the body, they the minde. And so no lesse recompence is due to one, then to the Other, of them,

In the production of Orion Mercury contributes matter, Apollo ye forme and Vulcan the Heat Or Efficient cause, and soe it is likewise necessary in the Phylosophick work, that thre Fathers should Seem to Conspire together for the Birth of one offspring, that is to be ye Darling of the Philosophers, :;

NB. ☒ i

The Mansion of Dragons is in Cauernes of the Earth, But of Men vpon ye Earth in the Immediate Air, which two Elements are contrary, and yet are apoynted by the Philosopher to be joynd together, that one may act vpon the Other, But by the Woman Others vnderstand the Eagle, as Basil in his Second Key, for tis not conuenient (sayes he) for an Eagle to place her nest vpon the Alps because her young ones would dye by the coldness of the Snow vpon the top of the Mountaines, but if you add to the Eagle a cold Dragon, that hath a long time had his Habitation in the rocks & is crept out of the cauernes of the Earth, and putt them both into an infernal Cell. then will pluto blow & by his blast draw a Fiery volatile Spirit from the cold Dragon which with its great Heat will burne the Eagle's Feathers, and Excite a Sudorifick Bath as will melt ye Snow vpon the top of the Mountaines, and turne itt into water, from whence a Mineral Bath may be well prepared to contribute health & Fortune to the King

This reward is wonderful that a cold Dragon should yeild a fiery Spirit, yet Experience declares itt to be true in Burnt Serpents, that Send forth a venemous flame poysoning those that Stand by itt, Nor is it without reason that the preseruers of the Chymical treasures, Should be cald Flaming Dragons & Keepers off the Golden fleece, The Garden of the Hesperides & that of Cadmus & others For this Dragon liues in Strait places of Subterranius Rocks, wch you must take there & joyne itt to the Eagle or Woman to her in her graue, Or to the Other (if you had rather haue it soe) in her nest, for tis the Nature of the Dragon Sometimes to lye in wait for the Eagles Eggs. and wage Mortal warr with the Eagle, There are Some Greek Writers that Report that in times past a Dragon fell in loue wth a Maid and lay wth her. what wonder then if the philosophers would haue theire dragon Shut vp in the same cauerne with the Woman, Greuerus joynes Red and Black dragons together in the Deep gulf of the mountaine, and burnes them wth fire, and the black ones perishing he saith the Keeper of the mountaine Sercheth for them euery where & brings them to the Mountaine, Merlin in his Vision if it be not (Suposi-Suppositious) makes Mention of a White and Red dragon, these Dragons whatsoeuer they be, wheather one be a Woman or female dragon, doe act Mutually vntil they both Dye, and Emitt blood from theire wounds, wherewith they are both Embrued, But here by the dragon is Vnderstood ye Elements of Earth and Fire, and by the Woman those of Air and Water, whence the Clangor Buccine Saith, The Dragon is the Matter remaining in the Bottom after the water is distil'd from itt, and according to Hermes, the Water of the Air being betwen Heauen & Earth is the life of Euery thing, for that Water dissolues a body into a Spirit, and makes a liue thing of a dead one and constitutes Marriage betwen Man and Woman, for it makes the whole Benefit of the Art. And of the Earth he sayes thus, And moreouer vnderstand that the perticular Earth which we tread vpon is not ye true Element Yea it is Elemented from its true fifth Element, Nor doth the fifth Elemental Substance zecede from its Elemented Body. from wch the Earth is formed, & a little after. But the Virgin and true Element, which Fire cannot burne is in the Center of the earth. This is the dragon whereof wee speake, insinuating itt self euen into the Center of the earth, where the heat being great itt conceiues within itt self A flaming heat, wherewith itt burnes ye woman or Eagle, But the woman or Eagle is an Airey water, wch Some call ye white or Cielestial Eagle & Endeauour to make itt the Common Mercury, or Sublimed Salts, for there Men that feign themselues as Quick sighted as Lincęos, but are indeed blinde in this Art, But Count Bernard Sayes in his Epistle Verily I say unto you that No water will dissolue a Mettallick Speeces by Natural reduction, but that which continues with itt in matter & forme, & which the Mettals themselues can recongeale & a little after, Nor doth that water pertaine to bodyes in Solutions which doth not remaine with them in congelation

Θfix :

And Not farr after, Verily I say vnto you that the Oyl which Naturally incerates & joynes Natures together. and Naturally introduces the Medecine into Other bodyes that are to be tinge'd is not compounded of any Other Extranious thing. but only of the Bowels of the Body that is to be dissolu'd

The Eagle therfore & the Woman as likewise the Dragon with almost all the Secretts of the whole Art, are Vnderstood by these precepts, which by Opening the Bosome of Nature, We haue perhaps soe farr Explained and Declar'd to the Sons of Learning, that so Glory might be giuen to God:-

Amen

Suppositious makes Mention of a White and Red dragon, these Dragons whatsoever they be, wheather one be a Woman or ye female dragon, doe act Mutually untill they both Dye, and Emitt blood from theire wounds, wherewith they are both Embrued. But here by the dragon is understood ye Elements or Earth and Fire, and by the Woman those of Air and Water, whence the Clangor Buccine saith The Dragon is [illegible] the Matter remaining in the Bottom after the water is distil'd from itt, and according to Hermes, the Water of the Air being betwen Heaven & Earth is the life of Every thing, for that Water disolues a body into a Spirit, and makes a live thing of a dead one, and constitutes Marriage betwen Man and Woman, first makes the whole Benefit of the Art. And of the Earth [illegible] sayes thus, And moreover understand that the perticular Earth which we tread upon is not ye true Element, Yea it is Elemented from its true fifth Element, Nor doth the fifth Elemental Substance recede from its Elemented Body, from wch the Earth is formed, & a little after. But the Virgin and true Element, which Fire cannot burne is in the Center of the earth. This is the dragon whereof wee Speake, insinuating itt selfe even into the Center of the earth, where the heat being great itt conceiues within itt self A flaming heat, whereunto itt serves [illegible] or Eagle, but the woman or Eagle is an aire water wch Some call ye white or Celestial Eagle. Endeavour to make itt the Common Mercury, or Sublimate, for those Men that [illegible] themselves as Quick sighted as Lynceus, but are indeed blinde in this Art, But Count Bernard Sayes in his Epistle Verily I say unto you that No water will dissolve a Mettallick Species by Natural reduction, but that which continues with itt in matter & forme, & which the Mettals themselves can recongeale & a little after, Nor doth that water pertaine to bodyes in solutions which doth not remaine with them in congelation, but Not farr after, Verily I say unto you that the Oyl which Naturally incerates & joyns Natures together, and Naturally introduces the Medecine into Other bodyes that are to be tinged, is not compounded of any Other Extraneous thing, but only of the Bowels of the Body that is to be dissolv'd.

[illegible] sayes therfore & the Woman is likewise the Dragon in [illegible] the whole Art, we understood in these precepts which by [illegible] the Bounds of Nature [illegible] persons [illegible] farr explained and declared to the Sons of Learning that Glory might be given to God.

A Juggling girdle or ring is thus made; there must be drawne three circles, or if you will, more, be enterlaced, but drawne wth one onely lyne, that in noe place they touch one the other. yet it comes to passe, that two will seeme to hang in the ayre by the wonderfull & subtile invention of the artificer. but it is much easier to be made then described, yet as wee could wee have here sett it downe. The reason is this. if wee would make a threefold ring, wee describe two circles. then wee take what number wee list, wch divided by three will leave an unitie and above the number of the circles, as for this purpose. 16. for divide by ~~three~~, there remaynes one, & three gives five. divide therefore the uttermost circle into sixteene equall parts, ~~settinge~~ downe soe many prickes. and as many divisions also be wee make in the lesse circle, but soe that lower prickes shall interrupt in the middest the uppermost. then the parcells of the circles being drawne from the lower pricke to the uppermost, & from that to the lower two allwayes kept over, & againe to the upmost two kept over, att length it will returne after perfecting of ~~these~~ circles to the same point. therefore one circle is made three

Too congeale mercury too come a tinkture too silver.

Take an yron potte, and pour therein smithes water and put too one pound of mercurye two pound of sal ammoniack, vitriol Romayn and verdegrease let these boyle in a quick fire, always stirring the mercury with an yron rodde, and as the water consumeth in boyling, supply the potte with other ~~water~~ warme water and then continue for six houres; take out the mercury congealed in the bottom of the potte after a presse, put it in a linnen clothe, and then strayne it, that which shal runne out [illegible] congealed, that [illegible] remaineth in the [illegible] [illegible] forme it in a lumpe or in a thinne plate and [illegible] [illegible] you lay it in the [illegible] [illegible] as a boord.

Too gyue this mercury a tinkture of gold.

Breake this mercury into thinne seueral peeces put in the bottom of a crusible a bedde of terra Cadmia, and an other bedde of this mercury, and so bedde vpon bedde vntyl this crusible bee halfe full, then put a lyd the crusible a mixture of dry figges, or elles the pill of a pomegranet, [illegible] of the sunne, and a yelowe root which the apothecaryes name Curcuma all theese must bee wel stampt, then fille vppe the remnant of this potte with this congealed mercury and terra Cadmia bedde vpon bedde. lute this crusible, and let it drye, set it next with a gentle fire for the space of six houres, then augment his heate, with blast vntyl it melt let it cole in the fire, and so you shal find this mercury come as fayre a tinkture as the angelle.

Too tinkture silver with this mercury congealed.

Take ~~[illegible]~~ two peeces of this mercury congealed and one of silver, melt them in to gether and you shal fine this silver gyue a single tinkture. put to this weight of silver as much of gold and then cement it with common salt, the dust of tyles, and Romayn vitriol for the space of xxiiij houres and you shal find yor silver transmuted to good gould.

Too tinge or tincture to Sylver -

Take the filinges of silver one part, and mingle it with three partes of mercurye, evapore away in the fire the greater part of the mercurye, namely so much as the silver is not soule, then take of sal ammoniacke and sulphur vive as much as yor silver weigheth, mingle altogether beinge stamped to gether let them bee sublimed with a quick fire. Take that which remayneth in the bottom of yor vessel and put it in this water following.

℞. Roman vitriol one part
The best coperosse ij partes sal niter iij partes Verdegresse a third part } to the vitriol. cinnabrium a sixt part }

Drawe a ~~[illegible]~~ strong water out of these ingredientes, then put two one part of yor silver two partes of this water, and let it boyle in a lent fire xij houres, evapore away the water, and that which remayneth in the bottom put in a crucible with some borasse, stopp yor crucible and melt yor ~~[illegible]~~ silver downe and it shal become a permanent tincture of gould.

℞. vitriol rubified a dramme.
Verdegresse halfe an ounce.
Sal armoniack a dram
Aluminis plumae drachmam
Bay salt one ounce.
~~[illegible]~~ Stamp all to gether and mingle it with urine, melt sol and cast it into thin plates, put the sayd plates in this ~~[illegible]~~ mixture and place it in a close crucible and cement it the iiij houres and it wil bee tinctured inward and outward.

Too prepare comon salt or bay salt.

R/ bay salt ij or thre poundes or ~~more~~ as muche as you list, and put it in cleer rayne water, or for lack of rayne water, put it in condit water, and let it stand there untill it be wholly dissolved. Thee oftener you stire it wyth a stick, the sooner it wyl dissolve. Then distil it by filter, and take the water thus distilled and put it over the fire, and let it ~~run~~ vapor away very gentelly. and you shal find yor salt in the bottom of yor pipkenne. Then you must dissolve that agayne in rayne or condit water and distil it as before, and so you must doo thrise, and then have you yor salt very well prepared. And by this meanes you may prepare CC or CCCli poundes of salt at one tyme. And when you doo not use it, you may lay it upp in a close wodden vessel and settle it in a dry or hot place all ye wynter ende or ellis where to preserve it from dissolving. And so must you preserve all yor other salts that you shal have occasion to use.

Too prepare yor sal Armoniack

Take a pound ~~of~~ or more of Sal Armoniack and cut it cleane as you shal know, then stamp it and serce it very fine. when you have so doone, take a pound of yor bay salt prepared, as is aforesayde and ioine it to a pound of yor serced sal armoniack, and mingle them wyth the muller very finely on a marble which you shal doo ye better yf you stamp yor bay salt after it is prepared and serce it as you dyd yor sal armoniack, ~~which~~ whych you must doo before yor coniunction betweene both these salts. when you have weyght and pounded both these salts sufficiently togeather put them in a sublimatory of glasse or of earthe glased. and let them sublime togeather untill ye sal armoniack ryse to the toppe of ye glasse. and when by the eye you shal perceive ye sal armoniack to be wholly sublimed you may slack yor fire and let yor vessel cool ij houres or an whole night. The next morning take out that whych is sublimed and weigh it and yf you have not the full weight of yor sal armoniack you may retorne the remnant to be sublimed agayne, or else you may kepe it. but yf you sublime it agayne you must stamp yor comon salt that resteth i the bottom and poure it on a marble as you deed before. But as many of ye Sal Armoniack as is sublimed kepe uppe, unlesse you meane to use it presently, I say kepe it uppe in a wodden vessel and in an hote place, as before is wrytten.

The preparing of ye Mercurye

Take as many pounds of mercurye as you list, and put it in a wodden dishe or bolle, and put therto cleane runnyng water, or condit water, and some bay salt unprepared, or yf you put vinegar and bay salte it is best and so stire them togeather with a wodden pestel as you know, and do this with salt iiij or five tymes, after with water or vinegar alone untill ~~it~~ the water be cleane and fayre from filthe. Then strayne it throwgh a white skynne as you know, then washe it over twise at leaste with cleane water and lette it dry in yor sunne, and then keepe ~~in~~ it uppe in a cleane glassen vessell.

Too sublyme yor mercurye.

If you purpose to sublyme yor mercurye yor self, doe according to this proces following. Take a pound or more of yor mercurye prepared or purged as is afore layd downe: and to every pound of mercury, put ~~to~~ halfe a pound of ~~salt~~ bay salt prepared, ~~or~~ and halfe a pound of vitriol, I meane not Romayn vitriol, because other vitriol wyl serve this turne sufficiently. Beat or stamp yor salt, and likewise yor vitriol very smalle, then mixe them both togeather on a marble stoune, then put yor mercury to them and stire them togeather untill yor mercury bee whoully drowned, put these materialles in yor sublimatory glasse and ~~yor~~ sublyme yor mercury from the salt and vitriol, as you did yor sal armoniack. and in this sort you shal purchase yor mercury sublemed. But yf you wylle bee easd of that laboure you may commonly by mercury sublemed in every apothecary his shoppe. and the ordinary price is fowre shillinges the pound. But sometyme they wyll sel arsenick sublimed for mercury sublemed, which as it doth spille out the price endevours, considering that arsenick sublimed is dearer then mercurial sublimat, the one being valued at iiijs the other sometyme at vjs or viijs, for ~~at~~ the mistaking of these substances might hinder you of all yor worke.

yow to know or discerne yor mercury sublimed from arsenick sublimed there are ~~there spec~~ iiij special tokens. The first is, that yor ~~a~~ mercurye wylle have glistering scales in hit, lyke ye scales of fish, and so wyl not ye sublimed arsenick have, but only looketh smoothe and very whit. The second token to ~~know~~ know is this. Take a litle of yor sublimat and wet a knife or a dagger with yor spittelle, and rubbe that place with ~~yor~~ ye yor sublimat hard, yf hit make the knife black or swartish, then is yt right yf hit doe not then is hit nought. The third token is this. Take yor sublimat and mingle hit with a litle Tartar, and boyle them both in an earthen potte during the space of an howre and yf hit be right sublimat hit wylle turne to bee quick mercurye This third token have I never tried but I take hit to be very trew. The fourth way to try hit is this. Take [illegible] and put hit in a crusible over the fire, and let hit continew there until the crusible be red hoat, then take halfe an ounce of yor sublimat and proiect hit upon yor silver, and yf hit be right hit wyl in two or three such proiections turne yor silver to be of a browne swarthish colour 18

colour and hit shal flote upon a plate lyke wax; as you have seene me doe. Which manner of mortifying of yor silver wyl serve you to a further purpose as hereafter shal be declared. When by any of these four special tokens you find yor sublimat [illegible] you must use hit in this order following. Take mercury sublimed one pound or more, and grind hit upon a marble, but beware that ye smel or the dust enter not into yor nose or eyes for hit is dangerouse. Then take ~~as~~ muche of yor sal armoniacke sublimed as you take of yor mercury sublimed ~~as is [illegible]~~, and mingle them both to water ~~or~~ on a marble, put them in yor sublimatory of glasse and make a soft fire, as you know, and so encrease hit a litle and litle until you guess that yor mercury is wholy sublimed in ye toppe of yor glasse. Let hit coole all a night, and mingle hit agayne with yor sal armoniack and so you must sublime seven tymes, allowing ~~[illegible]~~ xxiiij houres to every sublimation. And at ye seventh tyme ~~yor merc~~ or at ye eight tyme at ye uttermost yor mercurye wylle remayne in ye bottom and yor sal armoniack wylle sublime uppe, which you shalle know by ye yellowishe colour that shal appere in ye toppe of yor subliming glasse. and yor meryor mercury sublimed and yor sal ~~in weight or~~ ~~quantitie~~ armoniack must be equal in proportion.

wylle melt and flow in ye botom of ye lyghyst or on an hote plate, as you have already seen by experience. and whyche hit wylle bee commyng enclining to darknesse, by reason that hee is more purificatione.

Thee preparing of yor Tynne.

Take a pound or more of tynne and melt hit and proiect in hit stone pitch and burn as you know twise or thrise, and after melt hit and put therin som bay salt unprepared and stir hit stille whille hit bee hot, then washe hit in water ~~or~~ untill ye salt dissolve from hit, ~~after~~ then melt hit agayne ones or twise more and ~~proiect~~ proiect more salt in hit, ye oftner ye better, and after every proiection wash the salt from hit. ~~Then take iij partes of this~~ ~~tynne in ye~~ when you have doone wythe [illegible] these wayes there is an other manner to purge hit moch better, which is this.
Melt yor tynne, and beeing molten take hit ~~from~~ out of ye fire, and let hit stand coling in the vessell. Then presently have soom rude mercury(s) ~~[illegible]~~ as much as yor tynne in quantitye in a vessell and put hit on ye coles, and then let hit stand untill hit bee so hot as that you perceave hit fume then take hit uppe and poure hit among yor tynne, which tynne must not bee throughe hot that is to say, hard, but tending to that qualitee. For unlesse yor mercurye bee hote in such wise as hit flee, and yor tynne somwhat hot the mercury woont flee in yor face or smoke about ye house, becawse in nature heat and hot can not brooke one of the other. Therefore beeware not poure not hot mercury in hot tynne, or in any other hote metalle in any wyse. and also keepe yor self from the fume of mercury in alle woorkes.

For hit breedeth the palsye and dyvers other diseases. when you have mingled both these substances togeather lett them coole in the vessell. and if you purpose to ~~[illegible]~~ save yor mercury you [illegible] hit over wyth pitch [illegible] [illegible] as you [illegible] in the ~~[illegible]~~ mylle, which [illegible] you shal have [illegible].
But if yor woork require speede and that you wylle not stand about the saving of yor mercurye, as soone as you have poured them in wyth ye tynne never stay for coling, but put the vessell on the coles and let the ~~[illegible]~~ mercury fume away, then take upp yor tynne and put more mercury to hit as you dyd before thre or foure tymes

And at the last tyme bee sure yor mercurye bee turned away from yor tynne and this is the quickest kind of purging tynne that hitherto I knowe. when yor tynne is thus prepared take iij partes thereof and melt hit, being molten take uppe and let hit coole, then take iiij partes of yor purged mercurye and warme hit over the fier untill you perceive hit fume, then take hit uppe and power hit to the tynne before hit bee thorough cold, and stirre both the substances with a rodde, and so let them coole. then take this substance out of the crusible, which you shalle find white and ready to falle to dust or powder, put hit in a woodden boule, and wash hit and stirre hit as you knowe untill the water goe from hit cleer and so have you yor fermentation prepared for the blanche. Then to procede further you shalle use this processe. Take as much of yor mercurye before sublimed as you put of yor crude mercury to yor tynne that is to say foure partes, beat hit smalle in a morter, then joyne hit to yor ferment above sayd, grinding them together on a marble untill they bee fully incorporated. Then put them to dissolve as you knowe, and in short space you shal purchase an oyle which keepe in a glasse. when you purpose to proceede further put as much of this oyle as you list in a ~~pel~~ glasse and lute yor ~~[illegible]~~ glasse very close, put hit in a philosophers tower called Athanor, which shal bee made for you, and let hit have the first ~~of~~ degree of fire untill xxx dayes bee past in which space you shalle see putrifaction, and a rebynning of colours, and at the length a perfect white colour. yf you ~~[illegible]~~ increase yor heat by ~~a~~ degrees for five or six dayes after hit wylle not bee amisse. yf you have store of this oyle readye ~~yt~~ ~~[illegible] in this wyse~~ you may proceede to multiplication or projection as you list. projection runneth one upon six of Venus purged or unpurged. But you must multiply yor medicine in this order following. ~~A~~ Take one part of yor medicine, and three partes of crude mercury thus purged in such wise as is before expressed ... then yor medicin in the glasse by breaking it to smal powder and pour thereto yor mercury and set them together within the glasse, & put it in a lent fire, and in iij or foure houres it will turne to medicyne. and so you may multiply it further, as occasion shal serve.

When you ferment with silver, it may bee doon two wayes, the one way is to ~~[illegible]~~ take filinges of silver one part, and iij partes of well prepared mercury, mingle them together, wash them as you did yor lymme in a bottle until the water come cleare from the substance, and put to that iij partes of yor sublimed and fixed mercury as you know, and put them to dissolve.
The second way is this. Take filinges of silver or smal plates, put them in a crusible when they are red hote, proiect upon that substance a pretty quantitie of mercury sublimed as you bring it at the amalgamynges, and ~~after that~~ when it hath doon smoking pour out of yor crusible all the substance that wylle runne from ~~[illegible]~~ thence, and put the remnant remaine agayne in the fire, and proiect agayne

more mercury sublimed, and after smoking pour out the remnant, and so continew untylle you see nothing left in the potte. Stamp that silver very smalle and put to one part thereof iij of mercury crude, and iij of yor sublimed fixt mercury and put them to dissolve.

Lykewise ~~[illegible]~~ in calcining yor gold you may use aequal proportion or a litle more and if you list of mercury for feare that some of it should fume away. and the order how to calcine them you know. put to this calx of gold ij partes of crude mercury yt is the other mercury once stilled elles not, and ij partes of yor mercury sublimed and fixt, and put it to dissolve. There is an other way to prepare or weaken yor gold which is doon in this wise. Take filinges of gold the smallest you can gette, and put thereto by weight as much ~~sal ar~~ ~~moniack~~ or somewhat more of sal armoniack sublimed put them together in a crusible ~~and lette it~~ over the fire, and lette the salt armoniack fume quite away. Then ioine more salt to it as before, and thus you must use eight tymes at the lest.

Then you must take ordinary sublimed mercury and ioyne it to ye good in such sort as you did your sal armoniak, and sublime it eight times likewise from ~~the~~ the good, and by this meanes you shal weaken and prepare your good to dissolution: whereunto putting two partes of crude mercury, and two ~~[illegible]~~ partes of mercurye sublimed and set your [illegible] wth it as is afore expressed.

finis.

You may multiply your medicin of sol and luna by proiecting one part of your medicin upon six of there bodies molten, or ells you may multiply it wth mercury alone, or likewise wth mercury and the bodies amalgamed togither equally, but you must melt the body in this multiplication.

Reasons of the Cure

It is most certaine yt ye plant & ye saffron have hidden properties to cure the Jaundice & Therefore all the mistery of this Cure belongeth to ye respect & relation which is betweene the blood of the diseased and the urin of the blood of the diseased which carrieth with it partly some naturall salt & tincture of the blood, & partly some of the relickes of the Icteritious humor which maketh the urin yellow: The Spirit of blood therefore with his agent lurking in ye tincture & salt which is in the watery serous or wheyie excrement, and being bound in ye medicinable earth of the Ashes in which the salt of the plant dwelleth, is stirred upp by the Conjunction which it hath with that spirit of life which yet dwelleth in the sick mans veines: Therefore the water & being imbued & mingled with the medicinable earth & mixed with saffron, the vivifying Spirit of the sick tending to the preservation of life, doth aid the like in the urin, and also Excitate & revive yt in ye salt of the Ashes, to act & fight against the Icteritious humor in the urin, which fading & being by little and little Conquered maketh his like in the sicke body to dye and vanish, Besides all this the spirit lurking in the salt and Excitated partly by the excyted spirit of the plant, and partly by the Emanating spirit of the sick body, doth send or carry backe a Curative property unto the whole bulke of the blood:

For a woman in travaile

Divers midwives do observe and use this tryall:

A gentlewoman about London taketh a flower called a rose of the Jerim, which hath small huskes about it, which flower will open and shut
she putteth it in plantin water, and it closeth
Therefore when a woman with Child beginneth her travaile, she giveth her a little plantin water, and then though the woman appeare (to the midwife) never so = ready to be delivered, yet if the gentlewoman se the vegetable closed she concludeth that they are deceived, and that there is no such matter: (and so it proveth)
Againe when the midwyfe doubteth of her delivery (and yet she be indeed neere it) the flower will open by little and little as the Matrix doth; and then the gentlewoman biddeth the ~~[illegible]~~ midwyfe looke to it, affirming her that the laboring woman is ready for it, and so it proveth:

The flesh in the Mummy which is Compounded of flesh & Balsame
the fatt of mans body which Commeth with the rest unto the perfection of oyntment
And with all these (as is sayd) the blood is mingled, which was the begining & foode of them all for as much as in it is the spirit of life; and with it the bright soule doth abide and cooperateth after a hidden manner, so that the whole perfection of mans body doth seeme to Concurr unto the Confection of this pretious oyntment:
And this is the reason why there is so great a respect & Consent between the oyntment and the blood of the wounded person
For it is necessary that some of the blood of the wounded be drawen out from the depth of the wound:

The blood is the prime ingredient, which the noblest of Egipt were wont to make of the naturall Balsam & such like bituminous & unctious things as were inimies to Corruption.

The Balsamick nature is nothing els but a volatil & essentiall salt, yt is full of vegetating & multiplying nature, which it receiveth from above, as a pretious soule to vivifie and animate it, the which vertue is yt Calidum innatum, or naturall heat by whose vertue every Creature doth exist, and ye volatil vehicle in which it is Carryed is that Humidum radicale or radicall moysture or humiditie by which & in which the sayd vertue doth Immediatly move and act unto life, vegetation and multiplication:
By the operation therefore of these essentiall active and passive vegetables and Animals do manifestly (and minerals occultly) vegetate & multiply, and that as well in their forme or naturall fire, as in their substance
And for this cause the true Alchamists call this misticall salt, sal sapientium for as much as in it Consists the mistery of nature Others terme it the true Balsammum naturæ in which all the mysteries of nature do Consist Touching the aeriall part, it is the volatil salt which is every where exposed in the open aire, & it is the proper essence of and in the ayre in which the Spirit of life is and nothing can exist or be of any continuing without this misticall salt or flowr of life but will quickly decay & Corrupt
There is salt in the very dunghill yt giveth life and heat to the ground whereby it multiplieth the graine in a great proportion, and sucketh to it more plentifully ye Cælestiall influence of life:
The very essence of Animall Creatures blood in generall Consisteth in this Balsamick salt:
By it the body is animated, By it the flesh through apposition, union & agglutination of parts is vivified, multiplied & successively preserved, And unlesse it cometh into a vivifying spirit, man is quickly rotten & Corrupted:
It is certaine that this vivifying spirit which is Donum dei Cuilibet Creaturæ is the true operator in this busines, ^vitall^ most convenient to heale, mend & agglutinate a wounded body assisted with application, more ether by a reall or virtuall Contact
It followeth therefore that this spirit being in the Blood, Fatt, Bones, & Flesh of man ~~which doth participate~~ for as much as they do subsist by it, and were first animated, engendred & multiplied by it do participate of this spirit which in wisdome: 16. 10. is sayd doth animate and heale all things

Obiection. when this spirit of life in the flesh, blood & fatt is not separated from the living man it hath vertue, but being seperated it hath none

Answer It may looke on the ~~dead man~~ sudden resorting of the blood in the murtherer at ye presence of the murthered, which could not happen without this vivifying spirit did participate with & lurke in the blood, though without action, till by the murthering spirit it was excited unto action;

It is

It is most certaine to such as have applyed themselves to ye art of distilling, yt mans blood & bones do containe an admirable deale of volatile salt, in which there is so excellent a balsamicke disposition yt it doth by ye propinquity of nature suddenly appease ye dolours of ye gout & intolerable aches, cureth wounds, healeth such as are afflicted with the mother, & falling sicknes:

And ye oyle of mans fat is a great appeaser of ye gout & other dolours, a healer of wounds, a present dryer up of Excoriations

Every ostler will tell yu yt the dropping of a Candle end will cure a horses hole being cut with a stone or shoe: & Hogs grease & Deares suett are esteemed ~~most~~ necessary ingredients in a healing salve:

Even so by ye same spirit hath the fatt, flesh, blood and bones ye vertue of healing or not at all: the difference is this, when they are in the living body their vertue is Actuall, but being separated it is only potentiall

We have therefore the Balsamick salt in all these ingredients: & in ye salt lurketh the active vertue, which being stirred by his fountaine of action, flowing & acting a termino a quo doth reagere or act againe a termine ad quem. viz from the beginning to the ending:

This is the reason that this oyntment worketh not only by a reall but also by a virtuall contact, namely by reason of ye vertue which it holdeth from his first Creator:

Doeth an herbe or roote lose his sanative vertue because they are gathered from the plant, No! for ye wheat Corne gathered from ye straw or ye apple from the tree have still their vegetating & multiplying spirit: for being put into the earth the very Atom of life quickning in them & maketh them growe againe

The urin which is the waterie Excrement of the blood is full of salt Armoniacke & by reason of the Balsamick nature thereof mans urin doth mundifie & Cure a fresh greene wound;

Chap: 4: member: 2: The application of salves, balsomes, or inward physicke, the naturall spirits & internall actor of life doth helpe & assist the medicines in this Cure, else they would not effect any matter, and for this reason is the phisitian called Adiutor naturæ.

The principall agent in this Cure is Comprehended in the body of the wounded, for it is observed & found true that when the wounded person hath sent his blood on the sticke, Iron or weapon to the oyntment, and that thereupon he hath beene in a good way of healinge: If in the tyme of his Cure he hath to doe with a menstruous woman Immediately the Curative power of the oyntment is lost and it will do him no more good. or if he happen to have an issue of blood out of his nose the curative power is taken away: whereby it appeareth that this happeneth because the act & secret Emanation of the internall spirit of life in the wounded is diverted from his aspect to the weapon salve

One being wounded with a sythe, his lord bid strike the sythe out of the hafte which the wounded man doing himselfe, at the first strooke the blood presently stanched: And though no dropp of blood could be seene upon the sythe, yet the salve being applyed by ~~[illegible]~~ guesse, the wounded man was Cured as well as if the blood had stucke upon it:

But it is not the Devill that worketh any thing in the Cure, but it is by the Centrall Emanation of that spirit in the wounded yt giveth him life, which operateth ab interno:

Chap: 4. There was a knight in Kent, learned, Judicious, & Religious Called Sr Nicholas Gilbourne having acquaintance with Captaine Styles was with the sayd Captaine Stiles, and divers good & learned divines at the making of this salve or oyntment, & saw all the Ingredients apart, and after saw the Apothecary Compound them, and by them it was accompted a lawfull medicine: And a box of it being given to one of them, it wrought divers good Cures:

As one Cut with an Axe so deepe as it would goe, and not Cutt it of: was Cured with it:

A boy going into a pond to get fish, a reede ran into the Calfe of his legg, it bled much, put him to great payne: the boyes mother sent for a Chirurgion to dresse it, but the boy Continued still full of payne and apt to faint: the mother sent to Sr Nicholas Gilbourne who answered he would do him no good because he was already dressed by a Chirurgion. The mother importuned him: whereupon because the orifice was very narrowe, he advised them to wash away all the Chirurgions worke, and to put a knitting needle into the wound, so farr as it would goe, and to tye a thread where it stopped and would goe no further: they did so, and found it went through to the skin on the other side, he annoynted the needle, and in appearance it was well, saving that upon the topp of the orifice there was a scale: Sr Nicholas, nothing well pleased with the scale, annoynted the needle againe overnight & the next morning there came out at the orifice a small splinter of the Reede, And in two or three dayes after it was perfectly whole

I gather that the mistery of this Cure Consisteth in the secret and invisible spirit which is within the blood, as well remaining and operating in the wounded body, as that which hath invisibly penetrated into the weapon: Yea and out of this observation, that the sythe being strucke the blood did forthwith stanch, there is as great a mistery opened as why the presence of the murtherer doth cause the Congealed blood of the murthered to flowe

flowe and run againe, all which is effected, partly by the Contracting property of the occult spirit in the blood, And partly by his dilation as by So as the Cure is by the Centrall Emanation of the spirit in the wounded that giveth him life which operateth ab interno:

The wise philosophers (speaking Enigmatically of this spirit) say yt in ye body is a little bone called Luz, which will remaine with a man till the latter day & cause him to revive againe, but we must understand this after their owne sense & not vulgarly:

The Antient physitians & philosophers have observed that Lungs nourish Lungs Braines nourish Braines yt are weake: The spleene helpes the spleene: for weake Gutts they make glisters of boyled Gutts The stomack of a Cocke helpeth ye disgestion, The very spittle voyded by the phthisicall Lungs are sayd to cure the Lungs,

Wormes mortified & dryed do together destroy wormes

The stone of the Kidney rightly prepared cureth the stone

Angels have soules and Bodies:
or Internall & Externall:

First yu must knowe that if they were Identity, that is of all one simple forme or being they would be all one in Essence with God their Creator, who is Called Identitas or ~~[illegible]~~ absolute & simple unity: But for as much as they are Compounded of two namely of light which is the beame of God which they receive to informe them & make them Creatures: And spirit to ~~make~~ a polished looking glasse receiveth the glory of yt divine light. there called Alteritas or Alterity that is Composed of two And St Denis termeth them Agalmatha, that is most Cleare mirrours or looking glasses receiving the light of God:

So as the Angels internall & as it were his soule is the brightnes of Gods Emanation His polished or pure airy Externall is his spirituall body which receiveth this light

For we must note that in the beginning Heaven and Earth were made of water, & by water Consisting by the word as St peter sayeth 2 peter: 3: & therefore the whole world is Composed of an internall or invisible which is the soule or spirit animated by Gods word: And an External & visible Earth & water:

So as every Creature must needes be Compounded of an internall or Active soule, and an Externall or Organicall receptacle of that soule which is the body, — as is apparent Genes: 1. that when the spirit of God did move upon the waters the water was the Catholik patient And the spirit the internall Agent.

St Augustin super Genesim sayeth The spirit moved upon the waters imparting unto them a fiery vigour or vertue, That is a vivifying nature, So that the spirituall Created Catholike waters were animated by the spirituall increated Catholike breath & light of life, whose spirit in every Creature is the spirit of life, and therefore their Central soule, and the Creature animated is the body: wherefore as the purest & most spirituall part of water ~~is the body~~ or aire is the External of the Angel. So his internal is the Lucid act of Gods spirit

We find in holy writ that God is sayd to speake out of the organical Cloud So that if Jehovah maketh this organicall tabernacle of the aire to utter his voyce unto mortall eares as appeareth in many places of Scripture It is no sin to say that his inferiour spirits have airy substances for their External bodies, which being granted, what should hinder spirits by contraction of this their Externall substances to appeare visibly when they please & organically to talke with a person: and againe by an immediate dilatation of the same External airye spirit to become invisible:

If then Angels of all kinds have their Externall from the airy spirit of the world & their internal from ye Eternall vivifying spirit in whom is the property of the foure windes we ought not to make any question but that by the vertue of ye Internall act, and the substance of the External aire they may contract themselves from a spirituall fiery and airy invisibilitie unto a Nebulous or watery grosse and earthly visibilitie, or snowie or Icie nature, especially the the grosse maligant & darke spirits which by their fall have indued the grosser region as sayeth St Augustin And therefore by the Apostle satan is called the prince of the Ayre!

It is by his Emanation or dilatation from the Center to the Circumference that kindleth naturall heat in the Externall of every Creature Therefore it is most Cleare & certaine, that where there is rarum, & densum, Thin and thick Consequently there is Corporeitie either thin or thicke, for whatsoever is in his substance transmutable unto a thinner or thicker body must needs be bodily, though not a visible body: So fire may be Condensed into Aire: Aire into water, & water into Earth And againe that Earth may be rarified into water, water into Aire, and Aire into fier, Now the Externall of Angells must be Created of the spirituall substance of the higher world or not at all And so ~~[illegible]~~ Consequently it is bodily, though of a thinner or thicker Consistence, according to the dignity of the Angell.

Lightening ~~[illegible]~~ being the soule of the Clowde, yet Except it have his Cloudy organ or bodily ~~[illegible]~~ instrument it will not sparkle

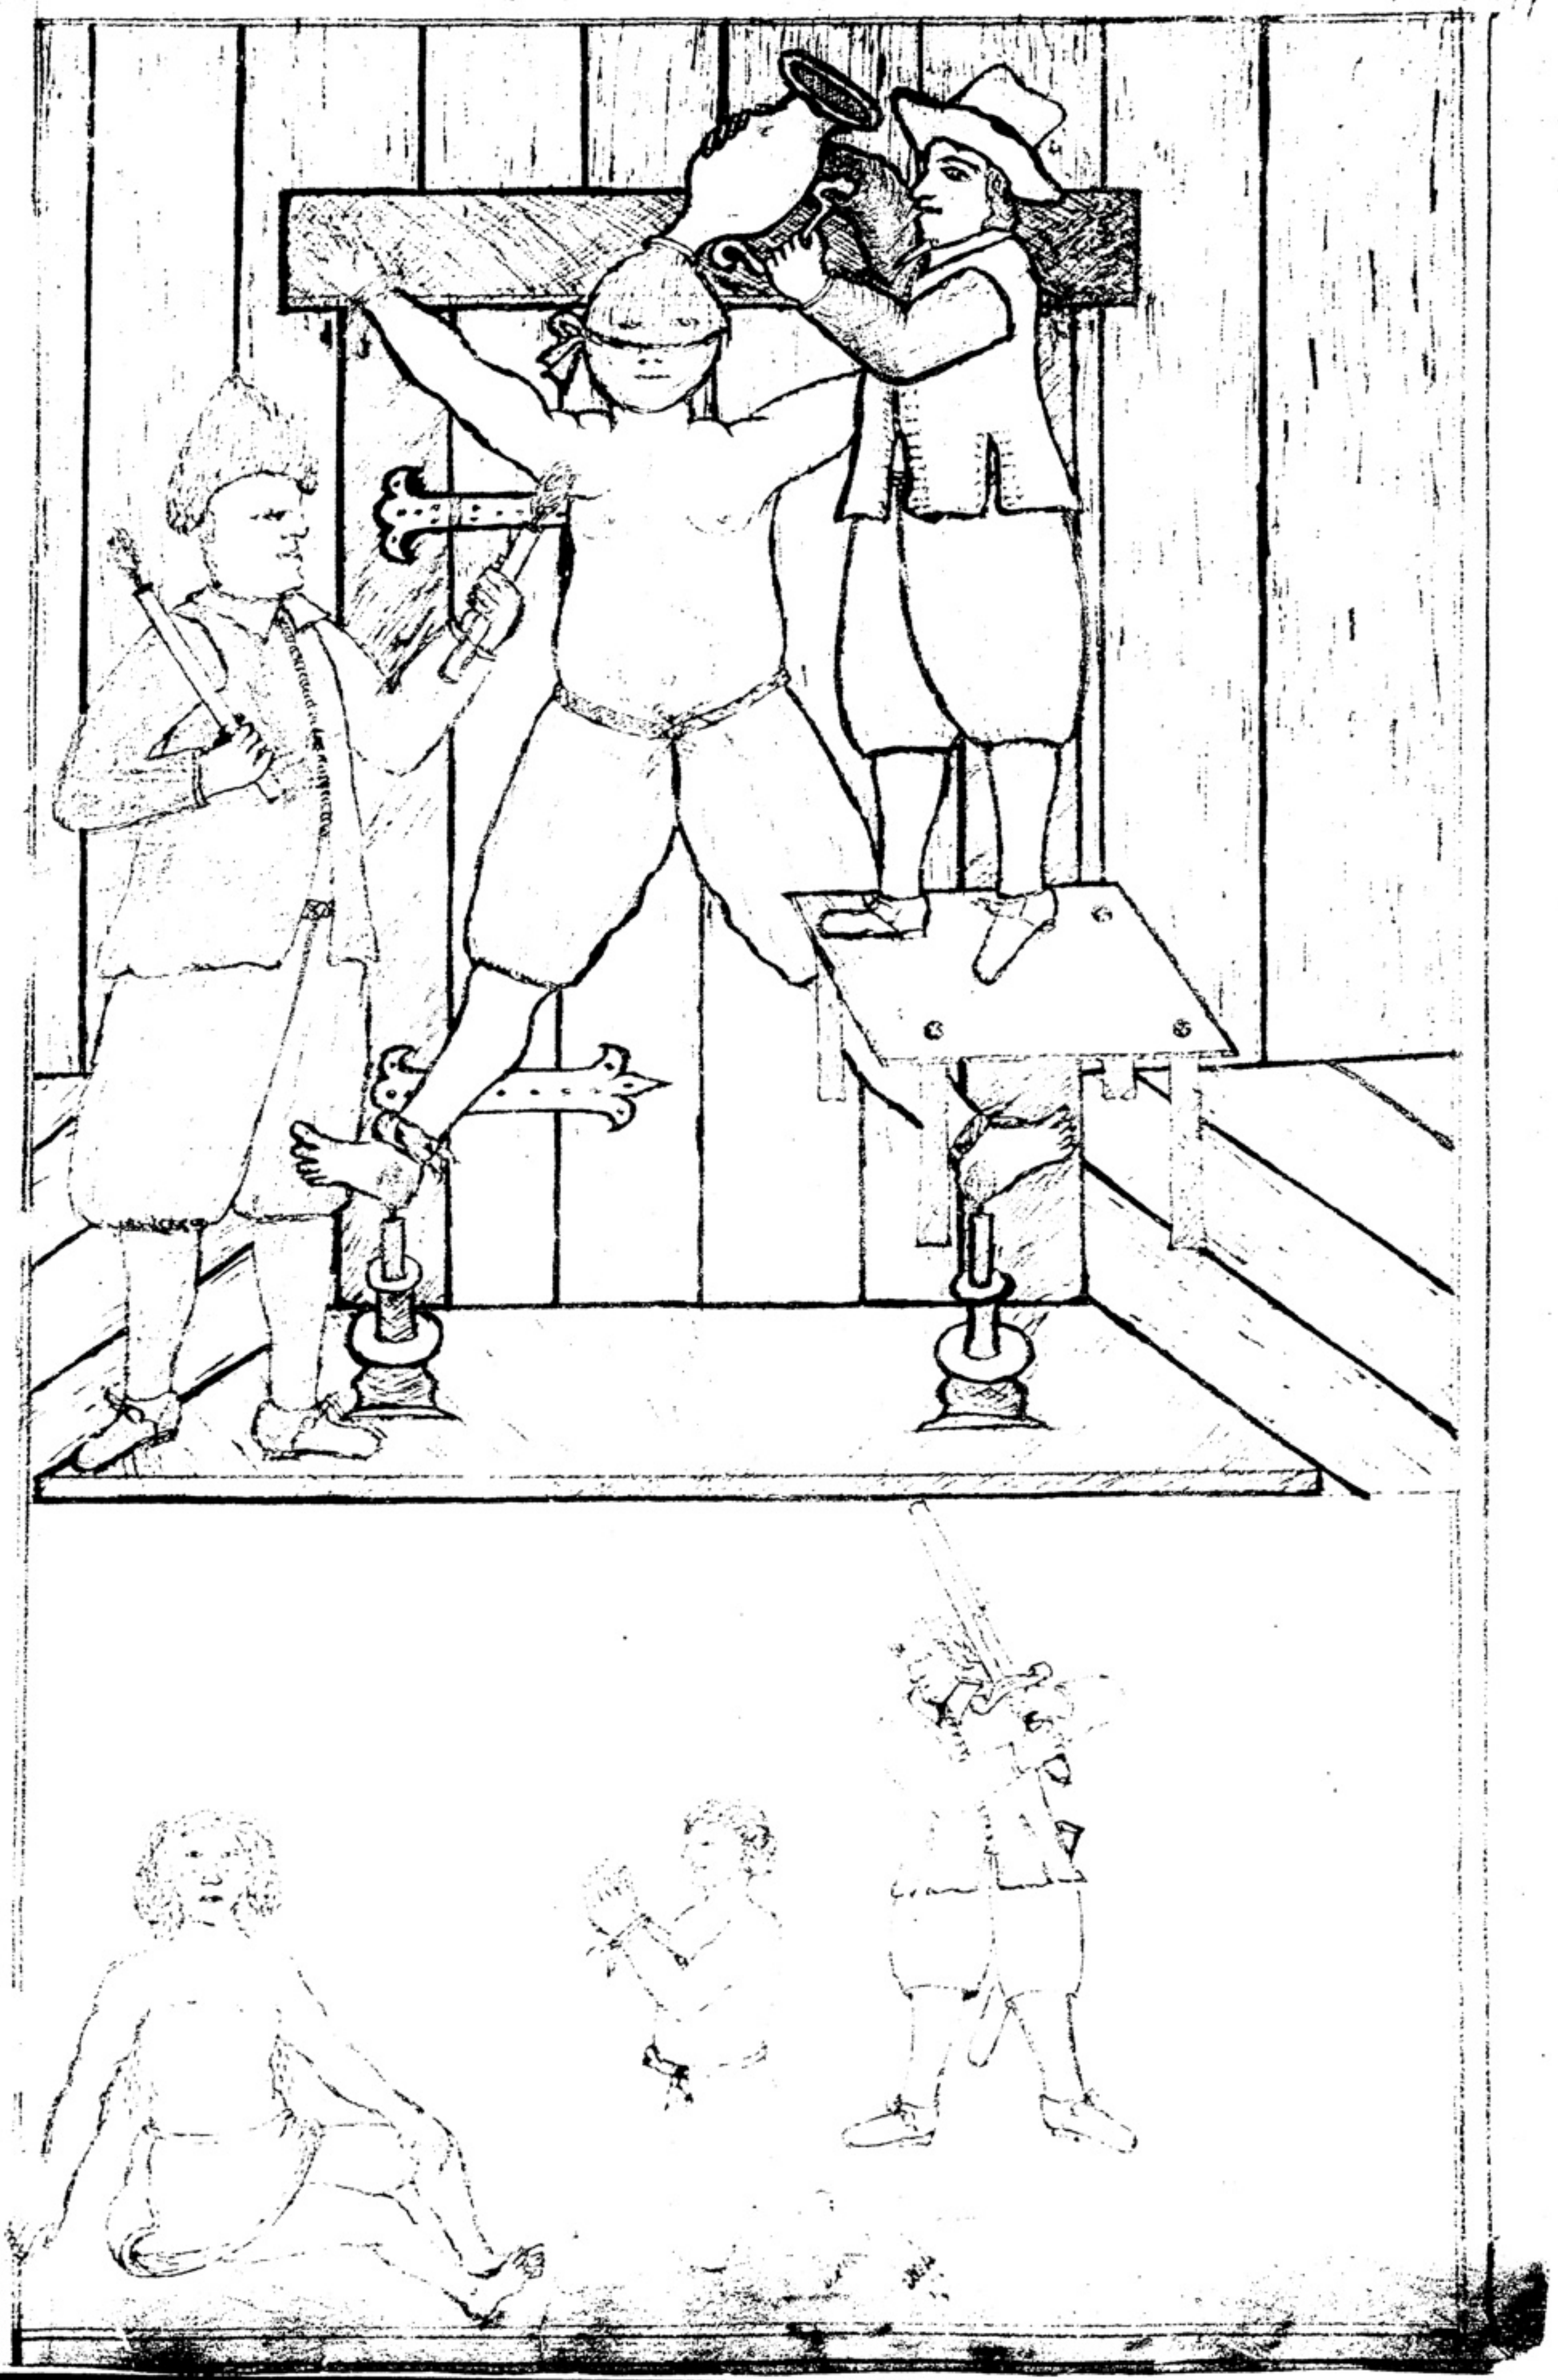
The cruelty of ye Duch at Amboyna ye English



A true Relation of the cruell and barbarous Tortures and Execution done upon the English at Amboyna in the East Indies by the Netherlanders there

After the [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] conference, the one at London A° 1613 and the other A° 1615 at the Hage in Holland touching the differences betweene the English & Dutch in the East Indies, At last by a third treaty A° 1619 [illegible] [illegible] made [illegible] [illegible] of all the said [illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] order sett for the future proceedings of the subjects of both [illegible] in the Indies, as well in the course of their trade & commerce as otherwise. Amongst sundry other points it was agreed that in respect of the greate charge & cost [illegible] to have [illegible] by the Hollanders in winning of the trade of the Islands of Moluccas, Banda & Amboyna from the Portugalls, & in building of Forts for the securing of the same, the said Netherlanders should enjoy two third parts of that trade, & the English the other third, & the charges of the Forts to be maintained [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. In consequence of this agreement the English [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] some at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] could [illegible] [illegible] occasion to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the said [illegible] at the Towne of Amboyna, and thereof first Mr George Muschampe & afterwards Mr Gabriel Towerson were their Agents, with directions over their [illegible] factories at Hitto, Larica, upon the same Island, at Loho, Cambello, upon a point of ground of [illegible] Ceram.

Upon this Island of Amboyna, the [illegible] of [illegible] the Hollanders have [illegible] castles [illegible] [illegible] at Amboyna [illegible] Besides these there is alwaies a matter of three or foure hundred Mardikers (for so they call the free burghers of the Towne) ready to serve the Castle at an howres warning. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the Hollanders, as well for the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as for the occasions of traffique, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Rendezvous, as well for the Islands of Banda as for the rest of Amboyna. [illegible] the English [illegible], not in the Castle [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in a howse of their owne in the Towne, holding themselves [illegible], as well in respect of the ancient bands of Amity betweene both Nations, as of the firme conjunction made by the late Treaty before mentioned.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], concerning the Trading [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in vertue of the said Treatie, there were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] sundry differences & debates betweene [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Netherlanders did not only [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] unnecessary expence, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] large & unreasonable reckonings [illegible] to the common accompt, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] to pay the Garrisons [illegible] contrary [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the ballance it cost them. [illegible] [illegible] not allowe of the English Companies parte of the same charge, but only in ready money, thereby drawing from the English, wch ought to pay but one third pte, more then two thirds of the whole true charge. Hereupon & upon the like occasions grewe some discontent & disputes & the complaints were sent to Jaccatra in the Island of Java Major to the Councell of Defence of both Nations there residing. Who agreeing not upon the points in difference sent the same over into Europe to bee decided by both Companies here, or in default of their agreement by the Kings Matie & the Lords States Generall according to an Article of the Treatie of the yeere Ao. 1619. in this behalfe. In the meane tyme the discontent betweene the English & Dutch about these & other differences continued & daily encreased, untill at last there was a sword found at once to cutt in sunder that knott wch the Councell disputes of Amboyna & Jaccatra could not untie. And this was in manner as followeth.

About the 11th of February 1622. Stilo veteri. a Japonese a Souldier of the Dutch in their Castle of Amboyna, walking in the night upon the wall, came to the Sentinell (being a Hollander) & there amongst other talke asked him some questions touching the strength of the Castle, & the people that were therein. It is here to bee noted that these Japonezes (of whome there were not thirty in all the Island) did for the most pte serve the Dutch as Souldiers, yet were not of their trusty bands, always lodged in the Castle, but upon occasion called out of the Towne to assist in the watch. This Japonese aforesaid was for his said conference wth the Sentinell apprehended upon suspition of Treason, & putt to the torture. Thereby (as some of the Dutch affirme) hee was brought to confesse himselfe & many others of his Countreymen there to have contrived the taking of the Castle. Hereupon other Japonezes were examined & tortured, as also a Portugall the Guardian of the slaves under the Dutch. During this examination wch continued three or foure daies some of the Englishmen went to & from the Castle upon their business, sawe the prisoners, heard of their tortures, & of the crime laid to their charge. But all this while suspected not, that this matter did any waie concerne them, having never had any conversation wth the Japonezes nor wth the Portugall aforesaid. At the same tyme there was one Abell Price Surgeon of the English, prisoner in the Castle, for offering in his drunkennesse to sett a Dutchmans house on fire. This fellowe the Dutch tooke & shewed him some of the Japonezes whome they had first most grievously tortured, & told him that they had confessed the English to have beene of their consort for the taking of the Castle, & that if hee would not confesse the same, they would use him even as they had done those Japonezes, & worse also. Having given him the torture they soone made him confesse what ever they asked him. This was the 15th of February 1622 Stilo veteri. Forthwith about 9. of the clock the same morning they sent for Capt Towerson & the rest of the English that were in the Towne, to come to speake wth the Governour in the Castle. They all went save one that was left in the house. Being come to the Governour, hee told Captaine Towerson that himselfe & others of his nation were accused of conspiracy to surprize the Castle & therefore untill further triall hee commanded them prisoners. Instantly they also attached him that was left at home in the house, tooke the Merchandize of the English company into their owne custody by Inventory, & seized all the chests, boxes, books, writings & other things in the English house. Capt Towerson was committed to his chamber wth a guard of Dutch Souldiers, Emanu Tomson was kept prisoner in the Castle, the rest sent aboard the Holland Shipps then riding in harbour, some to one Shipp, & som another & all made fast in Irons. The same day also the Gouern sent to the two other Factories in the same Island to apprehend rest of the English there. So that Samuell Colson John Clarke & George Sharrock that were found in the Factory at Hitto, & Willia Griggs & John Sadler at Larica were all brought prisoners to Ambo the 16th of February, Upon wch day also John Beomont, John Wethe & Thomas Ladbrooke were apprehended at Cambello & Loho & brough in Irons to Amboyna the 20th day of the same month. In the me tyme the Governour & Fiscall went to worke wth the prisoners th were already there. And first they sent for John Beomont & Timothy Johnso from aboard the Shippes, who being come into the Castle Beomont was kept wth a guard in the hall & Johnson was taken into another roome. Where of by Beomond heard him crye out very pittifully, then to bee quiet for a little while, & then aloud againe. After this of the torture Abell Price the Surgeon that was first examined tortured as aforesaid remembred was brought in to confront & accuse him. But Johnson not yet confessing any thing, Price was quickly carried out & Johnson brought againe to the torture. Where Beomont heard him to some tyme cry, then quiet againe then roare afresh. At last after hee had beene about an howre in this second examination, hee was brought forth wailing & lamenting, all wett & cruelly burnt in divers pts of his body, & so laid aside in a by place of the hall wth a Souldier to watch him that hee should speake wth no body. Then Emanuell Tomson brought to examination, not in the Roome where Johnson had beene, but in another some thing further from the hall yet Beomont being in the hall heard him roare most lamentably many times. At last after an howre & a halfe spent in torment him hee was carried away into another roome another way, so that came not by Beomont through the hall. Next was Beomont & being demanded many things, wch hee denied wth deep oaths & protestations was made faste to bee tortured, a cloth about his neck, & two men ready wth their jarres of water to bee poured on his head, But yet at this tyme the Governour had loosed him, & to spare him a day or two, because hee was an old man. This was Satterdaies worke the 15th of February aforesaid.

Upon Sunday the 16th of February, William Webber, Edward Collins, Ephraim Ramsey & Robert Browne were fetcht from aboard the Rotterdam to be examined. And at the same tyme came Samuel Colson, William Grigg John Clarke, George Sharrock & John Sadler from Hitto & Larica, & immediately upon their arrivall brought into the Castle hall.

Robert Browne the Taylor was first called in, who being tormented wth water, confessed all in order as the Fiscall asked him.

Then was Edward Collins called in, & told, those that were formerly had confessed him as accessary to the plott of taking of the Castle, which hee denied wth greate oathes & execrations they made him faste fast to the rack, bound a clothe aboute his throate wth put to the torture of water. Thus prepared, hee prayed to bee let downe & hee would confesse all. Being lett downe, hee againe protested his innocency, yet said, That because they knewe they would by Torture make him confesse any thing, though never so false they should doe him a greate favour to tell him what they would him saying hee would speake it to avoide the Torture. The Fiscall there upon said, what did you [illegible]; & hoysted him againe, & so gave him the torment of water; which hee not able long to endure, prayed to bee lett downe to his confession. Then hee devised a little with himselfe, & told them that about two monthes & a halfe before, himselfe, Tomson, Johnson, Browne & Fardo, had plotted with the helpe of the Japoneses to surprize the Castle. Here hee was interrupted by the Fiscall, & asked whether Capt Towerson was not one of that conspiracy? hee answered no. You lye said the Fiscall, did not hee call you all to him, & told you, that those dayly abuses of the Dutch, had caused him to thinke of a plott, & that hee wanted nothing but your consents & secrecy? Then said a Dutch Merchant one John Joost there standing by, did not you all sweare upon a Bible to bee secrett to him? Collins answered with great oaths that hee knew nothing of any such matter. Then they made him fast againe. Whereupon hee then said all was true that they had spoken. Then the Fiscall asked him whether the English in the other Factories were not consenting to this plott? hee answered no. The Fiscall then asked him whether the President for the English at Jacatra, or Mr Welden agent at Banda, were not plotters or privy to this business? Collins answered no. Then the Fiscall asked him, what meanes the Japoneses should have executed their purpose. Whereat when Collins stood staggering & devising some probable fiction, the Fiscall helped him & said, should not two Japoneses have come to each point to the chamber of the Governor, & when the hurly burly had beene without, the Governor coming to see what was the matter, the Japoneses to have killed him? Here one that stood by said to the Fiscall, doe not tell him what hee should say, but lett him speake for himselfe. Whereupon the Fiscall without attending the answere to his former question, asked what the Japoneses should have had for their reward? Collins answered 1000. Rialls apeece. Lastly hee asked him when this plott should have beene effected? Whereunto hee answered him nothing, not knowing what to devise on the suddaine; yet was hee dismissed & was glad to come cleere of the torture, though with certaine beliefe that hee should dye for this confession.

Next was Samuell Colson brought in being newly arrived from Hitto as is before touched. This man was likewise brought to the torture, who for feare of the paine, as having seene Collins come out in such a case that his eyes were almost blowne out of his head with the torment of water, chose rather to confesse all they asked him, and so was quickly dismissed coming out weeping, lamenting & protesting his innocence.

Then was John Clarke that came with Colson from Hitto brought in, & after was [illegible] without in the [illegible] tormenting him with water & with fire by the space of two houres. The manner of his torture, as also of [illegible] Thomsons was as followeth. First they hoysted him up by the hands with a cord on a large doore, where they made him fast upon two staples of iron, fixed on both sides at the topp of the doore posts, haling his hands one from the other as wide as they could stretch. Being thus made fast his feete hung some two foote from the ground, which also they stretched asunder as farr as they would reach, & so made them fast beneath unto the doore trees on eather side. Then they bound a cloth about his neck & face so close that little or no water could goe by. That done

they powred the water softly upon his head, untill the Cloath was full up to the mouth & nostrills, & somewhat higher, so that hee could not breathe, but hee must withall sucke in the water. When hee had drawne his body full, then began his paine, for then the water being still continued to bee powred on softly, forced all his inward parts, came out of his nose, eares & eyes, & often as it were stifling & choaking him at length tooke away his breath & brought him to a swound or fainting. Then they tooke him quickly downe & made him vomitt up the water. Being a little recovered they tricd him up againe, & powred in water as before, eftsoones taking him downe as hee seemed to bee stifled. In this manner they handled him three or foure severall tymes with water, till his body was swolne twice or thrice as bigg as before, his cheekes like greate bladders, & his eyes staring & strutting out beyond his forehead. Yet all this hee bare without confessing any thing, insomuch as the Fiscall & Tormentors reviled him saying, That hee was a Devill & no man, or surely was a witch, at least had some charme about him, or was enchaunted that hee could beare so much. Wherefore they cutt of his haire very shorte, as supposing hee had some witchcraft hidden therein. Afterwards they hoysted him up againe as before, & then burnt him with lighted candles in the bottome of his feete, untill the fatt dropt out the candles; yet then applied they fresh lights unto him. They burnt him also under the elbowes, & in the palmes of his hands, likewise under the arme pitts, untill his inwards might evidently bee seene. At last when they saw hee could make no handsome confession, then they ledd him along with questions of particular circumstances, by themselves framed. Being thus wearied & overcome by the Torment, hee answered yea to whatsoever they asked, whereby they drew from him a body of a confession to this effect, to witt, That Capt. Towerson had upon New yeares day last before sworne all the English at Amboyna to bee secrett & assistant to a plott that hee had projected with the helpe of the Japoneses to surprize the Castle & to putt the Governour & the Dutch to death. Having thus martyred this poore man, they sent him out by foure Blacks who carried him betweene them to a dungeon, where hee lay five or six dayes without any Chirurgeon to dresse him, untill his flesh being putrified greate Maggotts dropt & crept from him in a most noysome fashion. Thus they finished that dayes worke [illegible] now [illegible], but the rest of the English that came from Hitto, & still then attended in the [illegible] to the Dutchmens [illegible] where they were then [illegible] from thence to the same loathsome dungeon, where Clarke & the rest [illegible] accompanied with the poore Japoneses, lying in the putrefaction of their tortures.

The next morning being Monday the 17th of February Old Stile, [illegible] John Fardo with certaine Japoneses were brought to the place of Execution.

The Japoneses were first cruelly tortured to accuse Fardo, [illegible] at last they, [illegible] to avoide the like torture confessed as the Fiscall commanded them. Whereupon [illegible] the like was done to John Fardo & the Japoneses. But Fardo [illegible] torture of water & at last confessed whatsoever the Fiscall asked him, & so was put back to prison.

The same day John Beomont was brought into the torture chamber, where one [illegible] a Dutch man [illegible] served as Interpreter. With

Griggs was also brought in to accuse him, who said that when the consultation for taking of the Castle was held, then he the said Beomont was there present. Beomont denied it with a great earnestnesse & deepe oathes. / At last being tried by drawinge the water till his inwards were ready to crack, hee answered affirmatively to all the Fiscalls Interrogatories. Yet as soone as hee was lett downe hee clearly demonstrated to Capt. Newport & one Johnson a Dutch Marchant then also present, that these things could not bee so. Neverthelesse hee was forced to putt his hand to his confession, or else hee must to the torture againe, which [illegible] hee subscribed; & so had a greate Iron bolt & two shackles riveted to his leggs, & then was carried back to prison./

After this George Sharrock Assistant at Hitto was called to the question, who seeing how grievously the others were martired, made his earnest prayer to God (as hee saied upon his oath) & hee hath acknowledged that hee would suffer him to make some such probable lies against himselfe as the Dutch might accept & so hee might escape the torment. Being brought to the Rack, the water provided, & the Candles lighted, hee was by the Governor & Fiscall examined & charged with the conspiracy. Hee fell upon his knees & protested his innocency. The Dutch commanded him to the Rack & told him, unlesse hee would confesse hee should bee tormented with fire & water to death, & then should bee drawne on the [illegible] to the gallowes & [illegible] hanged up. Hee still persisting in his innocency, the Fiscall did [illegible] him [illegible], then hee craved respite a while, & told them that hee was at Hitto & not at Amboyna upon New-yeares day, when the Consultation was pretended, notwithstanding as [illegible] [illegible] Remember before, [illegible] [illegible] knowne to [illegible] of the Hollanders themselves [illegible] [illegible] there also with him. [illegible] they commanded him againe to the Rack, but hee craving respite as before, now told them, that hee had [illegible] [illegible] heard [illegible] Clarke that was with him at Hitto say, that the Dutch had done them many intollerable wrongs & that hee would bee revenged of them, to [illegible] [illegible] once broken with Capt. Towerson of a brave plott. At which word the Fiscall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible], & hee went on saying that John [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] goe to Macassar there to confer [illegible] [illegible] the Spaniards to come with Gallies & robb the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Seran when no shipps were there. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible], hee answered that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Clarke for the motion, & from them [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] him. [illegible] the Fiscall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] all from the matter & should goe [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] another tale. To [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] past [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] pretending to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] thereunto. [illegible] [illegible] Towerson [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Sharrock [illegible] that hee would not [illegible]. Then the Fiscall asked him [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], hee answered [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] said as before in the beginning [illegible] [illegible] brought thither. Why then quoth the Fiscall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] prisoner resolutely [illegible] [illegible] that all that hee had spoken touching any Treason, was false & feigned to avoid Torment. Then went the Fiscall out into another roome unto the Governor, & soone returned, & sent Sharrock to the prison againe. The next day hee was called againe, & [illegible] [illegible] him, where in writing [illegible] a formall confession of his last conference with Clarke at Hitto, touching the plott to take the Castle of Amboyna, which being read unto him, the Fiscall asked him whether it were true or not. Hee answered no. Why then said the Fiscall did you confesse it. Hee answered for feare of Torment. The Fiscall & the rest in a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] had spoken it & it was true & therefore hee should subscribe it, [illegible] hee [illegible] refusing to doe, they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Torture. So then hee subscribed it, which as soone as [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] innocent bloud of himselfe & [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which the Fiscall & would [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], with whome hee also [illegible] to speak [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

William Webber being next examined, was told by the Fiscall that John Clarke had confessed him to have beene at Amboyna on New yeares day & [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] plott &c. All which hee denied, alledging that hee was that day at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] hee [illegible] at consultation at Amboyna [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the moneth in which hee was asked. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] John [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] his brother writing at that tyme, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] one [illegible] a Dutch [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the pretended consultation. Webber [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that hee had [illegible] confessed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] went out. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] point touching the [illegible] of Clarkes [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] though often threatned with the torture, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Then was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] protesting his innocence [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] unles hee would make good his former confession againe [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] but away. They also brought William Griggs [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] confessions to his face. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as they would [illegible] at the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] truth. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] upon them [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] further openly before them all, that what [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] spoken only to avoid torment. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] them againe to the torture which they would not [illegible], [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their former confessions to bee true.

had hee thought the sinne would lye, whether upon him that was constrained to confesse what was false, or upon the constrainers. The Fiscall after a little pause upon this question, went into the Governour then in another roome; But anon returning told Beomont hee must subscribe it, wch hee did, but withall made this protestation: well master [illegible], you make mee to accuse my selfe and others of that wch is as false as God is true: For God is my witnes I am as innocent as the child new borne.

Lett [illegible] the examination of those that belonged to the English Company in the [illegible] Factories in the Islands [illegible].

The 25th of February was examined John Wetherall Factor of Cambello in the Island of Seram. Hee confessed hee was at Amboyna upon New yeares day; but for the conspiracy [illegible] hee said hee knew no other, but touching certaine clothes of the English Company [illegible] rotting & worme-eaten, wch they consulted together how to put of for the best advantage of their employers; the Governour said, they questioned him not about [illegible], but about treason, whereupon hee protested his innocency, [illegible] dismissed. But the next day hee was sent for againe, & Capt. Towerson brought to confront and accuse him, [illegible] before [illegible] confessed [illegible] against him, but Mr Towerson spake now these words only: Oh Mr Wetherall, Mr Wetherall speake the truth, & nothing but the truth, as [illegible] harte. So Capt. Towerson was put out againe, & Wetherall brought to the torture of water, wth greate threats that if water would not make him confesse, fire should. Hee [illegible] to tell him what he should say, or to write downe what they would, & hee would subscribe it. They said hee needed no Tutor, [illegible] make him confesse of himselfe. But when they had tortured [illegible] & sawe he knew not what to say, [illegible] & asked him from point to point as they had done others, & hee [illegible] to [illegible].

Next was called in John Powle, Wetheralls Assistant at Cambello, but for as much as hee was not at Amboyna since December [illegible] when [illegible] was brought thither [illegible] & being spoke for by one John Joost [illegible] acquainted with him was dismissed without torture.

Then was Thomas Ladbrooke servant to Wetherall & Powle at Cambello brought to bee examined; but proving that hee was at [illegible] tyme of the pretended Consultation, & [illegible] from the Agent of Amboyna was easily & quickly dismissed.

Ephraim Ramsey was examined upon the whole pretended conspiracy [illegible] Capt. Towerson [illegible] all & proving that hee was not at Amboyna at New yeares [illegible] also spoken for by [illegible] was dismissed [illegible] in the rack a good while, with his [illegible] about his mouth.

Lastly [illegible] at Larica, was examined, but being found to have been absent from [illegible] when Griggs & others were there was dismissed.

[illegible] Examinations, Tortures & Confessions being

worke of eight daies, from the 15th to the 23th of February. After was two daies respite before the sentence. John Powle being himselfe acquitted as before said, went to the prison to visit John Fardo, one of those that had accused Capt Towerson; [illegible] John Fardo religiously protested his innocency, but especially his sorrowe for accusing Mr Towerson. For said hee the feare of death doth nothing dismay mee, for God I trust will be mercifull to my soule, according to the innocency of my cause. The only matter that troubleth mee is, that through feare of torment I have accused that honest godly man Capt Towerson, who I thinke in my conscience was so upright [illegible] ill will to any, much lesse would attempt any such businesse as hee is accused of. Hee further said, hee would before his death [illegible] the Sacrament in acknowledgment [illegible] accused Capt Towerson falsely & wrongfully [illegible] feare of Torment.

The 25th of February [illegible] the prisoners [illegible] Portugall & the Japoneses, were brought into the greate [illegible] of the Castle, & there were solemnly condemned, [illegible] Ephraim Ramsey, John [illegible] Thomas Ladbrooke [illegible] acquitted as aforesaid.

Capt. Towerson having been during all his imprisonment kept [illegible] so that none [illegible] to speake to him [illegible] as some of the Dutch [illegible] but all was suppressed save only a bill [illegible] by one Thomas Johnson a free burgher [illegible] that the English Company was [illegible] the end of this bill hee writt these words, [illegible] by the hand of mee Gabriell Towerson now appointed to dye, guiltlesse of any thing [illegible] to my charge. God forgive [illegible] their guilt, & [illegible] to his mercy Amen. This Bill [illegible] the English Agent at Banda, hee [illegible] in the acknowledgment.

William Griggs [illegible] words [illegible] John Beomont Merchant of [illegible] of Larica, Abell Price Chirurgeon of Amboyna, [illegible] heere lye Prisoners [illegible] Rotterdam apprehended for a treason [illegible] of Amboyna, [illegible] iudged to death this 5th of March [illegible] constrained to speake that [illegible] meant nor once imagined, [illegible] deathes and [illegible] torment of fire and water that flesh [illegible] Endure. And this wee take upon our deathes, that they have put us to death guiltlesse of our accusation. [illegible] that shall [illegible] our Employers may understand this our wrong, and that ye Rulers would have a care to looke to your selves, [illegible] was to have [illegible] concerning you; which if they had tortured us, [illegible] have [illegible]. And so farewell written in the darke.

This Table booke was afterwards delivered to Mr Welden afore named by one that served the Dutch.

Samuell Colson also another That accused Capt. Towerson writt as followeth, in the waste leaves of a Booke, wherein were bound together the Common Prayers, the Psalmes & the Catechisme.

In one page thus

March the 5th Stilo novo, being Sunday aboard the Rotterdam lying in Irons.

Understand That I Samuell Colson late Factor of Hitto, was apprehended for Suspition of Conspiracy, and for any thing I know must dye for it, wherfore having no better meanes to make my innocency knowne, have writt this in this booke, hoping some good English man will see it, I doe heere upon my salvation, as I hope by his death and passion to have redemption of my synns, that I am cleere of all such conspiracy, neither doe I know any English man guilty thereof, nor other creature in the world, as this is true God blesse mee. Samuell Colson.

On the other side upon the first page of the Catechisme is thus written.

[illegible] another leafe ye shall [illegible] more wch I have writt in this booke. Samuell Colson being in the beginning of the Psalmes.

And in that leafe so referred unto is thus written viz.

The Japonez were taken with some villany and brought to examination being most tyrannously tortured, were asked if the English [illegible] any hand in ye plott wch torture made them say, yea. Then was [illegible] [illegible] Mr Colens John Clerke brought to [illegible] and were burned under the armes, the armes pitts, the hands and soles of the feete, wth another most miserable torment to drinke water, one of them almost tortured to death [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] never knew by reason of ye torment wch flesh and blood is not able to endure. Then were the rest of [illegible] [illegible] being wished to confesse, or els a must goe to torment, wth [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] tormenting to witnes against [illegible], or els hee should be tormented againe, wch rather then hee would endure, hee said, what they would have, hee would speake. [illegible] that I never knew [illegible] to torment [illegible] [illegible] I did confesse that [illegible] is not true [illegible] [illegible] torment, Then did they make [illegible] witnes against Captaine Towerson, and at last made Captaine [illegible] being for feare of some cruell torment, for [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] know no more then the child unborne of [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] in another page were these words.

I was borne in Newcastle upon Tyne, where I desire this booke may [illegible] that my frends may know my innocency. Samuel Colson.

This booke [illegible] delivered to one that served the Hollanders, who [illegible] it up in his bedding afterwards at his opportunity delivered it to Mr Welden before named.

All [illegible] said writings are yet extant under the hands of the severall parties, well knowne to their friends here in England.

The 6th of February Stilo veteri, the prisoners [illegible] [illegible] brought into the great Hall of the Castle [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to bee prepared for death by the Ministers. The Japonezes were all in generall, as some of them had [illegible] before in particular, cried out unto the English saying [illegible] Englishmen where did wee ever in our lives [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The English answered Why then have you accused us? The poore men perceiving they were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] others [illegible] had so done indeed [illegible] them [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] were thus burnt [illegible] [illegible]

Besides the [illegible] [illegible] Capt. Towerson was [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of examination, two greate [illegible] of water [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] did or suffered was [illegible] to the English [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] write his confession. After supper John Fowle, Ephraim Ramsey, & John Sadler, who were found not guilty as aforesaid, were taken from the rest, & putt in another roome [illegible] [illegible] were Samuell Colson & Edward Collins [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Emanuell Tomson [illegible] The Fiscall told them it was the Governours mercy to save [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] they should drawe lotts for it [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the rest that were guilty [illegible] [illegible] Samuell Colson back into the Hall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was brought out of the Hall into the Chamber [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] his life.

So then there remained in the Hall only [illegible] of the English [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] before were [illegible] in severall roomes apart from the rest. So there that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] them to make their true confession: for it was [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their innocency [illegible] the Ministers that they might [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as a seale of the forgivenesse of their sinnes, [illegible] all the [illegible] to confirme their last profession of [illegible] innocency [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] bee graunted. [illegible] Samuell Colson [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] guiltlesse, being otherwise also [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] shall [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] him his purse wth such money as hee had in it, saying Domine, God blesse yu; Tell the Governor I freely forgive him, and I entreate you to exhorte him to repent him of this bloudy Tragedy, wrought upon us poore innocent soules. Here all the rest of the English signified their consent to this speech. Then spake John Fardo to the rest, in presence of the Ministers as followeth. My countrey men & brethren that are here wth mee condemned to dye, I charge yu all as yu will answere it at Gods judgment seate, if any of you bee guilty of this matter, whereof wee are condemned, discharge your consciences & confesse the truith for satisfaction of the world. Hereupon Samuel Colson spake wth a loud voice, saying According to my innocency in this [illegible], so [illegible] the rest of my sinns, And if I bee guilty thereof more or lesse, lett mee never bee partaker of thy heavenly joyes, At wch words every of the rest cryed out, Amen for mee, Amen for mee, good Lord. This done each of them knowing whom hee had accused, went one to other begging forgivenes for their false accusation, being wrung from them [illegible] all freely forgave one another: for none had done it [illegible] falsely. [illegible] George Sharrock who [illegible] to relate this being pardoned, [illegible] to John Clarke among [illegible] craved forgivenes at his hands. Clarke [illegible] him saying, How should I looke to bee forgiven of God, if I should not forgive yu, having my selfe so falsly accused Capt Towerson and others.

After this they spent the rest of that dolefull night in prayer, singing Psalmes & comforting one another, though the Dutch that guarded them offered them wine, bidding them drinke lustily & drive away their sorrowe, according to the custome of their owne nation in like case, but contrary to the nature of the English.

Upon the morrow morning being the execution day the 27th of February O. Stile, John Powle being freed (as is above written) came into the roome where the condemned prisoners were & found them at prayer. They all requested him to relate unto their friends in England the manner of their [illegible] themselves & others touching their deaths was all false & forced by feare & Torture.

The same morning William Webber was called [illegible] into the [illegible] roome & there pressed to promise [illegible] to [illegible] John [illegible] [illegible] was [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Sharrock wth him.

That morning also Emanuel Thomson [illegible] was [illegible] much adoe hee obtained [illegible] noble Company [illegible] to [illegible]

All things being prepared for the execution, the condemned were brought forth of the hall, along by the chamber where the quitt & pardoned were, who stood in the doore to give & take the farewell of their Countrymen now going to execution, staying a little for this purpose, they prayed & charged those that were saved to beare witnes to their friends in England of their innocency & that they dyed not Traitors but so many innocents, meerly murthered by the Hollander, whom they prayed God to forgive their bloodthirstines, and to have mercy upon their owne soules.

Being brought out into the yard, their sentence was there read unto them from a Gallery, & then they were carried to the place of execution together wth the Japonezes & a Portugall, not the ordinary & shortest way but round about in a long procession through the Towne, the way guarded by five companies of Souldiers Dutch & Amboyners, & thronged wth the natives of the Island, that upon the summons given the day before by the sound of the Drumme flocked together to [illegible] the Dutch over [illegible]. Samuel Colson had [illegible] a prayer in writing, in the end whereof hee wrote his [illegible] wch prayer hee read to his fellowes the night before, & now [illegible] at the place of execution [illegible] the same, upon [illegible] the prayer, wch the Governor caused to bee brought to him [illegible] kept it.

Emanuel Thomson told the rest [illegible] some signe of [illegible] one of [illegible] upon their deaths [illegible] and so one by one wth [illegible] they suffered [illegible].

The Portugal prayed [illegible] & often kissed the Crosse, [illegible] innocent of this [illegible] punishment upon him for [illegible] a wife [illegible] by the perswasion of the Dutch [illegible] his first [illegible].

The Japoneses [illegible] there [illegible] And the Englishmen [illegible] Capt Gabriell Towerson [illegible] Samuell Colson factor at Hitto, [illegible] Amboyna, Timothy Johnson assistant there, [illegible] factor at Cambello, John Clarke assistant at Hitto, [illegible] factor at Larica, John Fardo steward [illegible] Taylor.

The [illegible] to [illegible] wth blood [illegible] the English company.

[illegible] of the execution, there was a great darknes, wth a sudden [illegible] whereby two [illegible] Dutch shipps riding in the [illegible] Anchors [illegible] saved from the rocks. Within a while after one William Dunckin, who had told [illegible] the English [illegible] had a fewe [illegible] in his mouth [illegible] dead in the [illegible] English were buried, being [illegible] against [illegible] daies together, & so dyed. Herewith also fell a new sicknes at Amboyna wch swept away about a thousand people Dutch & Amboyneses, whereas in other yeares usually there died not above thirty at other seasons. This sicknes were by the [illegible] referred to the confident prediction of [illegible] Tomson above mentioned, & were by the Amboyneses interpreted as a token of the wrath of God for this bloody tyranny of the Hollanders.

The next day after the execution being the 10th of February stilo veteri, was spent in triumph for the [illegible] of the Dutch [illegible], [illegible] rejoycing for the deliverance from this pretended treason. [illegible] following being the 11th of March, John Beomont, George Sharrock, Edward Collins and William Webber were brought to the Governour who told Webber, Beomont & Sharrock that they were pardoned [illegible] to goe to Jaccatra [illegible] Collins [illegible] to stand to the [illegible]. [illegible] drinke wine wth him, [illegible] willing them to goe [illegible] the rest that were [illegible], who were [illegible] to be placed in [illegible] mercifull [illegible] Governour, he accordingly commanded them to their place, adding [illegible] take upon him the patronage & government [illegible] To wch purpose he gave them within [illegible] English President at Jaccatra [illegible] Capt. Towerson, [illegible] English that ever [illegible] by that [illegible] at Jaccatra were innocent [illegible] Bundle No. 1

[illegible] Governour [illegible] Amboyna, dispatched them [illegible], where they made very diligent enquiry against [illegible] Welden the English [illegible] found no [illegible]. But [illegible] without suspition of this treason [illegible] Capt. Welden [illegible] at Amboyna [illegible] dealing of the Dutch, [illegible] & passed to Amboyna. [illegible] he recalled the Companies [illegible] by the Dutch Governour to [illegible].

[illegible] were left at Amboyna [illegible] passed, [illegible] English [illegible] was pretended. [illegible] Governour [illegible] once to talke or [illegible] although [illegible] them wth reason [illegible] bellies of the common [illegible] the poore vulgar to make [illegible] them. [illegible] to sette neither [illegible] any [illegible] this poore [illegible] John Beomont & Edward [illegible] [illegible] newes of [illegible] came to Jaccatra & to the [illegible]

the President fourthwith sent to the Councell of the Dutch, to know by what authority the Governour of Amboyna had thus proceeded against the English, & how he & the rest of the Dutch there at Jaccatra did approve these proceedings. The Generall returned for answere, that the Governour of Amboynas authority was derived from that of the Lords States Generall of the [illegible] Netherlands, under whom hee had lawfull jurisdiction both in criminall & civill causes within the destrict of Amboyna. Whereas such proceeding was necessary against traitors, such as the English executed at Amboyna might appeare to bee by their owne confessions, coppies whereof hee there with sent to the English President, who sent the same back to bee authentiquely certified, but received it not againe.

Hitherto hath been written the true & naked narration of the progresse & passages of this business, as it is taken out of the depositions of the sixe English traders, whereof foure were condemned, the other two acquitted in the processe of Amboyna, all since returned into England, examined upon their oath in the Admiralty Courte. [illegible] Capt. Towersons [illegible] examinations & answeres, are not yet come to light, by reason that these two were apart from the rest, & at no time [illegible], nor any other of the English suffered to come to speake with them, save only that [illegible] of Tomson the morning before the execution [illegible] tooke [illegible] obscurity is not touching the examinations & answeres of [illegible] the rest that were executed, being during their imprisonment so straitly looked unto & watched by the Dutch, that they might not talke together [illegible].

But [illegible] the Hollanders defend their owne [illegible] by the confessions of the [illegible], [illegible] acknowledging severally [illegible] that they were guilty of the pretended crime. It will not bee amisse to recollect & reduce into this place [illegible] one some & totall certaine circumstances dispersed in the former part of this narration, whereby as well the innocency of the English as the [illegible] them may bee manifested.

First therefore it is to bee remembred, that [illegible] tortured, three or foure daies before [illegible] the same afore [illegible] apprehension, [illegible] was [illegible] the Towne of Amboyna [illegible] adjoyning. [illegible] the examination [illegible] the Castle [illegible] poore Japoneses. [illegible] to the English (if they had beene guilty) for to sift [illegible] so they had really [illegible] of the [illegible] number, whereunto they might [illegible] easily [illegible] to Seran, to Bottoon or to Maccassar, out of [illegible] jurisdiction of [illegible]. But in that they fled not [illegible] it [illegible] to any treason [illegible] of any treacherous [illegible] bloode.

The Castle of Amboyna is of very greate strength, [illegible] Garrison therein two or three hundred men, besides [illegible] their free Burgers in the Towne. What their care & circumspection in all their stories is, may only appeare by the quick Alarme they now tooke at the foolish question of the poore Japoner, made to the Sentinell above recited, but also by what was a little before happened at Jaccatra, where one of the Souldiers was shott to death for sleeping in his watche.

[illegible] Ten Englishmen, whereof not one a Souldier, attempt any thing upon such a strength & vigilancy? As for the assistance of the Japoners, [illegible] were but Ten neither, & all unarmed as well as the English. For as at the seizure of the English house all the provision [illegible] was but three swords, & two muskets, with [illegible] powder: So the Japoners except when they are in service of the Castle, & then armed by the Dutch, are allowed to have no armes, but only a Cattam, a kind of short sword, & it is forbidden to all the Dutch upon a great penalty to sell any gunne, powder or bulletts to the Japoners in Amboyna. But can it be imagined that these Twenty foure English & Japoners were so desperate as to adventure the [illegible] [illegible] either to master the Dutch in the Castle or to keepe possession when they had gotten it? What succour might they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] nor Japoners of the English in the [illegible]. The rest of the Japoners in the Island were not twenty, and [illegible] English were. The nearest of the rest of the English were at [illegible] thirty leagues from Amboyna; [illegible] [illegible] closely by the Governour & his traine [illegible] [illegible] of this pretended Crime, as were also the rest of the English at Jaccatra.

On the other side [illegible], the strength of the Castle & Towne of Amboyna [illegible] [illegible] they have three other strong castles well furnished with souldiers, in the same Island [illegible] & [illegible] adjoyning. They had then also in the roade of Amboyna eight shipps [illegible] Rotterdam of 1200 Tonns, and [illegible] [illegible] of 600 Tonns, the [illegible] of 600 Tonn. [illegible] Fluit of 300 [illegible] [illegible] 60 Tonn. [illegible]

It is true that the [illegible] [illegible] English nation [illegible] some of them [illegible] this English [illegible] nor [illegible] rarely [illegible] [illegible] reasonable [illegible] should ever take [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

But lett it be [illegible] [illegible] might notwithstanding [illegible] [illegible] to what end & purpose should they [illegible] themselves into such [illegible]? [illegible] well enough that [illegible] both Companies [illegible] should remaine [illegible] [illegible] Anno 1619 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with all the world [illegible] this [illegible] this their [illegible] danger. [illegible] other than that [illegible] by the Treaty [illegible] as the distinct [illegible] of [illegible] & Amity [illegible].

But lett these Englishmen have been as foolish in the plott as the Hollanders will have them; is it also to bee imagined that they were so [illegible] when they were condemned, & seriously admonished by the Ministers to discharge their consciences, yet then to persist in their dissimulation, being otherwise of such godly behaviour, as to spend the tyme in prayer, singing of Psalmes, & spirituall comforting one of another, which the Dutch would have had them bestowe in drinking to drive away their sorrow? Let Colsons question to the Minister bee considered, [illegible] desire to receive the Sacrament in signe & token of their innocency, their mutuall asking forgivenesse for their like false accusations of one another, forced by the torture, Thomsons last farewell to Beomont, Colson prayer & his writing in the prayer booke, Fardos farewell to Powle, also his encouraging exhortation to his fellowes to discharge their consciences, & [illegible] answered thereunto, craving Gods mercy [illegible] according to their innocency in this cause. Their generall [illegible] profession of their innocency in this cause to their [illegible] at their last parting with them, & [illegible] the sealing of this profession with their last breath & blood even in the very article of death, & in the stroake of the execution. What [illegible] unexampled dissimulation were this, if some one or more of them had been so fearefully [illegible] not there one amongst them all founde to make of [illegible] stoutly [illegible] without [illegible] Rack or Hammer? [illegible] they [illegible] & life if they kept [illegible] countenance to the last. [illegible] from [illegible] when Capt Tower [illegible] Clark to his [illegible] so mangled & martired [illegible] torture. [illegible] one by one & every one [illegible] tooke it [illegible] death that they [illegible] guiltlesse.

How [illegible] & smooth over all this rough [illegible] Governour & Fiscall [illegible] the processe [illegible] partakers of this treason [illegible] English [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] as also the [illegible] to bee a more [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ground [illegible] proceedings [illegible] not the inflexible constancie [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] the Hollanders [illegible].

To add hereunto by way of aggravation wilbe needlesse; the fact it selfe is full of odious & barbarous inhumanity, executed by the Hollanders upon the English nation, in a place where both lived together in termes of Partnership, under Amity confirmed by a most solemne Treatie,

Of yᵉ tortures of English at Amboyna

For to invocate the king say as followeth

O you great mighty & powerfull king Amaymon who beare rule by the power of the supreame god El over all spirits both superiour & inferiour of the infernall order in the dominion of the East I in vocate & command you by the especiall & true name of god & by god that you worship & by the seale of your creation & by

The most mighty and powerfull name of God Jehovah Tetragrammaton who cast you out of heaven with all other infernall spirites & by all the most powerfull & great names of God who created heaven & earth & hell & all things contained in them & by by their powers & virtues & by the name primeumaton who commandeth the whole host of heaven that you cause inforce & compell the spirit N to come to come unto me here before this circkel in a faire & comely shape with out doing any harme unto me or any other creature & answer truely & faithfully to all my requests that i may accomplish my will & desires in knowing or obtaining any matter or thinge which by office you know is proper for him to performe or accomplish through the power of god El who created & disposeth of all things both celestial ayreal & terrestiall & infernall &c —— ——

After you have Invocated the King in this manner twice or thrice over then conjure the spirit you would call forth by the aforesaid conjurations rehearsing them severall times together & he will come without doubt if not at first or second time rehearsing but if he doe not come add the spirits chaine to the end of the aforesaid conjurations & he will be forced to come if he be bound in chaines for the chaines must breack off from him & he will be at liberty &c —— ——

The generall curse called the spirits chaine against all spirits that rebell

O thou wicked spirit & disobedient N because thou hast rebelled & not obayed nor regarded my words which i have rehearsed they being all glorious & incomprehensibel names of the true God maker & creator of you & me ~~the depth of the bottomless~~ & all the world I by the power of those names which no creature is able to resist doe curse you into the depth of the bottomless pitt & there to remaine untill the day of doome in chaines of fire & brimstone unquenchable unless you forthwith appeare here before this circkel in this triangel Δ to do my will & therefore come ye quickly & peaceably in & by these names of god Adonay Zebaoth Adonay Amioram come ye come ye the King of Kings or Adonay commandes you

When you have read so far & he do not come then write his seale in parchment & put it into a black box with brimstone assafoetida & such like things that beare a stinking smell & then bind the box up round with a iron wier & hang it on your swords point & hold it over the fire of charcoles & say to the fire first it being placed towards that quarter the spirit is to come

I conjure the fire by him that made thee & all other good creatures in the world that thou torment burne & consume this spirit N everlastingly because thou art disobedient & obayest not my commandement nor keepes the precepts of the Lord thy god neither wilt thou obay me nor my invocations having thereby called you forth who am the servant of the most high & Imperiall Lord God of hosts Jehovah & dignified & fortified by his celestiall power & permission neither comest thou to answer these my proposalls here made unto you for which your averseness & contempt you are guilty of grand disobedience & rebellion & therefore i shall excommunicate you & destroy thy name & seale which i have enclosed in this box & shall burne them in immortall fire & bury them in immortall oblivion unless thou immediately come & appeare vissibly & affibly friendly & courteously here unto me before this circkel in this Δ triangle in a faire & comely forme & in no wise terribel hurtfull or ~~terrible~~ frightfull to me or any other creature whatsoever upon the face of the earth & make rationall answers to my requests & performe all my desires in all things that I shall make unto you &c —— And if he come not yet say as followeth ——

Now O thou spirit N since thou art still pernicious & disobedient & will not appeare unto me to answer to such things which i would a desired of you or would have ben sattisfied in & i do in ye name & by the power & dignity of the Omnipotent & Immortall Lord God of hosts Jehovah Tetragrammaton the only creator of heaven & earth & hell & all that is in them who is the marvelous disposer of all things both vissibel & invissibel curse you & deprive you from all your office joy & place & do binde thee in ye depth of the bottomless pitt & there to remaine unto the day of the last judgement I say into the lake of fire & brimstone which is prepared for all rebellious disobedient obstinate & disobedient pernicious spirites lett all the company of heaven curse thee the sun & moone & all the stars the light & all the hosts of heaven curse thee into the fire unquenchabel & torments unspeakabel & as thy name & seale is contained in this box chained & bound up & shall be choaked in sulphurous & stinking substance & burne in this materiall fire so in the name Jehovah & by the power & dignity of these 3 names Tetragrammaton Anaphaxeton & primeumaton cast thee O thou disobedient spirit N into the lake of fire which is prepared for the damned & cursed spirits & there to remaine to the day of doome & never more to be remembered of before the face of god which shall come to judg the quick & the dead & the world by fire Here the Exorcist must put the box into the fire & by & by he will come but as soone as he is come quench the fire that the box is in & make a sweet perfume & give him a kinde entertainement shewing him the pentacle that is at the bottom of your vesture covered with a linning cloth saying ——

Behold your confusion if you be disobedient behold the pentakel of Solomon which i have brought here before your presence behold the person of the Exorcist who is called Octinomos in the midest of the Exorcism who is armed by God & without feare who potently invocated you & called you to appearance therefore make rationall answers to my demandes & be obedient to me your master in the name of the Lord Bathal rushing upon Abrack Abeor coming upon Aberer ——

Then he or they will be obedient & bid you aske what you will for he is subjected by God to fulfill our desires & demandes & when he or they have appeared & shewed himselfe humbel & meek then you are to say —— Welcome spirit or most nobel King or Kings i say you are welcome unto me because i called you through him that created heaven & earth & hell & all that is contained in them & you have ~~[illegible]~~ obayed & also by the same power i called you forth by I binde you that you remaine affibly & vissibly here before this circkel (or before this circkel in this Δ Triangel) so constant & so long as i have ocasion for you & not to depart without my licence until you have truely & faithfully performed my will without any falsity &c —— The Licence to depart &c ——

O thou spirit N because thou hast dilligently answered my demandes & was very redy & willing to come at my first call I doe here licence thee to depart into thy proper place without doing any injury or danger to man or beast depart I say & be very ready to my call being duly exorcised & conjured by the sacred rights of magick I charge thee to withdraw peaceably & quietly & the peace of God be ~~with thee~~ ever continued betwene [illegible]

Note you may command these spirits into the brasen vessell as as you do into the Triangle saying that you forthwith appeare before this Cirkel in this vessel of brasse in a faire & comly shape & as it is shewed before in the foregoing Conjurations &c so when you know the angels that governe the signe & degree of your nativity & haveing the seals ready that belongs to the signe & degree as is shewed before then you are not to understand what order he is of as is shewed heare in this following part &c ——— first thos genijs that belong to the firery region that is ♈ ♌ ♐ are governed by Micael the great angel who is on of the chiefe messengers of god who is toward the south therfore thos genios is to be observed in the first houre of a sunday & at the 8th houre also at the 3 & 10 at night directing your selfe towards that quarter they appeare in royall apparel holding scepters in there hands oft Riding on a lion or a cock there roobs are of red & saffe-ron collor & most comly they asume the shape of a crowned queen & very beutifull to behold &c secondly thos genijs that is attributed to ~~the~~ ♉ ♍ & ♑ is of the earthy region & is governed by Uriel who hath 3 princes to attend him viz Sazanel Sochiel & Cassiel therfore the genijs that is attributed to him & thos signes is to be observed in the west they appeare like Kings haveing green silver roobes or like litel children or women deliting in hunting & they are to be observed on saturdayes at the 1 & 8th houres of the day & the 3 & 10 of the night in thos houres you are with privesy to obtaine your desires directing your selfe towards the west as aforesaide &c

Thirdly thos genijs that is attributed to ♊ ♎ & ♒ is of the ayrie region whos soveraigne is called Raphael who hath under him 2 princes which is called Sorasphiel & Miel therfore thos genijs which is attributed to him & thos signes is to be observed toward the east on a munday the 1 hour of the day & 8th & at night the 3d & 10 houres they appeare as kings or beu-tifull young men in roobes of divers collors but most comly like women transcendantly handsome by reason of there admirable whitenes & beuty &c

fourthly & lastly thos genijs that is attributed to ♋ ♏ & ♓ is of the watri region & is governed by Gabriel who hath under him 3 mighty princes Samael Madiel & Mael therfore thos genies that is under thos signes & is governed by Gabriel are to be observed on mundays towards the north & at the 1 & 8th houres of the day & at night at the 3 & 10 houres they appeare like Kings haveing green & silver roobs or like litel Children or women deliting in hunting &c ——— so in the next place we are to observe the season of the yeare according to the constellations of the celestiall bodies otherwise we shall loose our labour for if a genijs be of the igneal Hierarchy tis in vaine to observe him in any other seasons but when the ☉ enters thos signes which is of his nature that is ♈ ♌ & ♐ so if it be a genijs of the earth he is to be observed when the ☉ enters ♉ ♍ or ♑ & so the like in the Rest otherwise thus thos genijs that is of the order of the fire is to be observed in the sumer quarter & thos of the earth in ~~winter~~ autumne & thos of the ayre in spring & thos of the water in winter quarter &c

Their offices is to do all things that is just & lawfull in the sight of the great God jehovah & what is for our good & profit shall be given the protection of our lives or beings our wellbeings & the doing good to our neibours here he that hath a desire to see his genijs ought to prepare himselfe accordingly now if his genijs be of the fire his demands might be to the conservation of his body or person that he receive no hurte from or by any fire armes or guns or the like & haveing a seale sutable ready prepared he is to weare it when he hath a desire to see his genijs that he may confirme it to him that for the time to come he may not faile of his assi- 30 stance & protection upon any oration &c ———

But if his Genijs be aeriall he procureth very natures inward love & affection betweene them & cause the desired love of Kings & princes & favourites marrages & therefore he that hath such a genious before he observe him shall prepare a seale sutable to his order that he may have it confirmed by him in the day & houre of observation whereof he shall see strange & wonderfull effects and so the like of the other 2 hierarchies & when the time is come that you would see your genijs turne your face to that quarter the signe is & that with prayers to god (those being exposed to your fancy but sutable to the matter in hand when thou shalt find him & haveing found him sincerely acknowledg him do your duty then will he as being benigne & sociable illuminate your minde takeing away all that is of feare & darke in thy memory & make you knowing in all sciences sacred & divine in an in-stante &c / a forme of prayer which ought to be said upon that coast or quarter where the genie is severall times it being a [illegible] signe to call the gennie into the christall stone reade this praier or may be altered to the mind of the worker for it is here set for an ensample & ✠ The Prayer ✠

O thou great & blessed N my angel Gardian vouchsafe to descend from thy Holy mantion which is celestiall with thy holy influence & presence into this christall stone that i may behold thy Glory & enjoy thy society aide & assistance both now & for ever hereafter O thou that art higher then the fourth Heaven & knowest the secrets of Elanel thou that ridest upon the winges of the wind & art mighty & potent in thy celestiall & superlunary motion do thou descend & be present I pray thee i humbly desire & intr-eat thee that if ever I have merited thy society or if any of my actions or intentions be reall & pure & sanctified before thee bring thy externall presence hither & converse with me one of thy submissive servants in & by the name of the great god jehovah whereunto the whole quire of Heaven singes continually O Mappa la man Halleluiah Amen

when you have said this prayer over severall times (as occasion serveth) you will at last see strange sights & passages in the stone & at last you will see your genius then give him a kinde entertainement as you was before directed declaring unto him your minde and what you would have done &c

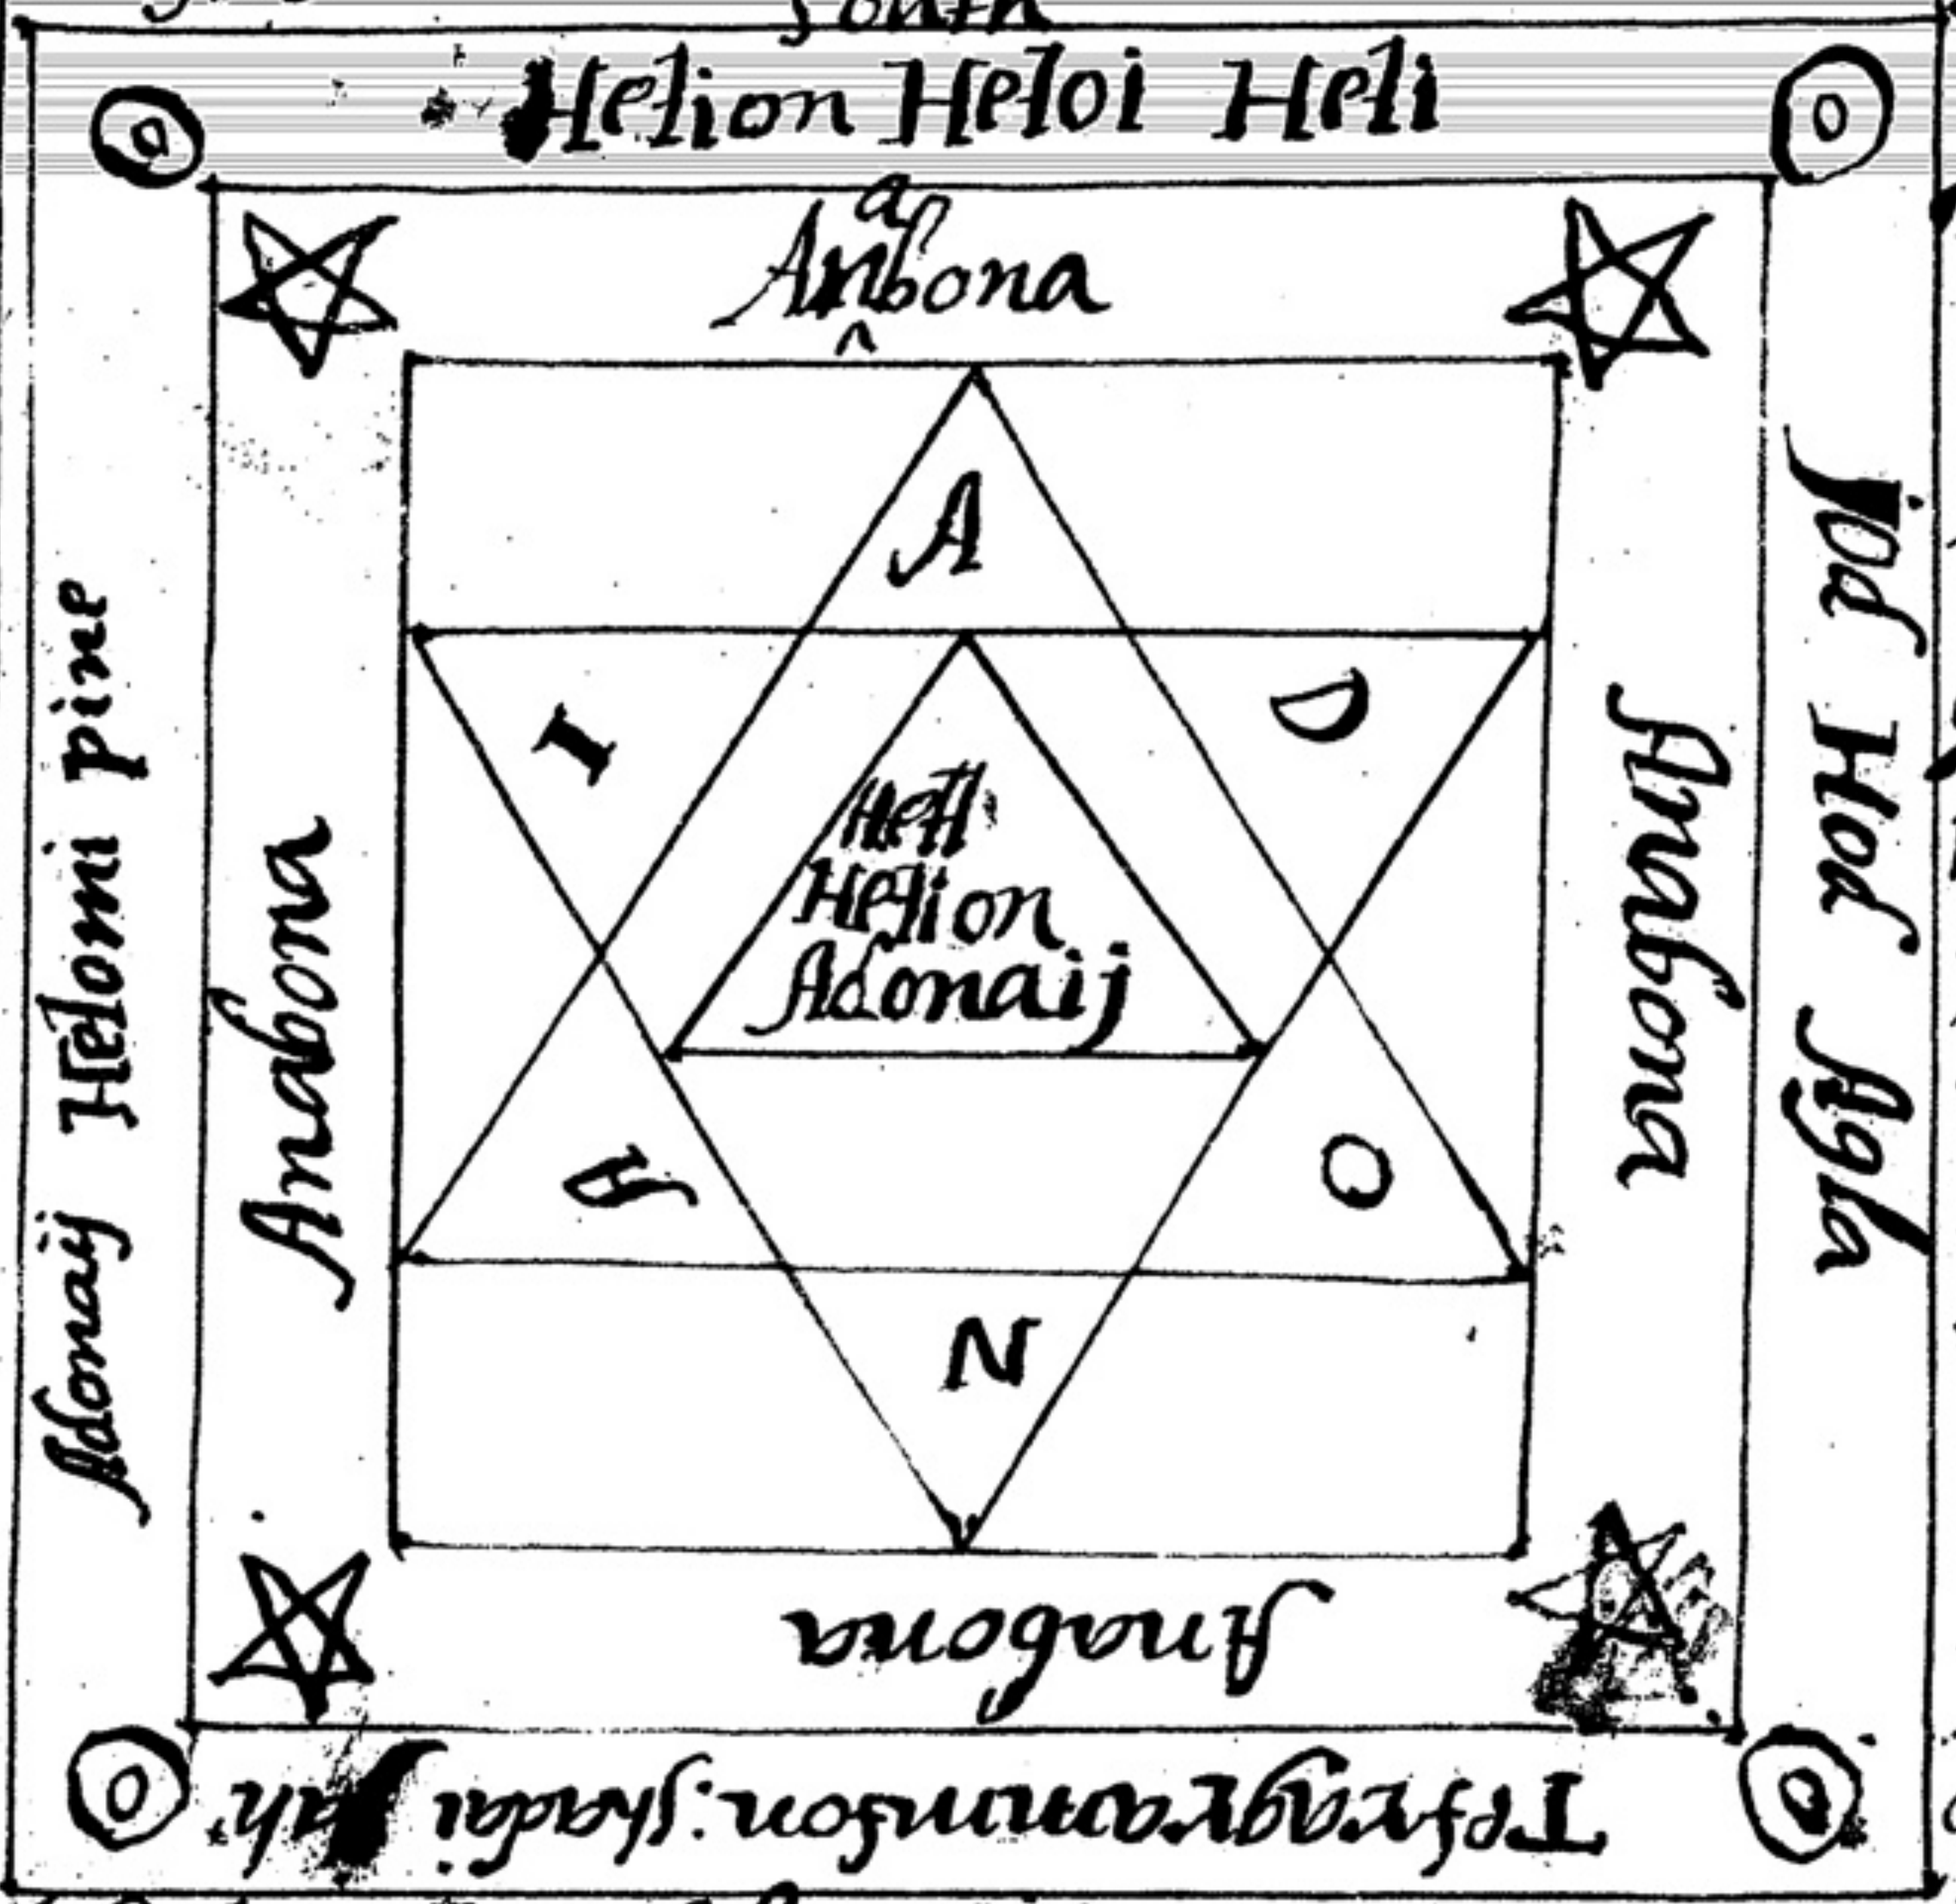
so Endeth The Booke of pauline &c

Here beginneth

Here beginneth the 4th part of this Booke Which is Called the Art almadel of Solomon

By this ~~art~~ Solomon attaines Great wisdom from the chiefe angels that governs the 4 altitudes of the worlds for you must observe that there are 4 altitudes which represent the 4 corners of the world East west north & south the which is devid into 12 parts that is every part 3 & the angels of every of thes parts hath ther particular virtues & powers as shall be shewed in this folloing matter &c

Make this almadel of pure white wax but the others must be collered sutabel to the altitudes it is to be 4 inches square & 6 inches over every way & in every corner a hole & write betwext every hole with a new pen thes words or names of God folloing but this is to be don in the day & houre of sol write upon the first part towards the East Helomi pine & upon the second towards the ~~west~~ south part Helion Heloi Hell & upon the west part Jod Hod Agla & the 4th part which is north write Tetragrammaton shadai jah & betwext the first & the other parts make the pentacle of solomon thus ☆ & betwixt the first quart write this word Anabona & in the midel of the almadel make a six angle figure & in the middest of it a triangel wherein must be writen thes names of god # Hell Helion Adonay & this last name round about the 6 angles figure as here it is made for an Exampel &c



And of the same wax there must be made 4 candels & they must be of the same colour as the almadel is of devide your wax into 3 parts on for to make the almadel of & the other 2 parts to make the candels of & let there come forth of every one of them a foot made of the same wax to support the almadel with: this being done in the next place you are to make a seale of pure gold or silver but gold is best #

wheron must be egraven thes 3 names Helion Hellusion Adonaij &c note

The firs altitude is called Chora orientis or the East Altitude & to make an experiment in this Cora it is to be done in the day & houre of the ~~[illegible]~~ sun &c

The power & office of thes angels is to make all things fruitfull & increase both Animals & vegetables in creation & generation advancing the birth of Children & making barren women fruitfull & ther names are thes (viz) Alimiel Gabriel Barachiel Lebes & Hellison & note you must not pray for any angel but thes that belongs to the altitude you have a desire to call forth & when you operate set the 4 candels upon 4 candel sticks but be carefull you do not light them before you begine to operate then lay the almadel between the 4 candels upon the waxen feet that coms from the candels & lay the golden seale upon the almadel and having the invocation redy writen in virgins parchment light the candels & read the invocation & when he appears he appeareth in the forme of an angel carrying in his hand a fann or flagg having the picture of a white cross + upon it his body being wrapped round with a faire cloud & his face very faire & bright and a crowne of roas flowers upon his head he ascends first upon the superscription of the almadel as if it were a mist or fogg then must the Exorcist have in readiness an essell of Earth of the same colour as the almadel is of & the other of his furniture it being in the forme of a bason & put therinto a few hot ashes or coles but not to much least it should melt the wax of the almadel & put therin 3 litel graines of mastick in powder so that it may fume & the smell goe upwards through the holes of the almadel when it is under it & as soone as the angel smelleth it he beginneth to speake with a low voice asking what your desire is & what you have called the princes & governours of this altitud for then you must answer him saying I desire that all my Requestes may be granted & what I pray for may be accomplished for your office maketh it appeare & declareth that such is to be fulfilled by you if it please god adding further the particulars of your request Praying with humility for what is lawfull & just & that you shall obtaine from him but if he do not appeare presently you must then take the golden seale & make with it 3 or 4 markes upon the candels by which means the angel will presently appear as afore said & when the angel ~~appeareth~~ departeth he will fill the whole place with a sweet and pleasant smell which will be smelt a longe time &c

Note that the golden seale will serve & is used in all the operations of all the 4 altitudes the colour of the almadel belonging to the first altitude or chora is Lilly white & the second chora a perfect Read roase colour the third chora is to [illegible] greene mixt with a white silver collour the 4 chora is to be blacke mixt with a litel greene or a sad collour &c

Of The second Chora or Altitude

Note att the other 3 altitudes with their signes & princes have power over goods & Riches & canne make any man Rich or poore & as the first chora gives increase & maketh fruitfull so thes give decrease & barrenness & if any have a desire to operate in any of these 3 folloing choras or altitudes they must do it in die solis in the manner as aforesaid but do not pray for any thing that is contrary to the nature of ther office or that is [illegible]

And his face but what god giveth according to the custom or course of nature that you may desire & obtaine all the furniture is to be used is to be of the same colour the almadel is of and the princes of this second chora is named (viz) Aphaviza·Genon·Geron·Armon·Gereimon &c when you appear kneel before the almadel with clothes of the same colour in a closet hanged with the same colours also, for the holy apparition will be of the same colours & when he appeareth put an earthen vessell under the almadel with fire or hot ashes & 3 graines of mastick to perfume as aforesaid and when the angel smelleth it he turneth his face towards you asking the Exorcist with a low voice why he hath called the princes of this chora or altitude then you must answer as before I desire that my Requests may be granted & the contents thereof may be accomplished for your office maketh appeare & declareth that such is to be done by you if it please God & you must not be fearfull but speake humbly saying I Recommend my selfe wholy to your office & I pray unto you princes of this altitude that I may enjoy & obtaine all things according to my wishes & desires & you may further express your minde in all particulars in your prayer & do the like in the other 2 choras following &c

The angels of the second altitude appeareth in the forme of a young child with clothes of sattin & of a red rose colour having a crowne of red Gilliflowers upon his head his face looketh upwards to heaven & is of a red colour & is compassed round about with a bright splendor as the beames of the sun & before he departeth he speaketh unto the Exorcist saying I am your friend & brother & illumingeth the air round about with his splendor & leaveth a pleasant smell which will last a long time upon there heads &c

Of the third Chora or altitude

In this chora you must do in all things as you was before directed in the other 2 the angels of this altitude is named (viz) Eliphaniasai: Gelomiros Gedobonai: Saranana & Elomina they appeare in the forme of litel children or litel women drest in green & silver colours very delitefull to behold & a crowne of bayes beset with white & green colours upon there heads & they seeme to looke a litel downwards with there face & they speake as the others do to the Exorcist & leaveth a mighty sweet perfume behinde them &c #

Of the 4th Chora or altitude

In this chora you must do as before in the other & the angels of this chora is called: Barchiel·Gediel·Deliel & Captiel they appeare in forme of litel men or boyes with clothes of a black colour mixt with a darke green And in there hands they hold a bird which is naked & there heads compassed round with a bright shining of divers colours they leave a sweet smell behind them also but differs from the others something &c #

Note there is 12 princes besides those in the 4 altitudes & they distribute there office amongst them selves every on ruling 30 days every yeare now it will be in vaine to call any of those angels unlest it be those that governe then for every chora or altitude hath its limited time according to the 12 signes of the Zodiack & in that signe the sun is in that or those angels that belong to that signe hath the Government as for Example suppose I would call the 2 first of the 5 that belongs to the first chora then chose the first sunday in march after the sun hath entered ♈ & then make an Experiment and so do the like if you will the next sunday after againe & if you will call the 2 second that belongs to the first chora that sunday after the sun enters ♉ in april but if you will call the last of the 5 then you must take those sundayes that is in may after the ☉ is entered ♊ to make your Experiment & do the [illegible] in the other altitudes for they have all one way of working but the altitudes have a name formed severally in the substance of the heavens even a caracter for when the angels heare the names of god that is attributed to them they heare it by virtue of that caracter therefore it is in vaine to call any angel or spirit unlest he knows what name of god to call him by therefore observe the forme of this conjuration or invocation following &c # 32

The Invocation

O thou great blessed & glorious angel of god (N) who rulest & is the first & chiefe governing angel in the first Chora or altitude in the East I the servant of the highest the same your god Adonaij Helomi & pine whom you do obay & is the distributer & disposer of all things both in Heaven Earth & Hell do invocate conjure & intreat thee (N) that thou forthwith appeare in the virtue & power of the same God Adonaij Helomi & pine & I do command thee by him whome you do obay & is set over you as king by the divine power of God that you forthwith descend from thy orders or place of abode to come unto me & shew thy selfe plainly & visibly here before me in this Christall stone in thy owne proper shape & glory speaking with a voice intelligabel & to my understanding O thou mighty & powerfull angel (N) who art by the power of God ordained to governe all Animals vegetables & mineralls & to cause them & all creatures of God to spring increase & bring forth according to their kinds & natures I the servant of the most high God whom you obay do intreat & humbly beseech thee to come from your Celestiall mansion & shew unto me all things I shall desire of you so far as in office you may or can or is capable to performe if God permit to the same O thou servant of mercy (N) I do humbly intreat & beseech thee in & by those holy & blessed names of your God Adonaij Helomi pine & I do also constraine you in & by this powerfull name Anabona that you forthwith appeare visibel & plainly in your own proper shape & glory within & through this Christall stone that I may visibly see & audibly heare you speake unto me & that I may have the blessed And Glorious angelicall assistance familiar friendship & constant society communication & instructions both now & at all other times to informe & rightly Instruct me in my ignorance & depraved intellect judgment & understanding & to assist me both herein & in all other truthes Else the almighty Adonaij the king of kings the giver of all good gifts that his bountifull & fatherly mercy be graciously pleased to bestow upon me therefore O thou blessed angel (N) be friendly unto me so far as god shall give you power in office to performe whereunto I invocate you in power & presence to appeare that I may sing with his holy angels O mappa la man Hallelujah Amen # when he appears give him or them kinde entertainment & then aske what is just & lawfull & that which is proper & suitable to his office & you shall obtaine it

The Fift Boocke of Solomon The King Called arta nouem

Or the Noatary art of Solomon

In the name of the undivided Trinity beginneth this most holy art of the knoledg revealed to Solomon which the most high Creator by his holy angel ministred to Solomon upon the alter of the temple that therby in a short time he knew all arts both liberall & mecanick with all the with all the faculties & properties thereof he had suddainly infused into him & also was filled with wisdom to utter sacred misteries of words most holy

2 No: alpha & omega oh almighty God the begining of all things & without End graciously this day heare my prayers neither Doe thou render to me according to my sines nor after mine iniquities O lord my god but according to thy mercy which is greater then all things vissibel & invissibel have mercy upon me o Highest wisdom of the father the light of angells the Glory of saintes the hope refuge & support of saintes the creator of althings & redeemer of all human frailties who holdest the heaven earth & sea & all the world in the palme of thy hand I humbly implore & beseech that thou wilt mercifully with thy favour illuminate my mind with the beuty of thy holy spirite that I may be abel to come & attaine to the perfection of this most holy art & that I may be abel to attaine the knoledg of every siens art & wisdome of every faccultye of memory intelegence understanding & intelect by the virtue & power of thy most holy spirit & in the name of thee O god my god who in the begining hast created the heaven & the earth & all things out of nothing who reformest & makest all things by thyn one spirit compleat fulfill restore & implant a second understanding in me that I may glorifie thee & all thy workes in all my thoughts words & deeds O god the father confirme & grant this my prayer & increase my understanding & memory & increase the same to know & receive sience memory Eloquence & perseverence in all manner of Learning who Livest & Reignest world without End Amen & 3 o++o

Heare followeth the treatise of this art which Master Apolonius called the golden flowers being the generall introduction to all naturall siences of apolonius Master of arts Duely called to whom the nature of liberall arts hath been granted I am intended to treat of the knowledg of astronomie & with what experiments & documents a compendious & compleat knoledge of by me attained unto & how the highest & lowest misteries of nature may be competently divided & fitted & applied to the natures of times & what proper dayes & houres are to be elected for the deeds & ocations of men to begun & ended what qualifications a man ought to have to attaine the efficacy of this art & how he ought to dispose of the ocations of his life and to behold & stirr the course of the [illegible] in the first place we shall [illegible] certaine precepts of spirituall [illegible] all things which [illegible] speake of may be attained to [illegible]

if you pronounce them as it is writen therfore thes are containe noats any one will search the scriptures let him pronounce ye words of the fo out of the hebrew greek & Chaldeon & the folloing expression are of right to be pronounced first which is a latten oration the 3^d oration is rehersed = the oration is Theos: Megale: Inhu: Ymas: Eurrelle this sheweth how the foregoing prayer is Epounded but although this is a perticuler & breef Exposission of the oration yet do not thinke that all words are yet expounded the Exposission of the oration O God the light oration can be transllated into latten tounge for some words of the oration giveth in themselves greater sence of misticall profundity of the autority of Solomon & having reverence to his writings we acknoledg that the orations cannot be expounded by huan sence for it is necessary that all orations articols of astronomy astology & the notary art be speaken of & pronounced in their due time & season & the operations of them to be made according to the disposission of the times — of the Triumphall figures how sparingly they are to be pronounced & honestly & devoutly to be spo whosoever will pronounce thes words let him do it in a determinate appoi determined the power of the faculties of human understanding to the 4 parts of the earth also the 4 virtues of humanities understanding memory & Eloquence & the faculty of ruling thos 3 & thes things are to be used as we have before spoken — he sheweth how the precedent oration is the being & foundation of the whole art — that is the first

drangle noats & this is angelical wisdom & understood of few in astronomy but in the glass of astrology it is called the ring of philosophy & in the no tary art it is called the conndation of the whole science but it is to be rehears ed 4 times a day begining in the morning once about the 3^d hour once in the 9th hour & once in the Evening the precedent oration ought to be spoke secretly & let him that speakes it be alone & pronounce it with a low voice so that he can scarse heare himselfe speake & that is the condission that if necessity urge one to do any great works he shall say it 2 in the mor

This oration hath one exposition in the latin / This is a holy prayer without danger of any sin which solomon saith in the explication that human sence exceedeth & saith that the explication thereof is more prolix then can be considered of or aprehended by man excepting also thos secrets which is not lawfull neither is it given to man to utter therefore he leaveth that oration without any exposition becase no man can attaine to the perfection thereof & it was left to spirituall becase the angel that declared it to Solomon undeclarabel upon it saying see thou do not presume to give to any other nor expound any thing out of this oration neither thou thy selfe nor any one after thee for it is a holy sacramentall mistery it by expressing the words thereof God heareth your prayer & increaseth your memory understanding eloquence & establisheth them all in thee let it be read in apointed times of the lunation as in the 4th: 8th & 12th dayes of the day is written & commanded saying the oration very dilligently 4 times in those dayes orderly beleiving thereby that study shall sudenly be increased & made cleare without any ambiguity beyond apprehention of human reson—

of the efficacy of that oration which is inexplicabel to human sence this is that only which solomon calleth ye happiness of wit & well Apolonius termeth it the light of the soule & the speculum of wisdome I suppose the said oration may be called ye image of eternall life the virtue & efficacy whereof is so great that it is apprehended by very few or none therefore having asayed some pretious signes & precepts we will give as an entrance to thos things whereof we intend to speak of which are yet that we have spoken of before neverthelesse before we come to speak of them som things are necessary to be declared whereby we more spesially & plainly set forth our intended history for as we have sd before there are contained explications of the notary art som whereof are darke & obscure & others plaine & manifest for ye notary art hath a booke in astronomy whereof it is the begining & mistery & the virtue thereof is such that all arts taught & derived from him [illegible] we are further to know that the notary art doth in a wonderfull manner containe & comprehend within it selfe all arts and knoledg of all learning as solomon witnesseth therefore it is called the noatary art because in certaine breife notes it teacheth & comprehendeth the knoledg of all arts for solamon also saith in his treatises of lemegeton that it is the treatis of spirituall & secret experiments / here he sheweth in what manner thos [illegible] in art & the reason thereof for a noat is a certaine knoledg by the oration & figure before set downe But of ye orations & figures mentioned shall be made in there due place & how the noats are called in the notary art nor he maketh mention of that oration which is called the queene of tongs for among the oration there is one more prevalent then the rest which is by ~~knoledg~~ K Solomon called the queene of tongues becase it taketh away as it were with a certaine secret covering the impediments of the tongue & giveth a wonderfull faculty of eloquence wherefore before we proceed further take a little assay of that oration for it is an oration which in the scriptures we are taught to have allwayes in our mouthes but it is taken out of the Caldean language which although it be short it is of wonderfull virtue that when you reed that scripture hath the oration before mentioned you cannot keep silence those things which ye understanding suggesteth & administers to you the oration which followeth is a certaine invocation of the angels of god & it provoketh eloquence & ought to be said in the begining of the scripture & in the begining of the month / The oration 18

this is the begining of [illegible]

to be said of the begining [illegible]

Begining of these orations which are 4 we shall make there competent divisions for this is that which is to be spoken of begining generally of the orations is to be devi ded into 4 parts the first part thereof is to be said at the begining before any other part of the oration is to be compleated these greek names following are to be pronounced that is the division of the orations Hiskua Lehua Lemva &c O god the father god the son god the holy ghost Confirme the oration & my understanding & memory to rece ive & retaine & understand the knowledg of all good scriptures & give me perse verence of mind therein this is the begining of the oration which as we have s[aid] before ought to be said according to the prelations & constitutions thereof & ought to be repeated because of the forgetfullness of our memory & according to the Exercise of our witt & according to the sanctity of our life there being contained in it so great a mistery & Effecacies conditions how foretelleth another Litelle 17 oration wherein is contained a sacramentall mistery & wherein every perfect science is so wonderfully compleated for howbe god would have us to know things are celestiall & what are terrene & what heavenly things & the celes tiall setteth & what the earthly & terrene because the lord hath said mine eyes have seene the imperfection & in this book every day shall be formed &c # written & no man in them &c so it is in the precepts of god for we are not able to write all things & how the sun hath the same course as at the first of our order may be continued for writing whatsoever is not from god is not to be used for god himself would have all things devided & this is how they are to be used before the second parte which containeth so glorious & excellent consecra tions of orations & defineth & consecrated part to have power in the heavens &c in no wise can be defined in humane tongs this the begining of the second ora tion of which som singler thing is to be spoken wherefore if thou sayest this ora tion commemorating the first part thereof say the oration following & thou shalt perceive the precepts which are therein O god of all things who art my god who in the begining hast created all things out of nothing & hast reformed all things by thy holy spirit compleat & restore my contience & heal my un derstanding that I may glorifie thee in all works & thoughts & these words ought to be said before Agleros Theomiros Theomitos & words & after thou hast said the oration make a little intermission the space of halfan houre & then say the third parte of the oration which followeth Megal Legall Chariotos &c & having said this third parte of the oration then meditate with your selfe about the scriptures thou desirest to know & then say the oration O thou that art the # truth of light the way of all creatures O iust god renew me & confirme my un derstanding & restore my knowledge & concience as thou didest unto K Solomon Amen Commemorating the parts according to that which is laid downe &c ad the ora tion following the other orations being said say the 4th parte of the oration which is Amasiel Danyi Hayr &c then the partes being commemorated as it is dire cted ad also the following oration I speake these things in thy presence O lord my god before whose face all things are naked & open that I being washed from the errors of infidelity thy all quickening spirit may assist me & take away all Incredulity from me 18 How the latine orations are expounded by the words of the oration we are therefore to know that the whole oration remaineth unexpounded because thereof are of so great a subtilty adorned with the hebrew & caldean tongs with the subtile & wonderfull Elocution of god that the office of full Exposition thereof cannot be possible transferred upon me the latin words in which are sub joyned to the partes of the oration aforesaid are such wordes which have been tra nslated out of the caldean tonge for they are not the whole oration pertaining # thereto How he speaketh of the Efficacy of all these for this Oration is such a mistery as K Solomon himselfe witnesseth that a servant of his house hav ing found the book by chance & being to much overcome with wine in the Com pany of a woman he presumed to read it but before he had finished a parte the reof he was strucken dumb blind & lame & his memory taken from him & so he continued til the day of his death & in the houre of his death he spake & said that 4 angels which he had offended in presumtious so secret a mini stery were the daily keepers & afflictors one of his ~~[illegible]~~ memory another of his speech a third of his sight & a 4th of his hearing by which teastimony the oration is so much commended by the same K Solomon & great is the mistery thereof we doe greatly requiere & charge every one that will say or read it that he doe it not presumptiously for in presumtion is a great sin wherefore let these orations be said according as is directed we therefore hold it convenient and necessary to speake somthing of the generall precepts of art & of the knowledg of all arts & of the severall precepts of every singuler art because we have touched somthing of the power of the [illegible]

In this Chap he sheweth the Efficacy of the subsequent oration it being speciall to obtaine Eloquents this holy oration which followeth is a certain speciall oration to obtaine Eloquence which as all other have virtue & Efficacy in other things this containeth the contained mistery in it selfe & wherin as the virtue of the generally is shewing in it selfe containe ge nerall precepts commonly to all arts for so god instituted the soule in the our face to face night & day so of this oration I say this is that most glorious misticall ineffigable oration containing such misteries in it that the [illegible]

misteries of this oration is glorious and sacramentall let no man presu[me] to doe any of these orations after to much drinking or Luxurious feasting without great reverence & discretion which Solomon saith let no man pre let he make mention of this oration before some great precedent for some weighty business for which this oration is of wonderfull excellent virtue 20

The goodness of this oration & attaining the Effects thereof it is read in that Chap wherein it is said follow me & I will make you fishers of men as he said & drew no know that it is not of our power that this oration is of so great a virtue & such mistery as sometimes also the Lord said to his disciples that ye are not able to know for this oration is such a mistery that many have lied in saying they know it but many have lied about what name of god which ~~names~~ have lied in the temple by it but many have declared the performed many miracles in the temple therewith so that none have declared the he did & have hid & abscondid the truth thereof so that none have spoken somthing about or con same before it came to passe but we suppose have spoken somthing how this oration is to cerning it in this chap he setteth downe time & names how this oration is to be pronounced for this oration is one of the generalls first of particulars con taining both in it selfe having a speciall faculty & virtue to give Eloqu ence in it selfe therefore it is necessary to be understood what time & dayes ation it is to be said & published It may be said in every 14 Lunation as # above said but the ordination of time for every day wherein it is to be pronounc ed is specially in the morning 3 times before a man be defiled & then all orations are chiefly to be said & this oration must then be pronounced totally together with out any division & although there are divisions therein the oration is not done with in it selfe but only the divine & glorious names & it is to be said together as most excellent names but not of one word because of the fragility of our nature neither is it needfull to shew the Elements of sillables posited in the oration that are not to be known neither let any one presumtiously speake them neither let him doe any things by way of temptation concerning this oration which ought not to be done

no man that is empedited ought to say this oration
This is a thing agreed unto amongst the wise men of the words that these thi[ngs] may as we have said before be pronounced with great prudence & industry it may it may be said every day wherein you are not hindred by some continuall sin & in that day wherein thou art empedited by some criminal sin thou mayest remember it in thy heart & if thou doest desire to be made Eloquent repeate it 3 times and if any difficult thing trouble you or thou art encombred or involved into any great business repeate the oration once & Eloquence shall be added to thee as much as is needfull & if thou repeatest it [illegible] Eloque nce shall be given to thee this oration is of so great virtue the third thing to be considered in this oration the oration ought to be pronounced [illegible] of the heart & mouth ought to [illegible] it be pronounced in the morning early & after that oration let that following [illegible] this is the prologue

Of the Exposission of the precedent oration which ought to be said together O omnipotent & Eternall god & mercifull blessed before all worlds who art a god Eternall in comprehensible & unchangable & hast granted this blessed gift of salvation unto us:
according to the omnipotency of thy magesty hast granted the faculty of speaking & learning which thou hast denied unto all other animalls & hast disposed of all things by thy infalible providence thou art god whose nature is Eternall & inestimable mercy of wisdome who livest & reignest Eternally one Eternall god through out all worlds of worlds in whose sight are all Celestiall creatures now and allways & Every where Amen This oration being thus finished thou must of necessity some mistery be added to wit you are to be silent a while after latter oration is Ended and after a space of silence begin to say this oration folowing seriously Semet Lamen &c This saith Solomon is of the oration of orations & a especiall Experiment whereby all things whether generall or par ticulars are knowne fully Efficaciously & perfectly & are kept in the me mory but when thou shalt by this oration attaine the Eloquence that thou desirest be sparing thereof & do not rashly declare those things which the tongue suggesteth unto thee for this is the End of all generall precepts which are given to obtaine memory Eloquence understanding all which things we are ~~[illegible]~~ before delivered of generall precepts may be had which also Solo mon calleth spirituall & those singular arts have singular vertues & powers

Having now given a sufficient definition of generall precepts & the 23 orations and laid downe the authority of the orations unto what they are designed it is now necessary to set downe what is to be done concerning the singular orations becaus we are now to treat of the especiall particular arts that we may folow the Exampel which our builder & master hath laid before nation of words & times & in them [illegible] Clinations of the parts & congruity & ordinary devision this is the reason why there are 3 notes in the art of grammer & so it is by pleasing the Divine wisdome that as there should be a full knowledg of ~~[illegible]~~ defining besides by another there should be had a convenient ordination of parts a third there should be had a continued & convenient de for there are foure things necessary therein as the angle of the Lord saide to Sol. to wit

A continuall & flourishing adornement of locution an ordinate competent discreet Judgment of Edicts & testimony or offices of Changes & besides a compounded disposition of buying & selling an Eloquent of misteries of that arts with admonstrat understanding there glorious orations all there were perseverently put by the hand of god that Every note in arts severall arts But of the other arts & their notes them which we shall speak of in their due place & time as we find them disposed in the book of Sol- at which time & howres the notes of the 3 liberall arts are to be looked into now to proceed to shew at what time & how the notes of these arts are to be looked into the orations to be said time to these arts to get being ignorant of the grammaticall science & wouldst have the knoledg thereof if it be permitted thee of god to doe this worke of workes & have a fir that this book of his shall be thy Master & that art of his thy Mistress 27

How the grammaticall notes are to be looked into in the first Moon for in this manner the grammaticall notes are to be looked into & the orations to be said [illegible]
In the dayes wherein it is in the prime the 3 first is to be looked into 2 times & the or ation thereof must be repeated 24 times with holy reverence making a little space between let the oration be said thrice at every Ispection & chiefly abstaine from sins doe this from the first day of the ☽ to the 14th & from the 14th to the 17th the first & second notes are to be looked into 20 times & the oration be repeated 3 times on the 15th day & on the 17th dayes using 9 intervales between them all the 3 notes are then to be looked in 12 times & the orations to be repeated 20 times & them of the notes & the art of grammer but if thou hast read any book of that art & desirest perfection therein do as is commanded using the generall oration to increase memory & Eloquence understanding & perseverance duely repeating the oration above in due time & houres appointed least thou go beyond the precept thou dost covet silence but when thou doest thes see that it be secret to thy selfe if you have no other ~~bookes~~ boockers on but god now we come to the notes Here followeth the knowledg of the notes 28

In the begining of all the inspections of all notes first the first day til the evening if you cannot take another houre that the said gramaticall precepts of the Logicall notes & dialects arts notes alwaies be used every day except one thes told of before the Retoricall every day Excepting onely 3 dayes of the Month to wit the 11 & 17th & 19th & they are forbidden on thes dayes as Sol: himselfe the notes of all arts Except the notes of the art are ofond thes precepts are generally to be observed Here the Logical are to be inspected & the oration thereof said know that the dialecticall notes are 4 times ~~are~~ to be looked into & the orations thereof in that day are to be rehearsed 20 times making some respite & having the booke of that art ~~before~~ your Eyes & soe likewise the books of Retorick with the notes thereof are to be inspected it is appropriated this suffiseth for the knowledg of the 3 arts Here we must beware of offences before we pretend to begin the first note of the art of grammer somthing is to be tried before we have the knoledg of the 12 precepts & 3 noats & you ought first to know in what the gramaticall Logicall Retoricall art are to be inspected it being ~~necc~~ necessary that your greatest care be to keep from offences Here the notes ought to be inspected into 29

at Certaine Elected times it is especiall and manifest knowledg wherewith the note of the gramaticall art are knowne how they are to be published at what times & with what distinctions is duely & competently manifest it is spoken already of the published & inspected of the notes & the orations now we shall digress alitle speak somthing of the times it being in parte done already Here dures monthes are to be sought out in the inspection of the notes we have spoken allredy of the times of this art wherein the orations are to be read & the notes to be looked into it remaineth to declare how the lunations of the orations are to be inspected & found out but for that you mistake not yet I have all redy noted the Lunations wherein the notes ought to be looked into & the orations rehearsed but thes some monthes wherein the lunations is more profitable then others if thou wouldst operate in Theologie or astronomie doe it in fiery signes if grammer or Logick in ♊ or ♍ if musick or phisick in ♉ or ♎ if in Retorick Philosophy arithmatick or geometry in ♊ ♋ for the mathmaticks in ♉ or ♊ sotten are well plased & free from Evill for all the heavenly Estates & Chorus of angles doe rejoice in the Enarration & determinate dayes Here is Made mention of the notes of all arts in Operations following the rules of Sol: Remo disposed my selfe to keep his workes & observations as it is spoken in the 3 notes of grammer so will we observe the times as they are to be observed but the orations thereof are not written but are more fully demonstrated in the folowing work for what is ~~necessary~~ written of the 3 notes ~~are~~ not orations but definissions of the 3 notes writen by the greek Hebrew & Caldean & other things which are apprehended by us for thes writings which are not Comprehended or understood in Latin ought not to be pronounced but only on thes dayes which are appointed by K Sol: & in thes dayes wherin the notes are inspected but here thes holy writing and allwaies to be repeated & the Laten therewith wherin the notes are not to be inspected the notes of the logicall art are three & at what time they are to be published is already shown in part more shall be hereafter said of them now we come to the rest the Laten writing may be published according to the antiquity of the hebrew Except on the dayes we have spoken of for Sol: saith see that you persevere in thes precepts as they are given but of that which followeth it is to be done otherwise for when thou seest the first note of Logick repeat it in thine # heart the signe in the first note and see in the notes of all arts Except thes whereof a definission shall be given Definissions of severall arts 30 the notes thereof we will give allso a definission of severall arts as it is in the book of Sol: Geometry hath one note arithmatick another & halfe Philosophy with the arts and sciences contained therein hath 7 species Theologie & astronomie with the sciences in them contained hath 7 notes

But they are great & dangerous not great in pronounciation but have # great Efficacy Musick hath one noate phisick hath one but they are all to be published & rehearsed in the appointed dayes but note that if every day thou beholdest the notes of Theologie Philosophy or of any arts contained in them # that you neither laugh nor play nor sport becaus K Sol: when he saw of thes notes # having over drunke himselfe the Lord was angry & sent his angle to speak with him saying unto him becaus thou hast despised my Salvaments & polluted & drunke in the dayes of such holy things i will parte of thy Kingdome & i will performe it in the dayes of thy Children & the angle added the Lord hath forbidden thee to Enter into the temple for 80 dayes that thou mayest repent of thy sin & when K Sol wept & besought the Lord for mercy the angle answered & said thy dayes shall be ~~[illegible]~~ prolonged neverthelesse many Evills shall com upon thy Children & they shall be distroyed of the iniquities that shall com upon them At the begining of a now having seen the generall let the speciall be looked into the word of Sol: is to be looked into god for his promises before the notes of the 3 arts 31

Some observations out of Cornelius agripa lib ii Chap 32

of the tables of the planets their virtues formes and what divine names: Intelligences: and spirits: are set over them

It is affirmed by magissions that there are certaine tables of numbers distributed to the 7 planets which they call the sacred tables of the planets endowed with many & very great virtues of the heavens in as much as they represent that devine order of celestiall numbers Impressed upon celestialls by the Ideas of the divine mind by means of the sole of the world and the sweet harmony of those celestiall raies signifiing according to the proportions of Effigies supercelestiall intelligences which can no other ways be expressed then by the markes of numbers & caracters for materiall numbers and figures can doe nothing in the misteries of hid things but representatively by formall numbers and figures as they are governed and enformed by Entelligencies & divine numerations which unite the Extremes of the matter & spirit to ye will of the Elivated soule receiving through great affection the celestiall power of the operator a power from god applied through the soule of the universe and observations of celestiall constellations to a matter fit for a forme the mediums being disposed by the skil and Industry of magissions but let us hasten to Explaine the tables severally the first of them is assigned to saturne and consisteth of a square of three containing the particuler numbers of nine and in every line three every way and through each Diameter making fifteene now the whole some of numbers is forty five over this are of Divine names set such names as fill up the numbers with an Entelligency to what is good with a spirit to what is bad and out of the same numbers is drawne the seale or Caracter of saturne and of the spirit thereof such as we shall beneath ascribe to its tables they say that this table being with a fortunate saturne engraved on a plate of lead doth helpe to bring forth or birth and to make a man safe and powerfull and to cause good success of petissions with princes and powers but if done with an unfortunate saturne that it hinders buildings and plantings and the like & chastes a man from honnors and dignitis and causeth discords and quarrelings and disperses an army the second is called the table of Jupeter which consisteth of a quaternian drawn into it selfe containing sixteen particuler numbers and in every line and diameter four making thirty four now the some of all is 136 and there are over it divine names with an Intelligence to good with a spirit to bad and out of it is drawne the Character of Jupeter and the spirit thereof they say that if it be impressed upon a silver plate with being powerfull and smiling it conduceth to gaine and riches favour and love peace and concord and to appease Enemies to confirme honours dignities and counsells and dissolve

Philippus Theophrastus Paracelsus Phisitian and Philosopher his Magick Archidoxis Booke I

I doubt not but that those my writtings com once to bee Exposed to publick veiw very many will Exceedingly wonder at those notable occult Vertues prepared by manuall Artifice for on parte will Esteem them as super~~[illegible]~~stitious Magickall and Supernaturall and an other part will number them among abominable and Idollitrous Medicins as if there weare need of Diabolicall Conjurations, for the preparation of the same This later sorte of men will thus object, How, I pray is it possible that Metalls with theire assigned Characters letters and name should soe Vertuously and Eficatiously opperat unless thay bee prepared by Magic and Diabolick workes into weeoming. To these Instruction Shuch an Answer as this I understand that you beleve if shuch things be prepared by ye help of the Devill thay may have like Vertues and Operations According as I declare of them: will you not likeways beleve this, Viz: that God the Creator of nature God inhabiting in Heaven is also soe potent as hee is able to and Conferre on Metalls Roots Herbs Stones &c Vertues and Opperations of that Kind, think you that ye Devill is Stronger more Ingenious more Omnipotent and more powerfull then ye only Eternall and Almighty God who is most and who for mans sake hath Created and Graduated these Mettalls Stone Hearbs Roots and all like things which grow and live within the Earth or above ye Earth in ye Aire or in ye Waters for ye Benifet and Comodity of man kind moreover it is most Certine and by experiance it is Evedent that ye Mutation of time hath Singular Vertues and Opperations and Espetioly if Certine Metalls bee mixed togeather and Elaborated at peculiar Seasons for this is many ways manifest by Experiance and is Notoriously Evedent allsoe no man is able to demonstrat that Metalls in themselves Are Dead and Voyd of life for theire Oyles Salts Sulphurs and Quintessences are ye highest preservatives and for Soporting and Sustayning mans life and in this many degrees Exceed all the Simples as in all our Remedies is Clearly manifest, but if these weare Voyd of life by what means I pray could thay possibly in the [illegible] and nigh dead members and Bodys of men raise up and as it weare after Banishment restore a fresh and lively power for this is knowen in the Resolved and Contracted in those who is afflicted with ye Stone in Parsons laboring with ye Lues in Hydropikes Epilepticks Maniacs Podagricks and in all others otherways afflicted whome for Brevitys sake I heare omitt. Therefore I boldly assert ye Mettalls and Stones Equally as Roots Hearbs and all other fruits are endued with life yeat with such a difference as this Viz) as they are prepared and Elaborated According to time, for Time hath a notorious power and Efficacy which might bee proved by many Argoments weare it not allready sofitiantly knowen what are common and publickly knowen wee have noe Intention to speak off heare in this place but of those only which are difficult incomprehensible and almost adverse to the senses, Moreover signs Characters and letters theire vertues and Efficacys) Now if the nature and property of ye Mettall allsoe the Influence and Operation of Heaven and ye Planets and ye Signification and Condition of [illegible] Characters Signs and letters togeather with ye Observation of Times days and howers agree and concord what

Of Cephalalgia or Dolors of the head

Dolors of the head are manifold some are occasion by our own intemperance in eating and drinking others arise from malignant exhalations & vapours arising from ill digesting food & ascending from the stomach into the head & but passing over them in silence: now we will proceed to the cure of the most grievous and raging effects of the head

Against the falling Evill or Epilepsy

In this disease you are diligently to observe how often the Epileptick falls peculiar monthes days & houres whether he fall at times equall equall distant or not: whether before he fall he stagger for some little time or suddanly & as it were at unawares be cast downe: these things being observed thus reason with your selfe if he fall at certaine houres ~~a moment~~ he doth not fall suddanly (as it were) in one moment but if he fall at uncertaine houres & monthes the contrary happens viz he is suddainly in one moment cast downe the first Epilepsy is mortall viz the diseased turn before he fall tumble a little as if he perceived the Evill a coming but that which suddainly chaseth downe the sicke is not the worst but the most solubrious: the first is from nature: the last hath no commerce with nature & destroyes not the complection of all the first hurtes or obscures the minde: & since the last doth not so for this the help is this first curiously observe in what day or houre the sicke last fell when you know that consider to which of the planets that houre appertaines also diligently mind in what signe & degree the ☽ is these being considered likewise the age of the sicke whether man or woman & set it downe with a distinction then begine the cure every morning give this folloing medicine viz ℞ spirit of vitriol 2 droppes quintessence of antimony 5 drops quintessence of pearles 4 droppes put these when mixed into a cupfull of the best rose water and let the patient drinke it every morning fasting 4 houres after it the cure of this must be continued 29 dayes in the meane while prepare this plate ℞ of pure fine gold ℥ß melt the gold in a new crusible when the ☽ occupies the 12th degree of cancer: and when melted poure it into pure water but diligently observe when a ☌ of the 2 planets happeneth in the heaven in that houre againe melt your gold and in the congresse of the planets adde to your gold in the crusible of fine silver ℥ß so as the mass may be halfe ☉ and halfe ☽ poure it out and hammer it into a plate of one hands breadth cut it even about the edges and make it triangular in the following forme= Afterwards make it hot in the fire then take it out and leave it untill the ☽ occupie the same signe & degree as it did before when the fit assault the sick in that houre accurately cut the present caracters signes or letters as they are in this figure in the plate made of gold and silver for you must hasten to finish that engraving in the space of one houre above measure for otherwise all will be to no purpose you must first make the signe of that planet in the houre of which the paroxisme did invade in the midst of the plate the figure here described was made for one Jacob Seitz a servant to the prince of Salisburge who fell in the houre of ♀ place all other signes as in the figure is denoted yet if the diseased be a woman in stead of this ♀ signe substitute this [illegible] leave a place contained the age of the sicke the said Jacob was of thirty 9 according the number 34 there designed you must engrave the number of yeares to every paroxisme in the [illegible]

That an Horse may Dure or Live Long

perhaps some will suspect that I treat of inchantments or other like magicall things but I can truly affirme that I write nothing heare which cannot be demonstrated from naturees celestiall vertue or else the in fluences themselves as of which my selfe have not made experiment the same cause of this present thing for if you make a bridel for your horse of Lions skin & on it engrave also these caractors and words you will find that horse will not only be lose sweather & more durable then another horse but also the man himselfe now will his courage which other wise is woont be deficient if you must use him in a due manner by by the virtue of this bridel you may use your horses strong and in good case 30 or 40 yeares longer then the common age of horses this bridel must so be made as it may be also in stead of a caposter from which when removed the bitt the bridel may remaine & this Bridel as we have said must be prepared of a lions skin the tanner or tawyer must begin to mascerat this skin in the houre of ♃ the skin being prepared into lether by the tanner the sadler must cut it only in the hour of ☉ but he may sew the bridel together when he will the Bridel being made adde such plates or bosses in the hour of ♀ ☽ ЧVSROVLREE sowing them to the head part or capister of the bridel but the folloing bosses or plates must be prepared of copper in the hour of ☽ ♃ V and placed in the fore part of the capister viz the Region of the fore head and [illegible] ♃ O ♀ XIIIITOSELE and thes folloing plates must be made of silver Z55AKRXX XXX also the folloing must be made of gold affixed the Bitt in the hour of sagitary ♌ A ♂ 4 ♀ 3 9 11 put the bridel upon the horse adde such plates or brasses in the hour of mercury and you will see how much nature is able to performe by signes characters and words if an exact observance of time be exhibited

Therefore first for moveing the menstrues make a sigill of pure and good copper void of all metalick adission in the houre of ♀ in such manner and forme as shall now be shewed if this cannot be compleated in one houre leave it untill the same houre returne then perfect your worke before begun the forme of the sigill is as followeth

The fift Book of magick ARCHIDOXIS touching the Constellation of the Speculum

The way of preparing this Royall Instrument begins in this manner first of all every month throughout the whole yeare—

You must carefully [illegible] which signe is the ascendant of Heaven also the beginning of any signe must dilligently be observed & the signe rising upon the horizon together with the signe of the Meridian which is called the midheaven it is likewise further to be knowne in what parte of the heaven every planet is Resident in the houre & day of the beginning & setting about this mistery also whether the planet be above or beneath the Earth & when it will ascend above this our horizon moreover the conjunctions of the planets are to be knowne or in what signe or degree the sun or moone is also all the stars & changes of the moone and Especially to be understood as also the Equinoctialls themselves yet you cannot rightly compute them according to the rules or tables of Ptolomy for this cause the tables of Ptolomy were made in the yeare from the Nativity of our Saviour 140 att that time the Equinoctiall was on the 21 day of march two houres & foure minutes after noone therefore in this our age viz now in the yeare 1537 there is wanting of the account of Ptolomy almost 5 dayes 7 houres & 36 minutes for this cause in considering this so Excellent a worke great care must be taken to finde the true Equinoctiall & the place of the Equinoctiall ought to be taken in the Ecliptick of the Eaight Heaven which I call the beginning of Aries by reason of Division & Partision for the first parte of the Equinoctiall from the Ecliptick containeth 24 minutes of Declination so wee finde the day of the Equinotiall then the place of the sun is given to the Ecliptick division & that circle of the equinoctiall in the Eaight Heaven & this parting it containe therefore when soever the sun is posited whether in the ascendant or midheaven or else in decent there will be the beginning of Aries & of the signes and the sun being Rightly knowne from which afterwards the beginning of Aries & of the signes when they consist in Horizon may be understood according to the sensible place & therefore according to that from the motion & place of the sun the ascendant is found in the orient through the yeare also some places of the signes must be taken according to the equality of the Ecliptick which equality or distribution in the 8th Heaven is described by me Theophrastus but all the being comprehended in their due manner & circle we now proceed to the Artifice it selfe Each of these following 7 metalls must be taken according to the weight scribed in its one due manner as shall here following be shewed R of Gold [illegible] partes or halfe ounce tin of Silver partes 10 of Copper partes 3 of tin partes 2 of Iron partes 1 of mercury partes 5 every of these mettals poured must be kept apart in paper [illegible] we must mention our Speculum of which the magnitude is almost according to this here figured—

It is most secret & most occult in a word unto what man Concern Speculums of this kind are directed all things apeare which are don under the horizon as well in places distant as in those that are nigh. whether they be don in the day or nigh openly or in secret. these Speculums must be prepared for certa in & definite men all other men for whome they are not made can see nothing seen them it is also to be understood that if the Speculums be made more Large more of every mettel must like wise be taken and indeed the greater the Speculum is the more may be seen in it for if great gatherings together of people be to be seen such as are made in wars conflicts & other like confluences of peo ple: in so litel room neither the persons nor horses nor other cat tel: can be seen so very distinctly as in a large & more spatious specul nevertheless there is no Less labour Required in making & prepar ing a smaller then a large Speculum but only more of every mettel— after you have your mettels purged & purified they are then fit for this worke it also to be understood that every be begun to be purged in the very house of his proper planet also the good or evill aspect of the good or evill planets towards that planet are diligently to be observed   Gold if it be 3 times melted with antimony & afterwards transmitted by saturne it needs no other purgation but only you must beat it out thin & macerate it in water of Salt for 24 houres afterwards wash it with pure water when washed exquisitely dry it with a clean linen cloth & Reserve it for the time of use # Silver is thus prepared after it is beat thin in a plate it is boyled in water in which Tarter & salt is dissolved the boyling is continued for a quar ter of an hour then it is taken out & washed with pure wa ter: & wiped with a clean cloth & so reserved for the houre of use # Copper must be put into water of vitriol or Camphor mixt with vinegar for the space of 6 or 8 houres so it will be purged but after it must be washed clean dry ed: and reserved # Iron must be filed & the dust studiously washed from the filings & they afterward dryed upon coles # Tin melt it & burne upon it suet wax or honey then power it out into faire water afterwards dry it & lay it up for use Quick silver squeeze this through a skin into a cleane wooden vessell what passeth through is good & effectually purged for this worke & what is left in the skin is of no value every of these mettels must be kept apart thus you have all Ready for a begining # This being done the complection of the person (whether man or woman) for whome this Speculum is to be made must be accurately & exactly knowne viz by calcula ting the nativity of him or her as we before have clearly taught for as some do the complection cannot be judged of from the ho from the houre of the birth calculated but it is truly & rightly understood if judgment be made from the houre that houre an

And point in which the almighty God infused a living soule into the young in the mothers womb where he first began to live: which houre may exactly & truly be purchased or derived to every man (whe ther he be old or younge) from these foundations first of Theophras tus: having Laid & cast moreover the nativity of a man being Embalmed together with the planets & Signes perfectly known
This will be a sufficient helpe for the for the furtherance of this worke in this place it is not material to know what his fortu ne: or misfortune what his Death Life or diseases are it is sufficient that the Revolution of the yeare in which the man was borne be Rightly knowne and understood.

Now followeth a Table by which the begining of the Speculum is showed how to be operated for every man of what planet soever he be as man is the offspring of a planet so the begin ing must be in the degree of this signe	The degree of the signes of the planets	The houses of Heaven	The sun in the Degrees of the signes	The moone in the Degrees of the Signes

♄	♒ 12 Degrees	12:7	☉ 5 Degrees	♒ ☽ 12 Degrees
♃	♐ 11 Degrees	11:3	☉ 13 Degrees	♐ ☽ 19 Degrees
♂	♈ 10 Degrees	10:8	☉ 9 Degrees	♈ ☽ 10 Degrees
☿	♍ 3 Degrees	6:2	☉ 13 Degrees	♍ ☾ 7 Degrees
☉	♌ 12 Degrees	1:5	☉ 12 Degrees	♌ ☽ 4 Degrees
♀	♉ 7 Degrees	9:7	☉ 1 Degrees	♉ ☽ 20 Degrees
☽	♋:6 Degrees	4:1	☉ 20 Degrees	♋ ☽ 6 Degrees

If a man be the offspring of saturne the first begining must be made when the planet saturne is in his own house viz aquarius and if not by reason of the time in that signe yet at least in the 12th house of Heaven that is in the in the house of misfortune: enmity envy & indeed all evills moreover the sun must be in the 5 degree of aquary but the moone in the midst of the 12th degree of the same signe then ℞ the before washed & prepared Lead in that very poin & moment in the which the moone entering upon the 12th degree of aquary and put it into a new crusibel before prepared & sett it in the fire in redinesse melt the Lead and when it floweth remove it from the fire & diligently cover the crusible and sett it aside un til the planet Jupiter touch the 11th house of heaven or the 11th degree of sagittary and the moone enters the 19th degree of the same signe sagittary then take the Tin before washed the sun also makes his course in the 13th degree of sagittary and set aforesaid lead to the fire and when it is in flux cast into it the tin that they may melt & flow together and stir them with a stick that they may be mixed then remove the scoriae from the fire & covering it as before set it aside untill mars is in the af- ore: said manner &c. so you must do with all the other mettels according to the tenour of the Table untill all the metalls be congregated & co-united But if venus be Lady of the nativity you must begine with Copper & observe this proces venus mercury Sol Luna & then above from Saturn to Jupiter & mars untill you come to venus this in numbering all and repeated the begining being allwayes made from the lord of the complection or nativity mercury onley when lord of the nativity must be the last because his mettel abides not in the fire but vanishes away otherwise he should hold his own order Espetially when he is not Lord of the nativity # also they mettels being conjoyned as is said you must have two tables of Iron purely polished formed & bound together with Iron wier so as they may within them containe the amplitude of the speculum when it is molten & cast between the two Iron tables on the superior parte there must be a mouth or orifice not Large but so made only as through it the mettels may be conveniantly powred according to the following figure almost like a flatsided bottel shewed but before the infusion you must have thes Iron tables hot & anoint them with suet that the mettels may not stick & that the speculum may be smooth and very hard # The forme of The fusory Instrument into which the Speculum Is to be cast #

all thes things being in readiness you must dilligently have regard to the times when the Lord of the nativity is below The Earth that is the 1. 2. 3. 4. 5 or 6 house of the Heavens & the moone holds The 12 degree of the house of the lord of the nativity & also if there be no other malignant aspect such are ☍ □ & △ or ☌ Then in the name of the lord put out all the mettels being melted in your crusible into that forme this is the first speculum in which are seen all things which are done corporally and substantially as men Images beasts & other animals yet the fusion must be made Exactly in that very pointe & moment in which the moone enters the 10th degree whether it be in the day or in the night it is all one afterwards take out the speculum from out of the form or fusory Instrument and keep it aparte but

The remaining grains or fragments of the mettels mix together in a crusibel yet not before there be a conjunction of the lord of the nativity and the moone in the house of the conjunction againe melt the mettels into on mass so have them in the crusible and make ready your form or fusatory Instrument and when the lord of the nativity occupies the 10th house that is in the midel or highest part of Heaven powre out the second speculum & at that time the moon must be constituted in on house or signe of that planet which is lord of the nativity and as the moone before was in the 10th degree of capricorne so now shee must be in the 10th degree of aquary for if saturne should be lord of the nativity he hath two houses viz capricorn and aquary if the sun and moon are choise in the nativity each of them have but on house viz leo & cancer with this consideration all the 3 Speculumes are to be melted & prepared when the moon is in the 10th degree of Leo or in the 10th degree of cancer in this moment is compleated the second speculum by which may be knowne all speeches words & sayings allredy past as also the dayes times and houres in which every of thes was done # afterwards againe conjoyne the mettels into on when the lord of the nativity is in conjunction with the moone for if another planet be in conjunction with the moone the thing is the same take out your second speculum and keep it aparte as before make ready your fusory instrument when the planet which is lord enters the 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. or 12 house above the Earth also when the moone againe holds the first signe or house but the planet in the 10th degree and no evill aspect between # then melt and powre out the third speculum in this are seen all writings or things written delineated and printed in letters & bookes in a word I say all hidden things which Ever are made for the future If any mettell be remaining after the makeing of this you may imploy it how you pleas but the speculums must be kept signed with their numbers 1. 2. 3.

Moreover when the sun is in the signe or house of the Lord of the nativity from the 5 degree to the 7th thes speculums must be quickly be levigated upon a stone and polished on on side so as there may be no roughness nor blemish perceived for this would hinder the inspection after this is done no one of them must touch the other but Each must be kept aparte but the begining of the levigation may be when your time will permit for although all the three must not be melted and cast at on time yet that is not any thing to this business they being levigated or ground [illegible] diligence must be given when the next new moon after [illegible] tion will be in the very pointe of the new moon after Longe [illegible] in powder the first speculum must be polished so it will be cleare & bright in the next following new the very pointe of this time the second & third speculums be polished after polishing they must no more be [illegible] together or comoyned but each of them kept apart but when The Lord of the nativity is in the fourth house that is in the house of earth secret or hidden things & the Sun or moon at the same time be in the house of the Lord of the nativity and also when a conjunction of two benigne planets happens then these 7 specimens conjunctively must be put into a pure fluid & cleane fountaine water so as under the water they may againe co-unite let them lye in the water for two houres space untill the conjunction be over past afterwards take them out & wrap them in cleane linen and keep them for use

Thus may these Riall instruments be prepared in 13 monthes space if it be began in a fit time & an accurate observation of time be adhibited this worke may be set about in one yeare yet one yeare is more comodious for this then another Especially if the Lord of the nativity be Governour of that yeare or perfect of the part of fortune ——

The Sixt Booke of Magick ARCIDOXIS

Touching the Composition of metals no man can deny but that the compositions of metalls operate wonderous things in supernaturalls this may be confirmed by many reasons as heare following shall more Clearly be taught for if you compound all the 7 metals in a commodious order & due time & melt them together into one masse ye will have such a metal as in which all the virtues of the 7 metals will be inserted and remaine all these I say you shall finde in one only metal which we call ELECTRUM this doth not only containe in it selfe the naturall virtues of pure metals but besides these also various supernaturall virtues for pure and Simple metalls by and in themselves have no more virtue then what God and nature hath infused in them and all these are naturall only so it is knowne to you that gold which of all metals is the most noble most perfect & most Excellent heales the Leprosye with all its species & Copper & mercury consolidate all Externall ulcers & wounds so likewise all other metalls have their peculiar virtues which we in this place shall not mention but speake of the virtues of metals in generall and yet their metallick Essence being undissolved & unaltered they can performe or Effect nothing in medicine without hurt or detriment but if they be to Exercise

Exercise their medicinall virtues the metallick Essence of them must be first destroyed and then changed into another species viz into their arcanums or oyles balsomes tinctures quintessences calx & the like & in this state exhibited to the Sicke & without such a preparation they by their native virtues can contribute nothing in a supernaturall manner as our Electrum doth which is compounded & coagmented according to the Course of Heaven as we hereafter shall shew In the praxis thereof ## Wherefore we not without Cause asigne praises to our Electrum for the virtue of it is great yea I verily believe I suppose it in this place will be a thing very necessary that we should describe the virtues and faculties of our Electrum and omitting the treating of pure metals proceed to commend you of this only for it is more cleare then the Sun that they cannot in the least bear comparison with our Electrum if a cup or plate be made of this Electrum poison in it can be given to no man nor by inchantments & witchcraft can hurt be inferred on him if the said cup or plate be well observed for in our Electrum is constant Infallible Simpathy Latent which it hath with man the 7 planets & superiour stars co-operating as by reason of a singular consent & condolency it both sweateth & is spotted as soone as it is touched or taken in the hand of man and this is the cause why many things were atributed to our Electrum by the antients of which they also made many vessels apt for conteyning meates & drinkes some of which Even in our dayes have been found & digged out of the Earth with which they were contented and had also of the same Electrum: ornaments & jewels worne in times past as Rings Braslets medals Seales Images [illegible] money & some of which for concealing the arcanum were covered over with silver & gold but this custom in our age is altogether out of use [illegible] thing it so life contemned and forgate ## yet that the mistery of nature and those Excellent magnalia of God may no longer be hidden in these latter times but be publickly known & produc to Light I cannot cease but describe & discover in my Explanation those things which have so long been hid & been obscured in the darkness of Sofisters But it seemes not Expedient here to write all the virtues & potencyes of our Electrum for if we do so these our studies will be calumniated by the Sophisters giving Effront to the Ignorant be derided by the Ideots & abused by the wicked and Impious against all these Silence is the best security ## yet in the meane while I in this place cannot chuse but write some of the wonderfull powers and virtues of our Electrum which we have seen done with these our Eyes and therefore can witnesse the truth ——

The truth of them with a good concience for we have seene Rings of this kinde which whosoever did weare the Cramp could not trouble nor the Palsey Efiont nor any dolour torment likewise: neither would the Apoplexy nor Epylipsy invade and if a ringe of this kinde were put upon the ring finger of an Epileptick man in the time of a most grievious fitt the fitt presently abating and the sick Emediatly arose from the place where he was fallen we have also seene and knowne that if the man wearing such a ring on his finger were at that time affected with any occulte disease the ring suddainly did not only sweat but by reason of the great: Sympathy did also contract spotts & deformyty as we more clearly declare in our Book of Sympathy ## moreover it is also to be knowne that our Electrum is a Celestiall operation presented as also the influence of all the 7 planetts that it drives away all malignant spirits: therefore the Antient Magicians & Chaldeans & Persians did and performe many works of this kind all which if I should perticularly rehearse to you it should make a wonderfull Cronicle which notwithstanding for the avoiding of scandale I have omitt for in so doeing I should be accounted the greatest Sophister & the Highest magician and Enchanter ## nevertheless I cannot passe over in silence one exceeding wonderfull thing I once saw done in Spain by a certaine Nigromancer who had a bell weighing at the most but two pounds as often as he rung this bell he could excite & raise up very many spectrums and visions of spirits for when he was disposed to such actions he writ certaine words & Characters in the internall superficies of the bell then he strook or rung the bell & imediately a spirit would appeare in what forme soever he himselfe willed with the sound of the same bell he could also draw to himselfe or expell from him either visions or spirits yea & many other things also if he so pleased as I with these Eys have seene done by him yet as often as he intended any new thing so often he renewed the words & Characters he would not reveale to me those characters or words while I my selfe more profoundly ruminating and considering the matter did at lenght happen to finde them out which notwithstanding our Examples of which I have studiously declined yet I did without difficulty perceive that more of moment was sited in the bell then in the words themselves for that bell was undoubtedly made of our Electrum ## I heare also was the invention of virgills bell at the sound of which all adulterers & adulteresses resident in the Court of king Artus were so Exceedingly Terrified as a continuall vertigo seased on them by which they were plunged hedlong into water no otherwise then as if they had been strook downe with lightening this is no fable but a true thing and worthy to be remembered therefore it seemes not unworthy of your beleefe since all such things are possibel to nature for if the visible man can call & so compell another by the sounde of his word as he must do what he commands without all force of weapons or other violence intervening certainely much more easily can the invisibel man doe the same who can compel both the visible & invisible not only with a word but also with the thought of a word for necessarily the inferiour must alwayes be obedient and subject to the superiour: what other thing is there in visible man then the astrum it selfe latent in the mind and cogitations of the invisible man and by the imagination of man discovering & exercising himselfe now if the astrum be lead and conveighed to another by the olimpik spirit then the same may also be [illegible] and [illegible] its impression to a[illegible] they by the power and help of the stars may be far more sublimely Exalted then they can be by nature as we teach in the other books of this magick Archedoxes Gold & living mercury may be for Example to you if these two be compounded & united by Amalgaming Exactly in the time of the conjunction of Sol and mercury and in that conjunction the sun have dominion over mercury they thenceforth may Easily be fixed together so as to give tincture to Living mercury which may be Afterwards augmented with other Living mercury in that a conjunction this is an admirable secret of nature &c ##

The likewise without this conjunction gold & silver may be united & compounded with common mercury in this manner if gold be held over a [illegible] mercury then all the mercury ascends into the gold in the space of [illegible] & makes [illegible] which flagilles [illegible] as was in the same manner silver may be handled also this we are wonte to call the magnesia of the philosophers in the search of which many as thomas de aquino & Rupesia with their followers have anxiously but to no purpose and this is among remarkable singulers that mercury with no little difficulty [illegible] silver copper iron steel &c so united in the fire as they Easily melt together & this way are prepared many times Elixers for changing mettles as we else where write more amply in our booke of the Transmutation of mettells — further more touching common mercury

This also is to be understood viz as it with it owne fume pnetrates all mettells calsines & disposes them to its owne nature so met tells: also with their fume Coagulates living mercury: for we have found mercury within of Exceeding great colde and that it can no other way be coagulated then by the great est: cold which fully & perfectly mixeth & fution assends or Ex pires: from mettels in the Species of fume for what cannot abide in the fire & heat issueth out from mettels in the fire of this kind is the Arsnick of mettells which assends from mettels in their melting like a spirit: # moreover it is to be knowne: that mercury is a metalick spirit and as a spirit is more then a body so also mercury is more then all the other mettels and as a spirit penitrates all walles so mercury passeth through all mettels for mercury performes and operates wonderfull things in mettells all which we shall not heare Explicate but leave it to another place I my selfe have seene and found that if living mercury be certaine times sublimed as cinibar from a calsigned mettel and calcinate be againe reduced into its owne mettel it will thenceforth be made more flued then any lead whether it be gold or silver: copper or iron or steele so as it will become fluxible at a candel or torch licke wax and will melt like snow or Ice in the sunns heate & therefore by digestion for # sometime it will all be turned into living mercury we also make mention of in our litel booke of the Resuscitation of naturall things when we speake of the mercury of mettels # In this manner is prepared mercury of gold mercu ry of silver & of copper & of iron & of steele & of tin & of lead Touching which Arnoldus & Aristotle & other philosophers have indeed delivered many things but rarely or never saw them with their owne Eyes therefore this is to be accounted the highest and most noble mistery of nature which ought studiously to be conseald and not to be rashly commited to the hands my adversaries viz of the unworthy for what will a gem or peirle profite a goose who neither knows it nor can she use it but preferes any thing she can swallow before it the the condissendings & ingenie of sophisters is the very same # Therefore they are not worthy of these Arkanumes nor must they be imparted to them least perles be cast before swine and what is sacred given to dogs which God himselfe hath seriously forbid to be done # But that we may com to the prac tis: of our Electrum touching which we began to speake above and which ought to be compounded & prepared accord ing to the motion of the heavens and conionction of the 7 planets thi: process of that practis is as followeth

First attend the coniunction of Saturne with mercury that heaving all Instruments must be in readyness as fire crusibel pure Lead beate thine or in smalle graines living mercury & that nothing may be a let to your purpos
The conionsion as I said begining make your Lead to flow not so smale heate as if mercury be poured upon it it may not fume away or Expire therefore in the first point of the con ionction: take out your crusible with the Lead in flux from the fire and then poure in your mercury afterwards per mit them to cole together this being done likewise attend to the conionction of Jupeter with Saturne or mercury then having all things prepared in readiness studiously Endeavor that pure English tin may be melted in a vessel aparte at the very point of that conionction & your pited lead and mercury in another peculiar vessell in flux also at the same time first take your lead and mercury from the fire when that mixture is warm condensation then poure in your tin and permit it to cole together thus you will have the three most fluid mettels conioyned together in one body which three indeed should allwayes be first conioyned afterwardes againe attend to another conionction viz of any of the other planets whether ☉ or ☽ or ♀ or ♂ be conioyned with any of the other three afoursaid viz either with ☿ ♄ or ♃ for then againe you having all things in readiness as we said must melte either apart in the pointe of the conionction mix them as afore you did with the other 3 & reserve that quaternary mixture with the same: and you must handle the three remaining mettells untill all the 7 be conioyned & mixed into one mettel according to the due conionction of the planets so you will have the ELECTRVM prepared but having described the same I will heare put an end to this littel Booke

The Seventh Booke of Magick
Archidoxis: Touching the Seales of the Planets

It is certane that a great power & virtue is incited in the Se ills: of the planets if they be duly prepared in a fit houre an time according to the course of the planets aforesaid an d: for no man can deny but that the superior stars and Influences of heaven can do much in transitory and mor tall things if the superior stars and planets can governe rule and as it were as they please compell the animall man although he be made after the Image of God Endowed with Life and reason How much more may they: governe: less things viz metels stones & Images on which they Empose: themselves or which they with all their virtues & Efficacy: according to the measure of Influence do so occupie as if they were in them with all their substance as they are in the firmament it selfe also it is possible for a man so to Endew them into a medium: as in that they may Effecatiously: operate whether the medium be a metell or a stone or Image: or any other thing ## it is also a thing very worthy your consideration: that the 7 planets have greater virtue in no one thing then they have in their proper metels viz Sol in gold Luna in silver Venus in copper Jupiter in tin mercury in quick silver mars in Iron Saturne in Lead therefore we have decribed the sigills of them & teach to make the seale of every planet of its owne proper metel

The seale of Saturne this sigill must be made of pure & fine Villachian Lead in the rotundity of which make a quadrature on one side devide this quadrate into 3 columns & inscribe in every colomn 3 containg 15 on the other side the Image of the planet must be Engraven viz an aged man bearded with a shovell or spade in such wise figured as if he were diging the Earth on his head must be a star with the name of Saturne but for impressing this sigill you must signatory Iron instruments ready cut and Engraved that in the Exact time of signing the sigill you may Empress in as many if stamped viz that by this means the worke may proceed the more Expeditiously then otherwise when in the day of Saturne the moone Enters the first degree of taurus or capricorne & the planet Saturne is of a good course & nature then melt your sigill poure it out and stamp it betweene the To signatory Irons as we said when it is so prepared keep it carefully in cleane black silke

The Seale of Saturne

This sigill petitles pregnant women if they weare it about them in the berth they will finde no dificulty also to whatever this seale is aplyed that will be multiplyed

And moreover if an horsman carry it in his left boote no man can hurte his horse But if this Seale be made in the day and houre of Saturne when Saturne is Retrograde it resists: all good Enterprise and if it be aplyed to any thing that dayly decreases is diminished and perisheth also in a time of warre if it be buried in that place where soldiers Rest they shall have no success but will hastily remove their camp and be gone

The Seale of Jupiter

This sigill must be made of good English tin: in the roundeness: on one side a quadrangle must be Extended and that multiplyed with the quaternary number and every line must containe 34 in the other side of the sigill the Image of the planet must be graven viz a sacerdotall and literate man holding as it were Reading a booke in his handes upon his head a star and the name of Jupiter also for this sigill you must have two signatory Irons ready prepared as is said then in the day of Jupiter the moon Entering the first degree of libra the planet Jupiter well constituted prepare and finish this sigill and keep it in blew sa

If this Seale be worne it procureth love and favour with all men to whatsoever it be aplyed that multiplies and dayly increaseth & makes the bearer happy & prosperous in all his affaires and it drives away all care and sorrow

The Seal of mars

This sigill must be formed of Corolthian Iron in an orb of the magnitude of the figure following and kept with the first time for impressing it on one side must be a quadrangle multiplyed with the number five so as every line on both may comprehend 65 on the other side must be engraven The Image of the planet viz a soldier armed holding a buckler in his left hand & in his Right a sword upon his head a star & the name of mars added [illegible] that two peculiar signatory Instruments admirable well hardened shold be made for this sigill these being in readiness attend to the day of mars when the moon entering the first degree or point of Aries or Sagittary and the planet mars hath a good motion state and in benigne aspect At that time your Iron sigill must be Red hot in the fire that it may the better be softned and signed when stamped keep it in Red silke &c

The Seale of Mars

This Sigill confers strength and victory on the wearer: fights and combats: so as in all conflicts he shall triumph and not be hurt. if the same seale be buried in a castle or fort in fight all enemies or assailants will be confounded so great are virtue doth the planets contribute to this seale but if it be prepared when mars is retrograde: under a severe malignant aspect then happe the contrary happ neth whereas seeing it is said there were strife contention hatred and envy yea all unlucky chances or mischiefs will be rife

The Seale of Sol this sigill must be made of the best arrabick or Hungarick Gold where also you are to make a quadrangle on one side and that is to be multiplied with the number 6 so as in every line transversely numbering there may be 111 here you are to note that the numbers in every Sigill are the secret and hidden numbers of all the stars by God subjected and attributed also that as we teach in our booke of stars for a planet is called a precursor or primary star therefore it is behoofull it should have the other stars under it which to it are subservient &c on the other side the Image of the planet must be engraven viz a king crowned sitting on a royall throne shining with kingly majesty and holding a scepter in his right hand upon his head the sun and the name Sol but before his feet the Image of a lion for this Sigill likewise these signatories are required afterwards observe what day of Sol the moon enters the first degree of Leo if at that time the planet Sol be of a direct motion engrave the seale wherein imprest keep it in yallo silke ##

But you are also to understand that this way of impressing Sigills is not only instituted that by reason of time no impediment may intervene but that all things may be done expeditiously and quickly but this very impression is also an expression of celestiall virtues for as celestiall impressions and influences of superior stars are supernaturally made most swiftly and in one moment so as an arrow flies not swifter from above nor is a bullet shot out of a gun so swiftly and hastily an impression ought to be made ## The sigill procureth the bearer grace and favour among great men kings princes lords and daily advanceth the man so as he continually increaseth in goods and honour And is greatly esteemed among all men &c.

The seale of mercury this seale must be made of coagulated mercury for the most part unless it be such as can be impressed so neither can this coagulated mercury unless prepared in the manner by us before set down be made for use therefore a forme is required of two parts in one of which may be Engraven the number and in the other the Image of the planet as we have taught touching the Impressing the other metalls also this sigill on one side must be quadrangled the quadrangle multiplied with the number

Line containing about 262 on the other side standes the Image of the planet viz an angle winged on the back and at his heeles having in his hand a rod with two serpents wreathed about it crosswise but on his head a hat and the name of mercury. mercury is coagulated with lead for no mettel is of more affinity to mercury then Lead the coagulation is thus made R of fine Lead ℥ij make it flow in a crusible then take it from the fire and let it cole a litle when it is nigh condencation poure in of mercury ℥ij also observe when in the day of mercury the planet is benigne the moon entering the first degree of Gemini or Scorpio at that time make your coagulate mercury to flow with a very soft fire and poure it out into the forme or mold before prepared knocking the same a littel that the mercury may slide round a litle the better it will very well reach cold in the forme but this forme must first be anointed with wax or with a burning taper that nothing of the melted mercury may adhere to the forme but sliperily and with ly slide in all the engravings thereof yet if in casting this sigill be not sufficiently pure and exquisite you may cut it as you thinke good afterwards keep it in purpel silke &c

The Seale of Luna this sigill is made of pure silver and the Lapidature of it numbered so as every line containes about 369 in the other side stands the Image of the planet viz a woman with a loose and careless garment standing in an halfe moon in her right hand also holding an halfe moon on her head a starr and the name of Luna these signatory instruments must likewise be prepared for this seale then you must diligently observe when there is a benigne course and habbit of the moon in the day of Luna the moon entering the first pointe of capricorne or Virgo at that time signe this seale and keep it in white silke.

Heare beginneth the prologue of yͤ Booke of Clauicles of Salomon contayninge the secrets of all Secrets of all crafts magicall of Nigromancy, the wͨh booke of craftes as Ptolomey the most wiſeſt philoſopher in greece, doth teſtify, Remember my Sonne Roboam more dearer to me then Iſaack, for I had all my Scyence of yͤ Creator of all creatures. Roboam ſayd what haue I deſerued. why ſhould I in any caſe be Likned to my father. Salomon, ſayd, I haue reuelation by an Angell of God, it chanced one night, in my Sleepe I named the holy name of god Iſaack and I deſired to haue the ineffable wiſdome of god, for yͤ Angell Raziell appeared to me, in my Sleepe, ſhewinge this enarration gently, Salomon: Shutt or tye the ſecretts of Secrets, for it ſhall be time yͭ all wiſdome ſhall be deſtroyed and ſhalbe hydde and ſhall come to nothing, and ye ſhall know that time is nye, I awaked from my Sleepe and roſe vp as a man being dronke and fearefull from his dreames and I remembered what ſhould be done in this buſines, & conſideringe yͭ all my Science ſhould be Leſt in one day, I did gather before me all the Sciences of wiſe men and all the craftes of yͤ prophets paſſed yͭ I could get, that were conceninge this time and yͤ time to come, and I found many confuſions & albeit, the artes mathematicall were by yͤ power of god yet there was noe arte perfect, and I ſaw it openly, but by the reuelation of yͤ Angell, I made a certaine ſecret worke and moſt ſecrets wher

I haue hidde refined and Locked vp the ſecret ſecrets, of all magicall craftes wthout ye which any ſecret of this ſcience is not complete an therfore I haue reformed and kept, Leaſt this ſecret ſhould come at any ſeaſon into the han

Roboam, haue therfore one craft prepared or prepamts be in them of other mens ſoe tha ye dayes and ye howres be well ordinated of th and doubtles the worke wthout this booke is Deceitfull, for in it Lyeth hidde all ſecrets, wth ye wch nothinge can be done, and as I ſay of on craft, ſoe I ſay of all experiments and arts y be in ye world, and that ſhalbe to come, and t

this my worke I haue not put the clauicle ſecrets; therfore my ſone Roboam, I coma thee by my Bleſsinge that thou ~~k~~ thinkeſt to haue of me thy Father, to cauſe a caskett Iuory to be made, and therin to put this m clauicle, and keepe it ſure, and when I ſha departe, Let them be caſt alltogether into m ſepulcher that they may not come into the handlinge of fooles, and as he comanded it wa for the honour of ſoe wiſe a man to make him more goodlier, and that his remem~~e~~berance ſhould ſpread abroad; all ye world, therefore when his tombe was Broken vppe to be renewed againe, they found ~~there~~ his casket of Iuery wherein was the clauicle of ſecrets, and the philoſophers when they had this clauicle, they could not vnderſtand it for obſcurity of wordes and exhibition of ſcience; for they were not worthy of ſoe great ſcience; amongſt them was one a very wiſe philoſopher, a grecian named Ptolomeus, he went into his chamber, and began to weepe bitterly Strikinge his handes vpon his breſt ſayinge, what haue I deſerued that I cannot vnderſtand nor expound the ſcience of my Father and my Lord, Salomon would keepe noe ſecret from me, therefore why be theſe wordes ſoe obſcure, wherefore is this, why ſhould it be, that I ſhould not know it: he kneeled downe and held vp his handes towards heauen and with a proſtrate body prayed vnto god ſayinge theſe wordes followinge; Ô high Creator of all creatures and Lord that knoweſt all things, that gaueſt to Salomon the ſonne of King Dauid all ſcience for thy moſt holyeſt and incomprehenſible clemency, Father omnipotent, graunt me reuelation for thy mercy and pitty, that I howbeit vnworthy and moſt wretched ſinner, may haue intellection and knowledge of ye ſecrets confuſed and obſcured ineffably in this Clauicle, and incontinently an Angell appeared vnto him ſayinge Ô thou greatian Ptolomeus, doe not marueill that the ſecrets

of

of Salomon be obſcure and Darke to thee; becauſe ou Lord would not ~~that~~ ſoe great a ſcience ſhould come into the handes of fooles; therefore promiſe me th ye will ſhew it noe creature liuinge, except he be ſufficient in ſcience and operation, and ye fyerfull Angell ſayd vnto him Looke and reade the clauicle, the words that were obſcure vnto you, be made open in all thinges; and the Angell aſcended by the cloude of fyre into heauen, from whence he came forth, the, Ptolomeus the greacian knew it was the Angell our Lord, and he reioyſed with much gladnes, and read Salomons workes tranſmuted, and he prayed ou Lord that his worke ſhould not come in ~~to the~~ han or handlinge of fooles, and he ſayed, I coniure him, that ſhall haue theſe ſecrets, by the bloud of ye Body and by the Body of Chriſt and by the heart of his Body, and by all thinges that he deſireth and purpoſeth to doe in this world; to deliuer it and open it to noe man, and if he open it; let them be wiſe
I pray god that, yt he deſireth may neuer come to paſſe and effect; and as Ptolomey the grecian coaduanced by the grace of god hath made cleare the profound and obſcure ſecrets of this arte, as h was that yt followeth, that were cloſed in the cheaſt of Iuory, and theſe be the words of ye ſaid Clauicl that he declared marueilouſly in theſe two Bookes / followinge /

Heare beginneth the firſt booke of ye Clauicles of ſecrets

Heare endeth the first prologue, and heare beginethe the prologue of the 2d. booke, as Ptolomeus the greacian witneſſeth, that hath elucidated and made cleere the Secrett of Secretts from obſcure Darknes : . , , , ,

This Litte worke of my Father Salomon is compoſed and deuided into 2. bookes. and in the first Booke we haue ſhewed, how the artes and expiments ſhould be prepared made and how ye may know the fallacyes of the wordes of exꝑiments, and what is neceſsary in the fallacyes of that artes and exꝑiments, in the operation of them now we muſt ſee what is neceſsary in fullfillinge all craftes and all exꝑiments and all fallacyes, ~~that~~ then we muſt take heede, that this marvelous Secret come not into the handlinge of fooles, for he that hath this Booke, and keepe well in memory thoſe thinges that be written therein, he may well know all the fallacies of all craftes & exꝑiments, and make them no craft nor exꝑimet of whatſoever condition it be, can prevayle without Little worke, and therefore the makers of craftes or exorizators of exꝑiments if they haue not and know not this worke, they can come by noe meanes to the effect of any craft or exꝑiment, therefore I deſire and conuire him, that ſhall haue this secrett, that he deliuer it to noe man, except he be a very ſecret fellow, faithfull and wiſe, &

~~and~~ an Inſtructer of ſuch craftes. I Conuire him by the body and bloud of christ, and by the name that he ought to receaue, and by him that can giue Life to his ſonne and take it away at pleaſure, and as he would keepe his owne Life that he take not this worke to fooles, and if he deliuer it except he be ſecret: I pray god the Father that gaue me knowledge of ſuch thinges, if it be deliuered into mens handes fooliſhly, that ſuch ſecrets

ſecretts that he purpoſeth to doe, may neuer come

Inter multa alia bona quæ antiqui patres ſapientiſſimi narrauerunt Philoſophi, Hermes Abhay Dominꝰ Pater Philoſophorū, antiquiſſimus ſapiens, et quaſi vnus ex benedictis a Deo Philoſophus, Librū hunc edidit, diuiſitque eum in quatuor partes, eo quod principaliter 4.or rerū virtutes, videlicet, Stellarū, herbarū, Lapidū atqꝫ figurarū in eo Continentur, dansqꝫ exemplū ſapientiæ poſteris vt eorū ſapientia, non abſcondatur, et ait, non moritur qui ſapientiā Viuificat, et iterū ille, homo ſapiens Comꝓbatʳ, Cuius exempla in hoc ſeculo collaudantur, et omnis homo ſapiens, et bonis moribꝰ illuſtratus Philoſophus eſt; ſapiens verò eſt qui res cognoſcat prout ſunt, et recte probari poſſunt. Et video quod 4.or partos mundi apud hominem vnam partem impoſsibile est eſse, hominem tamen in vno puncto errare, ꝑmate ſed est impoſsibila 4.or anni tempora eſsæ vnius complexionis hoc enim dico exemplo quatuor nobiliū ſcientiarū, Videlicet, Astrologiæ, Philoſophiæ, magicæ, et Alkemiæ, dixit Hermes omnis qui cognoſcit quod videt, et quod audit intelligit, et cogitans ſic quod cogitat et petet, ſcit ea quæ petit et quomodo et quando, et beatus est qui probat, quoniam Probatio est radix totius ſcientiæ, Ideo quilibet naturalis ꝓbare tenetur, et vera ꝓbatio ſit ex viſibilibus et ꝓbabilibus, gustabilibus atque mobilib9, et niſi cum iſtis vlla vera ꝓbatio invenitur: et ſciendū quod vnuſquiſq; ſapiens appetit Scientiam, parcus vero et non parcus vero auarus diuicias querit, notandū, natura ſuperior quadruplex invenitur, videlicet, generans, ~~nutriens~~ nutriens, debilitans et corrumpens.

– Capitulum 3^{m}.

Postquam de ſtellis ſuperioribus mentionem fecimus, nūc de 15. ex ſtellis fixis explanatione Hermetis dicemus. Stellæ quidem ſunt ex ſtellis fixis Lucidiores alijs, et quanto maiores et Lucidiores videntur, tanto maior et fortior earū ſignificatio. Imo de 15. quidem ſunt Stellæ de quibus Hermes in hoc Libro~~ſ~~ poſuit facere mentionem, quarū nomina et ſignificationes in ſequentibus declarabuntur ordinatim.

Cap.^{m} 4^{m}.

Dixit Hermes, cum aſpicerem Aldeboran, + vide eam 25. gradu Arietis et 27. minutis, et cum eadem capiebat medium cæli, et dixit, + hæc stella est fixa, et de natura martis et ex + complexione veneris, illa est enim martis quæ Lucidor est, ex conſiſtentibus in capite Tauri omnis quidem aliæ veneri attribuuntur. Hæc quidem Stella veneris est ſignificatrix magnæ ſiccitatis ꝑpter martem, humiditatis ꝑpter Venerem, Vnde notandum quod cum fuerit Martis et nullam veneris ibi habebit poteſtatem, Et cum fuerit venus cum Aldeboran et vno gradu et vno minuto, et eius ſignificatio est

acſi

acſi eſſet iuncta marti in vno gradu atquæ + minuto. Et ſi Lunam acciderit eſſe cum Aldeboran, et Luna aſpecta fuerit a ſaturno vel a marte aut in quadratura ſuam oppoſitionem a Sole, idem erit acſi iungeretur marti, ſed ſi eſſet Luna cum Aldeboran, et aſpiceret eam + Jupiter vel venus, aut Sol amicabili aſpectu, eandem retinent ſignificationem acſi eſſet cū venere in vno gradu atquæ minuto. Cum vero hæc stella est in aſcendente, vel in medio cæli, et est fortificata propter martem, ſignificat guerras, Lites, rixas, grauitates, et ea quæ mars ſignificat: Et ſi iam in dictis Locis propter Venerem fortificata fuerit, deſignat temꝑamentum, et hoc quia in eodem Loco maior est color Martis quam Veneris. Et ſcias oēs, fixas, quando ſunt fortunatæ, bonum ſignificare et quando infortunatæ malum.

Et debemus nostro tempore conſiderare in quibus + Locis ſint Et eas rectificare per tempora tranſacta. Et nota quod priuſquam Hermes Vnam rectificatam ſecundum altitudinem ſuam et eius oppoſitionem a Sole Et Secundū aſcendentem et medium cælum, et ad occidentem, et ſecundum coniunctionem alicuius Planetæ cum ea ſcilicet, ſecundum quod diximus eam rectificaueris, poteris habere iudicium ex quo bonus ſequetur finis.

Formata debet esse omnibus figura cum exemplo vero propter nos ponemus figuram Clavis in isto libro quod nullus noscit quod sine ratione et utilitate sit factum et pone in figura clavem unam cum suo hastile ad similitudinem quod est unus solus Dominus Deus unus qui numquam habuit nec habebit ullam aequalem in quadratura signatur quod sunt quatuor Elementa et non plus et semper dentes Clavis sunt secundum septem Planetas, et non plus. Et in ista Clave est triangulus unus qui signat scire posse et velle quia sine istis tribus non potest aliquis facere aliquid in hoc mundo nec attingere aliquam Utilitatem. Et dixit Salomon quod hastile huius Clavis est sicut Raziel Trinitas et quadratum est sicut 4or Virtutes quae sunt in herbis Animalibus et Lapidibus et sunt ad similitudinem Elementorum 4or quae faciunt et faciunt totum et 7tem cuspides sunt 7tem Angeli qui habent posse in 7tem Caelis et in septem diebus Septimanae sicut docuimus te coram 60. Et sicut Angelus signat hominem quod est in corde Animalium et Spiritum, Et ista supradicta continent totum mundum sicut sunt compositus in alto et in infimo. /

Et non

Postea vero, ut supra diximus oportet nos dicere propter librum istum praedictum de Clave de 7. fratribus. Item isti 7. fratres habent inter se 12. regna ad dividendum et in quolibet Regno sunt 30. Dixit

Virtutes rerum inferiorum à superioribus trahuntur.

Dixit Salomon: sicut fuerunt semper status superius sine corruptione, ita scias quod est nunc et semper erit. Et propterea intelligimus corpora superiora munda, et bona, et facta sine corruptione, et inferiora immunda male tractata et fracta quotidie deficiunt. Et corrumpuntur, et ita complectio nec quiescet nec faciet, ergo intelligimus quod corpora et inferiora non possunt extricare corpora superiora, et omnes res quas videmus inferius habent radicem et principium propter res superius quia res superius sunt in vita et sine dolore et res inferiores contrarium habent mortem cum dolore et res superius habent durabilitatem sine corruptione, et res inferiores quotidie deficiunt, corrumpuntur, et diminuuntur. Et dicunt omnes prophetae quod ei deficeret qui unum de superioribus hoc est de iis quae sunt multa superiora cum illa inter ea quae dicimus et non dicimus. Scias quia esset magna civitas et discordia confusio inter terra mari et 4or Elementis si pervenerit aut male tractaverit aliquis de superioribus; et si deficeret unus de quatuor stationibus, rediret terra de statu pristinum quod erant alia confusa. Et si aliquis eorum corporaliter reciperet corruptionem scias quod esset destructa omnis res quae recipit Animam. Et scias sicut volvuntur 4or Elementa deorsum non volvuntur sine ratione

Ista sunt nomina 42 spirituum que ostendit Saturnus et dedit pro familiaribus 42 filiis sui dictis Et quicumque volebant facere bonum aut malum apparebat eis spiritus et faciebat quicquid volebat

Et dixit Saturnus istum spiritum tribuo cuilibet vestrum ut opprimeretis eos in vestris civitatibus et in terra vestra Et ut non opprimam eos in aliis partibus quia impediret vos spiritus aliorum civitatum ut non possent ita bene iuvare vos

Nota de spiritus istorum planetarum durant in posse suo ita quod non venit alter planeta sive spiritus qui imperat cuilibet virtute et potestate in suo civitate erunt mores et leges sicut dictum est quando alter spiritus descendit super eos qui impedit eos, quod accidit propter motum 8e spere que movetur uno gradu in 100 annis.

Tunc contrariantur leges et mores et potestas et regna in civitatibus excepta civitate Iovis et Saturni quia licet contrariantur leges et mores et studia scientiarum tamen semper habent sua regna. Et propter hoc in suo posse durant quilibet in sua civitate 100 annis. Postmodum surgit alius propheta cum alio spiritu sapientie et aliis moribus et legibus quibus non utebantur, immo qui erant antea non cognoscebant nec sciebant. Legitur in fine 100 annorum descenderunt ad g. 9 spe-per modum supradictum 6 spiritus propter plures et volvuntur cum 6 spiritibus cuiuslibet planete et fuit 12 secundum 12 signa. Et quicunque illud accidit contrariantur leges et mores cuiuslibet civitatis. Primo accidit Saturno quia est frigidus et siccus defendit se et non voluit cum eo nisi una parte de 12 signis et civitate Saturni quia

non volvitur cum eo nisi per unam partem contraria pax in suo statu et suis moribus. Et in civitate Iovis quia habet 12 partes contra-riantur plus secundum suum statum et nascuntur ibi alie leges et alii mores et surgunt nove leges sed non amittent regnum.
In civitate Martis contrariatur status eius multociens et accidit eis quod interficientur plures ipsorum et quidam eorum deferentur in aliis partibus. In civitate Solis contrariatur eius aliquotiens in religionibus sed non amittent regnum nec mores nec leges nec alter habet potestatem super eos. Et postquam recessit a sole descendit ad Venerem que est temperata. Et quia non potuerunt se volvere cum aliis inferioribus nisi pauca et volvebat cum eo 6 partes et sic non remanet Mercurius nisi una pars et pro luna alia. Secundum ista fortitudine 11 motus variatur status cuiuslibet civitatis. In civitate Veneris contingunt multi status et venit de aliis partibus qui interficit eos et defert et abstrahit eos
a suis moribus et sua lege et facit eis

Cum convenissent maligni spiritus demonia in cordibus hominum intonantes, cogitantes utilitatem fragilitatis humane posse suo corrumpere et totam mundi machinam volentes suis viribus suffocare, ypocrisim cum invidia seminantes, pontifices et prelatos in superbia radicantes, dominum papam cum cardinalibus in unum venire fecerunt, dicentes ad invicem que sequuntur. Salus quam dedit dominus plebi sue modo per magos et nigromanticos in dampnacionem convertitur universorum. Nam et ipsi magi per diabolum inebriati et in errorem constituti [illegible] sue metas [illegible] precedentes, ac preceptum domini transgredientes, sic dicentis. Non temptabis dominum deum tuum, sed ei soli servies. Ipsi dei sacrificium abnegando et temptando nomina creatoris, demones invocando et eis sacrificia tribuendo, quod est contra [illegible] sacri percepti. Nam ibi dicitur. Abrenuncio sathane et omnibus pompis eius. Verum non tantum ipsos et omnes [illegible] plerique [illegible] ipsorum [illegible] erroribus provocaverunt, [illegible] mirificis illusionibus [illegible] ignorantes per huiusmodi [illegible] corporis [illegible] oportet [illegible] hoc ut [illegible] positum aliud cogitantes. propter quod oportet omnes alias scientias deperire. Dignum est igitur radicem mortis huius capitis penitus extirpare cum auctoribus seminum huius artis. Ipsi vero diabolo inspirante moti invidia et cupiditate sub similitudine veritatis falsitate publicantes quod falsum est dicere et absurdum, quia virum iniquum et inmundum impossibile est per artem veraciter operari. Nec spiritibus aliquibus vero obligantur, set ipsi in veritate coguntur invitatis hominibus respondere, et sua beneplacita penitus adimplere, tamen nullo virum volente eius artis principia nec causam ostendere veritatis. Ob hoc nos et artem magicam morti suo iudicio tradiderunt. Nos autem permissione divina [illegible] iudicium presentientes, scientes quod inde possent accidere multa mala, quoniam impossibile erat nobis congregacionis ipsi corporis viribus manum evadere, nisi a spiritibus reciperemus auxilium. Quoniam ergo cum divino adiutorio precepta Salomonis et vestigia sequi volentes, tamen substantialis tres recipere, unum principium necessarium esse profitemur. Nota quod primum principium est divina maiestas, et est invocanda a fide cordis procedens et est opera nostra efficaciam ostendens. Dixit Salomon: unus solus est deus, sola virtus, sola fides, a quo unum opus, unum principium, una perfectio in arte consistit, quamvis in membris dividatur multipliciter. Et sic partes integres sapiunt suum totum, licet fuerint imperfectum. Similiter et huius nostre artis

Non sic quia illud dei in[illegible] tota virtus in trinitate que est alpha et ω, principium et finis, que est pater et filius et spiritus sanctus, tres persone, unus deus, vite dator, mortis destructor. Unde dicitur: Qui mortem nostram moriendo destruxit et vitam resurgendo reparavit. Qui novum condidit testamentum. De compositione sigilli dei ad noticiam prime partis. // De visione divina ad noticiam secunde partis. // De visione angelorum ad noticiam tertie partis. Et de constrictione spirituum ad noticiam quarte partis. // Et de obligatione in firmitate ad noticiam quinte partis. Hec operantibus per hunc.

Angelorum tres sunt modi: modi celestes, aerei, terrei. Celestium duo sunt modi, quorum quidam serviunt deo soli et isti sunt .9. ordines angelorum, videlicet cherubin, seraphin, troni, dominationes, virtutes, principatus, potestates, archangeli et angeli. De quibus non est vocare in virtute, nec ex artificiali potentia sive mortales est loquendum, et isti nullatenus invocantur, quia magestati divine continue laudantes assistunt, et numquam ab eius presentia separantur. Tamen quia humanum genus anima cum ipsis sortita, christianus cum ipsis feliciter coronari, per donum et gratiam salvatoris potest suo vivente corpore eos presencialiter cum summa maiestate vera atque aspicere et cum ipsis deum laudare et suum cognoscere creatorem.

Et ista cognitio non est cognoscere deum in maiestate et potentia in illo modo quo Adam et prophete cognoverunt. Set illud est principaliter notandum quod operantium tres sunt modi: pagani, iudei, christiani. Pagani sacrificant spiritibus aereis et terreis, et eos non constringunt, set fingunt se constringi per virtutem regis eorum, ut idolis fidem adhibeant, et ad veram fidem nullatenus convertuntur, et quia fidem malam habent, opera eorum nulla. Et quia per talia experimenta operari voluerit, dominum deum suum dimittat et deum negat et spiritibus sacrificet, et idolis fidem adhibeat. Quia fides operatur in homine sive longa fuerit sive mala. Unde in evangelio: Fides tua te salvam fecit. Iudei vero per visionem nullatenus operantur, quia per adventum Christi domini amiserunt, et non possunt in celis collocari, testante domino qui dicit: Qui baptizatus non fuerit condempnabitur. Et licet omnibus angelis operentur imperfecte, et per invocationes suas veniunt ad effectum, nisi sit fidem adhibeant, quia dictum est eis explicatum: Donec venerit rex regum et dominus dominantium, cessabit unctio vestra. Quamquam cessaret si per hanc artem haberet efficaciam veram. Et sic opera eorum nulla. Et quamvis iudei in quantum iudei a deo sunt condempnati, tamen summum adorant creatorem, set in debito modo tamen virtute sanctorum dei nominum cogunt venire spiritus. Set quia iudei non signantur signo domini, scilicet crucis et fidei, nolunt spiritus vera eis respondere. Solus ergo christianus potest in hac visione et in omnibus aliis viriliter operari. Et quamvis per hanc artem magicam tria bonum genera operentur, non credendum est quod in ipse nomine magus debeat malum concludi, nam magus per se philosophus grece, hebrei et scriba, latine sapiens dicitur. Sic ars magica a magos dicitur, quod est sapiens, et ycos quod est sciencia, quasi sciencia sapientum, cum in ipsa efficiatur homo sapiens et per hanc sciat omnia preterita, presentia et futura. De compositione signi dei vivi.

esse et uisione dei frui. ante omnia opus est ut teneat catholicam fidem. Quam nisi quisque integram inuiolatamque seruauerit: absque dubio uisione diuinam non uidebit. Fides autem catholica hec est ut unum deum in trinitate et trinitatem in unitate ueneremur. Neque confundentes personas: neque substantiam separantes. Alia est enim persona patris alia filii: alia spiritus sancti. Sed patris et filii et spiritus sancti una est diuinitas. equalis gloria coeterna maiestas. Qualis pater talis filius talis spiritus sanctus. Increatus pater increatus filius increatus spiritus sanctus. Immensus pater immensus filius immensus spiritus sanctus. Eternus pater eternus filius eternus spiritus sanctus. Et tamen non tres eterni sed unus eternus. Sicut non tres increati nec tres immensi: sed unus increatus et unus immensus. Similiter omnipotens pater omnipotens filius omnipotens spiritus sanctus. Et tamen non tres omnipotentes: sed unus omnipotens. Ita deus pater deus filius deus spiritus sanctus. Et tamen non tres dii sed unus est deus. Ita dominus pater dominus filius dominus spiritus sanctus. Et tamen non tres domini: sed unus est dominus. Quia sicut singillatim unamquamque personam deum aut dominum confiteri christiana [illegible] compellimur: ita tres deos aut dominos dicere catholica religione prohibemur. Pater a nullo est factus: nec creatus nec genitus.// Filius a patre solo: non factus nec creatus sed genitus. Spiritus sanctus a patre et filio: non factus nec creatus nec genitus sed procedens. Unus ergo pater non tres patres. unus filius non tres filii. unus spiritus sanctus non tres spiritus sancti. Et in hac trinitate nichil prius aut posterius nichil maius aut minus. sed tote tres persone coeterne sibi sunt et coequales. Ita ut per omnia sicut iam supra dictum est et unitas in trinitate et trinitas in unitate ueneranda sit.// Qui uult ergo saluus esse et uisione diuina frui: ita de trinitate sentiat. Sed necessarium est ad eternam salutem et uisionem ut incarnationem quoque domini nostri ihesu christi fideliter credat. Est ergo fides recta ut credamus et confiteamur quia dominus noster ihesus christus dei filius deus et homo est. Deus est ex substantia patris ante secula genitus. et homo est ex substantia matris in seculo natus. Perfectus deus perfectus homo: ex anima racionali et humana carne subsistens. Equalis patri secundum diuinitatem: minor patre secundum humanitatem.// Qui licet deus sit et homo: non duo tamen sed unus est christus. Unus autem non conuersione diuinitatis in carnem sed assumptione humanitatis in deum.// Unus omnino non confusione substancie: sed unitate persone.// Nam sicut anima racionalis et caro unus est homo: ita deus et homo unus est christus. Qui passus est pro salute nostra descendit ad inferos tercia die resurrexit a mortuis.// Ascendit ad celos sedet ad dexteram dei patris omnipotentis: inde uenturus est iudicare uiuos et mortuos. Ad cuius aduentum omnes homines resurgere habent cum corporibus suis et reddituri sunt de factis propriis racionem.// Et qui bona egerunt ibunt in uitam eternam et uisionem diuinam quam nunc petimus. qui uero mala in ignem eternum. cum [illegible] postulant. Hec est fides catholica quam nisi quisque fideliter firmiterque crediderit saluus esse nec hanc diuinam uisionem optinere quibit.

Ergo diuinis monitis formati et preceptis salutaribus instructi audemus dicere. Pater noster qui es in celis sanctificetur nomen tuum. Adueniat regnum tuum. fiat uoluntas tua sicut in celo et in terra. panem nostrum supersubstancialem da nobis hodie. et dimitte nobis debita nostra sicut et nos dimittimus debitoribus nostris. et ne nos inducas in temptacionem. Sed libera nos a malo. Amen.

ad operandum et preparatio operis ad optinendum. Set nona est prima oratio de ceremonialitate operis huius. De octo dico tibi quod summo mane paululum ante crepusculum matutinum ad inceptionem operis cuiuslibet diei uel sint proferende, et non oportet de tota die amplius. // De nona dico quod semper in principio orandi per orationes alias ab illis octo predictis, ista ne est proferenda.

Octo orationes sunt in fine posite que octo terminis nuncupantur. et de illis dico quod ualent ad habendum diuinum consensum. // Sic primo una die ueneris postquam eris uere penitens et confessus ieiunabis pane et aqua. et summo mane circa principium crepusculi matutini. dices dictas orationes quas inuenies in fine. 8. 23. 22. 29. 26. 21. 28. 29. 20. 31. 32. submisse et flexis genibus ac quasi sedule permanendo. Deinde modico interuallo postulatiue cogitando. dices illos 8. terminos. interuallum similiter primum et postulatiuum in fine cuiuslibet termini faciendo. // Deinde cum mane semel dixeris. eodem modo penitus circa terciam semel dices. et similiter circa meridiem semel. et tunc poteris prandere. // In crastino. scilicet in die sabbati eodem modo penitus facies. // In die dominica similiter nisi quod non ieiunabis immo quiuis uel pisces uel carnes comedere quibis. // Post meridiem scilicet finita tercia uice orandi. Tunc in nocte sequenti in sompnis reuelabitur tibi per angelum concessus uel repulsa. Si concessus facies ut docebitur in hoc libro. Si repulsa expectabis aliud tempusculum quo iterum queres concessum et tunc melius preparato apud deum unde ueniet concessus. // Sed nota quod illa oratio. Ihesu dei filius est illa. Clementator que est pars eiusdem orationis non quod ibi debet fieri minimum interuallum postulatiuum. debet dici tamen submisse postquam postulet uitem orandi horis predictis. // Si autem repulsam habueris fac ut dictum est die ueneris.

sabbati et dominica. nisi quod in die dominica non ieiunii debes dare tres elemosinas. hiis pauperibus misericorditer et deuote. // Deinde prima luna s. in die lune sequenti fac ut prius penitus. et eodem modo similiter luna 2. et luna 3. et luna 4. et sic usque ad finem. Et si forte deus miserebitur tui. tunc in orationibus latinis tunc oportet peticionem mutare. s. peticionem concessus in peticionem miserationis. // Et nota quod qui tales orationes uult dicere; debet esse castus mundus et deuote proferre. et qui aliter fecerit procul dubio punitionem manifestam uidebit. // Item ille cum orationibus. grecis. hebraicis. et caldaicis. sunt sacratissima nomina dei et angelorum. que non nisi cum magna ab homine proferri permittentur. // Et quando tibi acciderit repulsa non debes desperare. sed confiteri et deinde magis perseuerari. et elemosinas multas leto largiri. et missas diuersas facere celebrari. et orationes diuersas genibus flexis deo dominum alloqui siue fari. et tempestiuus et preciosis fletibus et orationibus dominum hortari et amplecti. hec solent facere sapientes. ut ueniatur ad effectum

Cum autem largiente concessum habueris et operis secundum modum subscriptum luna 4. 8. 12. 16. 20. 24. 28. 32. in die circa matutinum semel circa terciam semel. circa nonam semel. circa uesperas semel. dices has orationes subscriptas s. Hazaz lemaht. Et hazathemaht. que est sancta pars eius. Et lameht. lemaht. Et Deus summe deus. Et Te quoque domine. Et que est prologus eius. s. Deus summe deus. in qua ille tres orationes pro me de firmacitate artis. Alpha et ω. Et helisemaht. Et Theos megale patir. cum suo prologo Lux mundi. que post eam debet dici. prius dicantur et post ille. hasfaula maht. dicantur facto cum modico interuallo postulatio. // Illa autem sanctissima oratio lameht ragua cum sua particula. Semeht legaht. et cum suo prologo debet dici luna prima quarta s. summe mane semel. circa terciam semel. circa nonam ter. circa meridiem ter. // Luna 2. proferatur ter. circa mane semel. circa meridiem semel. circa nonam semel. // Luna 6. proferatur bis in mane. bis in meridie bis in nona. // Luna 9. proferatur ter in mane. ter in meridie ter in nona. // In 12. luna proferatur ter in mane ter in meridie ter in nona ter in uesperis. // Luna 14. proferatur mane ter. tercia ter. in meridie ter. ter in nona. ter in uesperis. // In 19. luna 21. 23. 26. 29. 30. legatur similiter sicut in 14. // Sed nota quod ista oratio in castitate et in mundicia et fide plena ualet. // Similiter ad pericula ignis. bestiarum. uel demonum. et tunc nichil de horis uel lunacionibus respicere oportet. // Illa autem oratio sanctissima. Hazaram hihel. cum suis particulis. que sunt Uthelma hel. et cetera. Agloros theomithos. et cetera. Megal agal. et cetera. hamacapushel. et cetera. cum suis suis prologis s. Ostensa colouca et cetera. Ego in conspectu tuo et cetera. iteratum ut prius iacent. debent principi submisse et iterum post illam predictam. lameht ragua. eisdem diebus et horis in immo cum s. quando pro magno negocio petitur. precis loqui cum spiritibus uel uidere deum. tunc ista non debet dici nisi semel s. circa mane. si quis petit scientiam uel tutela a malis uel cognicio celorum et angelorum et sigillorum et cetera, tunc sicut dictum est de lameht ragua. est faciendum. Et hec oratio eandem efficaciam cum lameht ragua. habet. et aliquid post in speciali uel quod melius est nisi in casu quo petit fieri a spiritibus celestibus aliquid arduum et magnum eis appropriatum s. descendere et homini loqui. uel cogere spiritus aereos et terreos ad ueniendum et obediendum. // Illa autem oratio Semoht gehel. et illa. Semoht lamen. proferantur cum illa. Ihesu dei filius. in illis diebus in quibus alie possunt proferri non debent sicut dictum est supra. que debent proferri luna 2. uel 9. uel 4. uel 12. et sic de aliis ut prius patet. // Et nota quod si contingit eum incidere hec magnam causam quod non possit ad finem perducere. et ieiunet precedenti die quam ibit ad curiam. posteaquam cenam suam pane et aqua postea proferat calle bis illas tres orationes. Gemoht. Et Omnis. Et Semoht. Tanta enim sapientia et eloquencia tribuitur si ipso ueniendo causam suam quod breuiter optinebit. nisi quod oratio de esse bonum mundum et castum. // Similiter hanc orationem dicere qui aliquis spiritus notatus uenit cum illa. lameht ragua. pro cantando pluuium et acquirendo sapientiam et eloquentiam assendi auctoritate spiritu aduocato.

Cum quis nichil aliud fecerit uel ad presens cogitauerit. roget continue deum aliis horis a primis. 6. 10. 12. orationes. et in mane uadat ad missam. et eundo dicat 16. in templo dicat 22. Item 18. 28. 21. 22. 23. 32. 20. 30. et ita faciat continue per 20. dies. caueat se diligenter ne incidat in peccatum. si tamen casualiter in peccatum inciderit. incontinenti peniteat et confiteatur. ieiunet si possit continue. sinon de duobus unum relaxet. et sic per 20. dies ordine retrogrado procedendo ab omni mortalitatis ieiunet. Tunc habeat sacerdotem cautum et fidelem qui sibi matutinam primam et terciam et missam de spiritu sancto cantet. dicens in introitu 17. post offertorium 9. // Tunc accipiat cereum et succendet ut perueniet ad altare dicens primam. Et in ueneris in gloriosis sanctis eodem nominatis specialiter. uero sic fecerit. Operans autem si in aliquibus est sanctis maiorem deuotionem habet: nouem nomen pro nomine quod fides operatur ut predixi. // 2 oratio in mediate dicat. // Et post. Te igitur. 3. 4. 5. 4. 8. et sic in leuando corpus christi petat pro operante sacerdos in effectum peticionum suarum per diuinam graciam assequatur. Et ita intellige de omnibus orationibus que pertinent ad sacerdotem et ad operacionem. que sunt generales ad omnes peticiones speciales. sed nichil aliud addas. // Item post communionem dicat sacerdos 26. post missam uero recipiat operans eucaristiam dicendo 19. 20. et caueat ne corpus christi accipiat pro effectu malo.
